THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL REGISTER

JANUARY, 1916

COL. ALBERT HARRISON HOYT, A.M.

By Hon. CHARLES SIDNEY ENSIGN, LL.B., of Newton, Mass.

ALBERT HARRISON HOYT, a life member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, for some twenty years a member of its Board of Directors,* and during the years 1868-1875 Editor of the REGISTER, died in Boston, Mass., 10 June 1915, in the eighty-ninth year of his age. He was born at Sandwich, N. H., 6 December 1826, the fifth child and fourth son of Rev. Benjamin Ray and Lucinda (Freeman) Hoyt, and was named for the two sons of Mrs. Daniel Hoyt, who was present at his birth.

The family name of Hoyt is of Old German or Dutch or possibly of Anglo-Saxon origin, and is spelled in some thirty or forty different ways. It is apparently one of those surnames that are derived from personal peculiarities or characteristics. The noun hoit in the north of England meant "an awkward, ill-bred youth;" in eastern England the expression hoit-a-poit implied "assuming airs of importance unsuitable to years or station;" in Lancaster hoit was used for "a large stick," and in Bucks for "a newt." The verb to hoit meant to indulge in riotous and noisy mirth, while the adjectives hoity-toity and hity-tity mean "thoughtless, haughty, gay, and noisy." In the present age the family is known as Hoyt, Hoit, Haight, or Hight, and is in excellent repute.†

On account of missing records it is impossible to state definitely the early generations in the line of descent of Colonel Hoyt from the first New England ancestor of this family. There are, however, strong probabilities that his great-great-grandfather, Benjamin Hoyt, was a son of Ephraim³ and Hannah (Godfrey) Hoyt of Hampton, N. H., a grandson of Thomas² and Mary (Brown)† Hoyt, and a great-grandson of John¹ and Frances Hoyt, who were original settlers of Salisbury, Mass., about 1640 and of Amesbury, Mass., about 1642.

Benjamin⁴ Hoyt, the great-great-grandfather of Albert Harrison Hoyt, was born 7 June 1702 (?), was living at Ipswich, Mass., in 1727-1729, and about 1742 removed to Shrewsbury, Mass., where he died before May 1760. He married first, at Ipswich, 11 November

‡ She was a daughter of William Brown of Salisbury and Amesbury, Mass.

1726, Katherine Baker, who died at Ipswich 2 February 1735/6; secondly, about 1739, Widow Joanna Battin; and thirdly, about 1752, Susanna ———. He was a blacksmith and husbandman, and is placed at the head of the Worcester County branch of the Hoyt family.

His son, Benjamin⁵ Hoyt, was born at Ipswich 20 December 1727, and died at Princeton, Mass., about 1802 or 1803. He married first, about 1746, Eunice Ray, who was born at Marlborough, Mass., 27 January 1728/9, and died at Hubbardston, Mass., 3 January 1771, daughter of Abel of Marlborough; and secondly, 21 April 1771, Mrs. Mary (Warren) Stearns, widow of Dea. Benjamin of Rutland, Mass., formerly of Lexington, Mass. She died at Princeton 8 February 1799. Benjamin Hoyt, who in deeds is generally styled yeoman, went about 1750–1760 to the territory now comprised in the town of Hubbardston, where he settled on Great Farms, No. 15. He was chosen selectman and assessor of Hubbardston at the first town meeting there, 3 July 1767, and was re-elected in 1768 and 1769. In 1772 he was again elected assessor, and often served as collector and constable and on important town committees. He was enrolled as the second member of the Hubbardston church, after its organization, 10 March 1771, and continued to live at Hubbardston until 1779. From 1780 until his death he lived at Princeton, where he was taxed from 1791 to 1799.

The grandparents of Colonel Hoyt were Benjamin⁶ Hoyt of New Braintree, Mass., and of Craftsbury, Vt., who was born at Hubbards-ton 11 December 1761 and died at Craftsbury 29 October 1843, and Lydia Joslyn, who died at Craftsbury 22 April 1850, daughter of Benjamin of Marlborough and New Braintree and a descendant of Henry Joslyn, who came from England as one of the stewards of Capt. John Mason and Sir Ferdinando Gorges. They were married in 1788, and were possessed of more than ordinary strength of mind and character.

Rev. Benjamin Ray⁷ Hoyt, the father of Colonel Hoyt, was born at New Braintree 6 January 1789, and died at Salem, N. H., 3 October 1872. He removed with his parents to Craftsbury in 1795. He was ordained a deacon in the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1811 and an elder in 1814. He was a preacher continuously in various parts of New England from 1807 to 1855, his first station being at Needham, Mass., in 1807. He was in Boston and Charlestown, Mass., in 1819 and 1820. For about twenty years he was presiding elder, and was chosen several times as a delegate to the quadrennial sessions of the general conference of his church. From 1855 until 1870 he lived on his farm in Windham, N. H., and after that, until his death, resided in Salem, N. H. He was a man of robust frame, and was noted for his powers of endurance; a thorough student in theology and Biblical literature, and beloved for his Christian excellence, cordial manners, quiet humor, and warm affections. He was one of the founders of Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., and for a long period was a member of its Board of Trustees. He was also a trustee of the seminary in Newbury, Vt. He married, in December 1812, Lucinda Freeman, who was born 23 December 1793 and died in Cincinnati, Ohio, 19 July 1883, daughter of Thomas, Jr., and Rebecca (Swift) of Barnard, Vt. Thomas Freeman was a descendant of Edmund Freeman, who came to Saugus, Mass., in 1635, and removed to Sandwich, a man of large family and a prominent citizen of the Plymouth Colony. Rebecca Swift belonged to the Swift family of Rochester, Mass.

Colonel Hoyt had four brothers and three sisters. Of these, Benjamin Thomas Hoyt, the third child and second son of his parents, was born in Boston 18 October 1820, and died at Greencastle, Ind., 24 May 1867. After graduating at Wesleyan University in 1846 he taught in the high schools at Middletown, Conn., 1846-1849, and Chelsea, Mass., 1849-1852. He was principal of the Lawrenceburg (Ind.) Institute, 1852-1856, president of the Indiana Female College at Indianapolis, 1856-1858, professor of Latin in Asbury University (now De Pauw University), Greencastle, 1858-1863, and professor of Belles Lettres in the same institution from 1863 until his death from overwork in 1867. He was a model teacher and professor, and was active in the promotion of education and in the improvement of the common school system of Indiana, making public addresses for this purpose. He was equally prominent in the church and as superintendent of the Sunday school. He married, 23 August 1853, Emeline Lewis of Boston, who died 25 June 1893. Another brother of Colonel Hoyt was Rev. Francis Southack Hoyt, the fourth child and third son of his parents, who was born in Lyndon, Vt., 5 November 1822. Graduating at Wesleyan University in 1844, he devoted his life to teaching. For about a year he kept a select school at Norwich, Conn. Later he was principal of the Springfield (Vt.) Academy and of the Newbury (Vt.) Seminary, and in 1848 became connected with the Institute at Newark, N. J. In 1850, under appointment from the Methodist Episcopal Church, he removed to Oregon, where he was principal of the Salem Seminary (later incorporated as a college) until 1861. Then he accepted the Chrisman Professorship of Biblical Theology and Literature in the Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware, Ohio.

Albert Harrison Hoyt studied at the Newbury (Vt.) Seminary and, entering Wesleyan University, received the degree of Bachelor of Arts from that institution in 1850, and the degree of Master of Arts in 1854. The honorary degree of Master of Arts was conferred on him by Dartmouth College in 1878. His college fraternity was the Psi Upsilon. He began the study of law in Portsmouth, N. H., in 1852, and was admitted to the New Hampshire bar in 1856. Interested in the public school system, he was appointed by Gov. Noah Martin of New Hampshire school commissioner for Rockingham County, 1852-53, and he was clerk of the courts for the same county, 1853-1856. In 1857 the United States Secretary of the Interior appointed him pension agent at Portsmouth. From 1857 to 1862 he practised his profession, holding the office of city solicitor of Portsmouth from 1857 to 1859.

During the Civil War, by nomination of President Lincoln, he served as paymaster in the United States Army from 1862 until his discharge on 20 July 1866. He ranked as major, and was on the General Staff of the Army by appointment of the President. In November 1865 he was brevetted a lieutenant-colonel of Volunteers, United States Army, for "faithful and meritorious service," and was placed in charge of the final payments to discharged New England regiments. His disbursements in the field and in hospitals were millions of dollars; and when his accounts were settled in 1872 the Treasurer of the United States sent to him a check for $6.60 as his due. He was a very popular paymaster on account of his sympathy for the soldiers and his laborious aid in arranging their pay rolls and in providing for their prompt payment. One incident in his service as paymaster is well worth relating here.

The Twelfth Connecticut Regiment, under command of Col. Henry C. Deming of Hartford, the orator, was stationed in Louisiana and had not been paid for a long time, the families of some of the soldiers being in pressing need. At Colonel Hoyt's request the regiment was assigned to him. Learning one evening that this regiment was to stop over night at Brashear City, he applied to the chief quartermaster for transportation over the New Orleans and Opelousas Railroad. A special train was obtained for this city, some eighty miles from New Orleans. On reaching Lafourche, some fifty-two miles from the starting point, the train was stopped, as the bridge over the bayou had been burned a short time previously by the Confederates. As no reply was made to a telegram to Brashear City for a train, Colonel Hoyt arranged for a flatboat and hand car. After crossing the stream the car was carried up a steep, high bank to the railroad track, and on it was placed the black-walnut chest containing $75,000. When the hand car had traversed about half of the remaining distance, it came into such violent collision with a flat car that the latter passed completely over the hand car and injured one man. The Government cash box was broken into several pieces and the money was scattered on the track. After it had been gathered up, the car proceeded to its destination, and the next morning more than $60,000 was paid to the soldiers, the accounts of the paymaster, when balanced, being only fifty cents short.

From 1866 to 1877 Colonel Hoyt resided in Boston, holding during the years 1867-1869 the position of chief treasurer of the National Railroad Transportation Company of Boston and devoting much time to studies in the field of literature and to the editing of biographies. On 1 August 1866 he was elected a resident member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, and on 30 September 1868 became a life member. At the time of his death he was fourth on the list of the oldest active members of the Society. He was a member of the Board of Directors of the Society during the years 1869-1889, a member of the Committee on Publications for the years 1868-1877 and 1889-1890, and Editor of the NEW ENGLAND HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL REGISTER for the years 1868-1875. He also edited a portion of the third volume and the entire fourth volume of the "Memorial Biographies" published by the Society. During the years 1868-1874 he was a member of the Register Club, an association formed to guarantee the continuance of the publication of the REGISTER. He was always active and alert in promoting the welfare of the Society, with pen and voice doing all that he could in its behalf and seeking by every means in his power to increase its membership and influence. He was a generous contributor to the Library of the Society, in 1913 giving 51 volumes, 720 pamphlets, and 5 miscellaneous articles relating to American biography, genealogy, and history. In the counsels of the Society he was a safe adviser, as he possessed excellent business judgment.

In 1877 Colonel Hoyt accepted the professorship of History and English Literature in the Bartholomew English and Classical School (founded by his brother-in-law, George K. Bartholomew, who had married, 23 May 1864, his sister, Ellen Josephine) at Cincinnati, Ohio, where he remained until 1882, when he returned to Boston. On 7 September 1887 he joined the clerical force of the United States Subtreasury in Boston, retaining his connection with this office until his death.

In addition to his membership in the New England Historic Genealogical Society, Colonel Hoyt accepted resident membership in the American Antiquarian Society (1875) and in the American Philological Association (1875), corporate membership in the Historical and Philosophical Society of Ohio (1877), which was changed later (1882) into corresponding membership, and honorary membership in the New Hampshire Historical Society (1867), in the Nashua (N. H.) Historical Society (1874), and in the New Hampshire Antiquarian Society (1877). He was made also a corresponding member of the New Orleans Academy of Sciences (1869), the Western Reserve Historical Society (1870), the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society (1870), the Historical Society of Delaware (1873), the Rhode Island Historical Society (1873), the Maine Historical Society (1874), the Virginia Historical Society (1875), the Maryland Historical Society (1875), the Maine Genealogical and Biographical Society (1876), and the State Historical Society of Wisconsin (1877). He became a member of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania in 1873, the Literary Club of Cincinnati in 1877, the Webster Historical Society in 1883, and the National Geographic Society in 1912. He belonged also to the Fraternity of Masons.

Colonel Hoyt was fond of the Bible, Shakspeare, and the best of classic and English literature, and he was a fluent and ready writer. Among his compilations worthy of note are "A Sketch of the Life of Hon. Joshua Henshaw, with Brief Notices of Other Members of the Henshaw Family,"* "Necrology of New England Colleges for the Academic Year ending in 1868," a memoir entitled "William Plumer, Senior,"† a biographical sketch entitled "The Rev. Thomas Bradbury Chandler, D.D., 1726-1790,"‡ "Pepperrell Papers, with Sketches of Lt. Gen. the Honorable James St. Clair, and Admiral Sir Charles Knowles, Bart.,"§ "Daniel Peirce, of Newbury, Mass., 1638-1677, and his Descendants,"|| "Brief History of the Register,"¶ "Donations to the People of Boston suffering under the Port-Bill,"* "Notes, Historical and Bibliographical, on the Laws of New Hampshire," Worcester, 1876, "The Name 'Columbia,'"† and "Letters of Sir William Pepperell, Bart." He also edited, with notes, "Extracts from the Journal of Capt. Francis Goelet, Merchant, relating to Boston, Salem, Marblehead, etc.," and "Capt. Francis Champernowne, the Dutch Conquest of Acadie, and Other Historical Papers, by Charles Wesley Tuttle, Esq., Ph.D.," Boston, 1889. He was a contributor to the Western Christian Advocate, and addressed some of his relatives with letters written in the Latin, Greek, French, Italian, and Spanish languages.

He claimed to be entirely free from the ties of political party, and supported only such candidates as he deemed most fitted for political honors. In his religious views he was very strict. He was a communicant of St. Paul's Church (now St. Paul's Cathedral), Boston, and a charter member of the Episcopalian Club of Boston.

He married, 28 June 1860, Sarah Frances Green of Elizabeth, N. J., a most estimable companion, who died in Boston 15 June 1893. Their only child, Francis Warburton Hoyt, was born in Portsmouth, N. H., 8 September 1861, and died 31 March 1862.

By reason of his height and straight, commanding figure, coupled with a sharp, piercing eye that sought the truth, Colonel Hoyt was a marked personality. If he had devoted himself to the law, he would have been a fine examiner of witnesses, a great advocate, and a safe judge on the bench. His ideals for life were the best; and with his kindly sympathetic nature he was the true friend of man, bird, and beast. He loved nature, and loved to be with it in its various forms of life.

His death was sudden; for, after performing his customary duties at the Subtreasury, he made a call in the evening in Cambridge. On his way to his home he was attacked with heart failure and removed to the Boston City Hospital, where he died in about fifteen minutes. The funeral services were held in St. Paul's Cathedral, Boston, on the morning of 15 June 1915, the Rev. Edmund Swett Rousmaniere, D.D., Dean of the Cathedral, and the Rev. Arthur Wentworth Hamilton Eaton, D.C.L., being the officiating clergymen. The casket was draped with the American flag, and the services, attended by Colonel Hoyt's associates and friends, were dignified and simple, as he would have desired them to be. The interment was in the family lot at Portsmouth, N. H.

Of Colonel Hoyt one has said, in the words of Pope:

" . . . yet friend to truth! Of soul sincere,
In action faithful, and in honour clear;
Who broke no promise, serv'd no private end,
Who gain'd no title, and who lost no friend."

INSCRIPTIONS IN KICKEMUIT CEMETERY, WARREN, R.I.

Communicated by Mrs. SUSAN E. SLADE of Providence, R.I.

THE following inscriptions, 210 in number, have been copied from gravestones and monuments in Kickemuit Cemetery, on the bank of the Kickemuit River, in Warren, R.I., and are given verbatim, only the verses which are appended to some of the inscriptions being omitted. In the REGISTER of October 1894 (vol. 48, pp. 442-443) the essential facts contained in 62 inscriptions in this burial ground were printed from a manuscript prepared in 1871 by the late Gen. Guy Mannering Fessenden of Warren, R.I., and presented by him to the New England Historic Genealogical Society; but in Gen. Fessenden's list the deceased is described as "a. 30," or "a. 75," as the case may be, although, as appears from the inscriptions printed below, the record on the stone may have stated that the deceased was in the 30th or in the 75th year of his age. The list made in 1871 has been helpful in supplying a few words and figures that have disappeared or have become illegible since that time; and attention has been called in footnotes to other discrepancies between the two lists. Six inscriptions, found in the list of 1871, do not appear at all in the verbatim copy given below, and probably they have been lost or are no longer decipherable, owing to the lapse of nearly half a century.*

* Elizabeth (Little), widow of Jonas Parker, was married to Benjamin Lawrence of Pepperell, Mass.

† John Dwight, the grandfather of John Sullivan Dwight.

‡ He married 17 Jan. 1799 Rhoda Parker, daughter of the diarist.

Z. L. 1773†

In Memory of the Hon. Josias Lyndon, Esq. He was born in Newport, on Rhode Island, on the 10th of March, A.D. 1704, and received a good education in early life. In the year 1730, he was chosen Clerk of the Lower House of Assembly, and of the Inferior Court of the County of Newport, and continued so with great applause, with the intermission of only two years, until his death. In the year 1768, to put an end to the violence of party rage, he was prevailed on to accept the place of Governor, which he filled with Reputation. He died of the Small Pox, at Warren, on the 30th of March 1778.

His manners gentle, and innocent his life,
His faith was firm on Revelation built;
His parts were solid, in usefulness he shin'd,
His life was long filled up with doing good.

James J. Goodwin

JAMES JUNIUS GOODWIN, LL.D.

By Rev. SAMUEL HART, D.D., of Middletown, Conn.

JAMES JUNIUS GOODWIN, a life member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society since 1884, for several years a member of its Committee on English Research, and Vice-President of the Society from Connecticut for the years 1902-1915, died at his home in Hartford, Conn., 23 June 1915, in the eightieth year of his age.

His descent was through James,⁶ James,⁵ Jonathan,⁴ Ozias,³ and Nathaniel² from Ozias¹ Goodwin, the head of the Connecticut family of that name and younger brother of William Goodwin, one of the company which in 1635 removed from Newtown in Massachusetts (now Cambridge) to Newtown in Connecticut (now Hartford), ruling elder of the church in Hartford, and one of the settlers of Hadley in 1659. The first mention which we have of Ozias Goodwin is as an inhabitant of Hartford in 1639, granted two parcels of land "by the town's courtesie." He died in 1683, at the age of 87. His descendants, in the line of the subject of this sketch, to use the words of one who knew their history well, "have been prominent and useful citizens of Hartford, quiet and conservative, holding firmly to their own convictions, thrifty, home-loving, and public-spirited." James,⁵ the grandfather of James Junius, was captain of the First Company of the Governor's Foot Guard, and James,⁶ his father, was major of the First Company of the Governor's Horse Guard, while a brother Jonathan was major in the Foot Guard. Maj. James⁶ Goodwin, before he became of age, was entrusted with the general management of the stage lines running to the east of Hartford, which presently employed forty coaches and over four hundred horses, with a system of fast expresses for the transmission of important news. This business he relinquished when the Hartford and New Haven Railroad, of which he was a director, came into successful operation. Later he was one of the original corporators of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company, a director, and its president for twenty-seven years. His business career was one of great courage, energy, and firmness, united with equal wisdom and caution; and his character was marked by perfect integrity and constant usefulness to the community. Major Goodwin's wife was Lucy Morgan, daughter of Joseph and Sally (Spencer) Morgan of West Springfield (now Holyoke), Mass., and sister of Junius Spencer Morgan, who became illustrious in the world of finance. Her home was in Hartford from 1817 until her death in 1890. She was a woman whose character had wonderful beauty and strength, helpful in every good work, and of deep conviction in her religious faith, guiding the community by sweet influences and acts of benevolence.

Their oldest son, James Junius Goodwin, was born in Hartford 16 September 1835. His childhood and youth were passed in his native city, his education being for a time in private schools, and later in the Hartford High School, which he attended from its opening in 1847 until December 1851. For a few years following he was employed in a number of clerical positions, and in 1857 he went abroad for eighteen months of study and travel. In the early part of the year 1859 he returned to the United States and accepted a position in the firm of William A. Sale and Company of New York, engaged in the Chinese and East India trade. He remained with them about two years, and then became the partner of his cousin, the late John Pierpont Morgan, who had just been given the American agency of the great London banking house of George Peabody and Company, of which his father was a member. The career of the Morgan firm is too widely known to need rehearsing here, and in fact Mr. Goodwin remained a partner for only ten years, though the interests with which he was connected were always allied to Mr. Morgan's. In 1871 the firm was reconstructed under the name of Drexel, Morgan and Company, Mr. Goodwin withdrawing from it, and indeed from all active business. He inherited through his father a large portion of his ancestors' Hartford property, which with the growth of the city had become a most valuable possession, and the care of which required much watchful attention. But though he was not now engaged in active business, he did not entirely sever his connection with the financial world in which he had played so important a part. On the contrary, his interests were very large and varied, and without doubt it is due in great measure to his skill and wisdom that the institutions with which he was connected had continued prosperity. Among these may be mentioned the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company, the Hartford Fire Insurance Company, the Collins Company, the Connecticut Trust and Safe Deposit Company, the Holyoke Water Power Company, and the New York, Lake Erie and Western Railroad.

But Mr. Goodwin was best known and is best remembered in the city of his birth for his activity in other departments of the city's life. There were few movements undertaken for the general welfare in which he was not a conspicuous participant, aiding with generous pecuniary gifts and also with his time and personal effort. He was proud of the beautiful city of which he and his forefathers had been residents for so many generations, and it was a pleasure for him to be active, and to be known as active, in its affairs. He was prominent in the general social life of the community and was a member of many organizations, such as the Colonel Jeremiah Wadsworth Branch of the Connecticut Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, the Connecticut Historical Society, of which he was vice-president for twenty-two years, the Society of Colonial Wars in the State of Connecticut, of which he was for two years governor, and the Hartford Club. Having a residence in New York, he was also a member of several important clubs in that city, including the Union, the City, the Century, the Metropolitan, and the Church Club. He was for nearly twenty years a trustee of Trinity College, which in 1910 conferred on him the degree of Doctor of Laws. He was a communicant of the Episcopal Church, being also in Hartford a warden of Christ Church, where his father had been for many years vestryman, and in New York a vestryman and warden of Calvary Church.

Mr. Goodwin was at great pains to preserve the early traditions and records of Christ Church, and it was due to his generosity in bearing the expense of publication that the extremely valuable and handsome volumes in which the history of the parish is traced in the form of annals and its register reproduced to the end of the year 1900, by Dr. Gurdon W. Russell, were printed and distributed. He rendered a like, and even a greater, service to the town and the community in providing for the transcription, editing, and publication of the first volume of "Hartford Town Votes, 1635-1716," as volume 6 of the Collections of the Connecticut Historical Society, and also of the "Original Distribution of Lands in Hartford among the Settlers, 1639," with later transfers and with "Early Hartford Vital Records," as volume 14 of the same series — this latter a volume of 632 pages text and 84 pages index; the two making an almost invaluable contribution to the material available for the study of Colonial history, and that of a kind which required and received in its preparation the greatest possible pains to secure absolute accuracy. His gifts to this society were many and well chosen, the most notable being the monumental "Victoria History of the Counties of England."

He rendered like service to the New England Historic Genealogical Society. When, on the death of Colonel Chester, it seemed very desirable that Mr. Henry FitzGilbert Waters should be induced to take up his residence in England and devote his time to genealogical researches for the English pedigrees of American families, Mr. Goodwin was the largest personal contributor to the fund, and he continued his gifts for this purpose through a period of seventeen years; he was also a contributor to the Society's building fund. Among the results of Mr. Waters's work, as is well known, were the discovery of the parentage and provenance of John Harvard, the determination of certain questions in regard to the ancestry of George Washington, and the material for two large volumes of abstracts of wills and genealogical notes relating to the English origin of early American settlers.

Part of Mr. Waters's investigations assisted Mr. Goodwin in carrying out his plan of providing for a thorough study of his own ancestry in all its backward-extended ramifications. In 1891 Mr. Goodwin put through the press a large volume on "The Goodwins of Hartford, Connecticut, Descendants of William and Ozias Goodwin," to which were prefixed a paper on "The Goodwins of East Anglia" by Rev. Augustus Jessopp, D.D., and a "Report on English Investigations" by Henry F. Waters, A. M., together with a paper on "William Goodwin" (the Elder) by Rev. George Leon Walker, D.D., and one on "Ozias Goodwin" by Charles J. Hoadly, LL.D. The genealogical work was the compilation of Frank Farnsworth Starr, to whom all later volumes and fascicules published by Mr. Goodwin are indebted for thorough and precise investigation, study, and arrangement. In 1896 was printed "The Roberts Family of Simsbury, Connecticut, in the Line of Captain Lemuel Roberts, 1742-1789," Eunice Roberts his daughter being the wife of James⁵ Goodwin; in the same year "The Williamson and Cobb Families, in the Lines of Caleb and Mary (Cobb) Williamson of Barnstable, Mass., and Hartford, Conn.," these being the parents of Martha Williamson who married Ozias³ Goodwin; also "The Thomas Spencer Family of Hartford, Connecticut, in the Line of Samuel Spencer of Cromwell, Connecticut, 1744-1818," Samuel Spencer being the father of Sally Spencer who married Joseph Morgan and was the mother of Lucy wife of James⁶ Goodwin. In 1898 was printed "The Newberry Family of Windsor, Connecticut, in the Line of Clarinda (Newberry) Goodwin of Hartford, Connecticut, 1634-1866," the said Clarinda Newberry being the wife of Jonathan, brother of James⁵ Goodwin. In 1899 appeared "The Olcott Family of Hartford, Connecticut, in the Line of Eunice (Olcott) Goodwin, 1639-1807," Eunice Olcott being the wife of Jonathan⁴ Goodwin. In 1903 there followed "The Eells Family of Dorchester, Massachusetts, in the Line of Nathaniel Eells of Middletown, Connecticut, 1633-1821," Martha Eells being the wife of Samuel Spencer above mentioned and grandmother of Lucy Morgan wife of James⁶ Goodwin; and in 1904 "The Miles Morgan Family of Springfield, Massachusetts, in the Line of Joseph Morgan of Hartford, Connecticut, 1780-1847," this being the Joseph Morgan who married Sally Spencer, the fourth in descent from Miles Morgan who was a resident of Springfield in 1644. There was also a volume (dated 1895) devoted to the genealogy of the Edward Jackson family of Newton, Mass., a member of which is the wife of Mr. Goodwin's brother, the Rev. Dr. Francis Goodwin. And but a short time before Mr. Goodwin's death two volumes were printed under the title of "Various Ancestral Lines of James Goodwin and Lucy (Morgan) Goodwin of Hartford, Connecticut," one of 319 pages containing twenty-four Goodwin lines, the other of 481 pages containing twenty-nine Morgan lines. Of all these Mr. Starr was the compiler, his compilation resting on the most painstaking investigation; and it may well be doubted whether any one has undertaken and done for all the lines of his ancestry more than has here been done by Mr. James Junius Goodwin. With these belongs "The First Register of Saint Mary's Church, Bocking, Essex, England. Baptisms, 1561-1605; Marriages, 1593-1639; Burials, 1558-1628. Transcribed from the original for and privately printed [in an edition of 50 copies] by James Junius Goodwin," 1903.

Mr. Goodwin had, as witnessed by the press at the time of his death, "an enlightened interest in many subjects and a desire to facilitate their study by others; largely absorbed in business, he found time for study on his own account, and provided facilities for more minute study by special students." It may well be added, in words which the present writer used at the time, that Hartford is indebted for much of its attractive beauty to him and to those who have stood in close relation to him; and the prosperity of its literary institutions is largely due to their timely and generous gifts. There were no public legacies in his will; but in accordance with his expressed wish and from a fund which he set aside for the purpose, substantial gifts have already been made to Christ Church, the Wadsworth Atheneum, the Connecticut Historical Society, Trinity College, Berkeley Divinity School, and other institutions.

Mr. Goodwin married, 19 June 1873, Josephine Sarah Lippincott of Philadelphia, a descendant of one of the early settlers of Massachusetts who was later a patentee of the first English settlement in New Jersey. She survives her husband, with three sons, Walter Lippincott, James Lippincott, and Philip Lippincott; another son died in infancy.

GENEALOGICAL RESEARCH IN ENGLAND

POMEROY

Since the publication, in the REGISTER of July 1913 and of January 1914,* of articles on the English ancestry of Eltweed Pomeroy, the immigrant ancestor of the Pomeroy family in New England, the conclusions reached in those articles have been questioned in various printed statements. Therefore the Committee on English Research wishes to inform the readers of the REGISTER that in these printed statements no evidence has been presented that affects in the slightest degree the correctness of the conclusions given in the REGISTER, namely, (1) that Richard Pomeroy of the armigerous family of Pomeroy of Berry-Pomeroy, co. Devon, who has been claimed as identical with Richard Pomeroy of Beaminster, co. Dorset, the father of Eltweed Pomeroy, died without issue; and (2) that the parentage of Richard Pomeroy, father of Eltweed, has not yet been found.

The Committee wishes also to repeat the statement that the illustration facing page 47 of the REGISTER of January 1914 was presented as a true copy of Harleian MS. 1091, fo. 109, dorso. It was not represented to be a correct pedigree of the Pomeroy family.

CHATFIELD

The Will of RICHARD CHAFYLLD of the City of Chichester, gent., 24 October 1582. My body to be buried in the Cathedral Church of Chichester, against the library in the east end of the said church, decently and honestly. My will is that Francis my son, for and in consideration of my former goods and "cattel," shall see my body honestly buried at his cost and charges according to his promise. I give 10s. to a preacher to preach at my burial. To Joane Est, my daughter, 20s. To Anne Kynswell 10s. The residue of all my goods and "cattel," my debts paid and legacies performed, I give to Agnes my wife, whom I make my executrix. I desire Mr. Henry Blaxton and Mr. Daniell Gardener, residentiaries of the Cathedral Church of Chichester, to be overseers and to be a comfort and stay to my wife, and I give to them 10s. apiece. Witnesses: Henry Blaxton, Daniell Gardener, Richard Juxon, and Thomas Machyn. [Signed] Rychard Chatfylld. This my very last will was read to me 18 June 1585 in presence of John Base, Henry Clerk, and John Browne, to whom I confessed it to be my last will. Proved 7 October 1586 by Agnes, the relict and executrix. (Consistory of Chichester, vol. 14, fo. 20b.)

The Will of FRAUNCIS CHATFIELD of the parish of Rumboldesweeke, co. Sussex, gentleman, 4 May 1594. To be buried in the parish church of Rom-boldesweeke. To the mother church of Chichester 3s. 4d. My goods to be appraised between this and Michaelmas, and, my debts and legacies being paid, the residue to be equally divided among all my children, my son Richard only excepted. My sons Francis, George, and Thomas, and my daughter Joane to have their portions within half a year after my decease, and my five other children as they shall come to their several ages of twenty-one years. My son Richard shall discharge my wife of all jointures, dowries, bonds, and other encumbrances that I stand bound in, for, and concerning his wife. To Anne Chatfield, daughter of my son Richard, 40s., to be paid to the said Richard for the use of the said Anne. To my son Francis Chatfield all my lands in West Ashelinge now in the tenure of Thomas Bonye, John Linsey, and John White, containing one yardland, to him and his male issue, and for want of such to my son Richard and his male issue. The residue of my lands there, called Mudberyes, I leave to my son Richard, my wife to have the use of all my lands in West Ashelinge for life. To my servant William Humfrey a heifer and a calf. To my servant John Daunce a ewe. To my servant Robert Jawning 3s. 4d. [Signed] Fraunces Chatfeeld. Witnesses: George Chatfild, Anthony Smithe. Proved 14 June 1594, administration being granted to Anne Chatfield the relict and Francis Chatfield the son of the testator, no executor being named. (P. C. C., Dixy, 47.)

The Will of GEORGE CHATFIELDE of the City of Chichester, co. Sussex, gent., 1 February 1599 [1599/1600]. To be buried in the Cathedral Church of Chichester near my father. To the fabric of the said Cathedral Church 12d. I will that there shall be distributed among the poor inhabitants, men and women, on St. George's day, 20s. Twenty bushels of wheat to be baked into bread and distributed among the poor of Chichester, and the same among the poor of Ovinge. To the Corporation of the Mayor and the Citizens of the City of Chichester one bowl with a cover, both being silver and gilt wholly over and wrought with Imagerye embossed, which I will shall remain forever in the possession of the Mayor for the time being. My wife Agnes to have during her life the use and occupation of, and [the right of] dwelling freely in, the house wherein I now dwell; also half of all my household goods and plate (except the aforementioned bowl or cup), my bay colt, and, in lieu of her dower right in my lands, an annuity of £30 out of them. If she claim her dower right, all my legacies to her to be void. To my nephews Francis Chatfielde and George Chatfielde the reversion of my house where I now dwell, with appurtenances, after the death of my said wife, and the fee simple of all my messuage and garden with appurtenances in North Street in the City of Chichester, now in the tenure of ——— Biggs, and all other my lands, tenements, barns, stables, gardens, and buildings whatsoever in East Lane and in the Crane Lane in Chichester, to my said nephews and their heirs forever. All my estate, term of year, and interest in the leases held of William Rumbridge and John Lane in Chichester, and in my leases of certain lands without the North Gate of the City of Chichester called Penny acre and Horsdowne, which I hold to farm by grant of the Mayor and the Citizens of Chichester, my lease of a parcel of land called Ipthorne in the south suburbs of Chichester near to Stockbridge, held of the prebendary of the Prebend of Ipthorne in the Cathedral Church of Chichester, the lease of the rectory and parsonage of South Mondham, and the lease of the farm of Groves in the parish of Ovinge, held by demise and grant of Richard Chatfeilde, gent., my late father, my lease of a messuage with a barn and lands in Ovinge called Pettitsholde and in the farm and rectory or parsonage of Ovinge, with all orchards, gardens, barns, stables, stalls, and other edifices held by demise of George Holmeden, gentleman, deceased, and all my goods, chattles, cattle, corn, and moveables remaining on said farms and lands, except as before bequeathed to my wife, I give to my nephews Francis Chatfeilde and George Chatfeilde, on condition that they pay the said annuity of £30 to my wife Agnes and all other legacies in this my will. To Johan Chatfeilde, sister of the said Francis and George, £50 within three years after my decease. To Thomas Chatfeilde and Robert Chatfeilde, brothers of the said Francis and George, £50 each within four years after my decease. To William Chatfeilde and Edward Chatfeilde, brothers of the said Francis and George, £50 each within five years after my decease. To James Chatfeilde and Drewe Chatfeilde, brothers of the said Francis and George, £50 each within six years after my decease. To my godson Richard Chatfeilde, son of Richard Chatfeilde eldest brother of the said Francis and George, £10 at the age of twenty-one years. To George Waite, son of Nicholas Wayte, £10 to put him apprentice, and if he be not apprenticed, then to be paid to him at the age of twenty-one years. To each of my sisters, Joane Este and Elizabeth Ancill, £10 within one year after my decease. To my servant Thomas Grigge £10 within four years after my decease. To my servant Jane Legge £5 toward the finding of her into some copyhold. To John Tufte, Henry Browne, and Thomas Pryce, my servants, half a quarter of barley apiece, and to all the rest of my servants a quarter of barley. I make my nephews Francis Chatfeilde and George Chatfeilde my executors, and before proving my will they shall enter into a bond of £800 to my overseers. I make Mr. William Holland and Mr. John Cawley, Aldermen of the City of Chichester, my overseers, and give to them 40s. apiece. [Signed] George Chatfeld. Witnesses: Augustine Hitchcock, Thomas Hills, Richard Chatfeilde, and William Watts. Proved 9 February 1599 [1599/1600] by Francis Chatfeilde and George Chatfeilde, executors named in the will. (P.C.C., Wallopp, 11.)

Administration on the goods of RICHARD CHATFIELD of the City of Chichester was granted 4 December 1609 to Elizabeth, his relict. Inventory, £92. 12s. 4d. (Peculiar of the Dean of Chichester, Diary, 1577-1626, fo. 46.)

Administration on the goods of GEORGE CHATFIELD of Pagham was granted 13 November 1619 to Margaret Chatfeild, widow and relict. Inventory, £8. 8s. 4d. (Peculiar of Pagham and Tarring Deanery, Diary, 1614-1639, fo. 13.)

Administration on the goods of WILLIAM CHATFIELD, late in parts beyond the seas, was granted 3 November 1626 to his sister, Elizabeth Hulett. (P.C.C., Administration Act Book, 1626, fo. 115.)

The Will of EDWARD CHATFIELD of London, gent., 27 February 1626 [1626/7]. Bound on a voyage to the East Indies in the Ship Mary belonging to the East India Company. Universal legatee and executor, my brother James Chatfeild, citizen and fishmonger of London. Witnesses: John Warner and Ser. [sic] Thomas. Proved 17 December 1629 by the executor named in the will. (P.C.C., Ridley, 109.)

The Will of FRANCIS CHATFIELD of Groves in the parish of Oving, co. Sussex, gentleman, 15 May 1627. To be buried beside my wife in the Subdeanery parish in the City of Chichester. To the high church of Chichester 2s. To the poor of the Subdeanery parish 20s. To the poor of Oving 20s. To my son Francis and his heirs forever my tenement and lands called Burrs in Pagham and a close adjoining containing three acres, bought of John Bennet of Bognor. To my son Thomas my house in East Lane in West Street in the City of Chichester, with all the barns, stables, storehouses, buildings, orchards, and gardens, and my house and gardens in North Street. If either of my said sons Thomas or Francis die before reaching the age of twenty-one years, reversion to the survivor. To my eldest daughter, Katherine, £200 out of my lands in Chichester and Pagham, £100 within three months after my death and the remaining £100 to be paid £20 a year for five years. The residue of the profits of said lands I leave for the maintenance of my younger sons and daughters during the minority of my sons. To my other daughters, Dorothy, Mary, Sisly, Ann, Alice, Elizabeth, and Jane, £100 apiece at the age of twenty-one years or day of marriage, and until such time the profits of said portions are to go toward the maintenance of my said sons and daughters. Whereas my eldest son, John Chatfield, is to have the house and lands called Grouves in Oving, wherein I now dwell, by way of survivorship, we being joint purchasers, I give him all my right in it, and make him my executor. I make Mr. William Strudwicke, Mayor of Chichester, and Thomas Farrington, Alderman of Chichester, my overseers in trust to enter on my personal estate and pay my legacies, and I give to each of them 20s. To my brothers Richard Chatfeild, William Chatfeild, and James Chatfeild £5 apiece. Witnesses: Thomas Carr, John Strudwicke, and Thos: Wright, not. pub. Proved 1 November 1627 by John Chatfeild, son and executor. (P.C.C., Skinner, 115.)

The Will of HENRY CHATFEILD [the probate act styles him of North Mundham], 28 January 1636 [1636/7]. To be buried in the churchyard. To the High Church of Chichester 6d. To Habell Ingram my son-in-law 12d. To my son John Chatfield 12d. To my son Edward Fowle 12d. To my son Francis Chatfeild £100, providing that he surrender his estate in those copyhold lands that he is estated in unto his brother Thomas Chatfeild, which if he refuse to do, I give him 12d. for his portion. To my son Norrisses children, George, Annis, and Joseph, £15 to be equally divided among them at the age of twenty-one. If my son Francis die before the age of twenty-two years, reversion of his portion to my sons Thomas Chatfeild and George Chatfeild, equally divided. If my son Thomas die, then my lands shall go to Francis Chatfeild, and if Francis die, then to George. To my younger son, George Chatfeild, £100 at the age of twenty-one, and if he do not live so long, reversion to my sons Francis Chatfeild and Thomas Chatfeild, equally divided. To my wife Jane the use of my lands for life, and my best bed furnished. Executor: Edward Fowle. Overseers: Thomas Peirse and John Smith, to each of whom I give 3s. 4d. [Signed] The mark of Henry Chatfeild. Witnesses: Thomas Whight and John Buckner. Proved 3 March 1636 [1636/7] by Jane Chatfeild, Edward Fowle, the executor named in the will, first renouncing. (Consistory of Chichester, vol. 19, fo. 54.)

The Will of JANE CHATFEILD of North Mundham, co. Sussex, widow, 15 March 1638 [1638/9]. To the poor of North Mundham 20s. My late husband Henry Chatfeild left by will to Francis Chatfeild, his and my son, £100, provided that he should surrender to his brother his estate in copyhold lands wherein he is estated, and if he refused, he gave him 12d. He bequeathed to his and my youngest son, George Chatfeild, £100 at the age of twenty-one if he lived so long, and if not, to be equally divided between Francis Chatfeild and Thomas Chatfeild his brothers. He gave me the use of his lands for life, and bequeathed 12d. to Edward Fowle, whom he made executor. After he died, the said Edward Fowle renounced said will, and I took administration of the estate, amounting to £118. 4s. 4d. Whereas my husband did owe certain debts on specialties, I will that all my husband's debts and legacies shall be paid according to his will. I give to my youngest son, George Chatfield, all the goods late my first husband Wickham's and which were not prised in the inventory of my said last husband Henry Chatfeild. To my son Thomas Chatfeild a pair of the best wearing sheets. To my son Francis Chatfeild another pair of sheets. To my grandchild Thomas Wykeham another pair of sheets. Whereas my husband Henry Chatfeild did take on lease from the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of Chichester a parcel of land and two garden plots, with appurtenances, containing 25 acres, lying at Fisher in the parish of North Mundham, called Sowthees, for the lives of Richard Parker and William Parker his brother and John Fayers and of the longest liver of them, at the annual rent of 26s. 8d. and a couple of capons, on which land he built a barn and certain stalls or cow houses for cattle, now it is my will that the profits of the said land shall be used to pay the legacies and debts of my said husband, if any be unpaid, and also for the performing of this my present will and the payment of all charges and debts. My executors shall take no damage or loss, as any of my children whom my will and the estate of my husband Henry Chatfeild do principally concern are all under age,* and that is their great courtesy and kindness to me and my said children that they take upon themselves the execution of my will. My executors to renew the lease of Sowthees for three lives, if the said term be ended by the deaths of the said Richard Parker, William Parker, and John Fayers before my will and my husband's be performed. And after they be performed and the fines paid for the new lease (if any), the remainder of the term to my son Thomas. I make my sons-in-law William Langrish and Edward Fowle executors in trust, and give to them 40s. apiece above their charges. To Elizabeth, the wife of Edward Fowle, who is my daughter, 12d. To Myriam my daughter, wife of Abell Ingram, 3s. I desire Thomas Perce to be my overseer, and give to him 12d. [Signed] The handmark of Jane Chatfeild. Witnesses: John Buckner, Elizabeth White, widow, her mark, Thomas Ingram, and Nathaniell Yeoman. Proved 22 March 1638 [1638/9] by the executors named in the will. (Consistory of Chichester, vol. 20, fo. 127.)

The Will of FRANCIS CHATFEILD of the City of Chichester, Gent., 26 April 1642. To be buried near my father and mother in the Cathedral Church of Chichester. To my sister Githens £70. To my brother Thomas Chatfeild £60, a mare, apparel, saddles, etc. To my sister Chambers £50. To my sister Hinkson 20s. for a ring. To my sister Violet £50. To my sister Elizabeth Standen £50. To my sister Jane Chatfeild £50. My tenement and lands in Pagham called Burrs and a three acre close which my father bought of John Bennett to be sold by my executor to pay my debts and legacies. Executor: my brother John Chatfeild. Overseers: my friend Richard Peckham of Up Marden, gent., and John Baylie of Houghton. To Mary Comber my trunk, a silver spoon, and a Bible. To William Maunser my silver hatchet, sword, and an embroidered belt. To my brother John Gittens my books, except the said Bible, and three pair of boots which William Bridger brought from Mundham. Witnesses: Stephen Humffrey, Edward Manninge, and William Manser. Proved 16 September 1645 by the executor named in the will. (P.C.C., Rivers, 118.)

To his Excellency the Governour and Councill, and Representatives, now in Generall Court Assembled; at Boston

The Petition of severall of the Inhabitants of Andover, Salem village & Topsfield, humbly sheweth;

That whereas in the year 1692 some of your Petitioners and the near Relations of others of them, viz. Rebecca Nurse, Mary Estey, Abigail Faulkner, Mary Parker of Andover, John Procter & Elizabeth his wife: Elizabeth How, Samuel Wardwell & Sarah his wife; were accused of witchcraft by certain possessed persons, and thereupon were apprehended and Imprisoned, and at a Court held at Salem were condemned upon the evidence of the aforesaid possessed persons; and sentence of Death hath been executed on them (except Abigail Faulkner, Elizabeth Procter & Sarah Wardwell) of whose Innocency those that knew them are well satisfyed. And whereas the invalidity of the aforesaid Evidence and the great wrong which (through errors & mistakes in those tryalls) was then done, hath since plainly appear'd, which we doubt not but this Hono^{red} Court is sensible of:

Your Petitioners being dissatisfyed and grieved that (besides what the aforesaid condemned persons have suffered in their persons and Estates) their Names are exposed to Infamy and reproach, while their Tryall & condemnation stands upon Publick Record.*

We therefore humbly Pray this Hono^{red} Court, that something may be Publickly done to take off Infamy from the Names and memory of those who have suffered as aforesaid, that none of their surviving Relations, nor their Posterity may suffer reproach upon that account. And yor Petition^{rs} shall ever pray &c.

REMINISCENCES OF JOHN DAVIDSON, A MAINE PIONEER

Communicated by ALFRED JOHNSON, Litt. D., of Brookline, Mass.

JOHN DAVIDSON, the writer of the following narrative, was a son of John Davidson of Windham, N. H., who, as one of the original proprietors of Belfast, Me., drew lot No. 10 on the eastern side of Belfast Bay, in what is now the town of Searsport. The elder Davidson did not go to Belfast, but was represented by his son John, who arrived with the first settlers in 1770, being then only nineteen years old. Young John Davidson built a log house there and remained nine years. During the Revolution he left Belfast and returned to Windham, which was his home until he reached extreme old age. In 1794 his First Division lot in Belfast was conveyed to Job Young for £100, and the next year the remainder of his share was conveyed to John Cochran for a like sum. In 1829, after the death of his wife, Davidson went to live with his son William at Lowell, Mass., and there he died 25 Oct. 1835, aged eighty-five years. His son Henry, who died at Belfast 26 Jan. 1864, was the only one of his children who settled in Maine.

Davidson's narrative was written in 1832, after he had completed his eighty-second year. The original manuscript is now in the possession of descendants residing in Belfast, and has been copied for the REGISTER by the Misses Annie L. Barr and Grace Hall, of the Belfast Free Library. This narrative was used in compiling the genealogy of the Davidson family published in Morrison's "History of Windham in New Hampshire;" and a few extracts from it, with corrected spelling, may be found in Williamson's "History of Belfast," vol. 1. The manuscript is here reproduced verbatim, except for the omission of a few repetitions and of some of the less important details.

A narative of some of the triels and sufferings of John Davidson and his family in time of the Revolutionery war in the yr 1779 with some accounts of my religious experience and many other interesting circumstances of life to show the wonderfull goodness and mercy of God in preserving me and my fammily in time of perrell & Danger in supplying our wants in time of need so much as we experienced them and in continuing my life and faculties to this great age together with some account of my ancestors according to the best of my recollection I not having kept any Journal & this is written with my owne hand on this 25 of may in the year 1832 in the 83 year of my age

I was born in teweksbury Mass. on a farm now owned or occupied by Mr. Eezadick Rogers S^d farm known by it being calded Bowlands farm, march 16th 1750* my ancestors on both My Father & Mothers Side were both from Scotland were By profession what was then Protestants they embarked to the north of Ireland a place in those days nearly destitute Of inhabitants, very remote from the natives of Ireland And after they began to call them Irish, and from that they call us Scotchirish, so we are cauled so to this Day, in that place Called Mennemore† my Father was born, August 20. 1720

And in 1728 his Father and Mother Brothers and Sisters and others embarked for Aamerica, in consequence chiefly of the following alarming circumstance viz. my Greatgrand Father took a Little boy by the name of M^c graw who lived with them untill he became a man, then he left them afftler some time he returned accompined by another man, on a pretended visit of friendship knowing that money was in the house and all were Expected to be abesent through the night except those Aged couple they from pretended kindness ofered to Lodge in the house with them to protect them but in the Stillness of midnight when those aged innocent, Unsuspecting patrons — in the Silent repose without the least thought of danger these villins arose [2] And with an axe put an end to their existence took the money and what they pleased, after pilliging the house Set it on fire And left the place — but justice slumbered not in the case Of one — when my Grand Father returned the next day Saw his house in ashes and his aged parents bones, and McGraw and his friend had absconded, immediate Search was made, and McGraw was found — and blood was on His clothes, he confessed the whole affair and his Sentence in A court of justice was immediately pass^d. and he was publicly jibited the other was not found as I ever heard, as apears the murderers and them sort are or were a revangfull popele and my grand father thought it to be too much of a risque to continue there for fear of there revenge, he and the family and other realitives removed to north america State of massachusetts the town of wobourn.

my Father was then a boy about 8 years old and he was put to Capt Timothy Brooks and he continued with him till he was 21 and he after that he worked about with one and another till about 25 and then marred Sarah Nutt,‡ and his Father Uncle George and himself remoooved into Tukesbury and lived there 8 years and my parents had two Daughters and two son born on a farm known by it being called Boland farm, the names of us children born on said farm are as folloeth — Sarah — Anna — John and James§ in which time my Father and Uncle George, went to windham bought farms for them selves, my Father moved on to his it was in may 1752 the two Brothers with there wives lived with them here till they all became old and all Died there in windham

i John lived with my parents till I was 20 years 2 months 4 days old in which time I receieved good instruction from them they exhorted me to seeret prayer and a good many admonitions and instructions which I endeaveoured in some good measure to perform, when I was about 8 or 9 years old I was subject [to] fits till about 16 they left me and through the goodness

* He gives this date according to New Style. In the Vital Records of Tewksbury the birth of John Davidson, son of John and Sarah, is given under date of 5 Mar. 1749.

† Probably Moneymore, co. Londonderry.

§ According to the Vital Records of Tewksbury Sarah was born 23 Jan. 1745, Anna 20 Nov. 1747, John 5 Mar. 1749, and James was baptized 23 Feb. 1752.

of god I never have had any after as yet but has enjoyed a good Degree of helth except the Sick head eake which has been very affictive to me nevertheless, my helth has been very good for the most, part which to this Day I have great reason to return thanks to almighty [3] God for his goodness to me when I was about 20 years old my Father preposed to purchase a lot right of land in the The Township of Belfast and preposed to give it me if I would go and Settle on it I excepted his offer My father lived on the farm now occupied by my brother William in Windham N. H. untill the 29 of sept. 1799 when he died, and while he lived there he had five children viz. Mary. William. Jesse, William and Betesy, five of their Children are now living viz John, James, Mary, William and Betsy.

On the 20 Day of may 1770 I arived at Belfast raw enough and unaquainted with any one at Belfast but John Tufts, 'tho John Morrison had a lot of land that lay along side my land and he and I built a camp betweext us, and lived together one summer or season, O Dear I was unaquainted with the nature of mankind, tho I had something of an opertunity to be acquainted with what wes on board the vessel while we ware on our passage to Belfast which was about 30 men women & children bound to Belfast and penobscut River the most that belonged to Belfast went ashore before Morison and I Did, for there land lay westerly of ours and a little while after two of the shipes hands took Morrisons and my efects into the boat and brought us round Moose Point to the south end of our lots of land, Sun then being but one hour and half high at night, you may judge what a situation we must be in the roaring seas on the one hand, and the howling wilderness on the other, and our stoers hurried from the boat and those 2 men that brought us there as soon as our efects was out of the boat they left us, and as the tide was far out and it a coming in we had to stur our Selves quick so as to have our stoars out of the tides way as it apeared likly it would in a short time move them, but it would be much to our cost, so before Dark we had them secucer from the tide, when this was performed the next I thought of as it was growing toward Dark i was going to strike fire — said Morrison we will not stay hear for the indians would kill us before morning he said he ment to see Matthew Reed before he slept and away he went 4 miles, and I stoped over night with Mr. John Barnet in going 2 miles [4] And staid with him that night, next morning we returned To our stoers found them safe, we attempt[ed] to, and put up the walls of a camp that Day, the next put on the roof covered it with spruce Bark so as to be tollerable comfortable, then we began to clear about the camp, and we began to make the opening larger my most Peticular work was to cut cordwood and clear the land, as I Had no oxen I had to exchange my work for ox work and I got about 50 cords to th[e] [lan]ding a pretty large todd* for a vessel the place was new and coasters unaquainted with the harbour And I could find no market for my wood till it was spoild And I had to set fire to it, for that was the easiest way I could Moov it out of the way out from the landing so as to leave thet for Green wood, tho it semed a great loss, perhaps as much as 25 Dollors or more, (the next season 1771 I sowed 2 bushells of winter Rie and I had betwixt 30 and 40 bushells,) in the month of October 1770 I returned to my Fathers house in windham and he had agreed to have me to go and work the insueing winter with Mr John Barnett at shoework as I had worked at that work before he thought the tread would be some benifet to me some time and so It has in my fammily.

In the spring of 1771 I returned to Belfast and resumed my works of cutting cordwood And clearing and prepared two acres of ground on which in the fall I sowed the rie before mentioned

In January in 1772 I left Belfast for my Fathers house by water in a very poor miserebele leekey vessell and a cearless commander if he had plenty of

* I.e., load.

Rum in the vessel it was all the stoers he wished to provide, the chiefe of the stoars that were on boart for ten to live on for ten Days was what we that were pasengers took on board as our owne Stoers and toward the last of our Passagee I think we eat the last of any thing we had on board without we had killed a dog and we threatned his life we had no releief with provision till all most sundown the ninth Day when as good luck would have it we were Driven within wood Island we cast anker the next was who will go a Shore, the next was the enquirey, not who will go ashore but who has money to pay for some food I no not there was one cent on board but what I had in my pocket that was little [5] so We our capt and my Self Set out to go ashore in a little punt we had to go with paddles about three milds before we could reach the shore there was one house there and but one the first the Capt Called for was a mug of flip to put in to our empty stomachs all the provosions we could obtain there was one Dry fish and half a bushell of frosted bitten spenish Potatoes and having carried them to our punt or boat we attemped to gain or reach the vessel but a sudden squell came up and we afearred we should be blown of to sea, we Dear not go, we returned to the house and waited and as soon as it began to break away we attemped to go on board wth our small pittence of stores to releive the Suffering of ourselves and those we left on board but now this wind was so heigh that we could not have Stopt when we came to the vessel but the men from on board hove the end of a rope and the wind being high we had like to have filled our punt before we could have come on board the vessel, the men and rope apearred to be the means of preventing us from going to sea, by this time the weather being so sovear our potatoes had another touch of the frost tho we boiled sume of them, they and fish were very good.

next day morning we hove up and come to sale and ventered to sea and before Dark we were Driven within kittery point near to Portsmouth there we let run our anker and I went a shoar and bought some meat and bread and after Refreshing our Selves we brought the vessell into the Dock to a worf, then I had Done with her without it was to go and see her, She was about as full of water as time and tide could fill her, when I come next Day morning to see her sunk to the bottom as a stone. O how the goodness of God is to be seen that he Did not withdraw his Protecting arm a few Days sooner, when we were in the vessel at sea, it is wholy of the goodness of the almighty god, that he Did Suffer any of us to be preveved to the land, All the time we were at sea whather sick or well, cold or warm by Day or by night we must be Drewing water out of the hold of the vessel with a pump it apearred we at that time that we had life and Deth Set before us [6] To be leborious proved to be the preservation of the lives of all on Board that vessel, in about two Days after we eat the last of our provision we began to have that sharp hunger for food a little over, we were very, very, faint, and the longer the worse notwithstanding we must work or Sink, little I knew what sort of a comander or a vessel I was going with or I never should have engaged with him when I came to Portsmouth I was a stranger and knew no one but Capt McFarland (of the vessel I came in) and I entrusted my very good blanket my Dear Mother took so much panes to make had it fulled in a fulling mill it was very larg that she made it so if I was out over night it would have been a good preservative against the frost, but he is gone and the blanket likewise so I have done with them both.

after I left Portsmouth I had yes I had a teadious Journey on my feet to my Fathers house at Windham not less then 50 milds as the snow was Deep and light and very cold I was received as a very w[e]lcome guest

PROCEEDINGS OF THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC
GENEALOGICAL SOCIETYBy ALFRED JOHNSON, Litt. D., Recording Secretary pro tempore

Boston, Massachusetts, 5 May 1915. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 P.M., President Baxter presiding.

The minutes of the April meeting were approved, and the reports of the Council, Librarian, Corresponding Secretary, and Historian were accepted.

Twenty-one resident members were elected by ballot.

Hon. James Phinney Baxter, A.M., Litt. D., President of the Society, spoke on Westminster Abbey as an Inspiration to New England. After giving an outline of the history of the Abbey and with the aid of stereopticon slides describing the architecture of the edifice and many of the objects of interest therein, President Baxter showed how the history of England is enshrined within its walls. He urged that our New England should have such a temple of honor, a place in which to preserve the memorials of the Pilgrim and Puritan founders and their successors, as a result of whose thought and work and life New England is what it is to-day.

On motion of Rev. Lewis Wilder Hicks it was Voted, That a committee of three be appointed to consider the subject of the lecture and to report at the autumn meeting, the committee to have the power to invite representatives from other societies to meet with it.

On motion of Vice-President Rust a vote expressing the Society's appreciation of the address of President Baxter was passed.

6 October. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 P.M., President Baxter presiding.

In the absence of the Recording Secretary, Alfred Johnson was appointed Recording Secretary pro tempore.

The minutes of the May meeting were approved, and the reports of the Council, Librarian, Corresponding Secretary, and Historian were accepted.

After the reading of the names of the members of the Society who had died since the last previous meeting, a brief paper was read by Hon. Charles Sidney Ensign, LL.B., giving facts relating to those living persons who have longest held membership in the Society.

Twenty-six resident members were elected by ballot.

The address of the afternoon, by Zelotes Wood Coombs, A.M., Professor of English at the Worcester Polytechnic Institute, followed. Professor Coombs's subject was Historic and Literary Concord; and with the aid of many lantern slides he described in detail and most interestingly all the familiar and many less known places and monuments, historic and literary, of Concord.

8 November. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 P.M., Vice-President Rust presiding.

The minutes of the October meeting were approved, and the reports of the Council, Librarian, Corresponding Secretary, and Historian were accepted.

By ballot the following were elected members of the Nominating Committee: J. Gardner Bartlett, Lawrence Brainerd, Mrs. Mary L. Holman, Mrs. Susan C. Tufts, Walter K. Watkins.

Fitz-Henry Smith, Jr., LL.B., of Boston, read a paper entitled The Story of Boston Light, with the aid of a chart of Boston Harbor tracing the history of this lighthouse, the oldest in the country, from its foundation in 1716 to the present day.

1 December. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 P.M., President Baxter presiding.

The minutes of the November meeting were approved, and the reports of the Council, Librarian, and Corresponding Secretary were accepted.

The report of the Nominating Committee was accepted.

Messrs. Henry F. Tapley and Charles S. Penhallow were appointed auditors. Six resident members were elected by ballot.

The address of the afternoon was delivered by Barrett Wendell, Litt. D., of Boston, and was entitled Genealogy and Social Justice.

On motion of Henry Edwards Scott a vote of thanks to the speaker was adopted.

NOTES

GRANBY (CONN.) CEMETERY INSCRIPTIONS.—The following death records were copied by me on 31 Aug. 1905 directly from the stones then standing or lying upon the ground in the so-called Lee Cemetery, which is situated in the southern central part of the Sixth School District of North Granby, Conn., near the middle of the triangular tract of land bounded on the east by the Granby-Granville turnpike, on the north and west by the road leading from the Hiram Wilcox place to the Loveland place, and on the south by the Hartland road, leading from the Loveland place to the Leonard place, on the aforesaid Granby-Granville turnpike.

This cemetery lies directly west of the old homestead formerly occupied in turn by the Lees, Wilcoxes, and Bissells, and has been neglected for many years; in fact, not only have the fences been neglected, but the grounds have been pastured, and trees allowed to grow to a size which permitted cutting ties from the same. All this neglect and depredation have resulted in the turning over and breaking of many stones, and many of them have disappeared.

As many of those whose names are found in this cemetery were men and women of affairs in their day, this record is made with the hope that their memory may not entirely disappear and that our gratitude for what they were and what they did may abide.

HISTORICAL INTELLIGENCE

HERALDRY. — The Committee on Heraldry of the New England Historic Genealogical Society desires to call special attention to the recommendation in its report of 5 May 1914 (see REGISTER, vol. 69, Supplement, pp. xvi-xxiii), "that every person interested, by reason of descent or otherwise, in making it a matter of record that any original settler in this country inherited a coat of arms or that any inhabitant of this country received a grant of arms be invited to offer the arms for record with this Society," etc.

The Committee believes that the importance of the results possible to be attained by such registration will be of great interest; and they earnestly request all members of the Society and all other persons who have coats of arms which they believe to be eligible to make application for recording them. The cost of painting the arms and making up the record will have to be defrayed by the applicants, and the Committee has determined that $3.00 for each coat will barely suffice.

This amount, by cheque payable to the order of the Society, must be forwarded with the application. If the application is rejected, the money will be returned unless the applicant wishes to have the arms recorded with those resipited for proof. The Committee, however, reserves the right to reject any application altogether, and if this right is exercised, the money will, of course, be returned.

It seems evident that, besides the growth in value of the collection as it increases in size, there will be many other things of extreme interest contributed with the arms and directly related thereto, such as photographs of castles, armor, seals, manors, etc., and provision is contemplated for filing such contributions in supplementary volumes in connection with the registers of the arms. Applications in which the proofs do not sufficiently conform to the requirements indicated in the report of the Committee will be placed in a separate volume to await further proof.

Printed directions for the making of applications may be obtained from the Committee; and all communications on this subject should be addressed to the Committee on Heraldry, New England Historic Genealogical Society, 9 Ashburton Place, Boston.

HISTORY OF SURRY, N. H. — Frank B. Kingsbury of Proctor, Vt., is gathering material for a history of the town of Surry, N. H. Items of historical and genealogical interest relating to this town will be appreciated by him.

GENEALOGIES IN PREPARATION. — Persons of the several names are advised to furnish the compilers of these genealogies with records of their own families and other information which they think may be useful. We would suggest that all facts of interest illustrating family history or character be communicated, especially service under the U. S. Government, the holding of other offices, graduation from college or professional schools, occupation, with places and dates of birth, marriage, residence, and death. All names should be given in full if possible. No initials should be used when the full name is known.

Clarke-Clark. — Dea. George, born in England, died at Milford, Conn., in June 1690, by George Clarke Bryant, 75 North Cliff Street, Ansonia, Conn.

George. — Asa, born in Maine or New Hampshire about 1770, died at East Calais, Vt., about 1848, a descendant of Nicholas George, by Allen A. Norris, M.D., Elkhart, Ind.

Miles. — John, of Concord, Mass., freeman 14 Mar. 1638/9, died at Concord 26 Aug. 1693, by Jonas Michael Miles, 28 Adams Street, Brookline, Mass.

Pier. — Thomas, died (probably at Great Barrington, Mass.) in 1778, by Mrs. Kate H. (Pier) McIntosh, 20 Prospect Avenue, Milwaukee, Wis.

NATHANIEL CUSHING NASH, A.M.

By NATHANIEL CUSHING NASH, JR., A.B., LL.B., of Cambridge, Mass.

NATHANIEL CUSHING NASH, a resident member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society since 1891 and its Treasurer for the three years 1904-1906, died at his home in Cambridge, Mass., after a long illness, 10 October 1915, at the age of fifty-three years. He was born in Boston, Mass., 4 April 1862, the son of Nathaniel Cushing and Lucy Turner (Briggs) Nash.

On his father's side he was descended from Joseph¹ Nash,* of Weymouth, Mass., who by his wife Elizabeth, probably a daughter of John Holbrook, was the father of Joseph,² of Scituate, Mass., who was born at Weymouth 8 June 1674 and died 23 May 1732, aged 58. By his wife Hannah, a daughter of John Curtis, Joseph² Nash was the father of John,³ also of Scituate, who was born 8 August 1703 and married Hannah Buck. Their son was Noah,⁴ of Scituate, who was born 23 January 1734/5 and died "in the army at Roxbury" in 1775, where he was serving as a private in Thomas's Massachusetts regiment. He married, 4 November 1756, Elizabeth Cudworth, who died in 1790. They were the parents of John⁵ Nash, of Scituate, who was born 29 May 1767 and married, about 1796, Deborah Cushing, who was born at Scituate 31 December 1774 and died 23 April 1811, aged 37. Their son, Nathaniel Cushing⁶ Nash, the father of the subject of this memoir, was born at Scituate 6 April 1804, and died at Arlington, Mass., 31 August 1880. He married, 31 May 1849, Lucy Turner Briggs, who was born at Scituate 23 January 1830 and died 14 April 1862, daughter of Henry and Betsey (Ruggles) Briggs. He was a successful merchant of Boston, of the firm of Nash, Spaulding and Company; and he was also a public-spirited citizen, interested in movements for promoting the welfare of the community and serving as a member of the Common Council of Boston in 1856, of the Board of Aldermen from 1864 to 1867, and of the State Legislature in 1858, 1868, and 1869. He was elected a resident member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society in 1870, became a life member in 1878, and is counted among the generous benefactors of this Society. An opponent of Slavery, he belonged to the Republican party from the time of its organization. In religion he was a Unitarian.*

Through his great-grandmother, Elizabeth Cudworth, wife of Noah⁴ Nash, the subject of this memoir was descended from James¹ Cudworth, of Scituate, who was prominent both in the military and in the civil affairs of the Plymouth Colony, commanding the whole force of the Colony in the early part of King Philip's War, and being deputy, assistant, and deputy governor in that Colony, as well as agent in England for the New England Colonies and a commissioner of the United Colonies. Mr. Nash's grandmother, Deborah Cushing, wife of John⁵ Nash, was a daughter of Nathaniel and Alice (Cushing) Cushing, of Scituate, Nathaniel Cushing being a drummer in the Revolution and serving as a Minuteman on 19 April 1775 and at the siege of Boston.

Mr. Nash's maternal grandfather, Henry Briggs, born at Scituate 11 March 1789, was a son of Thomas Barker and Lucy (Otis) Briggs, of Scituate, and a grandson of James and Hannah (Barker) Briggs of Scituate. This James Briggs served in the French and Indian War and in the Revolution, being, in the struggle for the independence of the Colonies, one of the Committee on Correspondence, Inspection, and Safety, and commanding, with the rank of ensign, the Fourth Cliff at Scituate. Lucy (Otis) Briggs, Mr. Nash's great-grandmother, was a daughter of Dr. James and Lucy (Cushing) Otis, her father, Dr. James Otis, having served in the French and Indian War and being in the Revolutionary War a member of the Scituate Committee of Inspection and a surgeon both on board the sloop of war Ranger and with the American forces at Ticonderoga.

Mr. Nash was descended also from Col. John and Sarah (Hawke) Cushing, of Scituate, Col. John Cushing being a deputy and an assistant in the Plymouth Colony. He was also eighth in descent from John Alden, ninth from Elder William Brewster, eighth from Edward Doty, and ninth from Richard Warren, all of whom came to New England in the Mayflower in 1620.

When Nathaniel Cushing Nash was about ten days old, his mother died, and a few years later his father removed from Boston to Arlington, Mass., where the son lived until after the death of his father in 1880. He attended first David Mack's private school at Belmont, Mass., and later the school of George Washington Copp Noble in Boston, where he was prepared for Harvard.

Mr. Nash's boyhood residence in Arlington gave him an excellent opportunity to enjoy many forms of outdoor recreation. Whenever his studies did not claim his attention, he spent much of his time in boating and fishing on the Mystic Lakes, close by his home, or in hunting in the surrounding woods and fields. So proficient did he become with the shotgun and rifle that in the glass-ball, clay-pigeon, and rifle matches, which were held from time to time by the old-time gunners of the locality, he was considered as unusually expert for one of his years.

In the autumn of 1880, at the age of eighteen, he entered Harvard College, where he devoted much of his time to the study of both ancient and modern languages, and where he was graduated in 1884 with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. The new friendships and associations formed during this period were a lasting source of pleasure throughout his life. They did not, however, in the slightest degree detract from that almost passionate love of Nature which formed the keynote of his life.

For the next fifteen years he paid special attention to target shooting with the rifle at the Walnut Hill Range of the Massachusetts Rifle Association, winning the highest medals offered in offhand competition and serving as president of the Association in 1891 and 1892.

While still in college he took up yachting, and spent part of nearly every summer for about twenty years in cruising along the New England seacoast. He was a member of the New York, the Eastern, and other yacht clubs, and for several years held the office of commodore of the Corinthian Yacht Club at Marblehead.

Having reached his majority while still in college, he found, upon graduation, that the care of his property occupied much of his attention. As time went on, however, the systematization of his office routine gave him leisure for study in the Graduate School of the University, and in 1892 he received the degree of Master of Arts for work in Greek history and cryptogamic botany. In this latter subject he was exceptionally interested, and throughout the remainder of his life served on various botanical committees of the University. The N. C. Nash Botanical Lecture Room was his gift to the University in memory of his father.

Up to the age of thirty most of his hunting trips were in the pursuit of game birds, shore birds, and wild fowl in New England; but from that time on, and even while suffering from the first signs of his last illness, he made many hunting trips to Maine and New Brunswick for deer, bear, moose, and caribou. By those who accompanied him in the woods he was considered an exceedingly quick and accurate shot at moving game. In 1911 he succeeded in securing a caribou whose antlers were heavier and bore more points than any ever killed in New Brunswick, to his knowledge.

His love of hunting very naturally led him to a close study of the experiences of other hunters in many lands, and particularly in Africa, and in the course of his researches he gathered an excellent library of books dealing with African hunting and exploration.

Fishing was another of his recreations. On many trips to Maine, New Brunswick, Quebec, and Florida he caught trout, salmon, tarpon, amber jack, barracouta, and many other varieties of game fish. He possessed an excellent collection of "The Compleat Angler" by Walton and Cotton. His habit of careful and thoughtful observation and close application brought him not only great skill in achieving success in everything he undertook, from microscopic botany to big-game hunting, but also an enviable reputation as an authority in all matters in which he was especially interested.

Much of his time was spent in analyzing economic and business conditions. His sound judgment along these lines was much sought by his friends and often highly commended. He was a director of the Cambridge Trust Company, practically without interruption, from its foundation to his death, and for many years served as its president.

He was a Republican in politics; and although he did not always agree with party principles or the opinions of party leaders, nevertheless he never changed his political allegiance. His religious affiliations were with the Unitarian Church.

In addition to his connection with the organizations already mentioned, he was a thirty-second degree Mason, and a member of the Union and Algonquin Clubs, of the Oakley, Tedesco, and Belmont Spring Country Clubs, of the Boston City Club, of the Boston Athletic Association, of the Sons of the American Revolution, of the Society of Colonial Wars in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, of the Massachusetts Society of Mayflower Descendants, of the Boston Society of Natural History, and of the American Museum of Natural History in New York.

Mr. Nash married, 26 June 1884, Nellie Munro Fessenden of Arlington, daughter of Nehemiah and Mary E. (Fiske) Fessenden, and granddaughter of Philip Bemis and Rebecca (Tufts) Fessenden and of Jonas Stone and Pamela (Brown) Fiske. Two children were born of this marriage, of whom the elder, Nathaniel Cushing Nash, Jr., A.B. (Harvard, 1907), LL.B. (Harvard, 1911), is now practising law in Boston, while the younger, Edward Fessenden Nash, died in 1894.

JOHN² ANDREWS OF IPSWICH, MASS., AND NORWICH, CONN., AND SOME OF HIS DESCENDANTS

By MRS. HARRIET ANDROSS GOODELL of New Haven, Conn.

1. JOHN¹ ANDREWS, called Lieut. John Andrews or John Andrews, Sr., to distinguish him from Corporal John Andrews and two others of the same surname who lived at the same time at Ipswich, Mass., was born in England, it is supposed, about 1621,* and died at Chebacco Parish, in Ipswich, 20 Apr. 1708. The names of his parents have not been found.† He married JANE JORDAN, daughter of Stephen of Ipswich, later of Newbury, Mass., who in his will dated 5 Apr. 1667 mentions his daughter Andrews of Ipswich, his son John Andrews, and his grandchild Elizabeth Andrews.‡ Jane (Jordan) Andrews was living in 1705, when her husband made his will.

It is not known when Lieut. John Andrews came to New England; but his name appears first in the records of Ipswich in 1637, when it is stated that he was a soldier in the Pequot War. It has been thought that he may have been a nephew of Capt. Robert Andrews, master of the ship Angel Gabriel (wrecked off Pemaquid in 1635) and later an innkeeper at Ipswich, but no record is known that indicates this relationship.

* He deposed in 1701, aged 80.

† Hon. Henry Franklin Andrews, now of Exira, Iowa, in his book entitled "History of the Andrews Family," published in 1890, gave Lieut. John Andrews as a son of John and a grandson of Capt. Robert Andrews, the innkeeper of Ipswich; but since the appearance of the book he has admitted that he was mistaken in this matter. (See Maine Historical and Genealogical Recorder, vol. 9, pp. 223-224, and his revised compilation, "Lieut. John Andrews of Chebacco, Mass.," published in 1909.) The compiler of this article is indebted to Mr. Andrews for generous permission to make use of his valuable Andrews papers.

‡ See Maine Historical and Genealogical Recorder, vol. 3, p. 199.

Lieut. John Andrews was a house carpenter and farmer, and lived in that part of Ipswich which in 1679 was organized as Chebacco Parish and in 1819 was incorporated as the town of Essex, Mass. His name is frequently found in the land and court records of Ipswich, where he seems to have accumulated considerable property and to have been a man of some distinction. He was honorably connected with that outbreak of independence which led the inhabitants of Ipswich in 1687 to resist the order of Sir Edmund Andros and his council for levying a tax on the King's subjects, viz., "a penny in the pound on all Estates personal or real, twenty pence per head as Poll Money," etc. (Andros Tracts, vol. 1, p. 81, published by the Prince Society.) John Andrews was at that time chairman of the selectmen of Ipswich, and John Appleton was town clerk. They, with John Wise, the minister, and others, called a meeting, at which the command of the Governor to choose a commissioner to assist in assessing the tax, was discussed; and at the town meeting the next day (23 Aug.) the town considered that by the laws of England it was enacted "that no Taxes should be Levied upon the Subjects without consent of an Assembly chosen by the Freeholders." (Ib., p. 84.) For this act of the town Mr. Wise, John Andrews, John Appleton, William Goodhue, Robert Kinsman, and Thomas French were arrested, brought before the court at Boston, and tried; and "that they might be sure to be found guilty, Jurors were picked of such as were no Freeholders, nay of Strangers; the Prisoners pleading the privilege of Englishmen not to be taxed without their own consent, they were told that the Laws of England would not follow them to the end of the Earth, . . . for the penalties they resolved should follow them quo jure quaque injuria;" that they had no right to claim the privileges of Englishmen, "when it had been declared in the Governors Council, that the Kings Subjects in New-England did not differ much from Slaves, and that the only difference was, that they were not bought and sold. . . . In as much as the Prisoners mentioned had asserted their English Liberties, they were severely handled, not only imprisoned for several weeks, but fined and bound to their good behavior." (Ib., p. 82.) This act of resistance has been called "the foundation of American Democracy," and was the beginning of those events which eighty-eight years later culminated in the Revolutionary War. It is commemorated in the seal of the town of Ipswich, which bears the motto, "The Birthplace of American Independence 1687." During the unhappy days of the Witchcraft Delusion John Andrews and his four sons were among those who signed the petition to save John Proctor and his wife, who had lived at Chebacco and had been tried and convicted of witchcraft at Salem; and although they could not save the husband, they put themselves on record as among the more tolerant of the people of New England.

"John Androuse, Seniour, of Sebacco in Ipswitch . . . yeoman," in his will dated 13 Mar. 1705 [1705/6] and proved 17 May 1708, mentions "my Eldest Son Jn^o. androuse," "my second Son William Androuse," "my Son Thomas androuse," "my Son Joseph Androuse," and "Elizabeth my Daughter wife of James Giddinge."*

2. JOHN² ANDREWS (*John*¹), born at Ipswich, Mass., about 1646, died at Norwich, Conn.,|| 19 May 1717. He married JUDITH BELCHER, born at Ipswich 19 Aug. 1658, daughter of Jeremiah and Mary (Lockwood) of Ipswich (REGISTER, vol. 60, p. 250).

On 8 Oct. 1703 Lieut. John Andrews of Chebacco Parish, Ipswich, gave to his "Eldest Sonne John Andrews, House Carpenter of ye same town," his homestead with 8 acres of land, confirming to him other pieces of land, subject to certain conditions. On 25 Oct. 1704 John Andrews, Jr., sold this homestead, given to him by his father, to John Wainwright of Ipswich, merchant, the deed being signed by John Andrews, Jr., and "Judah" Andrews affixing her mark. (Essex Deeds.)

On 10 Oct. 1704 Thomas Knowlton, Jr., and wife Susanna, and Benjamin Baldwin, Jr., and wife Hannah, all of Norwich, sold for £280 to John Andrews, Jr., of Ipswich, Mass., house carpenter, 550 acres of land on the east side of the Shetucket River; and to this place John² Andrews removed with his wife and children.¶ In 1712 he was given 8½ acres of land

¶ The section in which this family settled east of the Shetucket River was originally a part of Norwich, but it was a long distance from the church on the town plot, and at a very early date the farmers in this section petitioned the General Assembly, begging to be released from the necessity of attending public worship in Norwich town and to be allowed to pay their rates for a minister of their own. Not until 1716 were the following resolutions passed: "Upon the application of the East Farmers in the town of Norwich, it is granted and resolved by this Assembly that said inhabitants shall be a society by themselves and have the privileges of a society or parish with respect to a minister and schools; the bounds whereof shall be as follows: On Preston

"near his house being for money paid for building the meeting-house." In 1714, three years before his death, he gave all his property to his sons, 110 acres to each, reserving for himself, during his life, 20 acres, together with one half of his house. The deeds were signed by John and Judith Andrews. (Norwich Land Records; Knowlton Ancestry, p. 23.)

Miss Caulkins in her History of Norwich stated that this family was descended from Francis Andrews of Fairfield. More recent investigations have proved that John Andrews, Sr., of Norwich was identical with John Andrews, Jr., of Ipswich, Mass., son of Lieut. John¹ Andrews.

The descendants of this John² Andrews have spelled the name Andrus, Andros, or Andross. Much confusion has been caused thereby, and it has been difficult to trace the various families and to keep them distinct from other Connecticut Andrus-Andros families of a different ancestry. The name of the first John of Ipswich was not invariably spelled Andrews, for in the Ipswich Court Records and Files there are at least two entries in 1656 in which he is called John Andros, Sr., and in his will the surname appears as Androuse, a fact which may indicate that the early pronunciation of the name was Androse. In the settlement of his estate his sons all signed as Andrews. One branch only, that descended from Frederick⁵ (Benjamin,⁴ Benjamin,³ John,² John¹), has used the spelling Andross. Those who went to Vermont seem to have adopted the form Andrus. As far as possible the spelling favored by each family is used in this article.

easterly, on Groton southwardly, on New London river westwardly to the mouth of the Quinebaug river, then as the river runs to the extent of the bounds of Norwich." This society was nominally nine, but really eleven or twelve, miles long, and was justly called Long Society. It remained the East Society of Norwich till 1786, when it was annexed to Preston. The records of the society are no longer in existence, and therefore but few dates have been recovered for the marriages, births, and deaths in this Andrews family. Even in the town records they are lacking, because of the great distance from the Norwich town clerk. The only book of Long Society now known to be in existence is entitled "Acts and Records of the East Society of Norwich, Dec. 28, 1758." In this book the name Andrus occurs frequently. At the seating of the meetinghouse, 20 Mar. 1760, it was voted that "Mr. John Larabe, Jabez Fitch, John Deming, Jeremiah Andrus should sit in ye seat before ye pulpit." "Voted, that Humphrey Avery, Joseph Brewster, Benjamin Andrus, John Pride be seated in ye second seat before ye pulpit. James Cook, Daniel Tracy, Thomas Trueman, John Andrus, William Pride, William Brewster, Nathaniel Giddings, Samuel Palmer, Nathaniel Cook, and Joseph Tracy be seated in ye third seat from ye pulpit." On another page of the book is a list of what appear to be the dwellers in different school districts. One list has the names of Daniel Andrus, Joseph Andrus, Benjamin Andrus, Jr., and Jacob Andrus. Even the old graveyard on the sloping hillside back of the church has gone nearly to ruin, and only one stone remains bearing the name of Andrus — that of Lieut. David, who died 24 Feb. 1766, "in ye 53 year of his Age." Dates and relationships have been gathered mainly from wills and land records and, in some cases, from family records which have been preserved. The Diary of Jabez Fitch, Jr., has supplied some important items.

* The order of births is not known, but in the conveyance of land which the father gave to his children the sons are named in the order here given.

He married first, 20 Feb. 1707/8, SARAH COOK, who died 17 May 1724, daughter of Richard; and secondly, 30 Sept. 1724, RUTH GATES, living in 1762,† daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth (Freeman), who had lived in Stow, Marlborough, and Sudbury, Mass., and had removed to Preston about 1703. John Andrus was made freeman at Norwich in 1716, and was one of the collectors in 1729. This family probably lived in Long Society, but the births of the children are found in the Norwich town, or in the Preston church, records.

- iv. GRACE, bapt. at Preston 27 Sept. 1718.

- v. THANKFUL, b. 20 Sept. 1719; m. 16 Sept. 1740 JOSEPH READ, 3d, b. at Norwich 23 May 1709, s. of Joseph and Mary. Joseph and Thankful Read were among the first members of the Third Society of Windham, called the Scotland Society. They seem to have removed to Newent (later Lisbon), and there helped to form the Separate Church in 1750. Several of their children were bapt. in that church. They seem to have returned later to Scotland, for the records of the Scotland church mention "Joseph Read and wife of Newent added to the church in 1782." Children: 1. Jabez, b. 11 Oct. 1741; d. 7 Jan. 1741/2. 2. Esther, b. 24 Dec. 1742; m. 17 Nov. 1763 her first cousin, Jedidiah Palmer (3, ii, 2), q.v. 3. James, b. 23 Nov. 1745; m. 22 Mar. 1768 Sarah Burdick of Hopkinton, R. 8. vi. JOSEPH, b. 26 June 1722.

- vii. ANNE, b. 6 June 1725; d. at Griswold 20 Oct. 1809; m. 25 May 1742 SIMON⁵ BREWSTER (Benjamin,⁴ William,³ Love,² Elder William¹), bapt. at Preston 17 July 1720, d. at Griswold 29 June 1801. Simon and Anne Brewster were among the first members of the Separate Church at Newent. Children: 1. Lydia, b. 13 Mar. 1743/4. 2. Asher, b. 22 July 1745. 3. Judah, b. 15 Jan. 1749/50. 4. Simon, b. 1 May 1751. 5. Anne, b. 19 Sept. 1753. 6. Olive, b. 28 Aug. 1757. 7. Elias, b. 11 Sept. 1759. 8. Elisha, b. 22 Oct. 1761. 9. Joseph, b. 28 Aug. 1763. 10. Mercy, b. 1 July 1765. (For descendants see the Brewster Genealogy.)

* Jesse and Timothy Palmer were members of the Separate Church at Preston, under Rev. Paul Park.

† Their children, Sarah, Daniel, Uriah, Anna, William, and Mary, were baptized in the Congregational Church at Willington in May 1784.

- viii. DORCAS, b. 24 Sept. 1728; m. 29 Apr. 1752, as his third wife, BARNABAS LATHEROP, who m. (1) Elizabeth Roath and m. (2) Hannah Bellows of Groton. No issue.
9. ix. ISAAC, b. 22 Apr. 1731.
- x. JACOB, b. 9 Apr. 1734. He was corporal in the French and Indian War, was promoted to be sergeant in 1757, and is mentioned in the Diary of Jabez Fitch, Jr., who relates that in the campaign of 1757, near Fort Edward, on 27 May, "Jacob Andrus Fell into ye River" while crossing, and who also mentions Corporal Andrus as in camp near the same place on 10 June 1757. In 1760 he was a member of the Long Society church. In 1770 he sold the whole of his farm to Daniel Rose of Preston, and no further record of him has been found.
4. JEREMIAH³ ANDRUS (John,² *John*¹), born at Ipswich, Mass., died at Norwich (Long Society) 7 May 1762. He married DOROTHY ———, * who died there 17 May 1761 (Jabez Fitch's Diary).
- Jeremiah and Benjamin Andrus, both of Norwich, sold on 10 Mar. 1718/19, for £620, to Samuel Gore of Roxbury, Suffolk Co., Province of Massachusetts Bay, "all that land which our father John Andrus, deceased, did give us in a deed dated 12 Jan. 1714, lying on the east side of the Shetucket River . . . with housing," etc. Richard Andrus of Norwich sold on 1 Apr. 1719, for £222, to his brother Jeremiah Andrus of the same town, husbandman, 110 acres on the east side of the Shetucket River, being land which had been conveyed to him by his father (Norwich Land Records). By the order for the distribution of the estate of Richard Andrus of Windham, 10 Mar. 1769, the heirs of Jeremiah Andrus were to receive one seventh of the real estate, with £5. 7s. 2d. in money, "and further the court orders that the administrators receive the parts of said real estate and personal property set out to the heirs of Jeremiah Andrus, they being out of the government and incapable to receive their parts and said administrators are to exhibit their receipts" (Windham Probate Records).
- Children:
- i. JEREMIAH,⁴ b. 20 May 1727.
 - ii. ELIZABETH, b. 25 July 1732.
Perhaps others.
5. BENJAMIN³ ANDROS (John,² *John*¹), born at Ipswich, Mass., 13 Apr. 1685 [sic], died at Norwich about 1769. He married at Norwich ANN MIX, born there 7 May 1694, daughter of Thomas² and Hannah (Fitch).† Benjamin Andros lived in Long Society.

* Perhaps she was Dorothy Mix, born 23 Nov. 1691, daughter of Thomas and Hannah (Fitch) and sister of the wife of Benjamin Andros (5).

† Thomas² Mix, or Meeks, was son of Thomas¹ Mix of New Haven, and was born there in 1635. He married 30 June 1677 Hannah Fitch, daughter of Rev. James Fitch, and settled on a farm on the east side of the Shetucket River, in that part of Norwich which was later known as Long Society. This farm of 20 acres was given by Rev. James Fitch to his son-in-law Thomas Mix, "on account of my daughter whom he married."

Children, all except the last one baptized in the First Church, Norwich:

10. i. BENJAMIN,⁴ bapt. 23 Aug. 1719.*
11. ii. ZEBEDIAH, bapt. 23 Aug. 1719.*
- iii. THANKFUL, bapt. 22 May 1720.
- iv. A CHILD, bapt. 26 June 1720.†
- v. ANNE, bapt. 29 July 1722.
- vi. SIBYL, bapt. at Preston 10 June 1724.‡

6. DAVID³ ANDRUS (John,² *John*¹), born at Ipswich, Mass., died at Norwich about 1757. He married, 14 Feb. 1711/12, HANNAH HASKELL, born at Beverly, Mass., 23 Jan. 1687/8, daughter of Roger and Hannah (Woodbury). The inventory of his property, exhibited 28 Mar. 1758, mentions negro slaves, Quam being valued at £50 and Cecas at £44. The whole amount of the inventory is £606. 12s. 4d.

Children, born at Norwich:

12. i. DAVID,⁴ b. 29 July 1713.
- ii. LUCY, bapt. at Preston 4 Nov. 1716; m., as his second wife, 29 Apr. 1736, JONATHAN⁵ BREWSTER (Jonathan,⁴ Benjamin,³ Jonathan,² Elder William¹), who m. (1) Ruth Morgan. Children: 1. Sarah, b. 17 Oct. 1737; m. ——— Park. 2. Andrew, b. 1 Aug. 1739; m. Mrs. Elizabeth Fitch. 3. Judith, b. 31 May 1744; m. ——— Pennyman. 4. Joshua, b. 8 May 1747. 5. Hezekiah, b. 11 Aug. 1749; m. Eunice Brown. 6. Lucy, b. 11 Oct. 1751; d. 29 Apr. 1826; m. Capt. Samuel Aderton, who d. 9 July 1821 in his 69th year. 7. Mary, b. 1 Apr. 1754; d. 31 Dec. 1778. (See Brewster Genealogy.)
- iii. HANNAH, bapt. at Preston 21 Apr. 1717; d. s.p. 22 Sept. 1783; § m. CAPT. THOMAS³ TRUMAN of Norwich, who d. 7 Nov. 1786, ae. 75, s. of Thomas² (Joseph¹) of New London.
- iv. MARY, bapt. 5 Feb. 1721; m. 3 Oct. 1745 SAMUEL READ, who d. 17 Jan. 1801, s. of Joseph and Mary and brother of the Joseph Read who m. her first cousin, Thankful⁴ Andrus (3, v). Children: 1. Samuel, b. 28 Oct. 1746; m. 24 Sept. 1769 Lucy Killum of Preston. 2. Jonathan, b. 12 Feb. 1748/9. 3. Mercy, b. 10 June 1751. 4. Elisha, b. 5 Jan. 1753. 5. David, b. 1 June 1755. 6. Prudence, b. 20 Aug. 1757; m. Hezekiah Fitch. 7. Benjamin, b. 24 Sept. 1762.
13. v. DANIEL, bapt. at Preston 14 Apr. 1723.
- vi. JUDITH, b. abt. 1725; d. unm. In her will, dated at Preston, 25 Sept. 1802, she left her property to nephew Elisha Andrus, s. of brother Daniel; to niece Prudence Fitch, wife of Hezekiah and dau. of late sister Mary Read; to Hannah Andrus, dau. of nephew Amos Andrus; and there were legacies to brother Daniel Andrus, "now of Pawlet, Vt.;" to Mary Truman of Preston, wife of Jonathan Truman; to Zipporah Pride, wife of Elijah Pride of Preston; to Abigail Palmer, wife of Jesse Palmer; and to Silas Fitch, s. of Joseph Fitch of Vermont. (Norwich Probate Records.)

* Probably Benjamin and Zebediah were not twins.

† This child may possibly be identical with the Thomas Andros who married Elizabeth Brewster. (See Brewster Genealogy.) Corporal Thomas Andros was in the French and Indian War, having enlisted in Capt. Adonijah Fitch's company of Col. Lyman's regiment at Norwich in Mar. 1757. Jabez Fitch mentions him many times, calling him "very sick" during the summer; in Sept. he is reported dead. There is a Thomas Andrus mentioned in the Colonial records in the same war, but evidently he belonged to another family.

‡ Probably this is the Sibyl ——— who married John Deming, whose sister Honour married Solomon⁵ Andrus (14). (See Deming Genealogy.)

§ Gravestone in Long Society Cemetery.

7. JOHN⁴ ANDRUS (John,³ John,² *John*¹) was born at Norwich 18 Apr. 1710. He married, 10 Dec. 1730, ABIGAIL RICHARDS, baptized at Preston 1 July 1711, daughter of John and Abigail (Woodward).

Children, born at Norwich:

14. i. SOLOMON,⁵ b. 10 Sept. 1732.
- ii. ALETHEA, b. 22 Mar. 1734/5.
Perhaps others.

8. JOSEPH⁴ ANDRUS (John,³ John,² *John*¹), born at Norwich 26 June 1722, died about 1798, his will being dated 25 Aug. 1790 and his inventory having been exhibited 6 June 1798. The name of his wife is not known. His name occurs frequently in the land records of Norwich. Among the signers of a petition, dated 15 Feb. 1786, in which all the inhabitants of that part of the town of Norwich lying east of the Shetucket River pray that they may be annexed to the town of Preston, are Joseph Andrus and Joseph Andrus, Jr.

Children:

- i. JOSEPH,⁵ probably d. before 1790, as he is not mentioned in his father's will.
- ii. CHRISTOPHER, a member of Long Society church in 1768. In Capt. Lathrop's company from Norwich a Christopher Andrus enlisted 4 Sept. 1777 and was dismissed 22 Oct. 1777. No further record of him has been found.
- iii. SILAS.
- iv. ABIGAIL, b. in 1762; d. at Preston 14 July 1825, ae. 63; m. 21 Apr. 1785 her first cousin, JESSE PALMER (3, ii, 5), b. in 1742, d. at Preston 11 Aug. 1807. Children, b. at Preston: 1. Anna, b. 18 May 1787. 2. Nabby, b. 14 Oct. 1789. 3. Claracy, b. 31 Mar. 1793. 4. Joseph Andrus, b. 2 June 1795.

9. CAPT. ISAAC⁴ ANDRUS (John,³ John,² *John*¹), born at Norwich 22 Apr. 1731, died at Shaftsbury, Vt., 30 June 1824, and is buried in the cemetery at Shaftsbury Centre. He married first, about 1753, ELIZABETH TRACY, born at Norwich 21 Jan. 1731/2, died at Shaftsbury 27 Aug. 1771, in her 41st year (gravestone), daughter of Jeremiah and Mary (Witter);* secondly, at Shaftsbury, TRUELOVE OATMAN, who died 4 Jan. 1806, in her 51st year; thirdly MRS. ANNA (——) SPENCER, widow of Isaac, who died 27 Jan. 1809, ae. 58; and fourthly MRS. FREELOVE (WILCOX) PARKS, widow of John, to whom she had been married at Tyringham, Mass., 4 Nov. 1779. She died 10 Mar. 1830, in her 71st year. She was mother of the Mary Parks who married her stepson, David Andrus (17).

From land records it is known that Isaac Andrus lived for a time after his marriage at Windham and later at Newent.

* In 1718 Jeremiah Tracy, with the other farmers in the northeasterly part of Norwich called the Crotch of the River, petitioned the General Assembly to be made a distinct society, "by reason of the great distance, and by reason of the great river." This petition was granted, and in 1722 this part of Norwich was called Newent (now Lisbon). Jeremiah Tracy was one of the original members of the Newent, or Third, Society of Norwich, constituted in 1723, but in 1750 he joined the Separate Church organized at that place and was chosen its first preacher.

On 27 Feb. 1765 he sold his farm of about 100 acres, in Newent, to Daniel Corning, and soon afterwards removed with his family to Shaftsbury, Albany Co., N. Y. (now Shaftsbury, Vt.), where he was one of the earliest members of the Baptist Church. His name is found in the Vermont Revolutionary War rolls. He was lieutenant and later captain.

Children by first wife (order of births of iv, v, and vi unknown):

- i. JOSEPH,⁵ b. at Norwich 16 May 1754. He was a Revolutionary soldier, serving as sergeant, ensign, and lieutenant. No further record of him has been found.
- ii. JEREMIAH, b. at Windham 16 Jan. 1756. It is probable, though not proved, that he is identical with the Jeremiah Andress who is found in the Vermont Revolutionary War rolls as enlisting 26 Nov. 1775 and dying 29 Dec. 1775.
- iii. ABIAH, b. at Norwich 7 May 1758; d. unm.
- iv. RUTH, d. 16 Apr. 1803; m. 3 Mar. 1785 ELIJAH BOTTUM of Shaftsbury, Vt., b. at Norwich 5 Mar. 1757, s. of the Elijah who went from Norwich to Shaftsbury in 1767. Elijah and Ruth (Andrus) Bottum settled in Canada, near Kemptville, Ont. Children: 1. William H., b. 28 June 1787; m. (1) Marcia Hurd; m. (2) Laura Huntington of Shaftsbury. 2. Polly, b. 12 May 1789; m. John Weatherhead. 3. Lucy, b. 25 Mar. 1791. 4. Alpheus, b. in June 1793; d. 21 Mar. 1795. 5. Lemuel, b. 17 May 1796; d. 27 Jan. 1797. 6. Elizabeth, b. 21 Aug. 1799; m. ——— Stone. 7. Isaac, b. 9 Jan. 1802; 1. Eliza Garlick. 8. Sarah, b. 7 Apr. 1803; d. 11 Apr. 1803.
- v. ISAAC, m. CLARISSA HARRIS. Children: 1. Elon,⁶ d. in Wisconsin. 2. Russell. 3. Lynas, d. at Oconomowoc, Wis., ae. 87; m. Clarissa Norton. 4. Isaac. 5. Herace.
- vi. ROSWELL, b., probably at Shaftsbury, Vt., in 1767.

Children by second wife:

- vii. JOHN, b. at Shaftsbury, Vt., 9 Mar. 1774.
 - viii. JEREMIAH, b. 26 June 1777; m. 12 Mar. 1801 MEHITABLE WARREN. Children: 1. Norman.⁶ Perhaps others.
 - ix. DAVID, b. at Shaftsbury, Vt., 29 Mar. 1779.
 - x. POLLY, b. 22 Dec. 1780; d. 22 Sept. 1802.
 - xi. BENJAMIN, b. 16 Sept. 1783; m. FREELOVE MILLEMAN. Children: 1. Diana.⁸ 2. Theodotia, b. in 1808; d. 28 Apr. 1813. 3. Anna. 4. Jonas. 5. Willard. 6. Loomis. 7. Mary. 8. Merritt. 9. Palmer. 10. Mary.
 - xii. JONAS, b. 28 May 1792; d. 7 May 1808.
10. BENJAMIN⁴ ANDROS (Benjamin,³ John,² *John*¹), of Norwich, baptized in the First Church, Norwich, 23 Aug. 1719, died at Norwich 11 Feb. 1763. (Jabez Fitch's Diary.) The inventory of his estate was taken 12 Dec. 1763, and in it he is called "marchant" and mention is made of his "warehouse." He married, about 1752, LYDIA SPAULDING of Plainfield, born 9 Dec. 1729, daughter of Thomas and Mercy (Welch). During their married life they lived in Norwich, probably in Long Society; but after the death of Benjamin, who died insolvent, his widow, who is said to have been a woman of more than ordinary strong sense and energy of character, returned, with her children, to Plainfield, where most of her relatives lived.

Children:*

18. i. FREDERICK,⁸ b. at Norwich in 1754.
 19. ii. ABEL, b. at Norwich in 1755.
 - iii. ANNA, b. in 1757; d. at Plainfield abt. 1826; m. 16 Feb. 1785 JONATHAN CARD of New York. Only child: 1. Jonathan, b. at Plainfield 24 Jan. 1786; probably d. young.
 20. iv. THOMAS, b. at Norwich 1 May 1759.
11. CAPT. ZEBEDIAH⁴ ANDRUS (Benjamin,³ John,² *John*¹), baptized in the First Church, Norwich, 23 Aug. 1719, died at Pawlet, Vt., 26 July 1804. He married, 19 Dec. 1737, ELIZABETH SWAN of North Stonington, who died at Pawlet 29 Aug. 1789, ae. 74, daughter of Capt. John and Susanna (Eastman)(Wood)† of Haverhill, Mass.

Zebediah Andrus was ensign of a trainband in Norwich in 1754, lieutenant 9 Oct. 1758, and in 1761 was captain of the Fifth Company of Foot, Third Regiment. On 5 Feb. 1777 he sold to William Coit, for £550, about 103 acres of land in Long Society, "being the whole of the farm which was given me by my Honored father, Benjamin Andrus, deceased;" and about 1784 he removed with his family to Pawlet, Vt. In his will, dated at Pawlet 24 Sept. 1803, he mentions two sons, Asa and Zebediah; granddaughter Betsey Andrus, daughter of son William, deceased, when she shall reach "lawful age;" grandson Allen Andrus, son of son William, deceased, to whom he leaves $100 "at lawful age;" and daughter Elizabeth Denison. His son Zebediah was named as executor.

Children:

- i. CAPT. WILLIAM,⁵ bapt. at North Stonington 10 Dec. 1738; d. at Pawlet, Vt., 10 Apr. 1797; m. at Norwich, 10 Oct. 1791, ELIZABETH ALLEN. 12. DAVID⁴ ANDRUS (David,³ John,² *John*¹), born at Norwich 29 July 1713, died there 24 Feb. 1766. (Gravestone in Long Society

* The descendants of the three brothers named below have used different forms in the spelling of the family name. Those descended from the eldest brother, Frederick, have always used the form Andross. The descendants of Thomas have usually retained the surname Andros, while those of Abel have been divided between Andros and Andrus. To avoid confusion, the form Andros will be used here for all descendants of the two younger brothers.

† See History of Haverhill for account of Susanna, who was twice captured by the Indians.

Cemetery.) He married MARY FITCH, born 26 Sept. 1714, died at Pawlet, Vt., 22 Jan. 1798, daughter of Benjamin and Hannah (Read). He served in the French and Indian War, being ensign in 1760, second lieutenant in 1761, and first lieutenant of the Fourth Company in 1762. He is frequently mentioned in Jabez Fitch's Diary.

Children:

- i. JOHN,⁵ probably the John Andrus who m. (perhaps as his second wife) abt. 1778 MRS. PRISCILLA (SAMPSON) BREWSTER, dau. of John and Priscilla (Bartlett) of Duxbury, Mass., and widow of William⁶ (Nathaniel,⁴ William,⁵ Love,² Elder William³). (See Brewster Genealogy.) This second marriage of Priscilla (Sampson) Brewster is not mentioned in the Brewster Genealogy, but it is proved by certain land records, one of them (Norwich Land Records, vol. 24, p. 283) being a quitclaim deed given by John and Priscilla Andrus for £50 paid by Timothy Brewster, in which they resign all right in a certain tract of land in Norwich, "the same that was set out to said Prissilla as her right of dower in the estate of William Brewster, late of Norwich deceased," 25 Apr. 1783. In an earlier deed, dated 24 Mar. 1779, she is called Mrs. Prissilla Andrus, late widow and relict of William Brewster, deceased.
- ii. HANNAH, m. 1 May 1760 her second cousin, JOSEPH PALMER (3, ii, 1) of Norwich, b. 7 Oct. 1734, s. of Samuel and Sarah (Andrus). - iii. ZIPPORAH, m. (1) 21 Dec. 1769 her second cousin, THOMAS PALMER (3, ii, 3), who d. 14 May 1775; m. (2) ELIJAH PRIDE, who d. 25 Jan. 1816, ae. 67. Children by first husband: 1. Mary, b. 3 Aug. 1770; d. 4 Sept. 1773. 2. Samuel, b. 11 Aug. 1772; d. 4 Sept. 1819; m. Emma ———, who d. 21 Nov. 1836, in her 66th year.
- iv. MARY, b. in 1746; d. at Pawlet, Vt., in 1822, ae. 76; m. JOSEPH FITCH, who m. (2) Hannah Wood and d. in 1830, ae. 84. They lived at Pawlet. Children: 1. Ephraim, m. Sally Porter of Pawlet, dau. of Dea. Moses. 2. Benjamin. 3. Asahel. 4. Stephen. 5. Silas, m. (1) Martha Barnes; m. (2) Sarah Barden. 6. Mary. 7. Sally.
- v. AMOS, m. DESIRE FITCH. Child: 1. Hannah,⁶ mentioned in the will of her great-aunt, Judith⁴ Andrus (6, vi).
- vi. EUNICE, living in 1775, when she sold to Benajah Fitch land in the East Society of Norwich which she had inherited from her father.
- vii. JUDITH, b. in 1756; d. at Mt. Tabor, Vt., in 1850, aged 94; m. her second cousin, ZEBEDIAH⁶ ANDRUS (22), q.v.
- viii. DAVID, at Williamsown, Mass., in 1779, when he sold to his brother-in-law, Elijah Pride, all his right in the estate of his father David, which had been set off to his mother, Mary Andrus, as her right of dower (Norwich Land Records); at Wells, Vt., in 1787 (Preston Deeds); no further record of him has been found.

13. DANIEL⁴ ANDRUS (David,³ John,² *John*¹), baptized at Preston 14 Apr. 1723, was living at Pawlet, Vt., in 1802. He married, 7 Oct. 1747, TEMPERANCE HOLMES of North Stonington, baptized in the North Stonington Congregational Church 23 Sept. 1733, daughter of Capt. John⁴ and Abigail (Frink). In his will, dated at Stonington 1 Mar. 1783, Capt. John⁴ Holmes (Joshua,³ Joshua,² Robert¹) mentions his daughter Temperance Andrus.

On 17 Feb. 1749/50 David Andrus, "for divers good causes and mature consideration me moving, and more especially for farther improvement and comfortable settlement of my well beloved son Daniel Andrus," gave to Daniel a tract of land on the east side of the Shetucket River, it being "understood that said Daniel is never to sell this land in his father's lifetime." In 1752 Daniel Andrus of Norwich, for £550, bought land in the East Society of his cousin Isaac Andrus (Norwich Land Records). "y^e 25th [Jan. 1762] . . . in y^e afternoon we went Down to Prides to an arbitration betwend Capt: Truman & Dan^l Andrus, which y^e Pratys Settled" (Jabez Fitch's Diary). In 1763 Daniel Andrus, with others, was permitted to build a pew in the church of Long Society. His name is frequently found in the land records of Norwich, both as a buyer and a seller of land; but in 1768 he seems to have fallen into financial difficulties and is mentioned several times in court records on account of debt. In 1777 he took the freeman's oath at Norwich. No further record of him is found until 1789, when he was at Danby, Vt., and gave a quitclaim deed of certain land at Preston to Jonathan Truman of that place. In 1802 he was mentioned in the will of his sister Judith, who gave $20 to her "brother Daniel Andrus, now of Pawlet, Vt."

Children.*

- i. ELISHA,⁵ a private, 28 Dec. 1776, in the first troop of Col. Sheldon's Light Dragoons, in the Revolutionary War. He is described as a carpenter of Norwich, "5 feet 10 inches, dark complexion, black hair." In 1813 Elisha and Timothy A. Andrus (perhaps a brother) sold land at Norwich. No further record of him has been found.
- ii. TEMPERANCE, b. 21 Oct. 1759; d. at Ellisburg, N. Y., 17 Dec. 1831; m. 5 July 1781, Rev. Jabez Wight officiating, TIMOTHY BREWSTER, b. at Norwich 12 Sept. 1759, d. at Ellisburg, N. Y., 28 June 1848, s. of William⁶ (Nathaniel,⁴ William,³ Love,² Elder William¹) and Priscilla (Sampson). They went to Pawlet, Vt., abt. 1784. In 1791 he was licensed to preach by the Baptists of that town, and in 1813 he removed to Ellisburg, N. Y., where he became a preacher of the Baptist Church. Later he joined the Disciples, and from that time was called Elder Timothy Brewster. Children: 1. Ephraim, b. 9 Apr. 1782. 2. Asenath, b. 14 Dec. 1783. 3. Clarissa, b. 21 Nov. 1785. 4. Hannah, b. 28 Jan. 1788. 5. Elisha, b. 5 Apr. 1790. 6. William, b. 12 Apr. 1794. 7. Anna, b. 22 June 1796. 8. Roba, b. 13 Jan. 1799. 9. Timothy, b. 31 Oct. 1801. 10. Lydia, b. 22 Feb. 1804. (See Brewster Genealogy.)
23. iii. JOHN HOLMES, b., probably at Preston, in 1768.
- iv. DESIRE, mentioned in the settlement of the estate of John Holmes⁶ Andrus (23), who d. in 1841, being called "a relative and friend" and being at that time insane.
- v. HANNAH (probably).

[To be concluded]

* No birth records of children of this family have been found. Only one child is known with certainty — Elisha, who is mentioned in the will of his aunt, Judith Andrus, in 1802, as the "son of my brother Daniel." There is no positive proof that the others here named were the children of Daniel and Temperance (Holmes) Andrus, but the circumstantial evidence is so strong that their family history is given here. The order of the births of these children is unknown. There were probably other children of this family.

THE ANCESTRY OF MARY MAPLETT, WIFE OF SAMUEL GORTON OF NEW ENGLAND

Communicated by GEORGE WALTER CHAMBERLAIN, M.S., of Malden, Mass.

THE wills of Mary Mayplett of London, widow, and Dr. John Maplett of Bath, co. Somerset, were discovered in England by the late Henry FitzGilbert Waters, Esq., and abstracts of them were published in the REGISTER in 1890 and 1892. They proved that the wife of Samuel Gorton, whose controversies with the authorities of the Plymouth Colony and the Massachusetts Bay Colony have been often described, was not Elizabeth (——), as Austin and others had stated, but Mary (Maplett). These wills seemed also, as a contributor to the REGISTER (vol. 51, pp. 199–200) pointed out, to justify the assertion of Gorton that his wife “had bin as tenderly brought up as was any man’s wife then in that towne [Plymouth in New England].” The same contributor suggested that Mary (Maplett) Gorton might have been the granddaughter of Rev. John Maplet of Northall, co. Middlesex, through his son John. The wills of this Rev. John Maplet and his son John have recently been found, and they, with certain entries in the registers of the parish of St. Lawrence Jewry, London, show that this suggested ancestry of Mary (Maplett) Gorton is the correct ancestry. Abstracts of these wills and of the two discovered by Mr. Waters, with other English records, are given below, and are followed by a brief pedigree showing the descent of Mary (Maplett) Gorton and her brothers and sisters from Rev. John Maplet of Northall.

The Will of JOHN MAPLET, Clarke, Vicar of the parish church of Northall, in the County of Middlesex, 30 August 1592. To be buried in the chancel of the parish church of Northall. To John Maplett my son £50, when he shall attain the age of twenty-one years. To Margaret Maplett my daughter 40 marks at the age of twenty years or on her day of marriage. To Ellenn Maplett my daughter, to Mary Maplett my daughter, and to Thomas Maplett my son, to each 40 marks to be paid likewise. If any die, such portion to be divided equally among the survivors. To John Maplett my son one feather bed, two down pillows, my silver pott, and one silver spoon. To the residue of my children above-named one silver spoon. To Milchizedek Leaper my wife’s son £10, to be paid at once. To Margaret Powell my maid 20s. To Elizabeth Meridon my maid 6s. 8d. To Matthew Randall my man 13s. 4d. To the parish church of Northall “my Bible of the greatest Vollome.” To the poor in Northall 20s. To repairing the Queen’s Highway in Northall 20s. Residuary legatee and executrix: Ellen Maplet my wife. Supervisors: George King and Henry Wheeler of Northall. Witnesses: George King, Henry Wheeler, Nabuchodonizer Knightes, and Margaret Wheeler. (P.C.C., Scott, 70.) Proved in the Consistory Court of London, 11 September 1592, by William Mannsfielde, notary public, proctor for Ellen, relict and executrix of the said John Maplett, deceased, to whom administration on the goods of the said deceased was granted. (Consistory Court of London, Vicar-General’s Books, 1592.)

Administration on the goods of said deceased, according to the aforesaid will, was granted in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury, 7 November 1595, to Mathew Randall, dwelling in the County of Middlesex, yeoman, because the said Ellen had died before all the goods had been administered by her. (P.C.C., Scott, 70.)

In the Consistory Court of London, 11 November 1595, commission was granted to Matthew Randall, late husband of Ellen Randall alias Maplett, deceased, formerly relict and executrix of John Maplett, Clerk, late Vicar of Northall in the County of Middlesex, deceased, to administer the goods of the said John Maplett not administered by the said Ellen his executrix. (Consistory Court of London, Vicar-General's Books, 1595-1597, fo. 32b.)

The nuncupative Will of M^r JOHN MAPLETT of the parish of St. Lawrence in the old Jury [London], 11 January 1629 [1629/30]. Memorandum that on the 11th day of January, 1629, about seven o'clock in the morning, M^r John Maplett of the parish of St. Lawrence in the old Jury sent for M^r William King of the same parish to come and speak with him, he being sick in body but sound in mind & memory, and he told M^r King that he prepared himself for another world, but that his desire was to make known that he appointed his wife Mary Maplett his sole executrix, & did give her his whole estate to dispose of to his children as she thought fitting, and did also bequeath to his daughter Mary Gorton forty shillings: M^r King urged him to give a better legacy to his said daughter but he answered again that he had given her a great portion in marriage, & that he knew not how his estate would fall out. Therefore he concluded this to be his last will & testament. [Witnesses:] John Maplett, William Kinges, Elizabeth freeman, William freeman, John Maplett, Susanna Kinge. Proved 15 January 1629/30 by Marie Maplett, relict and sole executrix nominated in said will, William Kinge and Susanna King bearing witness that this was the last will and testament made by said deceased. (P.C.C., Scroope, 6.)

Administration on the goods of MATTHEW RANDALL, late of the parish of Elinge, co. Middlesex, deceased, intestate, was granted 23 November 1630 to William Randall, lawful son of said deceased. (Commissary Court of London, Administration Act Book, 1629-30, fo. 115b.)

The Will of MARY MAYPLETT of London, widow, 7 December 1646. Unto my daughter Mary Gorton, wife of Samuel Gorton living in New England, all the money which her said husband Samuel Gorton doth owe me, and a breed of cattle which he hath of mine, and £10 to buy her mourning. To my daughter Elizabeth Ham and to her husband William Ham £10, between them, to buy them mourning. To my sister Elizabeth Freeman, widow, £6 to buy her mourning. To my grandchild Samuel Chapleine, son of my said daughter Elizabeth Ham by her former husband, £20, which I have lent to the Parliament. To Mrs. Joane Joyner 20s. To Mrs. Elizabeth Warrington 10s. To Mrs. Elizabeth Swann, widow, 10s. The residue to my son John Mayplett, whom I make executor. Proved 10 April 1647. (P.C.C., Fines, 69.) [For a somewhat longer abstract of this will see REGISTER, vol. 44, p. 384, and Waters's Genealogical Gleanings in England, vol. 1, p. 461.]

The Will of JOHN MAPLETT of the city of Bath, Somerset, Doctor of Physick, 13 April 1670. Unto my dear sister Mrs. Mary Gorton of New England 20s., and to each of her children 10s. apiece. Unto my dear sister Mrs. Elizabeth Ham of London, widow, 20s. To my dear daughter Anne Maplett £400 at marriage, if she marry with her mother's good liking and consent, otherwise only £5. To her younger sister my daughter Elizabeth £300 (on same condition). To my aforesaid daughter Anne Maplett all land and houses in Bristol brought to me by her mother at our marriage, being formerly part of the estate of her brother Mr. Walter Williams (after her mother's decease). To my wife my house in Bath with the tenement and gardens thereto belonging all lately bought of Mr. Thomas Fisher, to be her own forever. She to be executrix. Signed 31 July 1670. Proved 7 February 1670 [1670/1]. (P.C.C., Duke, 24.) [For a somewhat longer abstract of this will see REGISTER, vol. 46, p. 153, and Waters's Genealogical Gleanings in England, vol. 1, p. 565.]

From the foregoing records and other authorities referred to below the following pedigree has been compiled:

1. JOHN MAPLET, clerk, the testator of 1592, was matriculated as a sizar of Queen's College, Cambridge, in Dec. 1560, was admitted to the degree of Bachelor of Arts in 1563/4, was a fellow of Catharine Hall in Aug. 1564, received the degree of Master of Arts in 1567, and was instituted to the rectory of Great Leighs, co. Essex, 26 Nov. 1568. This benefice he exchanged for the vicarage of Northall (now Northolt), co. Middlesex, on 30 Apr. 1576, and he was buried in the chancel of Northall church on 7 Sept. 1592. He was the author of treatises on natural history and astrology. He married ELLEN ———, who was probably widow of ——— LEAPER, her son, Milchizedek Leaper, being named as a legatee in Rev. John Maplet's will. Ellen, widow of Rev. John Maplet, married at Northall, between 11 Sept. 1592 and 24 Mar. 1592/3, Matthew Randall, later of Ealing, co. Middlesex, yeoman, probably the person called "my man" in Rev. John Maplet's will. She died before 7 Nov. 1595, and Matthew Randall died intestate before 23 Nov. 1630, when administration on his goods was granted to his son William.†

* The marriages at Northolt, 1575-1812, have been printed in Phillimore's Middlesex Parish Registers, Marriages, vol. 2.

 - viii. SARA, bapt. 23 Feb. 1616/17.

RECORDS IN THE SHAKER CEMETERY AT NISKAYUNA, WATERVLIET, N. Y.

Communicated by WILLIAM BRADFORD BROWNE of North Adams, Mass.

THE following records of death were collected in the Shaker Cemetery at Niskayuna, in Watervliet, N. Y., in a search for the burial place of Joseph Bennett, the founder of Cheshire, Mass.

* For longer account of Dr. John Maplett see Dictionary of National Biography, loc. cit., with authorities there given. See also REGISTER, vol. 51, p. 200. According to Wood's Athenae Oxon. he was "son of a father of both his names, a sufficient shoemaker, in the parish of St. Martin's le Grand in London;" but the record of his baptism in the parish of St. Lawrence Jewry shows that his father was a haberdasher.

Joseph³ Bennett was born at Middleborough, Mass., the son of Joseph² and Joanna (Perry) Bennett and the grandson of John¹ Bennett of Beverly and of Middleborough, Mass. He married at Providence, 2 Nov. 1751, Eunice Ward, daughter of Nehemiah and Esther (Maxey) Ward of Attleborough, Mass. He was converted to Shakerism by Mother Ann Lee at the time of the establishment of the community at Mount Lebanon, N. Y., and about 1785 removed with his wife and several daughters to the community at Watervliet, N. Y. To this community he gave great financial aid, and in the burial ground there are found his gravestone and those of his wife Eunice and his daughters Sarah, Violet, Ann, and Joanna.*

The records here given follow the order of the graves, beginning at the west end of the cemetery; and the graves are for the most part arranged in the chronological order of the deaths, relatives not necessarily being buried near one another. The records copied extend through the year 1865. All the gravestones are exactly alike, and the several inscriptions give simply the facts as stated below.

FROM FEET OF FINES*

Final Concord made at Westminster on the Octave of Hilary, 12 Elizabeth [20 January 1569/70], and afterwards on the Quindene of Easter, 12 Elizabeth [9 April 1570], between William Hodgeson and John Brune, querents, and Richard Chatfild, gentleman, and Elizabeth his wife, and Francis Chatfild, gentleman, deforciant, of one messuage, two tofts, one garden, one orchard, forty acres of land, one hundred acres of meadow, one hundred acres of pasture, and sixty acres of wood, in Westmerston and Myddleton. Plea of covenant. Richard and Elizabeth and Francis have acknowledged the premises to be the right of William, as those which William and John have of the gift of Richard and Elizabeth and Francis, and they have quitclaimed them from Richard and Elizabeth and Francis and the heirs of Richard to William and John and the heirs of William for ever. And, moreover, Richard and Elizabeth and Francis have granted for themselves and the heirs of Richard that they will warrant to William and John and the heirs of William the aforesaid premises against all men for ever. And for this William and John have granted to Richard and Elizabeth and Francis the premises, and have rendered them to them in the same court, to hold to Richard and Elizabeth and Francis and the heirs of Francis of the chief lords of that fee by the services which to the premises belong for ever. (Feet of Fines, Sussex, Easter Term, 12 Elizabeth.)

Final Concord made at Westminster on the Quindene of Easter, 12 Elizabeth [9 April 1570], between William Stapley, gentleman, querent, and Richard Chatfyld and Elizabeth his wife and Edward Pycombe and Grace his wife, deforciant, of two messuages, one barn, one garden, three orchards, twenty acres of land, twenty acres of meadow, and twenty acres of pasture in Twynham and Bolney. Plea of covenant. Richard and Elizabeth and Edward and Grace have acknowledged the premises to be the right of William, as those which he has of the gift of Richard and Elizabeth and Edward and Grace, and they have quitclaimed them from Richard and Elizabeth and Edward and Grace and their heirs to William and his heirs for ever. And, moreover, Richard and Elizabeth have granted for themselves and the heirs of Elizabeth that they will warrant to William and his heirs the premises against Richard and Elizabeth and the heirs of Elizabeth for ever. And, further, Edward and Grace have granted for themselves and the heirs of Edward that they will warrant to William and his heirs the premises against Edward and Grace and the heirs of Edward. For this William gave Richard and Elizabeth and Edward and Grace 130 marks. (Feet of Fines, Sussex, Easter Term, 12 Elizabeth.)

Final Concord made at Westminster in the Quindene of Easter, 22 Elizabeth [17 April 1580], between Francis Bowyer, Citizen and Alderman of London, querent, and Francis Chatfeld, gentleman, and Anne his wife, deforciants, of one messuage, two hundred acres of land, twenty acres of meadow, one hundred acres of pasture, and twenty acres of furze and heath in Ovyngne. Plea of covenant. Francis Chatfeld and Anne have acknowledged the premises to be the right of Francis Bowyer, as those which he has of the gift of Francis Chatfield and Anne, and they have quitclaimed them from Francis Chatfield and Anne and their heirs to Francis Bowyer and his heirs for ever. And, moreover, Francis Chatfield and Anne have granted for themselves and the heirs of Francis that they will warrant to Francis Bowyer and his heirs the premises against Francis Chatfield and Anne and the heirs of Francis for ever. For this Francis Bowyer gave Francis Chatfield and Anne £40. (Feet of Fines, Sussex, Easter Term, 22 Elizabeth.)

Final Concord made at Westminster on the Morrow of Holy Trinity, 4 James I [16 June 1606], between Henry Clayton, Doctor of Sacred Theology, querent, and George Chatfeild, gentleman, and Margaret his wife, deforciants, of one messuage and one garden with appurtenances in the City of Chichester. Plea of covenant. George and Margaret have acknowledged the aforesaid premises to be the right of Henry, as those which he has of the gift of George and Margaret, and they have quitclaimed them from George and Margaret and their heirs to Henry and his heirs for ever. And, moreover, George and Margaret have granted for themselves and the heirs of George that they will warrant to Henry and his heirs the aforesaid premises against George and Margaret and the heirs of George for ever. For this Henry gave to George and Margaret £41. (Feet of Fines, Sussex, Trinity Term, 4 James I.)

Final Concord made at Westminster on the Morrow of Holy Trinity, 6 James I [23 May 1608], between Richard Chatfeild, gentleman, querent, and George Gounter [i.e., Gunter], Knight, and Mary his wife, and John Temye, gentleman, deforciants, of one messuage, one dovecote, one barn, one garden, and one orchard, with appurtenances, in Funtington. Plea of covenant. George, Mary, and John have acknowledged the aforesaid premises to be the right of Richard, as those which he has of the gift of George, Mary, and John, and they have quitclaimed them from George, Mary, and John and their heirs to Richard and his heirs for ever. And, moreover, George and Mary have granted for themselves and the heirs of George that they will warrant to Richard and his heirs the aforesaid premises against George and Mary and the heirs of George for ever. And John has granted for himself and his heirs that he will warrant to Richard and his heirs the aforesaid premises against John and his heirs for ever. For this Richard gave George, Mary, and John £60. (Feet of Fines, Sussex, Trinity Term, 6 James I.)

Final Concord made at Westminster in five weeks of Easter, 7 James I [21 May 1609], between Richard Chatfeild, gentleman, querent, and George Chatfeild, gentleman, and Margaret his wife, deforciant, of two messuages, two barns, two gardens, two orchards, twenty acres of land, one acre of meadow, and eleven acres of pasture, with appurtenances, in South Mundham and Pagham. Plea of covenant. George and Margaret have acknowledged the aforesaid premises to be the right of Richard, as those which he has of the gift of George and Margaret, and they have quitclaimed them from George and Margaret and their heirs to Richard and his heirs for ever. And, moreover, George and Margaret have granted for themselves and the heirs of George that they will warrant to Richard and his heirs the aforesaid premises against George and Margaret and the heirs of George for ever. For this Richard gave George and Margaret £41. (Feet of Fines, Sussex, Easter Term, 7 James I.)

Final Concord made at Westminster on the Morrow of Holy Trinity, 10 James I [8 June 1612], between Edward Rose, querent, and Richard Chatfeild, gentleman, and Cecily his wife, deforciant, of two messuages, two barns, two gardens, two orchards, twenty acres of land, ten acres of meadow, ten acres of pasture, with appurtenances, in South Mundham and Pagham. Plea of covenant. Richard and Cecily have acknowledged the aforesaid premises to be the right of Edward, as those which he has of the gift of Richard and Cecily, and they have quitclaimed them from Richard and Cecily and their heirs to Edward and his heirs for ever. And, moreover, Richard and Cecily have granted for themselves and the heirs of Richard that they will warrant to Edward and his heirs the aforesaid premises against Richard and Cecily and the heirs of Richard for ever. For this Edward gave Richard and Cecily £41. (Feet of Fines, Sussex, Trinity Term, 10 James I.)

Final Concord made at Westminster on the Quindene of Easter, 12 James I [9 May 1614], between William Harrison, gentleman, querent, and Richard Chatfeild, gentleman, and Cecily his wife, deforciant, of one barn, eight acres of land, and ten acres of pasture, with appurtenances, in West Asshellinge and Funtington. Plea of covenant. Richard and Cecily acknowledge the aforesaid premises to be the right of William, as those which he has of the gift of Richard and Cecily, and they have quitclaimed them from Richard and Cecily and their heirs to William and his heirs for ever. And, moreover, Richard and Cecily have granted for themselves and the heirs of Richard that they will warrant to William and his heirs the aforesaid premises against Richard and Cecily and the heirs of Richard for ever. For this William gave Richard and Cecily £80. (Feet of Fines, Sussex, Easter Term, 12 James I.)

FROM INQUISITIONS POST MORTEM*

Inquisition taken at Estgreensted, co. Sussex, 7 October, 36 Elizabeth [1594], after the death of FRANCIS CHATFELD, gentleman. The jurors say that the said Francis at the time of his death was seised in his demesne as of fee of certain lands called Chatfeeldes, in Westmeston in the county aforesaid, and of half a virgate of land called Hamgate, in Westmeston in the county aforesaid, and of the moiety of a certain parcel of land called Mudberys, in Asshellinge in the county aforesaid, and so thereof seised died thereof seised. And, further, the jurors say that the land called Chatfeeldes is held of John Michelburne, gentleman, as of his manor of Westmeston, in free socage and by the rent of 7s., and it is worth by the year in all issues beyond reprises 53s. 4d. And that the half virgate of land called Hamgate is held of Edward Nevell, Lord Aburgaveni, and by the yearly rent of 6d., as of his manor of Dytchening, in free socage, and they are worth by the year in all issues beyond reprises 13s. 4d. And that the moiety of the parcel of land called Mudberyes is held of Lord Barteley as of his manor of Boseham, in free socage and by the yearly rent of 3s. 6d., and it is worth by the year beyond reprises 20s. And further the jurors say that Francis died at Romboldswyke in the county aforesaid on 4 May last past before the taking of this inquisition, and that Richard Chatfeld is his son and heir, which same Richard at the time of the death of Francis his father was aged thirty-one years and more. Delivered into Court 10 October, 36 Elizabeth [1594], by the hand of the Escheator. (Inquisitions Post Mortem, Chancery Series 2, vol. 278, no. 121.)

Inquisition taken at East Grinstead, co. Sussex, 22 March, 5 James I [1607/8], after the death of JOHN CHATFIELD. The jurors say that on 4 March, 19 Henry VIII [1527/8], Sir George Nevil, Lord Bergavenny, granted "Loffeld" in Chaleghe, held by copy of court roll of his manor of Ditchling, to Thomas Chatfield then of Chaylegh and to Thomas Chatfield, his son, and the heirs of Thomas Chatfield the father. Thomas Chatfield the father died, and Thomas the son and heir entered and afterwards died, when the premises descended to John Chatfield as his son and heir. Said John had issue John Chatfield, who entered and was seised of said messuage and lands in Chaylegh, and on 27 January 1598 [1598/9] made his will and left them to his wife Cecily until his son John was twenty-one. The jurors also say that John Chatfield died at Chailey 30 January 1598 [1598/9], and that John Chatfield is his son and heir and was then aged eleven years, two months, and three weeks. (Ib., vol. 302, no. 99.)

Inquisition taken at East Grimstead, co. Sussex, 15 January, 14 Charles I [1638/9], after the death of JOHN CHATFIELD, yeoman. The jurors say said John was seised of one third of a virgate called "Loffeld" and a messuage, barn, and land in Chaileigh. The said John died 10 September last past, and John Chatfield is his son and heir and was then aged thirteen years and six months. (Ib., vol. 566, no. 28.)

† Sussex Genealogies, part 1, p. 5. William Berry, the compiler of this book, was clerk in the College of Arms, 1793-1809. Statements in the pedigree which have been taken from Sussex Genealogies are enclosed in parentheses.

‡ The description of the arms and crest in Sussex Genealogies, loc. cit., differs somewhat from the description in the Visitations, which is given here.

[From the foregoing material and from New England records the following pedigree has been compiled:

The Chatfield family is of Sussex origin and doubtless derived its name from Catsfield, a parish in southeastern Sussex, one mile from the famous Battle Abbey, which was built on the spot where King Harold fell in the Battle of Hastings or Senlac.

As early as 1300 the family was established in Mid-Sussex, the first of the name there of whom records have been found being William de Cattefeld, who in 1327-8 and 1332-3 was taxed in subsidies in the township of Street, in the very centre of the county and about twenty-five miles west of Catsfield. For over three centuries the family continued in Street and the adjoining parishes of Ditchling and Chailey; but after 1332-3 there is a gap of about one hundred and twenty years, covering four or five generations, concerning which no records have been discovered. The next of the family who is known is

* He is given in Sussex Genealogies as the eldest son.

1. THOMAS CHATFIELD, born probably about 1450, from whom a continuous descent can be traced. According to the Visitations of Sussex he was of Bedyles in the parish of Ditchling. He was probably living in 1523, when Thomas Chatfield, Jun., presumably his son, appears in a subsidy.

Children:

2. i. JOHN,* b. probably abt. 1475.

ii. THOMAS,* b. abt. 1480. As Thomas Chatfield Jun. he was assessed in the subsidy of 1523 for the Hundred of Street. In 1527/8 he and his s. Thomas acquired "Loffeld" in the parish of Chailey. His s. Thomas, b. abt. 1505, was father of John, b. abt. 1530, who was father of John, b. abt. 1560, d. 30 Jan. 1598/9, who was father of John, b. in 1587, d. 10 Sept. 1638, who was father of John, b. in 1625. All these were of Chailey, as is shown in the inquisitions post mortem of John who d. in 1598/9 and of John who d. in 1638.

iii. WILLIAM,* appears in the subsidy for the Hundred of Street in 1523.

2. JOHN CHATFIELD (Thomas), born probably about 1475, was of Bedyles in the parish of Ditchling according to the Visitations of Sussex, which also state that he married ALICE STAPLEY, daughter of Richard of Twineham, co. Sussex. He is evidently the John Chatfield, Sen., who was assessed in the Hundred of Street in the subsidy of 1523.

Children:

3. i. RICHARD,† b. abt. 1500.

ii. JOHN,† enrolled in the subsidy for the Hundred of Street in 1523 as John Chatfield, Jun.

iii. ROBERT,† assessed in the subsidy for the Hundred of Street in 1545/6.

3. RICHARD CHATFIELD (John, Thomas), the testator of 1582, of Bedyles in the parish of Ditchling, of Oving, Treyford, Sidlesham, and Chichester, co. Sussex, and of the Isle of Hayling, co. Hants, born about 1500, died in July 1586. When he was a young man he removed thirty miles westward from his ancestral region of Mid-Sussex and settled in Chichester. In this city he probably secured in trade the means which enabled him to acquire numerous pieces of property (some of which formerly belonged to monasteries dissolved by Henry VIII), and to raise his branch of the family into the armigerous gentry, with its pedigree and arms entered in the Heralds' Visitations, while the branches in Mid-Sussex remained among the yeomanry. In the subsidy of 1523 he was assessed for lands in the Hundred of Street and for goods in Chichester.‡ Between 1544 and 1572 he was assessed in the Rape of Chichester in various subsidies, and acquired property at Chichester, Oving, West Ashling, Sidlesham, Treyford, Westmeston, Middleton, Twineham, and Bolney. When he made his will in 1582 he was living at Chichester, and he was buried in the Cathedral there 26 July 1586. His will is a brief and unsatisfactory document, as it names only two of his children, although it is certain that he had at least six and probably even more. It is evident that he had given portions to his children during his lifetime. No monument to him remains, as the iconoclastic partisans

* John was certainly a son of Thomas, and Thomas and William were probably sons of Thomas.

† Richard was certainly a son of John, and John and Robert were probably sons of John.

‡ Although assessed in both places, he had to pay but one tax.

of Cromwell wrecked that part of the Cathedral in which he was buried.

He married first, about 1530, ELIZABETH (BRANE or BROND) PECKHAM, daughter of John Brane or Brond of Hove, co. Sussex, and widow of John Peckham; and secondly, after 9 Apr. 1570, AGNES or ANNE ———, who survived him.

Children by first wife:

- i. NICHOLAS, probably the eldest son, as he held the ancestral estate in Mid-Sussex; said in Berry's Sussex Genealogies to have left descendants at Ditchling.
 4. ii. FRANCIS, b. probably abt. 1532.
 - iii. GEORGE, the testator of 1599/1600, b. probably abt. 1535; d. s.p., being bur. in the Cathedral at Chichester 5 Feb. 1599/1600; m. AGNES (——) MARCH, widow. On 8 Nov. 1565 he leased a farm called Bolneys in South Mundham in Pagham, abt. four miles south of Chichester, where he settled and resided several years. In 1572 he was taxed there in a subsidy, and in 1576 he is mentioned in Pagham as farmer of the rectory. He also had lands in Oving, and later removed into Chichester, where he acquired several pieces of property, was assessed in subsidies in 1596, 1597, and 1599, and in 1586 and 1599 was mayor of that city, dying in office in the last-mentioned year. The embossed silver and gilt bowl which he bequeathed to the corporation of Chichester has disappeared from the collection of municipal plate there. He left his property among the children of his eldest brother, Francis Chatfield, the latter's second and third sons, Francis and George, receiving all the real estate; and, except for small bequests to his two sisters, his other relatives were ignored.
 - iv. THOMAS, said in the Visitations to have d. s.p.
 - v. ELIZABETH, m. (1) EDWARD MONKE; m. (2) ——— ANCILL; named in the will of her brother George in 1599/1600.
 - vi. JOAN, m. THOMAS ESTE; named in the wills of her father in 1582 and of her brother George in 1599/1600.
 5. vii. RICHARD,* b. abt. 1550–1555.
 4. FRANCIS CHATFIELD (Richard, John, Thomas), the testator of 1594, born probably about 1532, resided probably chiefly at Rumboldswyke, co. Sussex, where he died 4 May 1594 according to his inquisition post mortem, which also shows that he held lands in Westmeston and Ashling. He also owned land in Oving, which was probably given to him by his father Richard Chatfield, who acquired lands in this parish in 1554/5. This land Francis Chatfield seems to have alienated or mortgaged by fine in 1580. The registers of Oving do not contain the baptisms of his children, and therefore they were probably baptized at Rumboldswyke, the early registers of which are missing. His will names only his five eldest children; the names of the five youngest are derived from the will of his brother George Chatfield in 1599/1600.
- He married, about 1560, ANNE PECKHAM, who survived him, daughter of John or George.
- Children:
6. i. RICHARD, b. abt. 1562.
 7. ii. FRANCIS, b. abt. 1564.
 8. iii. GEORGE, b. abt. 1566.
 9. iv. THOMAS, b. abt. 1568.
 - v. JOANE, b. abt. 1571; mentioned in the wills of her father in 1594 and of her uncle George in 1599/1600.
 - vi. ROBERT, b. abt. 1574; named in the will of his father in 1594 as under age; named also in the will of his uncle George in 1599/1600.

* He was probably, but not certainly, a son of Richard.

10. vii. WILLIAM, b. abt. 1576.

viii. EDWARD, the testator of 1626/7, b. abt. 1578; named in the will of his uncle George in 1599/1600; in 1612 he was of Deptford, co. Kent, and later of London, where he was a merchant; d., probably s.p., between 1627 and 1629, on a voyage to or in the East Indies.

- ix. JAMES, a citizen and fishmonger of London, b. abt. 1580; named in the wills of his uncle George in 1599/1600, his brother Edward in 1626/7, and his brother Francis in 1627; m. JOANE SIMNETT, dau. of Richard of London. Children: 1. Thomas. 2. James.

- x. DREW, b. abt. 1583; named in the will of his uncle George in 1599/1600; sued for debt by his brother William in 1611;* further history not traced.

5. RICHARD CHATFIELD (? Richard, John, Thomas), of North Mundham,† co. Sussex, born about 1550–1555, removed to Chichester, where he was buried in the Cathedral or the Cathedral yard, 14 Nov. 1609, administration on his estate being granted, 4 Dec. 1609, to Elizabeth, his widow.

He married at All Saints', Chichester, 15 Sept. 1595, by licence of the same date, which styles him of North Mundham, ELIZABETH (—) LUPSON, widow, who survived him and married thirdly, at St. Pancras, Chichester, 16 June 1612, by licence dated the previous day, Rev. Robert Adyn, curate of Wivesfield.

Children, born probably at North Mundham:

- i. WILLIAM, b. probably abt. 1597; d. s.p., beyond the seas, administration on his estate being granted, 3 Nov. 1626, to his sister, Elizabeth Hulett. The fact that administration was granted to his sister is evidence that he had no surviving brothers.
- ii. ELIZABETH, b. probably abt. 1600; m. at Pagham (being then of North Mundham), by licence of 17 Sept. 1625, LAURENCE HULETT of London, gentleman.

6. RICHARD CHATFIELD (Francis, Richard, John, Thomas), of Rumboldswyke, Chichester, South Mundham in Pagham, and North Mundham, all in co. Sussex, was born about 1562, his age being given as thirty-one years and more on 4 May 1594, at the death of his father, according to the inquisition post mortem of the latter. At the time of his first marriage in 1592/3 he is called of Rumboldswyke, and for the next few years resided in Chichester, where he had children recorded and where he was a collector of the subsidy of 1598–9. In 1608 he acquired by fine some property in Funtington in the Hundred of Bosham, where he was assessed in the subsidy of 1610; in 1614 he and his wife Cicely conveyed by fine property in this parish. In 1609 he acquired by fine from his brother George Chatfield two farms in South Mundham and Pagham; three years later he and his wife conveyed the same to Edward Rose. After about 1615 he appears to have resided at North Mundham, where he is mentioned in a land scot in 1633. The time and place of his death have not been learned.

He married first, by licence of 3 Jan. 1592/3, as "Richard Chatfield Junior of Wyke [i.e., Rumboldswyke], gent." (being called Junior evidently to distinguish him from his uncle, Richard Chatfield), ANNE (—) COWPER, widow, who was buried in Chichester Cathedral or the Cathedral yard 2 Mar. 1602/3; and secondly, at St. Peter's the Great (a church within Chichester Cathedral), 6 June 1603, by licence of 31 May 1603, CICELY HARRISON, daughter of William of Chichester.

* Chancery Proceedings, James I, Bundle C 28, no. 55.

† This parish lies two miles south of Chichester and just north of South Mundham, which was then part of the parish of Pagham.

Children by first wife:

- i. ANNE, b. abt. 1593; mentioned in the will of her grandfather, Francis Chatfield, of 4 May 1594.
- ii. RICHARD, b. abt. 1594; bur. at St. Bartholomew's, Chichester, 26 Jan. 1594/5.
- iii. RICHARD, b. abt. 1595; mentioned in the will of his great-uncle, George Chatfield, of 1 Feb. 1599/1600.
- iv. JANE, bapt. at St. Bartholomew's, Chichester, 1 May 1597; bur. there 21 Aug. 1598.
- v. A CHILD, bur. unbapt. at St. Bartholomew's, Chichester, 26 Apr. 1598.

Children by second wife*:

- vi. FRANCIS, bapt. at All Saints', Chichester, 8 Feb. 1617/18.
- vii. HELEN, bapt. at North Mundham 25 Apr. 1619.

7. FRANCIS CHATFIELD (Francis, Richard, John, Thomas), of Rumboldswyke, Oving, Pagham, and Chichester, co. Sussex, the testator of 1627, was born about 1564 and was buried in Chichester Cathedral 22 May 1627. His name appears frequently after 1599 in the municipal records of Chichester, and he was assessed in that city in the subsidy of 1610.

He married at St. Andrew's, Chichester, 7 Oct. 1595, by licence dated 6 Oct. 1595, MARY CAWLEY, who was buried in the Cathedral at Chichester 23 June 1618, daughter of John of Chichester, alderman.

Children:

- i. JOHN, of Groves in the parish of Oving, b. abt. 1598; living in 1642, being named in the will of his brother Francis; m. ELEANOR (NEWNHAM) WOOD, dau. of Nicholas Newnham of the Isle of Wight and widow of George Wood, a master in chancery. John Chatfield entered the Chatfield pedigree in the Visitation of Sussex of 1633-4.
- ii. KATHERINE, bapt. in St. Peter's the Great, Chichester, 4 Jan. 1601/2; m. at Oving, 18 Dec. 1627, THOMAS COMBER.
- iii. DOROTHY, b. abt. 1604; living in 1627, when she is named in her father's will.†
- iv. MARY, bapt. in St. Peter's the Great, Chichester, 30 Sept. 1606; living in 1642, when she is named in the will of her brother Francis; m. at Chichester, 15 Dec. 1628, by licence of 14 Dec. 1628, THOMAS CHAMBERS of Southampton, merchant.
- v. CICELY, b. abt. 1608; living in 1627, when she is named in her father's will.†
- vi. ANNE, bapt. in St. Peter's the Great, Chichester, in 1609; living in 1627, when she is named in her father's will.†
- vii. ALICE, b. probably abt. 1611; living in 1627, when she is named in her father's will.†
- viii. FRANCIS, of Chichester, the testator of 1642, b. probably abt. 1613; d. s.p. between 26 Apr. 1642 and 16 Sept. 1645.
- ix. ELIZABETH, b. probably abt. 1615; m. before 1642, when she is named in the will of her brother Francis, ——— STANDEN.
- x. JANE, bapt. in St. Peter's the Great, Chichester, 21 June 1618; living unm. in 1642, when she is named in the will of her brother Francis.
- xi. THOMAS, b. probably abt. 1620; living in 1642, when he was a legatee in the will of his brother Francis.

* Probably he had several children, whose names are unknown, born and baptized between 1603 and 1615 at Pagham, where he resided several years, the early registers of this parish being lost.

† Of four of the daughters who are given in this list, namely, Dorothy, Cicely, Anne, and Alice, three were probably living and married in 1642; for their brother Francis, in his will of that year, mentions his sister Githens (also his brother John Gittens), his sister Hinkson, and his sister Violet, without, however, giving their Christian names.

8. GEORGE CHATFIELD (Francis, Richard, John, Thomas), of South Mundham in Pagham, co. Sussex, born about 1566, received by the will of his father in 1594 a share of the latter's goods and by the will of his uncle, George Chatfield, in 1599/1600 lands in Chichester, South Mundham in Pagham, and Oving, some of which he and his wife Margaret alienated by fines in 1606 and 1609. He probably gave property to his children in his lifetime, as at his death at Pagham in 1619 the inventory of his estate showed personal property of only £8. 8s. 4d., administration on his estate having been granted, 13 Nov. 1619, to his widow Margaret. As he left no will, as no inquisition post mortem was held on his estate, as the early registers and manor rolls of Pagham are lost, and as all other possible sources of information have been fruitlessly examined, positive proof has not been secured that Henry Chatfield who follows him in South Mundham in Pagham was his son; but the circumstantial evidence is such as to leave no reasonable doubt that this Henry was son and heir of George.

He married, probably about 1588, MARGARET ———, who joined with him in conveyances by fine in 1606 and 1609 and administered his estate in 1619. They may have had several children born in Pagham of whom no records exist, the early registers of that parish being lost.

Children:

11. i. HENRY, b. probably at Pagham abt. 1588.
- ii. RICHARD, b. perhaps abt. 1590; m. at All Saints', Chichester, 23 Feb. 1613/14, JANE BASSETT.
- iii. A CHILD, b. probably at Pagham in 1601; bur. at Oving 16 Oct. 1602.
- iv. JANE, bapt. at Oving 6 Jan. 1602/3.

9. THOMAS CHATFIELD (Francis, Richard, John, Thomas) was born probably about 1568. He is named as of age and received a portion in goods by the will of his father in 1594, and he also received £50 by the will of his uncle, George Chatfield, in 1599/1600. Further knowledge of him has been found only in the Visitation of Sussex of 1633-4, which states that he married a Dutch woman, that he was then living in the Low Countries, and that he had the following

Children:

- i. THOMAS.
- ii. HENRY.*
- iii. ANNE.
- iv. KATHERINE.
- v. THESMA.

10. WILLIAM CHATFIELD (Francis, Richard, John, Thomas), of Oving, co. Sussex, born probably about 1576, received his portion of the goods of his father by the latter's will in 1594 and a legacy of £50 by the will of his uncle, George Chatfield, in 1599/1600. He was an assessor for the Hundred of Box and Stockbridge, in which Oving is situated, in the subsidy of 1596-7. He resided on the ancestral farm of Groves in Oving, where his name appears on the Protestation Roll in Feb. 1641/2. He probably acquired Groves by deed from his brothers Francis and George, to whom it was left by the will of their uncle George in 1599/1600, who states that it had been conveyed to him by his father, Richard Chatfield.

He married, about 1602, SARAH ———, who was buried at Oving 12 Sept. 1642.

* This Henry was probably born too late to be identical with the Henry of Pagham who has been given above as son of George (8).

Children, recorded at Oving:

- i. FRANCIS, b. abt. 1603; bur. 29 Mar. 1607.
- ii. JOHN, bapt. 6 Oct. 1605.
- iii. ELIZABETH, bapt. 21 Feb. 1607/8; bur. 23 May 1629.
- iv. WILLIAM, bapt. 27 Mar. 1609; m. abt. 1639 MARGARET ———, who was bur. at Oving 9 Aug. 1642; resided at Oving, where his name is on the Protestation Roll in Feb. 1641/2. Children, recorded at Oving: 1. William, bapt. 3 Nov. 1640; bur. 27 May 1644. 2. John, bapt. 9 Aug. 1642; bur. 19 Apr. 1645.
- v. EDWARD, bapt. 19 Aug. 1610; bur. 4 Aug. 1612.
- vi. SAMUEL, bapt. 20 Jan. 1611/12; bur. 7 Apr. 1614.
- vii. RICHARD, bapt. 6 Nov. 1614.
- viii. JOHN, bapt. 1 Sept. 1617.
- ix. SARAH, bapt. 21 Jan. 1623/4.

11. HENRY CHATFIELD (George, Francis, Richard, John, Thomas), of South Mundham in the parish of Pagham and of North Mundham, co. Sussex, the testator of 1636/7, born probably about 1588, was buried at North Mundham 1 Feb. 1636/7. While, as stated above, positive proof has not been found that he was son of George of Pagham (8), as the latter left no will and the early registers as well as the manor rolls of Pagham are lost, yet the circumstantial evidence furnished by place, names, and elimination seems conclusive. In 1610 Henry Chatfield appears in a subsidy at Pagham, where it is known that his presumed father George, his presumed uncles Richard and Francis, and his presumed great-uncle George resided and possessed landed property for more than half a century. Henry named his eldest daughter Margaret, probably for his mother, and two of his sons George and Francis, the former evidently for his father and his great-uncle and the latter for his uncle and his grandfather. An exhaustive search among all the Chatfields of all Sussex in the sixteenth and first half of the seventeenth century has failed to disclose the names George and Francis except among the descendants of the armigerous landed branch founded by the Richard Chatfield (3) of Chichester who died in 1586. Furthermore, Henry Chatfield appears in subsidies at Pagham in 1610 and 1620-1, when he was still a young man, and therefore at his marriage he was probably well established by his father, who must have been a man of property, as George of Pagham certainly was. The will also of Henry Chatfield indicates that he was a man of substantial estate; and each of his sons, Francis, Thomas, and George, who emigrated to New England, is there styled "Mr." or "gentleman." Lastly, as it seems evident from the foregoing reasons that Henry Chatfield was descended from the Richard of Chichester who died in 1586, it seems also, by the process of elimination, that he cannot be placed in that branch of the family except as a son of George of Pagham (8).

The subsidies show that Henry Chatfield resided at South Mundham in Pagham, but his will indicates that he had lands also in North Mundham. Doubtless most of his children were baptized at Pagham, the early registers of which are missing; but he also lived at North Mundham, where he was in the land scot in 1633 and where he was buried.

The Protestation Roll of Feb. 1641/2 for the western half of Sussex, containing the names of all males eighteen years of age and upwards in each parish, is preserved in the House of Lords, and has been printed. While the names of the two sons-in-law of Henry Chatfield appear on the roll, the names of his sons Francis, Thomas, and George are not on it; they had gone to New England in 1639.

Henry Chatfield married first, about 1610, ———, who died early in 1614; and secondly, probably late in 1614, JANE (———) WICKHAM, widow (perhaps of George Wickham of Hunston), the testatrix of 1638/9, who was buried at North Mundham 17 Mar. 1638/9. It appears that she had by her first marriage at least one son and also two daughters, Elizabeth, wife of Edward Fowle, and Martha, wife of William Langrish.

Children by first wife:

- i. MARGARET, b. abt. 1610 and probably named for her paternal grandmother; m. abt. 1629 GEORGE NORRIS of North Mundham, where he is inscribed on the Protestation Roll of Feb. 1641/2. He and their three eldest children are named in the will of her father in 1636/7, but not in that of her stepmother in 1638/9. Children, bapt. at North Mundham: 1. George, bapt. 21 Mar. 1629/30. 2. Annis, bapt. 10 Mar. 1632/3. 3. Joseph, bapt. 1 Jan. 1635/6. 4. Henry, bapt. 14 Mar. 1640/1.
- ii. JOHN, b. abt. 1612; received ls. by his father's will in 1636/7, and therefore was evidently then of age and already provided for; not mentioned in the will of his stepmother in 1638/9.
- iii. HENRY, b. probably early in 1614; bur. in 1614 at North Mundham.

Children by second wife:

- iv. MIRIAM, b. abt. 1615; m. at North Mundham, 14 May 1633, ABEL INGRAM, who is inscribed at Pagham on the Protestation Roll of Feb. 1641/2. He is mentioned in the wills of both of her parents. Children, bapt. at North Mundham: 1. John, bapt. 2 Nov. 1634. 2. Thomas, bapt. 28 Feb. 1635/6. 3. Isaac, bapt. 16 Dec. 1637; bur. 21 Jan. 1638/9.
- v. FRANCIS, bapt. at North Mundham between 24 Feb. 1616/17 and 11 May 1617; d., probably unm., at Guilford, Conn., abt. 1647; named in the wills of both of his parents. He emigrated to New England in 1639 among the Kent and Sussex followers of Rev. Henry Whitfield, who founded and settled Guilford, Conn. He and his brothers were among the few early settlers of Guilford to whom the designations "Mr." and "gentleman" were applied.
- vi. SARAH, b. perhaps in 1619; bur. at North Mundham 3 Apr. 1629.
- vii. THOMAS, b. abt. 1621; d. at Easthampton, Long Island, before 1687; named in the wills of both of his parents; m. at New Haven in New England, abt. 1648, ANNE HIGGINSON, b. abt. 1627, dau. of Rev. Francis and Anne of Leicester, England, and Salem, Mass. He emigrated to New England in 1639, with his brothers, in Rev. Henry Whitfield's company, and settled at Guilford, Conn. A few years later he went to New Haven, and about 1650 removed thence to Easthampton, Long Island. Children: 1. Anne, b. abt. 1649. 2. Capt. Thomas, b. abt. 1652; d. 20 Mar. 1712/13; m. ———; resided at Easthampton, where he was prominent in local affairs; had a son Thomas and other children, from whom have come numerous descendants. 3. John, b. abt. 1655; m. Mary ———; resided at Easthampton; descendants not traced.
- viii. GEORGE, b. abt. 1624; d. at Killingworth, Conn., 9 June 1671; named in the wills of both of his parents; m. (1) SARAH BISHOP, who d. s.p. 20 Sept. 1657, dau. of John and Anne of Guilford, Conn.; m. (2) 29 Mar. 1659 ISABEL NETTLETON, dau. of Samuel and Mary of Milford, Conn. He emigrated to New England in 1639 with his older brothers and settled at Guilford, Conn., removing thence abt. 1663 to Killingworth, Conn. He was the ancestor of most of the American Chatfields. Children by second wife: 1. John, b. 8 Apr. 1661. 2. George, b. 18 Aug. 1668. 3. Mercy, b. 26 Apr. 1671.

BELLS OF TRINITY CHURCH, NEWPORT, R. I.

By ARTHUR HOWARD NICHOLS, A.B., M.D., of Boston, Mass.

SEVEN bells have been hung at different times in the steeple of Trinity Church, Newport, R. I., including the original small bell, now preserved as a relic, and the one now in use.

FIRST BELL

In the year 1702, four years after the organization of the Society, when the edifice had been completed and furnished with pews, arrangements were made for building the steeple. It was then that the original small bell, weighing about 125 pounds, and 19 inches in height, was obtained from England, possibly through the agency of the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel, which had in other ways been helpful to this parish. No mention of this bell, however, has been found in the church records. It bears the date, 1702, beneath the crown, and a broad arrow on the middle of the waist. The cannons, or loops above the crown, appendages which have recently been discarded as useless by all founders, are of the prolonged type in use at that period. It has been surmised that the broad arrow indicated the gift of royalty, but it is more likely to be the trade stamp, or device, of the Bilbies. This firm established a foundry in 1698 at Chew-Stoke, a village of Somersetshire, and in the eighteenth century opened a branch establishment at Cullompton, co. Devon, which lasted until 1813. In the custody of the Bostonian Society is preserved a bell imported for the old Court House, built in 1773 on School Street. It is inscribed in Arabic capitals: "T. B. 1774," with the broad arrow beneath. It is almost certain that this bell was made by Thomas Bilbie, Jr., who was connected with the above-mentioned foundry from 1754 to 1790. Bilbie bells are most numerous in Somersetshire, where at Wells, for example, is a tuneful ring of ten in the massive tower of St. Cuthbert.

This first bell, after its displacement in 1709, was used as a school bell in the cupola of the building now occupied by the Shiloh Baptist Society. On 2 June 1845, by vote of the vestry of Trinity Church, it was given to the Chapel of the Holy Cross, Middletown, R. I., whence it was again removed to give place to a larger bell, the gift of Ruth Ann Hall of Bristol, R. I. Restored to its original owners in 1901 by James R. Chase, senior warden of the Chapel, it was assigned to a lumber room and virtually forgotten until brought to light in 1913 by the present rector, Rev. Stanley C. Hughes.

SECOND BELL

The original light bell, more appropriate for a factory or engine house, was succeeded in 1709 by another weighing 800 pounds, the gift of Queen Anne, who was persuaded later to send a small library and other valuable gifts to the Society. Although with reasonable care this royal gift should have had a life of centuries, towards the end of the year 1739 it was cracked; and its destruction is to be especially deplored for the reason that bells cast during the first half of the eighteenth century, being composed of more sonorous metal than the product of modern mines, excelled in purity of tone and carrying power. Indeed, the records of the Society bear witness to the superiority of this instrument, which was said to be "prized not only by the congregation, but by the whole town."

THIRD BELL

On 17 July 1740 it was voted to ship the condemned bell to England, the proceeds of its sale to be applied with other money to be raised by subscription towards the purchase of a new bell of about 1000 pounds in weight. Raised to the tower in the summer of 1741, this third bell did service for sixty-three years, becoming cracked in Apr. 1804. Of its quality no report has been handed down.

FOURTH BELL

At the beginning of the nineteenth century the art of bell founding was in its infancy in America, and the crude, unhomogeneous castings of that period resulted generally in fragile instruments of harsh, shrill sound, some specimens of which are still extant. Notwithstanding the difference between castings at that date of domestic and foreign manufacture, the committee accepted in June 1804 a bid of Fenno & Crocker of Hartford, Conn., for a bell of 1200 pounds, with the stipulation that the work of casting should be entrusted to a Mr. Doolittle, "who had a good reputation in that line," and that the old bell should be incorporated in the new amalgam. When installed, 4 Sept. 1804, it was voted "that the sexton ring her as usual at sunrise, one of the clock, p.m., and at nine in the evening: and that he be permitted to raise money by a general subscription to reward him for doing the same." As to the qualifications of the artisan, Mr. Doolittle, it is perhaps significant that this fourth bell became cracked in November of the same year.

FIFTH BELL

At a meeting of the congregation, held 3 Mar. 1805, it was made known that a contract had been executed with Messrs. Fenton & Cochran of New Haven, Conn., to cast a bell of the same weight as the old one of entirely new materials, they agreeing to receive the one cast at Hartford as payment in part. This new bell, weighing 1375 pounds, was the one hundred and fifteenth that had been cast in the same foundry during a period of ten years. A later entry throws light upon the quality of this bell:

"When delivered it was noted that the fused metal had shrunk when cooling in the upper part of the crown, and there were blotches on the rim; but as there was nothing objectionable in the sound the bell was accepted."

Although it is probable that similar defects conducive to fragility and inharmonic sounds existed in the inner structure of this bell and should have caused its rejection, it was nevertheless not cracked until the latter part of the year 1842.

SIXTH BELL

On 7 Mar. 1843 the senior warden reported the cost of the new bell, including hangings, to be $234.13, of which $212.90 was raised by subscriptions and the balance was drawn from the treasurer. Its weight was 1876 pounds. Meeting the fate of its predecessors, it was cracked in 1876.

SEVENTH BELL

The present bell, into the amalgam of which the metal of the sixth bell entered, "out of deference to Dr. King and others," was cast by Mencely & Company of West Troy (now of Watervliet), N. Y. It weighs 3450 pounds, is of deep, mellow tone, and bears the following inscriptions, one on each waist:

Vivos voco; mortuos plango.

When I do ring, God's praises sing.

When I do toule, pray heart and soule.

The Gift of Queen Anne to Trinity Church, Newport, R. I., 1709.

Recast in 1843. Recast and doubled in weight, 1876.

Inasmuch as this seventh bell weighs more than four times that given by Queen Anne and contains no portion of its metal, the above inscription is of questionable propriety. It may be said, however, in explanation, that inscriptions on old bells are sometimes reproduced as a matter of sentiment on modern instruments with which they may have a certain relation. Thus, on three bells of the English peal placed in 1912 in the Memorial Tower at Hingham, Mass., are repeated the identical inscriptions brazed on the bells of St. Andrew's at Hingham, co. Norfolk, Eng., the old home of many of the pioneers of the Massachusetts settlement.

Comparison with other old bells bearing authentic dates indicates that the bell of 1702 is one of the few of that period which have escaped the mismanagement of a careless sexton. When tracing the history of the bells cast by Revere & Son the writer learned that while fifty were broken, presumably by faulty handling, no less than thirty-nine disappeared when the church edifice was destroyed by fire, attributed almost invariably to an overheated stove or furnace.

The original bells of Trinity Church, New York City, cast about the year 1700, are said to have been the gift of Queen Anne. Of these, three were transferred to Trinity Chapel and a fourth is still in use in St. Paul's. Of the peal of bells now suspended in Trinity steeple, five remain of those imported in the year 1797 from the Whitechapel foundry, London, and one bears a date prior to the Revolution. Another bell, given to this society by the Bishop of London, was cast in 1704 and now hangs in St. Augustine's steeple. In the steeple of the Dutch Reformed Church, Fifth Avenue, is a bell cast at Amsterdam in the year 1731 and removed from the old church on Nassau Street, a legacy from the will of Col. Abram de Peyser. Preserved in the Washington Headquarters at Newburg, N. Y., is a bell of 25 pounds, cast at Amsterdam in the year 1716, and given in 1719 to the first settlers of Newburg, who loaned it temporarily to the Lutheran Society in New York, until a church was built by the pioneers in 1733. It is probable that the oldest English bell remaining in this country is that in the Court House at Barnstable, Mass. It is inscribed: "Si Deus pro nobis, quis contra nos. 1675," and was the gift of the widow of Peter Adolph of New York to the First Parish Church, Sandwich, Mass., in gratitude to the people of that town for recovering the body of her husband, who had been drowned in a wreck off the shore. After the sale of this church the bell came into possession of the County Court House. Although this building was totally destroyed by fire in 1827, the belfry tipped forward in such a way as to bring the bell to the ground uninjured. Raised to the cupola of the present Court House in 1833, it was cracked by blows from a blacksmith's hammer, 4 July 1872.

RECORDS BY REV. JOHN SMITH, D.D., OF HANOVER, N. H.

Communicated by WILLIAM SOHIER BRYANT, A.M., M.D., of New York City

THE writer of the following records, Rev. John Smith, D.D., was graduated at Dartmouth College in 1773 and was well-known as a clergyman and as a member of the Dartmouth faculty, serving the College in various capacities from his graduation until his death at Hanover, N. H., on 30 Apr. 1809. A brief biography of him may be found in Chapman's "Alumni of Dartmouth College."

The records which are given below are written on small sheets of paper, so fastened together as to make a little book of twenty pages, each page measuring 4 by 6 inches. This book is now in the possession of Miss Sarah Bryant Fay of Boston, Mass. The entries begin on the first left-hand page (the second page of the book), and are continued on every succeeding page as far as and including the sixteenth, except on the seventh, eighth, and ninth pages, which are blank. To the seventeenth page is pinned a clipping from a newspaper, giving an obituary notice of Dr. Smith's first wife. The eighteenth, nineteenth, and twentieth pages are blank. In the original the pages are not numbered, but in the copy here printed the numbers of the pages have been inserted in brackets.

* In Chapman's Alumni of Dartmouth College and in the General Catalogue of Dartmouth College Dr. Smith is said to have been born at Rowley, Mass., 21 Dec. 1752. His baptism, as John Smith, son of Joseph, appears in the printed Vital Records of Newbury, Mass., under date of 15 Dec. 1751, this entry having been taken from the records of the Byfield church. The Byfield parish, organized in 1710, included a part of Newbury and a part of Rowley. In Appletons' Cyclopædia of American Biography John Smith is said to have been born at Newbury 21 Dec. 1752. The date 1752 probably was taken from the memoir of Dr. Smith written by his widow.

THE PETERSON FAMILY OF DUXBURY, MASS.

By WILLIAM BRADFORD BROWNE of North Adams, Mass.

THE following genealogy of the descendants of John¹ Peterson of Duxbury, Mass., has been compiled from the vital records of numerous towns and from church, cemetery, probate, and land records. Private memoranda have also been consulted, including Bible records. All facts given are from authoritative sources, and statements about which any doubt exists are indicated.

The early generations of this Duxbury family are scantily recorded, and in attempting to arrange them correctly the writer has used his best judgment, considering carefully all available evidence in trying to identify such stray families as appear. Fortunately the majority of the descendants of John¹ Peterson have their lineage perfectly verified, most of those lines whose descent is a matter of conjecture having become extinct or having removed to places unknown to the writer. The later generations descended from Reuben³ Peterson (12) are fully recorded in the Duxbury town records, which are authority for them. For records from various cemeteries, churches, and Bibles the writer is indebted to Mrs. Sidney Peterson of Duxbury, who has devoted much time and study to insure their accuracy.

All the descendants of John¹ Peterson are descended also from George Soule of the Mayflower, and succeeding generations have married very generally into Mayflower families. Such descents have been pointed out when known to the writer, although no special attempt has been made to trace them all.

Besides the family of John¹ Peterson of Duxbury there were certainly two other Peterson families in New England, evidently of a later immigration and probably not related to each other or to the Duxbury family. One of these families appears in Rhode Island about 1725; and the other was settled at Newbury, Mass., where the marriage of Dr. Daniel Peterson of Salem and Elisabeth Willet is recorded under date of 23 Jan. 1719/20, and the births of their children from 1720 to 1735 are found. Some members of this family removed to New Hampshire and mingled with some of the Duxbury family, and therefore the identification of the New Hampshire Petersons is a difficult matter.

1. JOHN¹ PETERSON, an early settler in Duxbury,* married, before 1665, MARY SOULE, born before 1650, daughter of George (who came in the Mayflower in 1620) and Mary of Duxbury. He died between 29 Apr. 1718 (the date of his will) and 26 Mar. 1720 (the date of the inventory of his estate), and was probably buried on his farm in Duxbury, perhaps at the spot where in recent excavating an ancient burial place has been discovered. His farm was on Powder Point, and was purchased of his father-in-law, George Soule, who in a deposition dated 27 Oct. 1674 stated that it had been his homestead farm. This farm, on which both George Soule and John Peterson in turn lived, remained in the possession of their descendants almost to the present day; for although the male line of descendants of Isaac² Peterson, in which his father, John¹ Peterson, evidently intended the farm to remain (his will stating that it should descend to the male heirs of Isaac), failed immediately, the ownership of the land has until very recently remained in the line descended from Isaac's daughter, Priscilla Weston.†

Children, born probably at Duxbury (order of births uncertain):

- i. JOHN,² d. unm. in 1690 (Plymouth Probate Records).
2. ii. JOSEPH, called "eldest" in his father's will, b. before 1670.
3. iii. BENJAMIN, b. abt. 1669.
- iv. MARTHA, living unm. in 1718.
4. v. JONATHAN.
- vi. DAVID, b. in 1676; d., probably unm., 30 Sept. 1760, aged 84 years wanting 1 day. The will of David Peterson of "Duxborough," yeoman, dated 16 July 1760 and proved 2 Mar. 1761, contains the following bequests: To "my sister Rebecca Weston over and above what she hath had heretofore three Dollars." To "Hannah Soule one dollar." To "Rebecca Soule one dollar." To "Priscilla Weston the wife of Eliphas Weston one dollar." To "Faith Drew the wife of Samuel Drew one dollar." To "my

† At the division of the estate of Isaac² Peterson in 1742, his only son Daniel being already dead and having left only two daughters, Isaac's brother Joseph, the eldest surviving son of John¹, became Isaac's next male heir; but Joseph quitclaimed his rights in the land to Isaac's daughters.

Kinsman Jonathan Peterson thirteen shillings and four pence Lawfull money." To "Jael Peterson Two dollars." To "John Peterson one dollar." To "Jonathan Peterson Junr one dollar." To "Turner Peterson two dollars and one sterling shilling." To "my Kinsman David Peterson son to ye abough named Jonathan Peterson my right in a cedar swamp lying in Pembroke and my Guns and beds, and furniture Belonging to them and my wearing close and Household stuf and all my bonds bills and notes and money In fine all my real and personal estate." "Lastly . . . my Kinsman Jonathan Peterson shall be soul executor." To this will David Peterson made his mark. The witnesses were Thomas Weston, Peres Howland, and Elnathan Weston. (Plymouth Probate Records, vol. 16, p. 45.) The testator certainly had neither wife nor children living when this will was made. He probably lived with the family of his deceased brother Jonathan, and to them he left the most of his estate.

5. vii. ISAAC.

viii. MARY, m. JOSEPH² SOULE (John,² George¹).

ix. REBECCA, m. at Duxbury, 1 Oct. 1717, as his second wife, JOHN WESTON of Duxbury.

2. JOSEPH² PETERSON (*John*¹), born, probably at Duxbury, before 1670, died in 1751. He married at Plymouth, 23 Aug. 1704, SARAH (JONES) DOTY, born 12 Sept. 1671, daughter of Joseph and Patience (Little) Jones and widow of John Doty, who had married her 22 Nov. 1694 and had died 8 May 1701. Her mother, Patience Little, was daughter of Thomas and Anna (Warren) Little and granddaughter of Richard Warren of the Mayflower. Her uncle, John Jones, mentions in his will his niece Sarah Peterson. Joseph Peterson resided in North Duxbury, on South River, adjoining Marshfield, on a 90-acre farm, which he conveyed to his son Joseph in 1739.

Children (order of births uncertain):

i. SARAH,² bapt. in 1730 (Marshfield church records); probably the Sarah Peterson who m. at Pembroke, 18 Nov. 1734, WILLIAM MACFARLAND of Pembroke, and d. at Duxbury 15 Mar. 1789, aged 79.

6. ii. JOSEPH, b. at Duxbury; bapt. in 1730 (ib.).

3. BENJAMIN² PETERSON (*John*¹), born, probably at Duxbury, about 1669, died 11 Feb. 1760, aged 90 years, 5 months, and was buried in the Standish Cemetery, which was near his farm. He married, 9 Feb. 1698/9, HANNAH WADSWORTH, daughter of Dea. John and Abigail (Andrews) of Duxbury. She died "the night following the" 6 Feb. 1732/3. Of their children as given below only the first and third are recorded as such; but the others must be of this family, for the families of the other brothers are accounted for.

Children, probably all born at Duxbury:

i. MERCY,³ b. in Oct. 1699; d. at Duxbury 27 Dec. 1768, aged 69 years, 2 (or 3) months; m. at Duxbury, 18 May 1721, JOSEPH WESTON of Duxbury.

ii. ABIGAIL, m. at Duxbury, 25 Sept. 1729, ABRAHAM PIERCE, JR., of Pembroke.

7. iii. JACOB, b. 22 Feb. 1710/11.

8. iv. ISAAC.

9. v. BENJAMIN, b. abt. 1717.

vi. ANNE, m. at Duxbury, 7 Apr. 1735, NATHANIEL DUNHAM of Plymouth.

4. JONATHAN² PETERSON (*John*¹), born probably at Duxbury, died in 1745. He married, after 23 Apr. 1700, LYDIA WADSWORTH, daughter of Dea. John and Abigail (Andrews) of Duxbury and sister of his brother Benjamin's wife. She died 26 May 1756, aged 77 years, 3 months, 3 days, and was buried in the Old Cemetery (the Standish Cemetery) on Centre Street, South Duxbury. She was born, therefore, 13 Feb. 1678/9. After his marriage Jonathan Peterson lived at West Duxbury and at Pembroke. In 1732 he conveyed his Duxbury farm to his sons Jonathan and Reuben and his Pembroke lands to his son John.

Children, born at Duxbury (town records):*

10. i. JOHN,³ b. 22 Aug. 1701.
- ii. HOPESTILL, b. 20 Jan. 1703/4; m. JOSHUA DELANO, b. at Duxbury 30 Oct. 1700, s. of Ebenezer and Martha (Simmons).
11. iii. JONATHAN, b. 20 Sept. 1706.
12. iv. REUBEN, b. 8 Apr. 1710.
- v. ALICE, probably the Alice who m. at Duxbury, 5 May 1727, AARON SOULE, JR., of Pembroke, and d. soon afterwards.
- vi. LYDIA, b. abt. 1713; d. at Pembroke 11 Nov. 1771, aged 58 years, 6 months, 19 days; m. at Pembroke, 26 Dec. 1733, AARON SOULE, JR., of Pembroke, who d. at Pembroke 21 Jan. 1783, aged 77 years, 1 month, formerly husband of her sister Alice. They had issue.

5. ISAAC² PETERSON (*John*¹), born probably on the ancestral farm† at Duxbury, died on the same farm in 1740. He married at Hingham, 10 Sept. 1712, MARY HOBART of Hingham, born about 1689, died at Duxbury 3 Apr. 1763, in her 74th year (gravestone‡ in Old Cemetery, South Duxbury), daughter of Daniel of Hingham. In the division of his estate in 1742 it is recorded that he had no male heirs, and his family is given as three daughters and two granddaughters (the latter the children of his son Daniel, deceased).

Children, born at Duxbury:

- i. PRISCILLA,³ b. in 1713; d. at Duxbury 22 Sept. 1778, aged 64 years, 9 months, 12 days; m. in 1738 ELIPHAZ WESTON (*John*³ *Edmund*² *Edmund*¹), who was drowned in Duxbury Bay 18 Mar. 1762, in his 53d year, a descendant of John Alden of the Mayflower. They had issue.
- ii. DANIEL, of Kingston, d. before his father; m. DEBORAH ———, who d. at Hanover 2 Jan. 1790, aged 80. Children, b. at Kingston: 1. Mary,⁴ b. 16 Jan. 1738/9; d. unm. at Hanover 1 July (or 9 June) 1817. 2. Orphan, b. in Apr. ———; m. at Hanover, 23 Jan. 1760, Lieut. Elisha House of Hanover.
- iii. FAITH, m. at Duxbury, 17 Dec. 1746, SAMUEL DREW.
- iv. JAELE, d. at Bridgewater 17 Dec. 1781; m. (1), as his second wife, TIMOTHY HAYWARD of Bridgewater, b. at Bridgewater 2 May 1700, d. there 5 June 1750, aged 50 years, 3 days [sic], s. of Nathaniel and Elizabeth; m. (2) at Bridgewater, 19 Apr. 1758, as his second wife, CAPT. SETH⁴ ALDEN, b. at Bridgewater 6 July 1710, d. there 6 Sept. 1784, in his 75th year, s. of Joseph³ (*Joseph*² *John*¹ of the Mayflower) and Hannah (Dunham). Children by first husband, b. or bapt. at Bridgewater: 1. Ezra, b. 9 Apr. 1739;

* All these children except Alice are mentioned in the will of their father.

† For the descent of this farm vide supra, p. 162, with footnote.

‡ The gravestone gives, as the date of her death, 22 Mar. 1763, "Old Stile."

d. 27 Dec. 1740. 2. Daniel, bapt. 16 Nov. 1740. 3. Abraham, b. 22 Oct. 1742; d. 27 Oct. 1747. 4. Lydia, b. 9 Sept. 1744; d. 4 Oct. 1747. 5. Isaac, b. 21 Nov. 1746; d. 19 Oct. 1747. 6. Ezra (probably posthumous), bapt. 30 June 1751.*

6. JOSEPH³ PETERSON (Joseph,² *John*¹), born at Duxbury, and baptized in 1730 (Marshfield church records), died at Duxbury in 1776. He married at Bridgewater, 19 Nov. 1742, LYDIA HOWELL of Bridgewater, who died at Duxbury 22 June 1806, in her 86th year (gravestone in Dingley Cemetery, North Duxbury). He lived on his father's farm in Duxbury. When his estate was divided in 1818, his daughter Lydia was the only one of his children who was living; but his daughters who had married and were then deceased were named as below.

Children, born at Duxbury (all except Lydia entered in town records):

- i. MARY,⁴ b. 22 Apr. 1743; d. in 1809; m. at Duxbury, 8 Oct. 1767, ZADOCK⁴ WESTON (Benjamin,³ Edmund,² Edmund¹).
 - ii. SARAH, b. 15 June 1744; d. at Duxbury 1 Aug. 1816; m. at Duxbury, 24 June 1762, CORNELIUS DELANO, b. at Duxbury 10 Oct. 1742, d. there 24 Apr. 1801, in his 60th year, s. of Amaziah and Ruth (Sampson).
 13. iii. ABRAHAM, b. 6 Sept. 1745.
 - iv. SUSANNA, b. 22 Jan. 1746/7; d. in 1810; m. at Duxbury, 8 Oct. 1767, GERSHOM EWELL, JR., of Scituate, who d. at Scituate 4 Mar. 1821, aged 76.
 14. v. JOSEPH, b. 1 Feb. 1749/50.
 - vi. LYDIA, living unm. in 1818.
7. JACOB³ PETERSON (Benjamin,² *John*¹), of Duxbury, born at Duxbury 22 Feb. 1710/11, died 27 Jan. 1784. He married at Bridgewater, 19 Aug. 1735, MARY HARLOW, born about 1717, died at Duxbury 20 Oct. 1777, in her 61st year, daughter of William. In 1778 Jacob Peterson conveyed his real estate to his grandson Benjamin. In his will, dated 10 Mar. 1778, he mentions grandson Benjamin and granddaughters Sarah, wife of Benjamin Smith, and Hannah Peterson.

Child:

15. i. BENJAMIN,⁴ b. at Duxbury 4 Mar. 1738/9 (town records).
8. ISAAC³ PETERSON (Benjamin,² *John*¹), born probably at Duxbury, was doubtless the Isaac Peterson who died at Scituate in 1785 and whose estate was administered by Jesse Curtis.† He married first, 14 Feb. 1734/5, LYDIA DREW, daughter of Samuel and Ruth (Delano) and a descendant of John Alden of the Mayflower; and secondly (probably), at Abington, 29 Dec. 1768 (being styled of Scituate), HANNAH CORTHELL of Abington. He resided at Pembroke and presumably also at Hanover and Scituate.

* Timothy, son of Timothy Hayward, was baptized at Bridgewater 23 Apr. 1732, and Ebenezer, son of Timothy Hayward, was baptized there 17 Mar. 1733/4; but it is not clear whether they were children of Timothy by his second wife, Jael (Peterson), or by his first wife, Widow Mary Reed, whom he married at Bridgewater 12 Nov. 1730 and the record of whose death has not been found.

† The probate records do not name the heirs of the estate.

Children by first wife, all except Hannah recorded at Pembroke:

- i. ALICE,⁴ b. 7 Mar. 1735/6; m. at Pembroke, 19 Mar. 1761, DANIEL TEAGUE of Hanover.
- ii. RUTH, b. 14 Feb. 1737/8; perhaps the Ruth who m. at Scituate, 2 Mar. 1780, EBENEZER BELCHER of Scituate.
- iii. DEBORAH, b. 20 Feb. 1739/40; m. at Pembroke, 8 Apr. 1762, DAVID FOSTER of Hanover.
- iv. LYDIA, b. 18 Sept. 1741.
- v. HANNAH (probably dau. of Isaac), m. 27 July 1766 JESSE CURTIS of Hanover, who administered Isaac Peterson's estate.

9. BENJAMIN³ PETERSON (Benjamin,² *John*¹), born, probably at Duxbury, about 1717, died at Claremont, N. H., 19 May 1800, aged 83 years. He married at Bridgewater, 19 Nov. 1741 (being then styled of Easton), HANNAH PERRY of Bridgewater, born 23 Apr. 1723, died at Claremont 5 July 1783. He is probably the Benjamin Peterson who was at Claremont in 1790, with a family consisting of one female (U. S. Census). The names of his children, except Benjamin, are found in a release of title in the Plymouth registry of deeds, dated 1799, wherein the children named below, except Benjamin, state that they are "heirs of land which fell to our mother Hannah Peterson, alias Perry, by will of Ephraim Leach."

Children:

- i. BENJAMIN,⁴ b. at Easton 6 Dec. 1742; evidently dead in 1799.
- ii. MARCY, b. at Easton 3 Nov. 1744; of Claremont, N. H., in 1799.
- iii. HANNAH, of Claremont, N. H., in 1799; m. ——— BACHELOR.
- iv. AMASA, of Claremont, N. H., in 1799.
- v. JOSEPH, of Claremont, N. H., in 1799.
- vi. EPHRAIM, of Claremont, N. H., in 1790, the head of a family consisting of two males under 16 years of age and four females (U. S. Census); of Weathersfield, Vt., in 1799; m. ANNA ———. Children: 1. Hannah P.,⁵ d. 28 Aug. 1800 [sic], aged 17 years, 2 months, 25 days; bur. at Claremont. 2. Hannah, d. 28 Aug. 1800, aged 1 year, 2 months, 23 days; bur. at Claremont. 3. Mary Ann, d. 1 May 1822, aged 12 years; bur. at Claremont. Probably others.

10. JOHN³ PETERSON (Jonathan,² *John*¹), born at Duxbury 22 Aug. 1701, died after 1765. He married, 21 Aug. 1726, RUTH⁴ DELANO, born at Duxbury 25 May 1707, living in 1756, daughter of Jonathan³ (Thomas,² Philip¹) and Hannah (Doty) and a descendant of John Alden and Edward Doty of the Mayflower. From deeds it is known that John Peterson lived at various times at Duxbury, Middleborough, Pembroke, and Rochester, Mass., and also at Richmond and Scituate, R. I. In 1756, at Richmond, R. I., he sold his Pembroke lands, and in 1765, at Scituate, R. I., he conveyed land to his son Silvanus, the deed furnishing the only positive record of any of his children. It is, however, beyond doubt that the Peterson marriages recorded at Middleborough were those of his children, for his family was the only Peterson family resident there at that time; and the same applies to the Peterson marriages recorded at Richmond and Scituate, R. I., and at Rochester. Furthermore, there is no possible place elsewhere for these children.

Children,* probably all born at Middleborough:

16. i. SILVANUS,⁴ b. in 1727 (date computed from gravestone at Colrain).
- ii. HOPE, m. at Rochester, 17 June 1748, NEHEMIAH RANDALL.
- iii. LUSA, probably m. (intention recorded at Rochester, 12 June 1748) PELEG HATHAWAY of Freetown.
- iv. HANNAH, m. (intention recorded at Rochester, 17 Nov. 1751) THOMAS VAUGHN of Middleborough.
- v. CONTENT, m. at Richmond, R. I., 27 Oct. 1757, JAMES BASS.
- vi. LYDIA, m. at South Kingstown, R. I., 26 Dec. 1757 (return of marriage made to Middleborough), PETER⁴ BENNETT (Peter,³ Peter,² John¹).
- vii. ZILPHA, m. 13 Dec. 1757 ISAAC⁴ BENNETT (Isaac,³ Peter,² John¹) of Middleborough.
- viii. NATHAN, mentioned at Richmond, R. I., with family, in the Census of 1774 and in that of 1790.
- ix. ICHABOD, m. at Rochester, 13 Apr. 1758 (being then of Richmond, R. I.), SARAH CLARK; in 1790 a resident of Richmond, R. I., with family, and in 1813 a resident of Canaan, N. Y.
- x. PATIENCE, m. at Scituate, R. I., 27 Oct. 1764, NATHAN⁴ BENNETT (Isaac,³ Peter,² John¹).
- xi. LEMUEL, m. at Scituate, R. I., 12 Jan. 1767, DORCAS YOUNG; in 1813 a resident of Canaan, N. Y.
- xii. RHODA, m. at Pelham, 3 Dec. 1772, ABIEZER EDSON, JR., of Middleborough.†
- xiii. RUTH, living unm. in 1800.

11. JONATHAN³ PETERSON (Jonathan,² John¹), born at Duxbury 20 Sept. 1706, died there 5 May 1765, aged 58 years, 7 months, and was buried in the old Standish burial ground. He married at Pembroke, 21 June 1744, JAEI DILLINGHAM of Pembroke, daughter of John and Jael (Turner). In his will he mentions his wife Jael and children as given below, and also an unborn child, who, if born alive, has not yet been identified. In a deed of 15 Jan. 1779 Jael, his widow, is styled of Brookfield, Mass., the town in which her son Turner lived.

Children, born at Duxbury (town, church, and cemetery records):

17. i. JOHN,⁴ b. 3 Jan. 1744/5.
18. ii. JONATHAN, b. 12 Mar. 1746/7.
- iii. DAVID, b. in 1749/50; d. 27 Aug. 1751, aged 1 year, 7 months, 17 days.
- iv. LURANIA, bapt. in May 1753; committed suicide at Duxbury "9-11" Mar. 1791; m. at Duxbury, 20 Apr. 1773, CHARLES RIDER of Plymouth.
- v. DAVID, of Duxbury, bapt. 24 July 1757; probably d. unm.; a soldier of the Revolution, attaining the rank of lieutenant and of captain lieutenant.
19. vi. TURNER, bapt. 13 July 1760.

* In corroboration of the theory that the children named here were brothers and sisters and were children of John and Ruth (Delano) Peterson, it may be noted that Lydia, Zilpha, and Rhoda were residents of Pelham, that the sole surviving grandchild of Rhoda Edson testifies that her grandmother was one of a large number of sisters, that another granddaughter left a memorandum stating that Rhoda's mother was a Delano, and that the unmarried sister, Ruth, lived with the mother of the writer of this memorandum. Furthermore, Rhoda Edson had a son named Delano Edson.

† Abiezer Edson, Jr., was a cousin of Peter,⁴ Isaac,⁴ and Nathan⁴ Bennett, his mother, Jael³ Bennett, having been a daughter of Peter² Bennett. He and his Bennett cousins were descended from Mayflower ancestors through the wife of Peter¹ Bennett, who was Priscilla Howland, daughter of Isaac and Elizabeth (Vaughn).

12. REUBEN³ PETERSON (Jonathan,² *John*¹), of Duxbury, born at Duxbury 8 Apr. 1710, died there 1 Nov. 1795, in his 86th year. He married first, at Duxbury, 6 July 1732, REBECCA SIMMONS of Duxbury, born at Duxbury 7 Apr. 1713, died there 25 Jan. 1764, aged 50 years, 9 months, daughter of Joseph and Mary (Weston) and fourth in descent from John Alden of the Mayflower; and secondly ELIZABETH WHITTEMORE, who died 23 July 1806, in her 83d year.

Children by first wife, born at Duxbury:

20. i. ELIJAH,⁴ b. 12 Mar. 1732/3.
- ii. MARY, b. 21 Oct. 1734; d. unm. at Duxbury 25 June 1772, aged abt. 38.
21. iii. NEHEMIAH, b. 29 July 1736.
- iv. ABIGAIL, b. 16 May 1739; m. at Duxbury, 14 Feb. 1765, ZENAS THOMAS of Marshfield.
- v. SARAH, b. 30 Dec. 1740; m. at Duxbury, 3 Dec. 1767, TIMOTHY WILLIAMSON.
- vi. LYDIA, b. 14 Nov. 1742; d. unm. 30 Mar. 1830.
22. vii. THADDEUS, b. 9 Mar. 1744/5.
23. viii. LUTHER, b. 8 Apr. 1746.
24. ix. REUBEN, b. 10 Apr. 1749; bapt. 14 May 1749.
25. x. JOSHUA, b. 20 Aug. 1751.
26. xi. SAMUEL, b. abt. 1753.
- xii. REBECCA, m. at Duxbury, 14 June 1783, BETHUEL PACKARD of Bridgewater, b. at Bridgewater 20 Mar. 1760, s. of Timothy and Sarah; removed to Vassalborough, Me.

Children by second wife:

27. xiii. THOMAS WHITTEMORE, b. at Duxbury, 24 Mar. 1766.
28. xiv. WILLIAM, b. abt. 1768.

REMINISCENCES OF JOHN DAVIDSON, A MAINE PIONEER

Communicated by ALFRED JOHNSON, Litt. D., of Brookline, Mass.

The next Spring I returned to the eastward and clearing and cutting cord-wood was my most perticular work my Brother James cut him self in haytime that he cold not work and he brought a yoak of oxen to me and then I could Do better while he was with me we cut and hued timber for a Dwelling hous and fraimed and raised it, I agreed with and paid a man for eight thousands of shingles he was to have them to my landing by the next march, and I came to the westward and Did not return till the next June and the Shingels was not come, so I was Dissopinted and had to help make them, however I went on with my house covered it with boards and the Shingels Dug a suller and well stoned them and a Drean from each of them, however singler you may think it is to Dig a drean from a well, I thought it would have, some times filled with water from so near the surface of the earth it would not be good for use in the house

In the autumn of 1774 I went to my Fathers house and on Nov. 10 Married to Mary Lancaster* My Father gave her a present of a young cow which with one I had before and two oxen was four head of horned cattle we had to begin with, with Seven Sheep Nov. 25 we gathered our little all together [7] And set out and about 10 days arived at our desired haven Belfast be[li]ng the first part of December — not having my house finished we were obliged to move into our log Camp — but altho it was cold I persevered in building a stone chimney and oven there not being any bricks in that vecinity at that time we must do as we could we found the stone oven Do very well, and we moved in the cource of the winter —

my wife always had a fear of the Indians and in March 1775 I was in the woods she at her wash tub with her back toward the Dooar She thought what should she Do if Indians Should come here now and She alone — and in one minit after thought she heard something S[t]ep on the floor She turned round and there Stood three Indians Sanups they appeared to be hungry She fed them and they left the house peaceably although She was much frighted — circumstances of this kind [o]ften happned but the same kind Providence who has always protectedt us from harm saved us from them

Not ha[v]ing suff[i]cient of hay to keep my little Stock on and having heard of a meadow about four or five milds back in the woods (and I attempted to find it without a pilet but as there was no roade and) i employed a hunter to go and Shoe it me I etempted to find the way hame alone, and I made so good a landfall that I fielt so confident I could find it that I endeavoured to Do it without a pit a plot [sic, ? without a pilot] I found more grass then I stood in need of so I Informed my neighbour Tolford Durham and he joined me in cuting and giting it, the nex fryday we Set Out for to find the meadow without a pilot, two Sithes and hengings, two Rakes, one pitch fork, one axe, one gun, and too Days alowence of provisions and we Set out for the meadow and found it not tho we came to a little Rivulet, by it we were brought us [sic] to goose river, it led us so that we came to old Mr, John Durhams and we staid there till morning and then we set out for the meadow — and Tolfords Bro. John Durhams with us, we all were in search of it till about noon and then found it and al began to moing and cut on lively till almost night and then John had to leve us for he had to go home alone, and Tolford and I, we cut on till about sun Set and then we fixt for home, [he] carried the guns and it was my part to carry the axe and mark trees or bushes so as we could find the way back when we wisht to return

[8] Having refreshed ourselves with a little food we set out and by the time we came into the high woods tho we had a pocket cumpass it was of no use to us on account of the darkness of the night and we could not Discover whether we were going right or wrong . . . I continued marking, tho I had a very bad chance for marking a road it was so dark Tolford would often say, come let us camp I would Speak incouriging, to him so we kept moving along till we came to a precipus the edge of a swamp, there said Mr Durham we must now camp for if we go in there we cannot git out tonight I said to him, you stay here and I will go in a little way and see and feel hoow the going is and let you know so I went on and found it very bad, but Deerst not let it be known, but said to him come here, you can come heare easi anough, I capt the axe busy so he came and we got through, and soon after we Discouered the noise of water runing and it was a little rivlet runing from that swamp, it popt into my m[i]nd, it was the swamp Mr Houstons brook proceeded from and we marked no more there, but went Down the brook and going eighty Rod, to our joyfull surprise we came to a bridge on the roade that crossed over that brook and we then were within about one quarter of a mild of my house, so I got home and Mr Durham had to go but about fourty Rods further . . .

[11] . . . I think it was in the Summer of the yr 1776 before we knew that the british army had come to a stand so near us as to anker in the Bay near the Owls Head harbour which was about thirty miles from Belfast they continued there from first to last about two years and then mooved off, about that time my neighbour Durham came to my house in a great hurry and could scarcely speak by seeing the red coats glistening guns and running he said they were in his field a coming toward the road from the shore and seeing us about the house before these men these brittons came so near so as to Discover my wife, She had bread baking at the fire I went and took it back, I took the key to lock the Door but Did not lock it, as Soon as I saw the men I knew two of them viz Capt Strout of sandy point and Mr Black his neighbour, the chief of the time these men were coming from the shore to the road I was in the house putting things in order a little Durham said to my wife run run she said where shall I run Down cellar he said no they will burn it over your head run to the woods, so She went to the woods

And to return to these red coated men twelve in number of them, they were taken prisoners further east and brought here to Belfast by three men and were to be conveyed here, and they to be helped from one place to another till they arrive at headquarters at the westward, and we three John Durham Junr Samuel Mitchel and myself took them into a boat and carried them in it thirty miles to Camden Som of them, were croos and ill natured we three set in the stern of the boat with our guns in good order and loaded I think them twelve could have taken us tho we had guns and Sword they had Jackknives I think each one had a knife but they did not appear to wish to go from or harm us in any way although it was in their power to have carried us to them to Camden and left or delivered them [illegible] Kap Minard to be sent on by another file of men to another place and from that to another run till they arrive at Boston at headquarters [12] We returned to Belfast same Day at even had a comfortable passage nothing harmed us neither going nor coming This I consider the hand of God was and is to be seen yet tho it is a great many years ago such favors is worthy our remarks

About this time and about a year after the inhabitants was short of provision, on account of our being short of ammunition partly, as in those days many were dependent on wild meat which could not be procured without ammunition if we are nearly out and could not obtain any and knowing col. Thomas Gouldthroit was intrusted with a good stock of powder ball and flint and if we could contrive any way to receive a way to have a part of what he was intrusted with from head quarters So we set out with what ammunition we had and our guns in good order and went by water no further then Cape Gillison harbour about five miles, lest we should be discovered and left our water crafts there and marched through the wood about three miles to the fort Mr James Nichols and my Self were chosen to go to introduce the subject to col. Gouldthroit once more we are come to ask for some of the ammunition you were intrusted with that were in your possession and defence of the inhabitation of Belfast as they were suffering for want of it and we had no other way to get it, he was still obstinate and would not condescend to say anything like condescending we told him we were determined to have it if it should be by the force of arms and by this time our company was in sight close by her as we said here comes our assistance and you may see them we were determined Not to be treated as the other two men were by him we wanted nothing more then what was right for us to have he cooled down and he invited us to ask the men to come in and he gave to each man a pound of powder ball and flint And we returned that same night to Belfast in good Spirits the next we heard of him the Con. he gathered up all and went on Board a british vessel and left the country and we have not heard from him afterward as yet so that what we received we saved.

I think it was the same summer it might be a month after this former fray took place provisions were very scarce and them that had large families had hard coming along with them Mr Nichols as much as any one, there was three vessels [13] Came into the harbour after noon and he bought two bags of indian corn with Butter he carried from home with him And as it was night and as he was far from home he said he would leve his corn till morning and call then and take it, so he went ashore to Mr Millers and Staid over night, the vessel he left his corn and bags in were made prises of and the other vessels likewise and Nichols could neither Receive bags nor corn, this mans name that made prises of these vessels is James Curgill an Amirican he came not weak handed for we were but few in number in comperison to him and his two hundred men that he brought on board the three vessels he had taken, then he came to the fort point at the mouth of Penobscut River near to where the fort stood and burned it to ashes, now when Curgill was here and burned the fort that Stood about Eight miles from where I lived when in Belfast I saw Mr Nichols Soon after he had been so served by being Robed of his corn and Bags, he said if he ever comes within the length of my arm off sabb[a]th Day I w[ill] blacken his eye for him so I saw no more of nor heard anything of him till the next summer, and he came then poor and baging for our assistance to try to Set him clear from what he had so unrighteously Done, and when he burnt the fort but insted of our assisting him if we had been caled into a court of justice we must have been as evidence against him, I speake with him and Mr Houston they said they were going to Mr. Clarks and in a short time after Nichols came along, he appeared to be in a great hurry he asked if I saw Curgill I said I Did see him and Houston going to clarks and he went on quick the next I heard of them Nichols asked Curgill to come to the Docar and about the first, Nichols with his fist nockt curgill Down and blaken his eye as he said tho houston and clark was there and they prevented nichols from having his will on curgill, and I have heard no more about Curgill after, nor for burning the fort nor for taking our enemarian [sic] vessels and frusterateing the owners of there entended desire

I mention these circumstances to Showe the Spirit of the times and some of the trials the inhabitents endured I will mention one circumstance took place to show the Spirit of [sic] Coll. gouldthroit before mention had one of my neighbouers came here a Mr Stimpson the only man that was in the vecinity Aft[er] I he came here to live hear [14] To Belfast to assist him at the fort and with others in the vicinity were under the Cols. Subjection and Did pretty much as he said — one Day when the Conl. was at Stimsons on a visit towards night his cattle came about the house he walked out to see the cattle he fixed his eye on one that was sopeerior to any other and swore him out of his beautifull young cow he said he would Send two men in the morning and take her away and cept her and never gave him any pay for her not withstanding Stimpson was a poor man and had harde giting along without being Robed of his best young cow and he being a poor man could ill Spare her and many others arbitrary things the Col. did previous to our going and Demanding the amminition at the fort —

RECORDS OF THE FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, PLAINFIELD, CONN.

FROM A COPY IN THE POSSESSION OF THE CONNECTICUT SOCIETY OF COLONIAL DAMES

Communicated by Miss MARY KINGSBURY TALCOTT of Hartford, Conn.

THE Quinebaug Plantation, in what is now Windham Co., Conn., was incorporated as a town in May 1699, and at a town meeting held on the last day of that month the town government was organized.

In Oct. 1700 the Governor of the Colony named the new town Plainfield.

The people of this region, including the present towns of Plainfield and Canterbury, from time to time since the coming of the first settlers, about 1650, had held religious meetings, sometimes on the east side and sometimes on the west side of the Quinebaug River. At the first town meeting, on 31 May 1699, it was voted: "To give the Rev. Mr. Coit a call for one quarter of a year for ten pounds." This call was accepted, and Rev. Joseph Coit preached in the town during the summer. On 5 Sept. 1699, at a town meeting legally warned, it was voted: "that wee should Still Indevour to have the Gospel preached amongst us;" and on the same day it was also voted: "that we should Indevour to gett the Reverend mr Coit to remain another quarter of a year with us for that end." On 18 Sept. 1699 Mr. Coit gave a receipt for the sum of £10. Several times thereafter Mr. Coit was asked to remain for longer or shorter intervals; and on 3 Jan. 1704/5 a church, consisting of ten men, was organized, and he was ordained as its pastor. No record, however, of the organization of the church, the covenant, or the ordination has been preserved.

Mr. Coit remained as pastor until he was dismissed at his own request on 16 Mar. 1747/8, Rev. David Rowland succeeding him and serving as pastor from 17 Mar. 1747/8 to 23 Apr. 1761. A Separate Church had been organized at Plainfield in 1746. Its adherents objected to being taxed for the support of the minister of the First Church, and the religious dissensions in the town embittered the later years of the aged Mr. Coit's pastorate. The number of those attached to the Separate Church increased until they included the greater part of the people of the town. In 1760 two ecclesiastical societies covering the same territory were authorized in Plainfield, the older society to have two thirds of the annual rate and the Separate Church to have one third. Religious strife, however, still continued, until in 1769 the parish tax was abolished, and the adherents of the Separate Church returned to the First Church, Rev. John Fuller being installed as pastor of the reunited societies on 3 Feb. 1769. After the death of Mr. Fuller, 3 Oct. 1777, the church had for several years no settled pastor; but on 23 Dec. 1784 Rev. Joel Benedict, who received later the degree of Doctor of Divinity, was installed over the church and served as its pastor until his death on 13 Feb. 1816. It was not until Feb. 1820, some six months after the date of the latest entry in the records which are printed below, that Rev. Orrin Fowler entered upon the pastorate over this church.

Prior to 23 July 1747 the records of the First Church were not kept separately, but were entered only in the books of the town. Below is given a verbatim copy of the church records from 23 July 1747 to 22 August 1819. In the original records no explanation is to be found of the various letters or abbreviations which sometimes precede or follow the names, such as x, dd, d.d., o.d.d., etc.

The Counsel after Seeking to God by Prayer for Light and Direction in the affair that might be Laid before them Proceeded to Examine Mr Rowland. Received Satisfaction Concerning His ministerial Abilities & Qualifications, being also Certified that he was a Regular member of y^e Chh of Christ In Stratfield.

March 16th The Rev^d Mr Coit former Pastor Appeared before the Counsel and Desired a dismission by reason of his advanced Age and some other Reasons, all Which so influenced y^e Counsels Judgment that yⁿ according to his Desire & y^e Peoples Consent Dismissed him. And altho' objections were thrown in the way of the ordination Chiefly by a number of People Call'd Separates who most Contemptuously Treat y^e whole Body of y^e Standing Ministry yet on March 17th the Counsel unanimously resolved to Proceed to y^e ordination of Mr David Rowland as a Successor to y^e Aged and Rev^d Mr Joseph Coit in his Pastoral over y^e Chh and Congregation in this Town: which was Performed in the following meathod; viz The Rev^d Mr Coit began with Prayer The Rev^d Mr Mosly Preached; the Rev^d Mr Dorrance Prayed before the Charge. The Rev^d Mr Williams Gave y^e Charge and the Rev^d Mr Devotion y^e Right Hand of Fellowship.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

By ALFRED JOHNSON, Litt. D., Recording Secretary

Boston, Massachusetts, 5 January 1916. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 P.M., Vice-President Chase presiding.

The minutes of the December meeting were read and approved, and the reports of the Council, Librarian, Corresponding Secretary, and Historian were accepted. Four resident members were elected by ballot.

On motion it was Voted, That the Society hereby extends to John Albree, Esq., until recently Recording Secretary, its thanks for his gift of a valuable desk for the Secretary's office.

Pe-ahm-e-squeet (Floating Cloud), of Oklahoma, then gave an interesting description of Indian life, appearing in Indian costume and illustrating her theme by song and dance.

After the meeting the usual reception for members and their friends was held.

2 February. The annual meeting of the Society was held this day, for a report of which see the Supplement to the present number of the REGISTER.

1 March. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 P.M., President Baxter presiding.

The minutes of the annual meeting were read and approved, and the reports of the Council, Librarian, Corresponding Secretary, and Historian were accepted.

Thirteen resident members were elected by ballot.

The paper of the afternoon, by James Duncan Phillips, A.B., of Boston, on Salem Ships and Shipmasters, gave a very interesting and comprehensive account of the rise and fall of the shipping interests of Salem, and was illustrated by stereopticon slides.

On motion of Hon. Henry Nichols Blake a vote of thanks to the speaker was adopted.

After the meeting the usual reception for members and their friends was held.

NOTES

SAUNDERS (SANDERS). — The will of John² Sanders of Braintree, Mass., dated 10 Jan. 1683 [1683/4], is on file in the Suffolk County probate court, but was not recorded until a few years ago, because it was never allowed.* It proves that he was the father of Josiah Sanders, whose daughter Martha married Nicholas Salisbury, the ancestor of the Salisbury families of Boston and Worcester, Mass. Savage did not name Josiah among John² Sanders's children, and he was also in doubt as to the parentage of John,² although the latter was clearly proved to be the son of Martin¹ Sanders of Braintree by the agreement between Martin's sons and sons-in-law which was printed in the REGISTER, vol. 10, p. 87.* John² Sanders's will is as follows:

"The last will & testament of John sanders January the 10th 1683

In a deed dated 1 Oct. 1684 John Sanders, Senior, yeoman, of Braintree, "in consideration of my late conjugal relations to their deceased mother," gives "to my sons by her body John Sanders and Josiah Sanders all that my land . . . in Braintree . . . upon Pompeon hills," etc. (Suffolk Deeds, lib. 16, fo. 207.) Probably this deed was made because the grantor was contemplating a second marriage, of which Savage seems to have been ignorant, but which is proved by the following facts, viz.: on 16 Oct. 1693 William Veazey of Braintree and Mary his wife conveyed to François Lezare of Bolton, goldsmith, certain lands in Braintree (ib., lib. 16, fo. 263); on 20 Oct. 1693 Hannah Sanders, relict, widow of John Sanders, late of Braintree, and John Sanders and Josiah Sanders, sons of the before-mentioned John Sanders, quitclaimed the same estate to François Lezare (ib., lib. 16, fo. 265). This second wife, Hannah, married (2) at Braintree, 15 Nov. 1704, Caleb Hobart. By John Sanders she had three children not named by Savage, viz.: 1. Rachel, born 18 Sept. (baptized 15 Nov.) 1685; married Edward Adams. 2. Daniel, born 12 Jan. 1686/7 (baptized 19 June 1687), probably died young. 3. Patience (posthumous), born 7 Aug. (baptized 11 Aug.) 1689; probably died young.

HUBBARD. — According to Austin's Genealogical Dictionary of Rhode Island, p. 106, Samuel Hubbard was born in 1610, son of James and grandson of Thomas, and says of himself: "I was born of good parents, my mother brought me up in the fear of the Lord, in Mendelsham," etc. From Rev. A. W. Darwin, M.A., of Stonham Aspal Rectory, Stowmarket, co. Suffolk, Eng., Honorary Secretary of the Suffolk Institute of Archæology, I have received the following records of Hubbard baptisms taken from the parish registers of Mendlesham, co. Suffolk. Although they do not include the baptismal record of Samuel Hubbard, they give the baptisms of a daughter and two sons of James, the sons being probably brothers of Samuel, and of two children of Thomas, who was probably the grandfather of Samuel. No further Hubbard baptisms were found in the Mendlesham registers of that period.

Baptisms

- 1562 Richard son of Thomas Hubberd 13 September.
- 1562 Elizabeth daughter of Thomas Hubberd 13 September.
- 1569 Elizabeth daughter of Jeremy Hubberd 10 October.
- 1571 John son of Jeremy Hubberd 5 February [? 1571/2].
- 1575 Faith daughter of Roger Hubberd 21 May.
- 1592 Robert son of Robert Hubberd 6 June.
- 1595 Rebecca daughter of James Hubberd, at Little Stonham, 21 March [? 1595/6].
- 1601 Thomas son of James Hubberd 21 April.
- 1601 Eme daughter of Robert Hubberd 2 November.
- 1603 James son of James Hubberd 14 August.

G. ANDREWS MORIARTY, JR.

HUMPHREY-OTLEY. — It is known that Adam Otley of Lynn, Mass., married a daughter of John Humphrey, and the following record shows that this daughter was Elizabeth:

1 August 1648. Administration on the goods of Adam Otley, late in parts beyond the sea, was granted to Elizabeth, his relict. (P.C.C., Administration Act Book, 1648, fo. 92.)

HARWOOD-CHAFFEE-KNOLLYS. — "A list of Non-Conformists and other Dangerous Persons," dated about 1662-63 (Domestic State Papers, Miscellaneous, no. 26), contains the following passages (quoted) referring to three early Massachusetts pioneers:

"Harwood Jo. a Merc^t at Mile end Green, a factious dangerous Independ^t & y^e comon Factor for all y^e Merch^ts Tradeing especially to N. Eng^d who uses constantly to cou^t & disguise y^e shipp^s, Goods & persons of those of y^t Opinion in their voyages so as y^e Offic^rs of y^e Customes &c at Gravesed and oth^r places are by his interest and mony corrupted to slipp^e y^e Oaths wch otherwise ought to be tendred to all persons going out, &c. Mr Scott."

This is undoubtedly the John Harwood who wrote to Job Lane of Malden, Mass., from Bednall [i.e., Bethnal] Green, 18 Feb. 1665/6. (See REGISTER, vol. 11, p. 108.) He was of Boston in 1645, was admitted to the church in 1647, and became freeman in 1649. He sold his estate in 1657, says Savage, to brother Thomas Scottow, and went back to England, where he was living in London in 1677. His will, dated 13 Nov. 1684 and proved in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury 22 June 1685, may be seen in abstract in the REGISTER, vol. 42, pp. 64-65. Bethnal Green and Mile End Green were formerly parts of the parish of Stepney, in the eastern part of London.

"Chaffey, a New England Preacher lives and meets in Wapping."

Matthew Chaffee, ship carpenter, is first mentioned in the New England records when he was admitted to the First Church in Boston, 7 Aug. 1636. He was freeman in 1637, a member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company in 1642, and bought a farm at Newbury, Mass., in 1649. On 10 Aug. 1655 he and his wife [Sarah] were dismissed from the First Church in Boston, and no further record of him in New England has been found. In the will of Thomas Taylor of Wapping, co. Middlesex, Eng., shipwright, dated 15 Dec. 1658 and proved 10 Jan. 1658/9, there is a bequest of £5 to "Master Mathew Chafey,"* and, with one Robert Lambe, he was to dispose of £5 left to the church of Christ in Wapping. (P.C.C., Pell, 8.)

"Knowles, an Anabaptist Minister, a good Schollr & a trading [?] man now in Amsterdā maintained by ye Churches, & one Thibalds (his Elder) in Towr street correspondes wth him. to him one Riggs was recommended by Thebalds Knowles dwells in Wapping."

Hansard Knollys is said to have been born at Cawkwell, co. Lincoln, in 1598. He came to New England about 1638, was an adherent of Mrs. Anne Hutchinson, and removed to Piscataqua, where he signed the Combination in 1640. He returned to England in 1641 and was mentioned in 1658 in the will of Thomas Taylor of Wapping (vide supra) as "Master Hansard Knowles my son Caleb's schoolmaster."

ELIZABETH FRENCH.

LEVERETT. — In Savage's Genealogical Dictionary of New England, vol. 3, p. 84, a list is given of thirteen children of Elder Thomas¹ Leverett of Boston, Mass., with the dates of their baptisms in Boston, co. Lincoln, Eng. This list of baptisms is said to have been sent to Gov. John² Leverett by a friend as an attested copy of the entries in the registers of the English Boston. Of these thirteen children Savage believed that all but the third, fourth, and sixth died young, for it is known that only John, Jane, and Anne are found in New England records. The attention of the Editor has been called to the printed parish registers of Boston, Eng., 1557-1638, recently published by the Lincoln Record Society; and from them it is possible to correct a few errors in the dates as given by Savage and to supply the burial records of eight of the thirteen children, the two sons Thomas and James being still unaccounted for. The printed registers show also that the wife of Elder Thomas Leverett was Anne Fitch, and not Anne Fisher, as the name is given in the Leverett Memorial (Boston, 1856), p. 24, and in the pedigree facing p. 289 of vol. 12 of the REGISTER. The facts disclosed by the Leverett entries in the parish registers of Boston, Eng., prior to 1639, are as follows:

Christenings

- 1612 John son of Thomas Leveritt gent' 16 August.
- 1613 Jane daughter of Tho. Leuerett 9 August.
- 1614 Jane daughter of Thomas Leveritt 6 January [1614/15].
- 1616 John son of Thomas Leverit gent' 7 July.
- 1618 Thomas son of Thomas Leverit gent' 30 July.
- 1619 Anne daughter of Thomas Leveret gent' 9 January [1619/20].
- 1621 James son of Thomas Leveret 28 June.
- 1622 Sara daughter of Thomas Leveret 26 September.
- 1623 Marie daughter of Thomas Leveret 5 February [1623/4].
- 1627 Jabes son of Thomas Leveret 6 September.
- 1628 Israell son of Thomas Leverett 25 September.
- 1630 Elisha son of Thomas Leveret gent' 3 July.
- 1632 Nathaniell son of Thomas Leveritt gent 12 April.

Marriages

- 1596 [Mr.]† John Anderson and [M'ris]† Jane Leveritt 7 October.
- 1610 Thomas Leveritt and Anne Fitch 29 October.

* The amount of this bequest is not stated in the abstract of this will printed in REGISTER, vol. 49, p. 126.

† The word in brackets is an addition from the Bishop's transcripts of the parish registers.

Burials

- 1612 John son of Thomas Leveryt 9 January [1612/13].
 1613 Jane daughter of Thomas Leverett 10 August.
 1623 Marie daughter of Thomas Leveret 27 February [1623/4].
 1624 Sara daughter of Thomas Leveret 14 February [1624/5].
 1629 Issraell son of Thomas Leveret 3 July.
 1630 Jakes son of Thomas Leveret [gent']* 15 February [1630/1].
 1630 Elisha son of Thomas Leveret gent' 12 March [1630/1].
 1632 Nathaniell son of Thomas Leveritt alderman† 22 November.

WHITTINGHAM-HAUGH. — In his will, proved 27 Mar. 1649, John Whittingham of Ipswich, Mass., calls Samuel Haugh, son of Atherton Haugh of Boston, Mass., and later minister at Reading, Mass., his brother. The following entries in the parish registers of Boston, Eng., explain the relationship between John Whittingham and Samuel Haugh, and give the baptisms of the two:

- 1616 John son of Richard Whittingham gent' christened 29 September.
 1617 Atherton Haulgh and Elizabeth Whittingham widdow married 9 January [1617/18].
 1621 Samuell son of Atherton Haulgh christened 23 December.

These records, together with the will of Richard Whittingham "of Sutterton in the parts of Holland, in the County of Lincoln, gentleman," an abstract of which is printed in the REGISTER, vol. 39, pp. 171-172, prove that John Whittingham was not a son of Baruch Whittingham, as has been stated at various times (see especially REGISTER, vol. 34, p. 36, with doubts expressed by the late John Coffin Jones Brown, ib., vol. 39, p. 172), but that he was a son of the afore-said Richard. They prove also that Elizabeth, Richard's widow, who was a daughter of Rev. Edward Bulkley, D.D., of Odell, co. Bedford, and a sister of Rev. Peter Bulkley of Concord, Mass., married Atherton Haugh of Boston, Eng., later of Boston, Mass., and that Samuel Haugh, their son, was therefore a half brother of John Whittingham, who calls him brother in his will. Rev. Peter Bulkley in his will, dated 14 Apr. 1658, calls Mr. Samuel Haugh his "cousen" (REGISTER, vol. 10, p. 168).

It may be added that these parish registers of Boston, Eng., contain also entries pertaining to the Hutchinsons and to the Farwells, families well-known in New England.

EDITOR.

KITTERY AND BERWICK (ME.) LAND GRANTS. — The Maine Historical Society has two manuscript books, which attempt to account for the laying out of lands in Kittery and Berwick to the original settlers or their heirs or assigns. The older book appears to have been used for current entries until it became crowded and interlined. The second book, dated 1764, is in part a fair tabulation of the contents of the first. These books appear to be a field untouched by any thorough genealogist. For instance, the following entry is found: "May 6, 1702. To John Heard confirmation'all that land granted to his grandfather Abraham Conley." This reveals the much sought parentage of Shuah, wife of Ensign James Heard, who married secondly Richard Otis.

SANDERSON (SAUNDERSON). — A comparison of the original will of Elizabeth Sanderson, widow of Robert of Boston, goldsmith, dated 15 Sept. 1694 and proved 21 Nov. 1695, with the contemporary recorded copy of this will in Suffolk Probate Records, vol. 13, fo. 264, discloses the fact that the name Alice Beard appears in the copy in place of the name Abia Beard, which is given in the original will. The will of Robert Sanderson, dated 18 July and proved 20 Oct. 1693, contains a bequest of £5 to "great grand daughter Abiah Beard" (REGISTER, vol. 52, p. 23).

UXBRIDGE (MASS.) RECORDS. — In a town copy of the book containing records of births and deaths at Uxbridge, Mass., the following entries have been found: Jacob Booth and family came to Uxbridge Nov. 15, 1777, Hannah was his wife's name. Their children were; Rebeckah, Abraham, Jacob Abigail, Jesse and Isaiah

Joseph Carpenter & his wife Paries and their son William Carpenter came from Providence to Uxbridge in the year 1772

Jacob Chace & Mary his wife came to Uxbridge from Northbridge Mar 25 1777

Sarah Seagrave came from Boston to Uxbridge about the year 1774

Molly Spring came from Newton to Uxbridge Dec 23 1775

Josiah White and his wife Mary White came from Mendon to Uxbridge Apr 16 1777. Their children were; Josiah, Asa, Hannah, Alpheus, and Nathan WATKINS LETTERS. — According to the Vital Records of Newbury, Mass., John Watkins married, 28 Oct. 1746, Elisabeth Hale, evidently the Elisabeth Hale who was born 17 July 1722, daughter of Nathan and Elisabeth (Kent), and whose death (as Elisabeth Watkins, widow, aged 78 years) is found in the Newburyport Vital Records under date of 10 July 1801. John Watkins died 5 June 1759, as the first letter printed below shows. Their children are entered in the Vital Records of Newbury as follows: i. Dorothy, b. 26 July 1747; d. 6 Sept. 1747. ii. Mary, b. 1 Sept. 1749; d. 29 Oct. 1759. iii. John, b. 8 Jan. 1750/1; d. 23 Dec. 1751. iv. William, b. 10 Dec. 1751; d. 27 Jan. 1829.* v. John, b. 8 Feb. 1753; d. 13 Aug. 1753. vi. Elisabeth, b. 3 Dec. 1754; d. unkm. 18 Nov. 1795.* vii. Nathan, b. 27 Dec. 1755; d. 21 Sept. 1756. viii. Andrew, b. 6 Mar. 1757.

The five letters which follow have been copied from original letters now in the possession of Miss Mary Tilton Palmer of Brookline, Mass. The first letter contains a somewhat quaint announcement to Mrs. Elizabeth Watkins of the death of her husband, and the other letters, from Andrew Watkins to his brother William, are interesting additions to the writings of the Revolutionary period.

Dear Brother

I rec'd yours of 4th & 9th Inst, was inform'd by Mr Weskom, that you had heard that there was great uneasiness & discontent onboard, & that Mr Jackson & I had parted, all which is absolutely false, & I should be glad to know the Villianous Author of those reports, you may rest satisfied that the greatest Harmony subsits between us in general & more especially between Mr Jackson & myself, was inform'd also of Mrs Smith's, hav'g Twins I think she is endeavouring to make up for lost time I greatly regret Capt Manly's being taken, such a fine sail's Ship & so many good people are a great loss. The loss Ticonderga is by far the greatest loss we have met with during the war and I am afraid will be attended with the most fatal consequences Our affairs at the Southward wear a favourable Aspect & from the best Accounts our Army at the Northward were (before the shamfell retreat) in as good a Situation as the most sanguine could wish, we expect to Sail in a few days & hardly think you will have an oppertv to write me after you recieve this, however if you write, write by some person who will return the letter if we are gone if you should write be glad to be inform'd whether Col^l Hale is alive or not & J Perkins not coming to the Ship & if Lewis & Andw Boutro are not gone to the West Indies as I saw them onboard a Schooner the day we lay on the Bar. There is an Express just arriv'd who brings very good News, viz that there had been an Engagement at the Northward which lasted upwards of eight hours & that Burgoyne then retreated leaving a good many of his people dead behind him besides a large number of Indians Vertef and our People were pursuing them when he came away God send that it may prove true & that we may drive them entirely out the Country when I read their Cruelties in the Papers my blood boils in my Veins, from several people I have been inform'd that their

HERALDRY. — The Committee on Heraldry of the New England Historic Genealogical Society desires to call special attention to the recommendation in its report of 5 May 1914 (see REGISTER, vol. 69, Supplement, pp. xvi-xxiii), "that every person interested, by reason of descent or otherwise, in making it a matter of record that any original settler in this country inherited a coat of arms or that any inhabitant of this country received a grant of arms be invited to offer the arms for record with this Society," etc.

The Committee believes that the importance of the results possible to be attained by such registration will be of great interest; and they earnestly request all members of the Society and all other persons who have coats of arms which they believe to be eligible to make application for recording them. The cost of painting the arms and making up the record will have to be defrayed by the applicants, and the Committee has determined that $3.00 for each coat will barely suffice.

This amount, by cheque payable to the order of the Society, must be forwarded with the application. If the application is rejected, the money will be returned unless the applicant wishes to have the arms recorded with those respite for proof.

The Committee, however, reserves the right to reject any application altogether, and if this right is exercised, the money will, of course, be returned.

It seems evident that, besides the growth in value of the collection as it increases in size, there will be many other things of extreme interest contributed with the arms and directly related thereto, such as photographs of castles, armor, seals, manors, etc., and provision is contemplated for filing such contributions in supplementary volumes in connection with the registers of the arms. Applications in which the proofs do not sufficiently conform to the requirements indicated in the report of the Committee will be placed in a separate volume to await further proof.

Printed directions for the making of applications may be obtained from the Committee; and all communications on this subject should be addressed to the Committee on Heraldry, New England Historic Genealogical Society, 9 Ashburton Place, Boston.

GENEALOGIES IN PREPARATION. — Persons of the several names are advised to furnish the compilers of these genealogies with records of their own families and other information which they think may be useful. We would suggest that all facts of interest illustrating family history or character be communicated, especially service under the U. S. Government, the holding of other offices, graduation from college or professional schools, occupation, with places and dates of birth, marriage, residence, and death. All names should be given in full if possible. No initials should be used when the full name is known.

Jonathan Eastman Pecker.

THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL REGISTER

COL. JONATHAN EASTMAN PECKER, B.S.

By OTIS GRANT HAMMOND, A.M., of Concord, N.H.

JONATHAN EASTMAN PECKER, elected to resident membership in the New England Historic Genealogical Society in 1883, made a life member in 1905, and Vice-President of the Society from New Hampshire for the years 1904-1911, died unmarried at Concord, N. H., 12 August 1915.

He was born at Concord 28 May 1838, the son of Jeremiah and Mary Lang (Eastman) Pecker, and was sixth in descent from James¹ Pecker of Haverhill and Boston, Mass., through James,² John,³ James,⁴ Jeremiah,⁵ and Jeremiah,⁶ his father. His great-grandfather, Maj. James Pecker of Haverhill, Mass., was a surgeon in the Continental Army, and died at Valley Forge in 1778 from exposure and exhaustion, caused by his efforts to relieve those who were suffering no more, perhaps, than himself. His grandfather, Jeremiah Pecker, was for a lifetime a very prominent citizen of Concord, and most acceptably fulfilled the duties of many public offices bestowed upon him by his fellow townsmen. Through his mother, Mary Lang Eastman of Concord, Colonel Pecker was descended from Capt. Ebenezer Eastman, one of the first settlers of Concord, and commander of a company in the expedition against Louisburg in 1745, and his maternal grandfather, Capt. Jonathan Eastman, was paymaster in Colonel Ripley's regiment of the United States Army in the War of 1812.

Colonel Pecker's early life was clouded and his prospects affected, at the age of nine years, by the death of his father. But, through the wisdom of his mother and his own efforts, his education was not neglected. He was prepared for college in the schools of Concord, and was graduated at Dartmouth College, in the Chandler Scientific Department, in the Class of 1858, receiving the degree of Bachelor of Science. After graduation he taught school for a few years at East Concord, Penacook, and Salisbury, N. H., at the same time reading law. He did not, however, apply for admission to the bar, but abandoned law for journalism, a more congenial profession, and one for which he knew himself to be better adapted.

In 1861 he joined the staff of the Boston Journal as New Hampshire reporter, having done some casual work for that paper during and after his college course. This connection proved to be the chief work of his life, and continued for thirty-five years. In 1872 he established the New Hampshire News Bureau, and became the chief correspondent of the Journal in New Hampshire, continuing in this position until 1896, when the management and policy of the paper were changed and this department was abolished. At times he contributed also to the New York Tribune and the New York World.

In the Civil War, when troops were being raised and sent into the field, he accompanied nearly every New Hampshire regiment to the front, and was with Governor Berry and his staff in Virginia in 1861. His work on these occasions established his position in the field of journalism. After the War he travelled extensively as a journalist in the South and West and in Mexico; but the abundant material in New Hampshire politics and public affairs chiefly occupied his attention, and his able work in these lines was largely instrumental in establishing the Journal as the household paper of the State.

Colonel Pecker's military title was derived from his commission as a member of the staff of Gov. Benjamin F. Prescott, and he afterwards served Gov. Natt Head in the same capacity. His interest in military affairs was always keen, and he was a member of General White's Brigade Staff Association, the Third Regiment Staff Association, and an honorary member of the New Hampshire Veterans' Association. He was also deeply interested in historical and genealogical matters, and besides his membership in the New England Historic Genealogical Society he was a member of the New Hampshire Historical Society and an honorary member of the Kansas State Historical Society. He was also a member of Blazing Star Lodge of Freemasons of Concord, a charter member of the Merrimack County Pomona Grange of the Patrons of Husbandry, secretary of the Merrimack County Agricultural Society for many years, and an honorary member of the New Hampshire Press Association.

His religious affiliations were Episcopalian, and he was a communicant of the Church of the Advent in Boston. Very largely through his efforts and his generous donations a mission church has been built in East Concord, near his old homestead. In this old house of his forefathers, built in 1755, he kept his extensive library, largely of New Hampshire history, though he also delighted in books descriptive of Canada, the Southwest, Mexico, and other scenes of his travels.

By devoted attention to the interests of his paper, by economy, and by wise investments Colonel Pecker was able to retire from active journalism in 1896 with a comfortable provision for his declining years, and to devote the remainder of his life to the collection of books. His knowledge of Americana was accurate and extensive, and in pursuit of a rare volume he was indefatigable. To Dartmouth College he was intensely loyal, and by his will he left to that institution all his books relating to the state, county, and town history of New Hampshire, the most valuable part of his library, that they might be preserved as a memorial of his greatest pleasure in life and of his affection for his college and his native State.

By Mrs. HARRIET ANDROSS GOODELL of New Haven, Conn.

14. SOLOMON⁵ ANDRUS (John,⁴ John,³ John,² *John*¹) was born at Norwich 10 Sept. 1732. He married, 16 Jan. 1761, HONOUR DEMING, born at Wethersfield 11 Mar. 1733/4, daughter of John and Elizabeth (Perkins) (Buck).*

Solomon Andrus served in the French and Indian War, being corporal in 1756 and first lieutenant in 1760. He is probably the Solomon Andrus who served in the Revolutionary War and was mustered out in 1781. In 1785 his name is found among the names of members of the Long Society Church, but he seems to have lived earlier at Lisbon.

Children:

- i. THANKFUL,⁶ b. at Lisbon 31 July 1763.
- ii. HONOUR (probably dau. of Solomon), d. 21 Sept. 1841, aged 64; m. (1) at Preston, 18 Feb. 1798, GEORGE LEONARD; m. (2) at Preston, 7 Aug. 1803, WARREN ANDREWS, who d. 13 Aug. 1848, aged 67. 20. REV. THOMAS⁵ ANDROS (Benjamin,⁴ Benjamin,³ John,² *John*¹), born at Norwich 1 May 1759, died at Berkley, Mass., 30 Dec. 1845. He married first, 18 May 1784, ABIGAIL CUTLER, born at Plainfield 28 Apr. 1763, died at Berkley 19 Sept. 1798, daughter of Capt. William and Susanna (Shepherd); and secondly, 7 Feb. 1799, SOPHIA SANFORD of Berkley, who died 13 Feb. 1842, aged 62, daughter of John and Sarah (Dean).

Thomas Andros joined the Revolutionary Army at the age of sixteen, and took part in the Battle of Long Island and the Battle of White Plains. In 1781 he enlisted in New London on a privateer which was captured by the British, and he was confined on the Jersey, the notorious prison ship at New York. A few months later he escaped in a manner almost miraculous, and he has told vividly the story of his experiences in a little book, now rare, called "The Old Jersey Captive." After his return to Plainfield and the recovery of his health he studied theology in Plainfield with Rev. Joel Benedict, and was ordained minister at Berkley, Mass., in 1788, remaining in charge of the church there for forty-six years. His annual stipend was £80, and it was not increased during all the time of his ministry. To eke out his slender salary he taught navigation for many years. He was the father of seventeen children, four of whom became successful navigators and commanded some of the largest ships that sailed out of Providence and New York. (See Sanford's History of Berkley, Mass.)

REMINISCENCES OF JOHN DAVIDSON, A MAINE PIONEER

In Sept. 1778 we had a report brought by two friend indians From canida to our field officers that indianes and tories commanded by britich officers ware coming Down on three rivers viz. St. Johns Penobscuts and Cannebeck and they were coming so numirous as to take and Drive all before them that would not take the oath of alejence to king gorge and they would be amungst us by the time the leaves of the trees would be as large as a man thumb nale the next Spring, we the inhabitents of Belfast had conjectuered that if Such forces were comin on such buiseness there would be a fleat to meet them at the mouth of the rivers to Eade and asist thine [sic] land forseses with what they stood in need of according to what we had thought of when we saw the fleet of English vessels in the harbour before us and the land forses on our becks and we thought to [w]eak and few in number and no whare to fly to, we four fammilyes Shiped our Selves on board a Small two mast boat thinking to come to long island rother then to stay on the mane land to be mescreed by the indians lor[blot] and I know not what but the wind Drove us back and we went to Mr nichols to garrison for the house was made of larger logs and would turn a musket ball better, we Did not stay there meny Days, for we heard some of the men of Belfast had been as a flagotruce to know what they wished for thir answer was, they wished to have what we could Spare of provision and they would pay the money for for it what they wisht for further that we would lie as nuterls [15] And not fight for nor against them, this Story Pleased us so well so we went to colectting our pots kittles and putter from where we hid them, we began to think by this time all the newes we had received were Tory news, and so we went to work tho that Did not last long for the next thursday I received a proclamation that all the male members must come on Board our Ship and take the oath of alegians to king gorge or abide the consequence what that would be I knew not, what could I do I took the proclamation the Sun being about two hours and a half high at night I felt resolved that every man in town should see or hear this paper before I slept, and lucky I was, when I came to the personage I found two men there, that belonged to too other Different parts of the Town and by our taking a little trouble on us that evening and Desired we Should be at the pasnage as soon as posable after Breakfast to try to conclude on what is best to Do in respect of Moets proclamation, in the morning, in the first place we met to a man and what to Do we knew not, in the s[e]cond place there was no road to treavel on for between thirty and forty miles if there had been a roads we could not have come that way for we had large familyes of women and children and we could not carry provision to serve us on the road, and it was not to be had on that way, for there was neither, folk, victuels, money, nor way to treavel on, and we continued there till about noon and nothing Done nor like to be, I spoak and said I had a log canoe and before I would go and take the oath of alegence I would take my wife and 3 little children into it and try to com away so so Capt Solon Stephenson said if you go in that way I will go with you, we will Start, in the night, can we not by what David Miller and your son calib can Do help us so as to Drive our horned cattle away and so we concluded to come away in the next night from Belfast so I went home and informed my family of what I had in view or thoughts of doing was from one oclock Friday till almost Dark next Day and then Started on our Expected tedious Journey or voige, the young men Did not moov the cattle till next morning and then they could not com along till they hired a man to help to Drive them, and as we were runing of my canoe from Ducktrap harbour we Discovered the young men coming on, to the beech to cross a large cove as the tide was out [16] Cap Said he would Stay and see how or wheather they had all the Cattle with them or not, you had best keep along and i will soon overtake you, so I laft him and soon after Dailight was veanished and gone there arose a black and windy clowd and we out to sea and we without a pilot and herbour, how happy I should have been, to have been out of sound of the Swelling Billowes bursting on the flinty rocks tho the Sound was all I Knew at that time I had to keep us from being Dashed and so to have had watery graves, if such a canoe load of pasangers were ever at sea and continued so all night untill morning, and then come ashoar all Safe and well, I cannot be a judg of the feelings of others no better then what I have before Experinced, therefore I think I never can thank and prays him enough for his Protecting arm that Did not let that night be our last night, but is yet pertecting and preserving and upholding me and mine and how undeserving we are of all these marcies he is bestoing on us every Day of our lives.

While, we had any expectation of our pilot coming to help or Shoe us the way there Seemed to be sumthing to incourage us but we lost all that hope for we though[t] he was Lost at sea for his canoe was less than ours for he said he came about half the way thrugh he though[ht] he thought we weare Cast away and it apeared he would have his canoe filled and he had hard work to keep her above the water and he turned and went beck to Ducktrap and on the nex day he came with the young men and cattle O what joy and rejoising there was, Stevenson at the sight of seeing us and we at seei[n]g him, now we have to go to Ducktrap for what Stephenson leff[t] in his canoe we were befriended So we obtained the loan of a two mast boat So as to run to D[u]cktr[a]p harbur which we went there in a very Short th[is]me tho it took us all night to rowe back against the wind and tide and after breakfast we gathered our teames together gat our loading on the Slad and all we advenced that Day was three miels to a Dutchmans house and we had So bad coming along that first 3 miles as we heard of a cart theree miles forward, the capt. and myself went to obtain the lone of it to Carry our load on to Georges river, our Desire was granted in the morning the capt took his oxin and went after the cart and I took mine and went after what he left when we left Camdond and we came together and put our loading on the cart [17] . . . and came as fer as gegries where it three miles it was very bad treaveling for man beast and cart, when we came to the barn Doar the owner was there and he Swong them open and lett us in it was in good Season for it then began to rain a good rain a good Shower and the barn capt us and our loading Dry and we Staid there all of us ten in number over night, and that Day we came Six miles to Mr John Dillaways Just such a man woman Fammily and place that our necessety caled for took our sixteen head of horned cattle put them into his pastauar turned his to the woods and as he informed me when I went after my cattle he said he had them to gather to wont them so we left with him six oxen and five cows and a few young cattle, we had to send the cart back to gregories, this the young men Did, and in there abcence we were helping to contrive to help to load a small vessel with wood that belongeg to Boston and in a very Short time the young men retu[r]ned with the oxen, and we in a short time could be ready to come on board the small schooner and make a push for Boston, our younge calf being about old enough for a veal I thought, it to be a suitable time to take it along with us and perhaps it would do us as much good on board the vessel as it ever would, so we took it on board and we found it a good morcel to help to langthen out other provisions so we ten same [sic, ? came] on board the Schooner and came D[o]wne the river and put to sea, but the wind being light and scant, we put into a harbour and we found in that harbour Capt. Harskill commandor of a large topsail sloop lat[ely] from the west indian islands his vesel was loaded with wood and bound to Boston they had a good crue of hends four Swevets on board and aminition and provision in plenty, the commanders of these two vessels being acquainted with Each other, Capt. Harskill was well prepared for wor to what our Capt. Meclening was notwithstanding he concented to keep by and Defend us from boats or from that of trifling force as we could not defend ourselves for we were of no force we came Down the river and then to sea havsk[i]ll perhaps being one Mild ahed of our vessel we obsoverred a boat as we thought rowing towards that large sloop [18] . . . and in a few minnits we Discovered a swivle Discharged and then another and then the Small arnes, as soon as Haskill Desisted from firing they Sprung to there owers and rowed of as quick as they could, tho while Harskill was firing in on them they Dropt Down in the botom of the boat and then pooled away heartily whan We saw trouble ahead we put about and run into townseans h[a]rbour and Harskill came in after us and we all as one conjectured that the boat that Herskill beat off belonged to a vessel on the other side of the iland Sogwin and if we should attemp[t] to go by they would out and take us all, so we were all confined in towneand harbour for some Days and a good fair wind as we could have wisht for and after Staying for some time and could not here of enimes vessels being along Shoar we ventured to Sea and as we wear going from the harbour we Discovered three large vessels at a greate Distance from the land which we took to be Enemies vessels but being at so large a distance from the land that we thought we could clyng close by it and keep out of their way, it was cloudy when we went from the harbour it began to rain and continued So for some time and it was Dark wather that we could not see them till it cleared off a little and the first we saw of any of them was one of them so in our way it would have had us but Thanks to good Providence that Portland harbour was so neigh to us when we were chased by the enemy that we had Such a place of refuge to fly into, and kept us secuier in that place from thursday to the next monday evening which then we left it then for choise, on monday morning I began to feel as tho we aught to be a contriving to Set for the wes[t]ward and I Spok to Capt Steph[e]n[s]on about it, he thought it would Do no good the masters of the vassels had been to the commanding officers of the forts and fortifications, he said there is a chance, to take that canoe and chetch a few fresh fish my answer was you and the other two young men may go and try your luck of fishing and I will go across the harbour and try what my luck will be, so I croosed the phery and I found the commending [19] Officer of the Place I endaviored to inform him what I wist for, his answer was it is more then my commision is worth he said I would be glad to help you but it deth not tho you may go by land I told him we could not go so for we had womin and children and nothing to buy horses and carriges with I thought it was as well to be plain hearted as any way I said what would be the consequence sopose I Should agree with some one and come away privily in the night and say but little about it, he said if you have a mind to try that you mist be pretty Still about it and not Express your mind to any but them you know to be your friends and espesilar me for I am under oath he said he would be glad to help me if he could, so I felt as much gratified by him as I Did Expe[ct] to be and more so, so I left him and came to where I found men Standing idle and no buisionses going on for it was a little before that that Portland was burned it was a very malancoly time chimneys standing and houses burned and gone, by this time I thought it was time for me to say something about what I set out for as there was a considerable number of men I spake to them all in Jeneral and said can any of you inform me who has bread corn to sell the answer was no there is none to be had in town I sade why Do you not go to the westward and buy some, there was one young man

Seemed to answer me most I think his name is Joseph rigs I took him aside I asked him if he would Set out to go to the westward if there wes no imbargo in the way he said he thought he should I said and if you feel willing to start tonight before morning and run the venter of your Self and boat, and I will Rin the resk of myself and family and pay you what is reasonable when we come to Newburyport he said he would go and be back quick and he was as good as his word and so he returned and said he would endeavour to go, and said I will come here . . . to the boat by ten oclock or as soon as the people begins to be still I told him I would endeavour to come at that time [20] So I returned to my family and informed them we were a going to start in a boat about ten oclock or as soon as people are still I told him I would endeavioir to come at that time to the boat, or a little before and we set and waited till we thought it a suitable time and then we cast of from the worf and there we were, we had no wind to sail with but being heigh wather the tide saged us from the mouth of the harbour and abought Daybrak or about that time the wind began to blow and continued so at Northeast untill it brought us a little past portsmouth in the light of that Day, and when about opposet to Portsmouth we Discovered a Ship lying without the bar, as we thought but when we came neigher the bar we found She was inside and we knew not what to Do, while we thought she, the ship was outside the barr we flatered our selves we could all hands come on board the ship, Drop the boat as[t]learn the ship and all would be well but when we found the ship was within we knew not what to Do — we were afeared we would overrun our object but we had good knowing Men on board they got 4 oars into the rowlocks and four men hold of them, and one man Stood by and Steeded himself by the mast and another Stood on his Shoulders, he that was heigest he was to look out for breakers and he, all at once, Sang out breakers ahead, he said which way to brring her about She was runing on to the north breaker we rowed a little further Southardly and let run our grapling for we had not an anker to ride buy, and there it was when the waves would burste in to the boat we had a wellrune* and a bucket and we would throw it out as fast as it came in and so we Stood it all night and in the morning we could See the way in over the barr and we arived to newburyport about Sunrise all safe only the women being seasick the Day and night before and had not got it heardly over the Day we run from Portland to newbury barr the women lost their bonets at Sea in Daylight the sea and the wind being high and rough we could not save them our boat we came in from Portland to newbury Port was a morses boat she had been cut intoo and made longer She had no Deck . . . She had a cuddy fore and aft [21] . . . this was the thirtieth Day of June 1779 . . . She was full of Dry fish before we fourteen of us pasengers came on board which I thought caused hur to be heavy loaded . . . if the Almighty had not been on our right and on our left hand the s[e]cond night after we left belfast and the night we lay at newbury barr it apeares there was nothind in the pour of man to help us . . .

we staid at newbury port from about sunrise till about noon and then mooved for heverhill and came no further then Russels pherrey and we Staid in the boat over night and it was a cold one the tide tur[n]ed against us and we could come no further till next morning and the tide turned in our faviour and soon run [22] . . . to haverhill Town

I Stepeted up into the street to see if I could see any one from windham and I found Mr John Dinsmoor Esqr almost ready to start for Windham with an ox cart and no load to carry and he took us on board when we wished to ride and weated on us as far as Deacon Samuel Morrisons in Windham Range and we came there, and staid at old Mr Willims Thoms over night in the morning it was wet and lowring. I walked as far as My Fathers house and he took his two horses and came with me and helpt me with my family to his house, this was the ninth [?] Day of July 1779

parhaps you may think we have come past all our Trouble but now we have to begin the world anew and O if I had of my proproerty I left at Belfast I should have a good beginning without the land, yes of farming utentials and houseould furniture we had would with sheep and swineherd been a great Relieaf to us but what youse is it to repeat these thing over again and naver be recowled and nothing in lue for them When the Enemy came into Belfast harbour that was our trouble if we could have been transported to a land of peace and out of the way of war in a day or two we would have thought our selves happy but this was not the case for while we were on our flight we felt happy we were so much further from the Enemy and we hed not time to think of what we lost at the Eastward and so we laid it aside as much as we could, it being a good time of the year for the labouring man to have Employ and I could have as much of that as cept me in employ for the greater part of my time and so I Earned Sumthing in that way and when out of a Jobb I would go abord and buy Clooth and thread and whan I had taken in so as to be socificent to go a pedling I would go abroad and sell and so I went on in these ways till Septbr.

then my Brother Jesse and myself bought a prety good lot of clooth and therad and hired a hors between us to go after my cattle to Tohomas town near georges River at Mr John Sillaways we could ride one at a time all the way Down and found the cattle all in good order and able for there journey all stood it well and I mad[e] as much as cleared the expence [23] Of horse keeping and hire that is my half, so I Disposeed of two coves and one calf I sold one for money and the other and calf I put for a hors Sadle and bridle he was a large and a good one called by the man I had had him off and so he was and as long as grass lasted but when that was Done he had to leave of work for he could not Eat hay the coves I put to him was old and sumthing tiered of treavling and I hope we made somthing of an even tread, I brought four oxen two coves to my Fathers in Windham and three heffers and the old horse that Did not turn to a very good account I had to Sell my largest oxen for paper money and when i recieved the pay for them it would not have brought more then one cow I lost in the value of two coves in that tread by the Deprusiation of money or his neglect of paying according to agreement I bught a pai of young cattle from Mr John hilinds Father and agred to pay him for the oxen in about six months from the Date of the note according just as it reads in the face of the note the nominal sume and that halpt to make up Some of the former Deprusiations good

The next Spring April 1780 I bought a small Farm in Windham in goulding rowe and it cost me as much as five hindred and nine Dollars hard money the building were miserably poor tho we moovd into the house uncomfortable as it was and lived there we were between fourteen and fifteen years in the house we had three sons and two Daughters born in that house and wothout much r[e]pair and there we were a very poor family and in debt for my land and could Scerly raise provision so as to Supply the fammly, to think of buil[d]ing would be vain but as necessity has no law, I was obliged to build a Small barn, and then I could co [sic, ? sow] better then before for we could Save what we raised.

after we built the barn I conjectured old Mr Brown must sell his farm soon and if I could buy his sixty acres as it lieth along by my forty and had the Name of being veery good land they two would make a farm we could Make a living on and I would Sell my land at the Eastward and not to go back to belfast as it is a place that will always b[e] exposed in time of war to trouble not a long time after this there was a vandow in [24] Pelhem not far from our house and I Atended and old Mr James Brittan esqr was master of the worke and a very good friend of mine I informed him in time of intermision of what

I had thought of Doing in respect of buying Broons ferm, so Do John you ought to have it it will Suit you and I will help you I said I would be glad to have it can you not come here and stay over night and try to see what you can Do in the morning he said he would so he cam and in the morning he went to See the old folks he the Sqr. said he would be gladd to have the money you owe me and and I D[o] not see but I must have it Broon said he could not pay it till he sold his farm Britton said you can sel it to Day if you wissh to John Davidson will buy it, so they sent for me, and we began and finished, writings and all were concluded before Dark, now my friends by this time you are ready to say you have been very fortunate I think we have so fer, now if we can be so fortunate to git out of debt as we have to git into Debt but we cannot expect that, Tho I think I am as willing to try as I was to go into Debt and you have come to your Fathers house and you have purchised so much land and all very hendy to carry on I know I owe a large Some of money but it is not so bad as tho I had not the vallue the Brownns lot costs Seven hundred and fifty Dollars hard money, one lot of meadow the first I bought of Thomas Willson I had it for about six acres for Nineteen Dollars Sixty six cents a sacond lot of meadow I bought of Thomas Willson there was not quite three acres and it coast me Sixty Dollars hard money, at that time I thought it best to take it although it was Dear

Now my Dear and imparshal friends as I hope, as I have given you a little scitch of my coming along in the world as to temperals but as to Spirituels I have been more silent, . . . [25] . . . sometime in the year 1777 I came to our Minister Mr Williams for Admision to join his church and was admitted . . . we had our children Baptised . . . *

[28] In 1805 Rev. Saml Harrise was ordained Pastor of the church in windham and continued Minister of the people in that place for 17 years with little success to appearance although he preached the gospell in its Simplicity In Feb. 1822 he began to see sume of the fruits of his labour a few individuels began to enquire what they must do to be saved amongst the number was my son William and a happy time it proved to be to him and the greatest part of the fammily, it appeared about that time we all had by Devine grace our eyes opened that we saw the eveil nature of Sin, and the beauty there is in a holy life . . .

[29] After having found Christ precious to my Sule my first inquiry was Lord what wilt thou have me to Do I felt it was time to begin to work for him as I was now more then three score years and ten and had Done nothing I, thought of my Brothers and Sisters and others of my years with whome I had been acquainted for many years in windham whome I feared had been living the Same way as I had So i could not rest Sattisfied untill I had Seen and talked with those on that subject I therefore took my cane and walked from house to house untill I had seen them all being absent most three Days I thought I could convince them of the error of their ways and show them the beauty there is in experimental religion but alas. how weak is man I shoed my weakness and how little I could Do I found many of them as hard as adamant and others I beleive from that Did Set up family pray[er]s who had neglected it for years I returned home I could only commend them to God whose Spirit alone is able to melt the hardest hardest heart — nearly all those aged people with whome I convened with at that time are now in their graves and I am still Spared a living monument of the goodness of god It is ten years Sence I hope I began to love Christ and his cause — I am 82 years four mon[t]hs old I have always been bled with good health generely as is the case now which is wonderfull for a person of my age I have a good appitite and my food relishes well I sleep well and am in no pain I have had kind friends always — amongst our hands of this world goods to be comfortably agreable a family of children that are agreable, all as I think are professesers of Religion but Scattered in allmost in every Deriction, my youngest is forty two years old I am now and has [sic] been living here almost three years and I no not but I [s]hall continue to the end of my time here, She the beloved partner of my youth Died 5 day of January 1829 in litchfield we lived together Fifty of years her kindness I Shall never forgit I have lived to See the work of god prosper I have seen many [30] In windham ten years Seince I came into the office of christ I have lived to see another revivel in that place and I have lived to see another a second r[e]l[vival] in that place which was last year 25 fammilies began at last to joine in fammily prear about one time I have lived to see three Churches of the congragational order organized in this place [Lowell] containing 1000 members and all Since 1825 — I have seen many other churches gro[w] up in this place . . . HATCH

The Will of JOHN AT HECHE of Sellyng next Monks Horton [co. Kent], 15 November 1464. My body to be buried in the churchyard of Selling. To the high altar there 12d. To the light of the Holy Trinity 6d. To the light of the Cross 6d. To the light of the Blessed Virgin 6d. To the light of the Blessed Mary under the High Cross 6d. The residue of all my goods not otherwise bequeathed I give to Agnes my wife and Thomas my son, to dispose of them for the wealth of my soul, my parents' souls, and the souls of all the faithful departed; and I make them my executors.

My testament regarding all my lands. William Knight, John Parys, William Smyth, John Webbe, and William at Melle are the feoffees of my lands and tenements at Selling, by indenture dated 10 October, 25 Henry VI [1446]. My woods upon my lands at Westwell and Charing to be sold to pay my debts and legacies. My feoffees to permit Agnes my wife, if she remain my widow, to hold all my other lands and tenements until Thomas at hecche, my son, shall come to the age of twenty-four years, when he shall have one third of the lands. My son John to have a third of the lands when he shall come to the age of twenty-four years; and when my son William shall come to the age of twenty-four years, then my feoffees shall make over the lands to my three sons equally, forever, they paying to Agnes their mother 20s. a year during her life. If all my sons die before the age of twenty-four, then my wife Agnes shall have the lands for her life, and after her death they shall be sold and the money shall be employed to provide a chantry priest to sing and pray in the church of Selling for the space of two years, the residue to be expended in charity for the poor of Selling and for the souls of my father and mother and all the faithful departed. If my wife shall marry before the said Thomas, John, and William reach their full ages [i.e., twenty-four years], my feoffees shall allow her 20s. a year and shall use the remainder of the profits of my lands for my sons and for the repair of my messuages and mills. To each of my feoffees for their pains 6s. 8d. [No witnesses and no record of probate.] (Archdeaconry of Canterbury, vol. 1, fo. 5.)

The Will of ELIONER HACCHE of the parish of Sellenge, co. Kent, 1 November 1519. To be buried in the churchyard of Sellenge. To the high altar there a ewe. To Our Lady light 40d. To the rood light, torch light, and Trinity light 4d. apiece. To my forefare [i.e., forthfare] 6s. 8d. To my month's mind 13s. 4d. To my year's mind for the souls of me and my husband 13s. 4d. My father Hache to have the keeping of my children for ten years and to have for their keeping yearly 26s. 8d.; and if he live not so long, then William Hartt is to have them and to have the same sum yearly. To Jhon Elgayr and his wife and to Mother Stalls wearing apparel. The residue of my apparel to my children, to array them withal while they be within age. The residue of my goods to Thomas my son at twenty-two and Agnes my daughter at eighteen, equally divided. Executors: William Hartt and "my fadre Hacche," to each of whom I give 13s. 4d. Supervisors: Nicholas Hartt and Thomas Orsbye, to each of whom I give 6s. 8d. Witnesses: "my gostly fadre Nicholas Hartt" and John Elve. Proved 12 December 1519 by the executors named. (Archdeaconry of Canterbury, vol. 14, fo. 4.)

The Will of THOMAS HACHE the elder of Sellyng besids Horton Monkyn, co. Kent, 12 December 1530. To be buried in the churchyard of Sellynge. At my forthfare in masses and dirges and in bread and drink to refresh the poor 10s. At my month's day in like manner 16s. 8d. At my year's mind in like manner 13s. 4d. My executors to have masses and prayers sung for my soul and all Christian souls in said church for eight years. To the high altar 12d. To the Trinity light, Cross light, and Lady light 6d. apiece. To every godchild 6d. To Thomas Hache, son of John and Elioner Hache, 40s., 20s. at the age of twenty-four and 20s. at the age of twenty-five, to be paid by my son John. If the said Thomas die within age without heirs, then it is to be paid to his sister Agnes, and if she die within age without heirs, reversion to my son John. To my son John my best brass pot. To my daughters Agnes, Margarete, and Alice 6s. 8d. apiece. To my son William all debts he owes me and two silver spoons, and to his daughter Agnes Hache 6s. 8d. FROM THE RECORDS OF THE COURT OF REQUESTS ¶

On 1 April, 34 Elizabeth [1592], the Archbishop of Canterbury and his farmer, Raffe Heyman, brought suit against Stephen Hatch of Sellinge, co. Kent. The case was heard before a commission, 6 June 1592. Plaintiffs claimed 3 acres as rectory land out of 10 acres of meadow. Defendant claimed 9 acres of it as an inheritance held by lease. Plaintiffs stated that there was no way out of a three-yard meadow part of the glebe land except through Hatch's land and over a carrying bridge over a brook to a lane leading from Stone Hill to said Hatch's Hodyford mill, and that Hatch had destroyed the bridge and refused the right of way. Hatch stated that the land was an inheritance from his ancestors, and that the original right of way from said glebe land was across land belonging to the said Ralfe Hayman, called Stock Meadow and little Stock. He claimed that the rent for said acres of meadow had been raised by complainants from 2s. a year to 8s. a year. Among the witnesses for the defendant were William Cavell, son of Robert Cavell, aged 55 years, and Abraham Cavell, aged 36 years. Finding for plaintiffs.

FROM FEET OF FINES*

Final Concord made at Westminster on the Octave of Hilary, 14 James I [20 January 1616/17], between Thomas Godfrey, esquire, querent, and John Hatch, Jr., and Beatrice his wife, and John Hatch, Sr., and Dorothy his wife, deforciant, of four messuages, two barns, two water mills, one dovecote, one garden, one orchard, thirty acres of land, twelve acres of meadow, and eighteen acres of pasture with appurtenances in Sellinge by Monks Horton [co. Kent]. Plea of covenant. John, Jr., and Beatrice and John, Sr., and Dorothy have acknowledged the premises to be the right of Thomas, as those which he has of the gift of John, Jr., and Beatrice and John, Sr., and Dorothy, and they have quitclaimed them from John, Jr., and Beatrice and John, Sr., and Dorothy and their heirs to Thomas and his heirs for ever. And, moreover, John, Jr., and Beatrice have granted for themselves and the heirs of John, Jr., that they will warrant to Thomas and his heirs the premises against John, Jr., and Beatrice and the heirs of John, Jr., for ever. And, further, John, Sr., and Dorothy have granted for themselves and the heirs of John, Sr., that they will warrant to Thomas and his heirs the premises against John, Sr., and Dorothy and the heirs of John, Sr., for ever. And for this Thomas gave John, Jr., and Beatrice and John, Sr., and Dorothy £80. (Feet of Fines, Kent, Hilary Term, 14 James I.)

[From the foregoing material and some New England records the following pedigree has been compiled:

The Hatch family has lived for at least six centuries in the county of Kent, England. The family name is derived from the Anglo-Saxon noun haec, Middle English hacche, later hatch, meaning a gate or wicket. Compare Shakspeare's words: "In at the window, or else o'er the hatch." The surname appears in the hundred of Calehill, co. Kent, as early as 1327-8, the form during the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries being atte Hacche. It is clear that the name was originally assumed by a man who dwelt near or at some gate or wicket, such, for instance, as might have been found at the entrance to the village churchyard or to the grounds of the manor house. Many family names had a similar origin during the reign of Edward I (1272-1307). For example, John at the hacche or at ye hacche is termed John atte Hacche, William at the well is called William atte Well, and Thomas at the stile is termed Thomas atte Stile, etc. This form of name remained in use for about two centuries, until nearly 1500, and then, as a rule, the atte either was dropped or was combined with the following word in such names as Atwell, Atwood, etc.

1. JOHN AT HECHE, of Sellinge, in the hundred of Street, co. Kent, the testator of 1464, was born probably about 1415 and died not earlier than 15 Nov. 1464. He married AGNES ———, who was living when his will was made. He was probably a miller. He was undoubtedly descended from some of the Atte Haches found in the hundred of Calehill, in the subsidies of 1327-8 and 1372-3. These subsidies do not name the parishes in which the persons assessed lived; but the hundred of Calehill comprised the parishes of Charing, Westwell, Egerton, Little Chart, and Pluckley, as well as parts of several other parishes. Contemporary with the above John at Hecche of Sellenge were several of the name in Charing, probably his brothers and cousins, who left wills not given in this article. The mention of his lands in Westwell and Charing places his origin in that ancient Atte Hache family, and he is the first of the name in Sellenge or vicinity of whom record has been found. His will names his wife Agnes and three sons.

Children:

2. i. THOMAS, b. probably abt. 1442.
 - ii. JOHN, b. probably abt. 1444.
 - iii. WILLIAM, b. probably abt. 1446.
2. THOMAS AT HECHE (John), of Sellenge, co. Kent, was born about 1442, as he was at least twenty-one in 1464, when his father appointed him one of the executors of his will, but was then under twenty-four. No will or administration of his estate has been found. He succeeded to a portion of his father's lands in Sellenge, and doubtless married soon after his father's death, becoming the father of a family of whom only one child is known.

Child:

3. i. THOMAS, b. probably abt. 1465.
3. THOMAS HACHE (Thomas, John), of Sellenge, co. Kent, the testator of 1530, was born probably about 1465. He held the manor of Hodyford, was assessed as "Thomas Hache the elder" in the hundred of Street, in the subsidy of 1524, and died between 12 Dec. 1530 and 31 Dec. 1534. The name of his wife has not been found, but six children are named in his will in 1530.

Children:

- i. WILLIAM, b. abt. 1488; succeeded to the manor of Hodyford and other lands under the will of his father. Child: 1. Agnes, mentioned in her grandfather's will in 1530.
 4. ii. JOHN THE ELDER, b. abt. 1490.
 - iii. AGNES.
 - iv. THOMAS, not mentioned in his father's will in 1530, and therefore probably deceased before that year. His existence is inferred from the fact that his supposed father, Thomas Hache, is called "Thomas Hache the elder" in the subsidy of 1524.
 5. v. JOHN THE YOUNGER, b. probably abt. 1495.
 - vi. MARGARET.
 - vii. ALICE.
4. JOHN HACHE THE ELDER (Thomas, Thomas, John), born probably about 1490, died before 1 Nov. 1519. He married ELEANOR ———, the testatrix of 1519, who died between 1 Nov. and 12 Dec. 1519, having named two children in her will.

Children:

6. i. THOMAS, b. probably abt. 1513.
 - ii. AGNES, b. probably abt. 1515; living in 1530.
5. JOHN HACHE THE YOUNGER (Thomas, Thomas, John), of Sellenge, co. Kent, the testator of 1535, born probably about 1495, died between 13 Apr. 1535 and 26 Apr. 1536. His wife, whose name is unknown, is mentioned in his will. By the will of his father, proved in 1534, he succeeded to lands and tenements in Sellenge, including a "new house," which in the following year he devised to his three sons. His five eldest children are named in the will of his father.

Children:

- i. JOHANE, b. probably abt. 1521.
 - ii. AGNES, b. probably abt. 1523.
 7. iii. THOMAS, b. probably abt. 1525.
 - iv. ALICE, b. probably abt. 1527.
 - v. JOHN, b. probably abt. 1529; perhaps the John Hache of Tenterden, co. Kent, whose wife Agnes was bur. there 26 Jan. 1588/9.
 - vi. STEPHEN, the testator of 1606, b. probably abt. 1532; d. s.p. between 10 Dec. 1606 and 9 Mar. 1607/8; m. by licence of 5 Dec. 1603, perhaps as his second wife, ELIZABETH GOLDSMITH of Maidstone, co. Kent. dau. of John and Ann. She m. (2) by licence of 11 Aug. 1608 Samuel Pady of Maidstone, gentleman. Stephen Hache is mentioned in his father's will of 1535, but not in his grandfather's will of 1530. He passed his life in his ancestral parish of Sellinge, co. Kent. In 1592 he was the defendant in a suit in the Court of Requests. Since he had no issue, he devised his lands to the sons of his brother Thomas (7).
6. THOMAS HACHE (John the Elder, Thomas, Thomas, John), of Sellinge and Mersham, co. Kent, millwright, the testator of 1556/7, born probably about 1513, died between 16 Jan. 1556/7 and 16 Feb. 1557/8. He is named in the will of his uncle, John Hache the Younger, in 1535. He married MARGARET —, who survived him, together with two sons, who are named in his will.
- Children:
8. i. WILLIAM, b. probably abt. 1537.
 - ii. JOHN.
7. THOMAS HACHE (John the Younger, Thomas, Thomas, John), of Sellinge and Tenterden, co. Kent, born probably about 1525, died intestate before 13 Oct. 1568, when administration on his estate was granted to his widow. He married, about 1552, JOANE —, who married secondly, before 25 Oct. 1574, Richard Brissenden. Thomas Hache was churchwarden at Tenterden in 1565. The account of Joane Hatch alias Brissenden, administratrix, exhibited 25 Oct. 1574, names four daughters of Thomas Hache, and the names of his three sons appear in the will of his brother, Stephen Hache of Sellinge, in 1606. The will of his eldest son, John Hache, of 1628/9, names the children, grandchildren, and even some great-grandchildren of Thomas Hache.
- Children:
- i. WINIFRED, b. abt. 1553; bur. at Tenterden, co. Kent, 6 Oct. 1592; m. (1) at Tenterden, 18 June 1576, RICHARD WILLS; m. (2) at Tenterden, 14 Feb. 1583/4, *STEPHEN HUCKSTEP. Children by first husband: 1. Joane, bapt. at Tenterden 23 June 1577; m. Robert Numan of Crayford; had issue. 2. Anne, b. in 1578; m. 25 May 1602 William Snatte of Hunton; had issue. 3. Susan, bapt. at Tenterden 15 Feb. 1579/80; m. (1) — Rankin; m. (2) Benjamin Robus of "Kennarton" [? Kennardington]; had issue by both husbands. 4. John, bapt. at Tenterden 23 July 1582; bur. there 14 Nov. 1582. Children by second husband: 5. Thomas, bapt. at Tenterden 22 Nov. 1584. 6. John, bapt. at Tenterden 22 May 1586; m., and had issue. 7. Lydia, bapt. at Tenterden 11 Feb. 1587/8; m. abt. 1607 Nathaniel Tilden; emigrated with her husband and children to New England in Mar. 1634/5.†
 - ii. JOHN, of Tenterden, co. Kent, yeoman, the testator of 1628/9, b. abt. 1555; bur. at Tenterden 31 Mar. 1629; m. DOROTHY PHILPOTT, the testatrix of 1638, who d. between 13 Aug. and 1 Nov.

* The year is given in REGISTER, vol. 67, p. 47, as 1584/5, but that is probably an error for 1583/4.

† Cf. REGISTER, vol. 67, pp. 47-48, and vol. 65, p. 331.

1638. No issue. The will of John Hache names his brothers and sisters, their children, and many of their grandchildren.
- iii. KATHARINE, b. abt. 1557; d. before 1628/9; m. ——— DUNKE. Children: 1. John, m. and had issue. 2. William. 3. Daniel. 4. Ann, m. Robert Glover; had issue. 5. Margaret, m. Martin May of Old Romney; had issue. 6. Elizabeth, m. ——— Hubbard.
 - iv. ELEANOR, b. abt. 1559; living 1628/9; m. ——— CHITTENDEN. Children: 1. Thomas. 2. John. 3. Nathaniel, m., and had issue. 4. William.
 - v. ELIZABETH, b. abt. 1561; living in 1574; evidently d. s.p., as neither she nor any descendants are named in the will of her brother, John Hache, in 1628/9.
 9. vi. WILLIAM, bapt. at Tenterden 9 Dec. 1563.
 - vii. THOMAS, of Tenterden and Canterbury, co. Kent, the testator of 1611, bapt. at Tenterden 30 June 1565; d. between 27 Dec. 1611 and 5 June 1613; m. by licence of 22 Sept. 1587 MARGARET KING of Cranbrook, co. Kent, widow, who m. (3) by licence of 2 Apr. 1614 John Allen of Canterbury, gentleman, and was the testatrix of 1626. Thomas Hache was churchwarden at Tenterden in 1599, and was later of the parish of St. Peter, Canterbury. Children: 1. A daughter, bur. unbapt. at Tenterden 20 Nov. 1589. 2. Joane, b. abt. 1591; d. s.p. before 1626; m. at Ashford, 30 Mar. 1609, William Watmer, gentleman.
8. WILLIAM HACHE (Thomas, John the Elder, Thomas, Thomas, John), of Mersham, co. Kent, millwright, the testator of 1571/2, born probably about 1537, died between 28 Jan. 1571/2 and 20 Apr. 1572. He married, about 1560, MARGARET ———, who survived him.
- Children:
- i. JOHN, of whose estate an account was exhibited 8 Oct. 1594.
 - ii. RICHARD, d. before his brother, of whose estate he would otherwise have been administrator.
 - iii. ALICE, administratrix of her brother John's estate in 1594, being then unm.
 - iv. KATHARINE, living unm. in 1594.
 - v. SUSAN, living unm. in 1594.
9. WILLIAM HACHE (Thomas, John the Younger, Thomas, Thomas, John), baptized at Tenterden, co. Kent, 9 Dec. 1563, was living 27 Dec. 1611, when his brother Thomas made his will, but died before 13 Feb. 1627/8, when his daughter Mary was licensed to marry William Sudell. He married, probably about 1593, ANNE ———, who was living as his widow at Tenterden 22 Jan. 1629/30, when her daughter Anne was licensed to marry John Beadle of New Romney. The will of John Hache, the testator of 1628/9, names his brother William's children.
- Children:
- i. JOHN, eldest son, b. abt. 1594; of Mayfield, co. Sussex, in 1628/9; devisee of his uncle John's lands. Child: 1. John, living in 1628/9.
 10. ii. THOMAS, second son, b. abt. 1596.
 11. iii. WILLIAM, b. abt. 1598.*
 12. iv. ELIZABETH, b. abt. 1600.
 - v. JUDITH, second daughter, b. abt. 1602; living in 1628/9; m. abt. 1625 JOSEPH OSBORNE of Ashford, co. Kent. Child: 1. Jeremy, bapt. at Ashford 3 Dec. 1626;† living in 1628/9.

* In the will of his uncle, John Hache, of 23 Mar. 1628/9, this William is called the "now youngest" son. Therefore William must have had at least one younger brother, who was no longer living when John Hache made his will. This younger brother has been placed in the list of children as the eighth child.

- vi. MARGARET, third daughter, b. abt. 1604; m. WILLIAM WOOD of Tenterden, co. Kent, who d. before 23 Mar. 1628/9, when she was living as his widow.
 - vii. MARY, fourth daughter, b. abt. 1606; living in 1628/9; m., probably at Kennington, co. Kent, by licence of 13 Feb. 1627/8, being then of Ashford, co. Kent, and about 21 years of age, WILLIAM SUDELL or SHUSALL of New Romney, co. Kent.
 - viii. A SON, b. perhaps abt. 1609; d. before 23 Mar. 1628/9.
 - ix. ANNE, youngest daughter, b. abt. 1612; m., probably at St. Margaret's, Canterbury, by licence of 22 Jan. 1629/30, being then of Tenterden, co. Kent, and about 17 years of age, THOMAS BEADLE of New Romney, co. Kent.
10. THOMAS HATCH (William, Thomas, John the Younger, Thomas, Thomas, John), of Wye, co. Kent, and Scituate, Mass., born, probably about 1596, died in New England before 14 June 1646, when his widow brought her daughter Hannah to be baptized.* He married, probably about 1622, LYDIA ———. He lived for a while at Wye, where in 1626 and 1628 two of his children were baptized. On 19 Nov. 1627 he was presented to the Bishop by the churchwardens of Wye for teaching school without a licence; and they presented him at every subsequent court until 9 June 1628, when he procured the necessary licence. The date of his emigration to New England is not known; but he may have come with his brother William, on his second trip to New England, in the Castle, in 1638. He settled at Scituate, and was proposed as a freeman 5 Mar. 1638/9.
- His widow, Lydia, married secondly, about 1654, John Spring of Watertown, Mass., but continued to live in Scituate. About her the Plymouth Colony Records, under date of 6 Oct. 1659, have the following: "Concerning a certaine woman, viz', the wife of John Spring, of Watertowne, which was somtimes the wife of Thomas Hatch, of Scittuate, which said woman hath liued about three or foure yeares att Scittuate from her husband, the Court haue ordered, that shee either repaire to her husband with all convenient speed, or to repaire to Duxburrow to the house of Mr Alden, on the twentyeth of this p'sent month of October, to giue a reason why shee doth not; and incase shee shall refuse to attend this order, the Court will take a speedy course to send her to her said husband."† Evidently she satisfied the authorities as to her reasons for living apart from her husband, for in 1665 she was still living in Scituate, when, as Lydia Spring, she took oath to the statements which her son-in-law, Jonas Pickles, made to her as to his wishes regarding the disposition of his property after his death.

Children:

- i. WILLIAM, b. in England abt. 1624; emigrated with his parents to New England; lived at Scituate and later at Swansea, Mass.,

* Much confusion has arisen and numerous errors have appeared in various printed works regarding two settlers in Plymouth Colony named Thomas Hatch. Besides Thomas Hatch of Scituate, there was a Thomas Hatch, an early proprietor of Dorchester, Mass., who was propounded as a freeman 14 May 1634. (Massachusetts Bay Records, vol. 1, p. 369.) He removed to Yarmouth, where he was propounded as a freeman 7 Jan. 1638/9. Later he removed to Barnstable, where he was propounded as a freeman 1 June 1641. At Barnstable, in Aug. 1643, he was on the list of those able to bear arms, that is, he was between 16 and 60 years of age. He had land in both Yarmouth and Barnstable, and took the oath of fidelity in Yarmouth in 1657. He died about 1660, and on 7 May 1661 his widow Grace presented his inventory. On 3 Mar. 1662/3 administration on his estate was granted to Jonathan Hatch and to Lydia, wife of Henry Taylor, who were without doubt his children. (Plymouth Colony Records, Court Orders, vol. 4, p. 31.) This Thomas Hatch of Dorchester, Yarmouth, and Barnstable did not belong to the Hatch family of Scituate, which came from co. Kent.

She d. between 1713 and 20 Sept. 1716, when her will was proved. Jeremiah Hatch was a shipbuilder at Scituate. On 18 July 1677 he bought of Phebe Hatch (11, v, 2), granddaughter of his uncle, Elder William Hatch, the homestead of the latter, situated on Kent St., Scituate; and his ownership of this property has led some writers to regard Jeremiah Hatch as a son of Elder William. He was evidently an Anabaptist, as was Rev. Charles Chauncy, minister of Scituate, for only one of his children was bapt. in infancy but several of them were bapt. at the age of 14 or 15 years. Children, b. at Scituate: 1. Mary, b. 14 Feb. 1658/9. 2. Jeremiah, b. 31 Aug. 1660. 3. Joanna, b. 21 Mar. 1662/3. 4. Mercy, b. 15 Apr. 1665. 5. John, b. 4 Jan. 1666/7. 6. Elizabeth, b. 10 Mar. 1668/9; m. her second cousin, Israel Hatch (11, i, 7). 7. Lydia, b. 5 Dec. 1669. 8. Phebe, b. 8 Apr. 1671. 9. Thomas, b. 15 Dec. 1672. 10. James, b. 4 May 1674. 11. Anna, b. 6 Oct. 1677. 12. Deborah, b. 24 Mar. 1678/9.

* Copies of these deeds are in the possession of Israel H. Hatch of Marshfield, Mass.

† See deposition attached to the will, in the Plymouth Probate Records.

‡ Savage's Genealogical Dict., vol. 3, p. 488, states that Daniel Prior or Pryor had a wife Mary; and in the records of the Second Church of Scituate, under date of 6 July 1656, is found the baptism of "Daniel grandchild to our sister Spring, and sonne to Daniel Pryor."

11. ELDER WILLIAM HATCH (William, Thomas, John the Younger, Thomas, Thomas, John), of Ashford, Wye, and Sandwich, co. Kent, and of Scituate in the Plymouth Colony, woollen draper and merchant, born about 1598, died at Scituate 6 Nov. 1651. He probably married first ———,* and secondly, probably at Thanington, near Canterbury, co. Kent, by licence of 9 July 1624, JANE YOUNG of Thanington, born about 1596, who married secondly, at Scituate, 31 Mar. 1653, Elder Thomas King of Scituate (who succeeded William Hatch in the office of elder), and died at Scituate 8 Oct. 1653. Her parentage has not yet been discovered, but it is likely that Edward Young of Thanington, husbandman, one of the bondsmen on the marriage licence, was her kinsman, perhaps her brother.

About 1634 William Hatch and his family removed from Wye to Sandwich, co. Kent. The statement that he was at Scituate in the Plymouth Colony in 1633 is incorrect, and is due to the assumption that the date after the names of the assistants in the records applied to all the names following. He embarked for America for the first time in Mar. 1634/5, sailing from Sandwich in the ship Hercules with his wife Jane, five children, and six servants. In the same ship sailed his cousin, Lydia (Huckstep) Tilden (7, i, 7), with her husband, Nathaniel Tilden, and their children. William Hatch and his family settled at Scituate, where he built a house on Kent Street and was admitted freeman on 5 Jan. 1635/6. He returned to England, but came back to New England in Apr. 1638, in the ship Castle.† It is probable that his brother Thomas (10) with his wife and children and his sister Elizabeth Soan (12) with her son William came with him on this voyage. In 1643 William Hatch was chosen the first ruling elder of the Second Church of Scituate, and in August of that year he with his sons Walter and John appears on the list of those in Scituate able to bear arms (that is, they were between 16 and 60 years of age). In the same year also he was lieutenant of the trainband.‡

* Although in the marriage licence of 9 July 1624 William Hatch is described as a bachelor, it seems necessary to assume that this statement is incorrect and is probably due to a clerical error. In a will dated 3 Mar. 1681/2, signed by Walter Hatch, son of Elder William, 4 Mar. 1681/2, but never proved, Walter Hatch gives his age as "59 yeares," and therefore he was born about 1623. In Aug. 1643 Walter Hatch is on the list of those able to bear arms, that is, he was then at least 16 years of age. In the will of his father, dated 5 Nov. 1651, Walter Hatch is named before his brother William. In the division of the personal estate of his father he signs first, and the document is in his handwriting. In various other documents in which he is named with his only surviving brother, William, he is always named first. Walter, therefore, must have been the eldest son of Elder William, and the child of a marriage contracted earlier than 1624. The unproved will of Walter Hatch and the document containing the division of the personal estate of his father are in the possession of one of Walter Hatch's descendants, Israel H. Hatch of Marshfield, Mass., who has kindly permitted the writer to have access to his voluminous family papers.

† Lechford's Note-Book, p. 140.

‡ Many erroneous statements about Elder William Hatch and his family appear in various printed works, and it is hoped that the pedigree here given will serve in some measure to correct such errors.

part of Scituate called "The Two Miles," which was joined to Marshfield in 1788; and the house which he built there is still standing and is the residence of Israel H. Hatch, his descendant. A will of Walter Hatch, dated 3 Mar. 1681/2 and signed 4 Mar. 1681/2, was never proved; for after this will was made his son Antipas became of unsound mind, and his father made a new will, providing for the maintenance of Antipas but leaving to his brothers the land formerly intended for him. On 18 July 1677 the latter, being then of Boston and a spinster, sold this house and 20 acres of land to Jeremiah Hatch (10, ii) of Scituate, who was her first cousin once removed and also her uncle by marriage, having married Mary Hewes, her mother's sister. † In a petition in 1669 she describes herself as widow of William Hatch and daughter of John Hewes.

12. ELIZABETH HATCH (William, Thomas, John the Younger, Thomas, Thomas, John), her father's eldest daughter, born probably about 1600, died in New England between 1647 and 1654. She married first, in England, ROBERT SOAN of Brasted, co. Kent, who was living 23 Mar. 1628/9; and secondly, at Scituate in the Plymouth Colony, 9 Oct. 1643, as his second wife, JOHN STOCKBRIDGE of Scituate, wheelwright. She may have emigrated to New England with her brother William (11), on his second voyage, in 1638.

Child by first husband:

- i. WILLIAM, b. in England; d. in New England between 21 Aug. 1671, the date of his will, and 29 Oct. 1672, when Walter Briggs testified as to witnessing the will. He married DOROTHY ——. He settled at Scituate, where in 1663 he occupied lands at the head of the mill pond on Brushy Hill Brook, belonging to his stepfather, John Stockbridge.* In his will he names his wife and his daughter Mary, and also his "loving cousin James Torrey," whom he appoints one of the supervisors.† Now this James Torrey was a son of Anne (Hatch) Torrey (11, iii), daughter of Elder William Hatch, and was therefore William Soan's first cousin once removed; and the reference to James Torrey in William Soan's will confirms the pedigree here given. Child: 1. Mary, b. at Scituate in June 1668.

Children by second husband:

THE REDEEMED CAPTIVES OF 1747

Communicated by GEORGE WALTER CHAMBERLAIN, M.S., of Malden, Mass.

IN the Boston Public Library there is preserved what is believed to be the only existing copy of The Boston Gazette, or Weekly Journal, of Tuesday, 18 Aug. 1747. It contains a list of captives who had been taken by the French and Indians at divers times and places and carried to Canada and who in the summer of 1747 were sent from Quebec to Boston, where they arrived on 16 Aug. of that year. Among them was Rev. John Norton, from whom the list published in the Gazette was obtained. In The Boston Weekly Post-Boy of

§ For the English ancestry of the Hyland family see REGISTER, vol. 66, pp. 61-67.

Monday, 24 Aug. 1747, of which also only one copy, preserved in the library of the Massachusetts Historical Society, is known to be in existence, there is printed a list of these captives, classified according to the times and places of their capture. A comparison of these two lists shows that each contains some names not given in the other.

In the well-known story of his captivity, entitled "The Redeemed Captive" and printed in Boston in 1748, Rev. John Norton makes special mention of those who died in captivity, giving the date of the death of each, but he does not give in his book the names of those who returned with him to New England. The "Journal of Captain William Pote, Jr.," published in 1896, contains a list of the captives who died at Quebec between May 1745 and 16 Aug. 1747, but does not mention those who survived their captivity.

Below is reproduced the first paragraph in the account given in the Gazette, which announces the arrival of the captives in Boston; and this is followed by the classified list printed in the Weekly Post-Boy, in which variations found in the list as given in the Gazette have been inserted within brackets. Then follow some names found in the account in the Gazette but not listed or classified in the Weekly Post-Boy.* In addition to these lists of 1747 some interesting information, found in The Boston Weekly Post-Boy of Monday, 10 July 1749, and relating to captives in Canada in the year 1749, is reprinted below.

FROM THE BOSTON WEEKLY POST-BOY OF MONDAY, 10 JULY 1749

On the 29th ult. [29 June 1749] came to Town [Boston] from Canada, Mr. Timothy Brown, where he had been with some others to endeavour to Redeem some Captive Children; by him we have the following Advice, That soon after his Arrival at Montreal, one Daniel Maddox, an Englishman, who is the King's Interpreter, inform'd him, that there was a Command of a Thousand Frenchmen, with a Number of Indians, going to a Place called Le Bell Rivier, about 300 Leagues from Canada, on a Branch of Mississippi River, in order to destroy some Indians that were under the Allegiance of the Crown of England and to drive off the English who were building a Fort there: He was likewise inform'd of it by divers English, French, and Indians; and also saw the Men daily gathering and going up the River to their Place of Rendezvous, which was about 12 Miles above Montreal: That the Indians told him, the French had invited them to go, but that there were but twenty-five out of all their Castes that would go. — That on the 3d of June they went off with their Canoes where they embodied. — Mr. Brown upon his Return, inform'd the Mayor of Albany of the above Affair, who told him that he knew the Place, that it was supported by Pennsylvania, and immediately sent an Express to Gov. Clinton. —

He also says, That there are nine CapeCod Indians at Canada, five of which were taken at Annapolis Royal, who were under the Command of Col. Gorham in the Year 1745; some of them are sold as Slaves to the Indians; that they are very desirous of being redeemed. — There is also a Boy who was taken from Rochester in New Hampshire, with the Indians at St. Francois, his Name is Jonathan Dore.* There is also a Girl with the Nuns at Montreal, who is Daughter to the Widow Foster, taken at or near Casco Bay; her other Child died at St. Francois this Spring: — There are also two young Women in Canada who are Sisters, that were taken in their Passage from Edinburgh to New England, who say they have a Kinsman in Boston named John Bell, their Names are Thompson, and are Servants to the French: They very much fear they shall tarry ever in that Country, except they are shortly redeemed. —

Mr. Brown further relates, That there is a Government settling at or near Crown Point, That since he went to Montreal, they had erected near 30 small French Houses on both Sides of the Lake, and that near twenty Families were got there since: He was inform'd that the King allowed them, three Years Provision, every Man a Horse and Cow, all Husbandry Utensils, 150 Livers in Cash, and their Lands free from Quit-Rent for Twelve Years. —

* Jonathan Dore was taken captive 27 June 1746. He returned to Rochester in Dec. 1759, and on 23 Feb. 1761 received a grant of 50 acres of land in Lebanon in the Province of Maine, bounded at the southwest corner by the Berwick town line and on the west by the Salmon Falls River, beginning a few rods north of Stair Falls on said river. Here he lived from 1761 to 1799. He married before 28 Oct. 1760 Dorothy Farnham, daughter of Matthew Farnham, one of the earliest settlers of Lebanon, and died without issue.

THE PETERSON FAMILY OF DUXBURY, MASS.

By WILLIAM BRADFORD BROWNE of North Adams, Mass.

13. ABRAHAM⁴ PETERSON (Joseph,³ Joseph,² *John*¹), born at Duxbury 6 Sept. 1745, died before 1818. He married at Marshfield, 3 Mar. 1768, PATIENCE BAKER of Marshfield. He was a Revolutionary soldier. In 1785 he sold his Duxbury farm, and appears in the Census of 1790 as a resident of Winthrop, Me., his family consisting of two males of 16 years and upwards, three males under 16 years, and six females. Two of his sons are given as heads of families in this census.

Children:

- i. ABRAHAM,⁵ head of a family at Winthrop, Me., in 1790.
- ii. CARNALAS, head of a family at Winthrop, Me., in 1790.
- iii. SARAH, b. in 1777; d. 7 June 1867; m. at Duxbury, 12 May 1802, SYLVANUS⁵ WESTON (Zabdiel,⁴ Joseph,³ Elnathan,² *Edmund*¹), who d. at Duxbury 28 May 1830, aged 60.

Others, whose names have not been found.

14. JOSEPH⁴ PETERSON (Joseph,³ Joseph,² *John*¹), of Duxbury, born at Duxbury 1 Feb. 1749/50, died there in 1776. He married at Duxbury, 4 Apr. 1773, REBECCA DELANO, born at Duxbury 6 Dec. 1753, died there 17 July 1841, aged 87 years, 6 months, daughter of Lemuel and Lydia (Bartlett). He was a Revolutionary soldier.

Children, born at Duxbury:

- i. ELIZABETH,⁵ b. abt. 1774; d. 22 July 1853, ae. 79; m. at Duxbury, in Dec. 1796, JOSEPH WADSWORTH, carpenter, b. in 1774, d. at Duxbury 3 Nov. 1845, aged 71 years, 5 months, 7 days, s. of Joseph and Anna (Drew).
29. ii. DANIEL, b. 9 Oct. 1775.

15. BENJAMIN⁴ PETERSON (Jacob,³ Benjamin,² *John*¹), born at Duxbury 4 Mar. 1738/9, was lost at sea in 1765. He married at Duxbury, 22 June 1758, BETHIA CUSHING, born about 1743, who probably married secondly, at Duxbury, 18 Apr. 1769, Joseph Prior, and died at Duxbury 14 Oct. 1801, in her 59th year.

Children, born at Duxbury:

- i. SARAH,⁵ b. 16 Apr. 1759; d. at Duxbury 11 Jan. 1805; m. BENJAMIN SMITH, b. abt. 1755, d. at Duxbury 5 Feb. 1831, aged 76. They had issue.
- ii. HANNAH, b. 2 Jan. 1761; m. at Duxbury, 3 Nov. 1778, LEVI DINGLEY, b. at Duxbury 18 Oct. 1756, s. of Jacob and Susannah (Fuller). They had issue.
30. iii. BENJAMIN, b. 10 July 1763.

16. SYLVANUS⁴ PETERSON (John,³ Jonathan,² *John*¹), born, probably at Middleborough, in 1727, died at Colrain 14 Nov. 1804. He married first (intention recorded at Rochester, 10 Jan. 1753) SARAH PHILLIPS of "Glochester;" and secondly, before 1768, when her name appears in deeds, MARY ———. He resided at Middleborough and Pembroke, and removed to Colrain in 1785. He probably had a large family, but the names of only two sons are positively known.

Children by first wife:

31. i. JONATHAN,⁵ b. 26 Mar. 1754 (family record).
- ii. SYLVANUS, b. at Middleborough in 1763; perhaps m. RHODA ———, whose name appears with his in certain legal papers. He was a Revolutionary soldier. He removed to Nicholson, Pa., where in 1836 he deposed about his military services, stating that he was born in Middleborough in 1763. The record shows that his brother Jonathan of Colrain, ae. 82, testified in his behalf.
- iii. JACOB (perhaps s. of Sylvanus), m. at Pembroke, 2 Mar. 1785, BETSEY TURNER of Pembroke, b. at Pembroke 25 Feb. 1762, d. there 27 Nov. 1833, aged 71 years, 9 months, 3 days. He was a Revolutionary soldier.

17. JOHN⁴ PETERSON (Jonathan,³ Jonathan,² *John*¹), born at Duxbury 3 Jan. 1744/5, died at Newport, R. I., in 1823. He married at Duxbury, 30 Sept. 1765, SARAH HEWITT of Marshfield. He was a Revolutionary soldier. In 1784 he removed to Brunswick, Me., where the Census of 1790 gives him as the head of a family of twenty-five [sic] males of 16 years and upwards, four males under 16 years, and five females. In Brunswick he was a storekeeper, a miller, and a leading citizen. In 1798 he was at Bath, Me., where he was interested in shipbuilding. He was himself a shipmaster, and also owned some 200 acres of land in Bath. Finally he went to Newport, R. I. (See Reed's History of Bath.)

Children, the first eight born at Duxbury and the others at Brunswick, Me.:

- i. JOHN,⁵ b. 30 July 1767.
- ii. LEVI, b. 7 Nov. 1769; m. ——— REED, dau. of Col. John of Topsham, Me. He was a shipmaster and shipbuilder of Bath, and is described as "a man of noble bearing and a Hercules in size and strength." He weighed 400 pounds. He had issue.
- iii. JAMES, b. 30 Dec. 1771; m. JENNET ———. Child: 1. Hewitt,⁶ b. 29 Dec. 1799.
- iv. NANCY, b. 20 Mar. 1774.
- v. CHARLES, b. 20 Aug. 1776.
- vi. HEWITT, b. 19 Sept. 1778.
- vii. SARAH, b. 20 Jan. 1781.
- viii. DANIEL, b. 28 Oct. 1783.
- ix. ABIGAIL, b. 17 Sept. 1786; m. ——— STEWART.
- x. WILLIAM, b. 4 Mar. 1789.
- xi. LUCY, b. 27 Apr. 1791.

18. JONATHAN⁴ PETERSON (Jonathan,³ Jonathan,² *John*¹), of Duxbury, born at Duxbury 12 Mar. 1746/7, died there 15 July 1813, aged 66. He married at Duxbury, 8 July 1771 [sic],* LUCY HUNT. He served in the Revolution.

Children, born at Duxbury:

- i. LUCY,⁵ b. 13 June 1771.
- ii. LEWIS, b. 18 Apr. 1773; lost at sea; m. at Duxbury, 30 Mar. 1801, SALLY FULLER.
- iii. WELTHEA, b. 19 Aug. 1775; m. at Duxbury, in Nov. 1801, JOSHUA MOODY of Bath, Me.
32. iv. GEORGE, b. 5 July 1778.

* According to the church records they were married 23 Apr. 1771.

- v. OLIVE, b. 16 Oct. 1781; m. at Duxbury, in Oct. 1805, BENJAMIN ROBINSON.
- vi. SALLY, b. 3 Nov. 1784.
- vii. HANNAH, b. 15 Feb. 1790.
- viii. NATHANIEL, b. 27 Aug. 1796.

19. TURNER⁴ PETERSON (Jonathan,³ Jonathan,² *John*¹), baptized at Duxbury 13 July 1760, was living at Saratoga, N. Y., in July 1832, as is proved by his application for a pension. He married at Brookfield, 26 Apr. 1781,* POLLY MANNING. He was a Revolutionary soldier. He removed from Duxbury to Brookfield, and in 1790 was a resident at Lebanon, N. H., as the Census shows.

Children, all recorded at Lebanon, N. H., but the first five born at Brookfield:

- i. TURNER,⁵ b. 29 Mar. 1780.†
- ii. ALANDER, b. 8 Sept. 1781.

RECORDS OF THE SOCIETY OF FRIENDS AT HARLEM (CHINA), ME.

Communicated by HON. HENRY SEWALL WEBSTER, A.M., of Gardiner, Me.

A monthly meeting of Friends was established in the town of Harlem, Kennebec Co., Me., in 1813. Parts of Harlem, Albion, and Winslow were incorporated in 1818 under the name of China, and the remainder of Harlem was annexed to China in 1822. The vital records of the Harlem Monthly Meeting follow.‡

† Turner Peterson of Saratoga, N. Y., married 19 Dec. 1827 Hannah Westgate of Plainfield, N. H. His identity has not been determined.

‡ Several of the families entered in the Friends' records at Harlem (China) appear also in the Friends' records at Vassalborough, Me., which were published in REGISTER, vols. 68 and 69. Usually the Harlem record gives the births of a greater number of children than the Vassalborough record of the same family. Footnotes indicate the volume and pages of the REGISTER where the Vassalborough records of such families may be found; but no attempt is made to harmonize conflicting statements in the two sets of records.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

By ALFRED JOHNSON, Litt. D., Recording Secretary

Boston, Massachusetts, 5 April 1916. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 P.M., President Baxter presiding.

The minutes of the March meeting were read and approved, and the reports of the Council, Librarian, Corresponding Secretary, and Historian were accepted. Nine resident members were elected by ballot.

Hon. Charles Sidney Ensign, Chairman of the Special Committee on Revision of the By-Laws, submitted sundry proposed amendments to the By-Laws, with the recommendation of the Committee that they be adopted; and in accordance with the By-Laws consideration of these amendments was deferred until the next meeting of the Society.

A recess was then voted, and the usual reception for members and their friends followed.

The meeting was again called to order at 3.30 P.M., and the paper of the afternoon, entitled Old Boston Museum Days, was read by Miss Kate Ryan of Boston. Miss Ryan gave a series of graphic impressions, interspersed with intimate reminiscences and anecdotes, of the Boston Museum and of the many well-known players with whom, as a member of the Museum Company, she had been associated.

After the reading of the paper Vice-President Chase, who had been called to the chair, declared the meeting dissolved.

3 May. A stated meeting of the Society was held in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, at 2.30 P.M., President Baxter presiding.

The minutes of the April meeting were read and approved, and the reports of the Council, Librarian, Corresponding Secretary, and Historian were accepted.

One corresponding member and forty-seven resident members were elected by ballot.

Hon. Charles Sidney Ensign, Chairman of the Special Committee on Revision of the By-Laws, moved the adoption of the amendments to Chapters II, III, IX, and XII of the By-Laws, which had been proposed by this committee at the April meeting of the Society. By four separate votes the proposed amendments were adopted, the chapters, as amended, reading as follows:

CHAPTER II.

MEMBERS AND DUES.

ART. 1. — The Society shall be composed of Resident, Life, Corresponding and Honorary Members elected by the Council.

Resident Members are those who pay annual dues, and consist of two classes: (1) those elected before January 1, 1903, who pay $3.00 annually and do not receive the New England Historical and Genealogical Register; and (2) those who pay $5.00 annually and receive the Register. Annual dues are payable on the first of each January and are for the calendar year.

Any Resident Member, or any person elected a Resident Member, may become a Life Member upon the payment of $50.00 at one time into the treasury. Any Life Member who paid $30.00 into the treasury for Life Membership before January 1, 1903, may receive the Register by an additional payment of $20.00. Life Members shall be exempt from the payment of annual dues. All receipts from Life Membership fees shall be permanently funded, the interest only to be used for current expenses.

Resident and Life Members only shall be entitled to vote, be eligible to office, or take part in the business of the Society.

Corresponding Members shall be limited to one hundred and fifty in number and shall be chosen from among those who have rendered valuable services to the objects of the Society.

Honorary Members shall be limited to fifteen in number and shall be chosen from among those distinguished as historians or genealogists.

ART. 2. — The Recording Secretary shall keep a book, in which any member may propose a Resident, Corresponding or Honorary Member.

ART. 3. — If any person elected a Resident Member shall neglect for three months after notification of election to accept membership in writing and to make the first annual payment, and if any person elected a Corresponding or Honorary Member shall neglect for six months after such notification to accept membership in writing, such election shall be void.

If any Resident Member shall neglect to pay the annual assessment for a year after it shall have become due, he shall be notified by the Corresponding Secretary of the provisions of this article, and if in arrears thirty days thereafter he shall cease to be a member; but such persons may be reinstated by the Council in its discretion upon payment of arrears.

The Council may suspend the provisions of this article.

ART. 4. — Diplomas signed by the President and countersigned by the two Secretaries shall be issued to all members upon application.

ART. 5. — Any member may withdraw from the Society at any time by paying all assessments due and sending a written resignation to the Recording Secretary. The membership of any person may be terminated for cause, by the Council, provided that notice shall be sent to him by the Recording Secretary at least fourteen days prior to the meeting of the Council at which it is proposed to terminate his membership.

CHAPTER III.

MEETINGS AND QUORUM.

ART. 1. — The Annual Meeting of the Corporation shall be held on the first Wednesday in February of each year in Boston, notice of which shall be sent to Resident and Life Members by the Recording Secretary, one week in advance.

Stated Meetings of the Society shall be held in its house, or elsewhere as the Council may decide, on the first Wednesday in every month except June, July, August and September, at half past two o'clock in the afternoon or at such other hour as may be designated by the Council, notice of which shall be sent on or before the Saturday preceding.

Special Meetings shall be called by either of the Secretaries under the direction of the President, or, in case of his death, absence or disability, under the direction of the Vice-President for Massachusetts; or if both are unable to act, under the direction of three members of the Council.

Twenty members shall constitute a quorum at all meetings.

ART. 2. — At all Stated Meetings the order of business shall be as follows, unless otherwise ordered: —

First, Reading of the minutes of the preceding meeting.

Second, Report of the Corresponding Secretary.

Third, Report of the Librarian.

Fourth, Report of the Historian.

Fifth, Report of the Council.

Sixth, Unfinished Business.

Seventh, New Business.

Eighth, Reading of Papers and Essays.

ART. 3. — Upon request of the Recording Secretary, any motion or resolution shall be submitted in writing.

CHAPTER IX.

THE LIBRARIAN.

ART. 1. — The Librarian shall have charge of all books, maps, manuscripts and other property appropriate to the Library, and of all coins, works of art, antiquities and other articles appropriate to the Cabinet, and shall cause to be made and kept proper catalogues of them all. He shall also be the custodian of the Society's House. He shall make all necessary preparations for the meetings of the Society and of the Council.

ART. 2. — He shall acknowledge every gift added to the Library or the Cabinet, and he shall keep a detailed list of all accessions to both the Library and Cabinet during the year. He shall keep an exact record of all literary property and relics that may be disposed of by order of the Council, together with the names of recipients and manner of distribution.

ART. 3. — At every Stated Meeting he shall report all gifts made to the Library and the Cabinet since his last report. At the Annual Meeting he shall present a statement of the condition and wants of the Library and of the Cabinet.

ART. 4. — He shall be present in the Library, in person or by an assistant, at such hours as may be designated by the Council.

ART. 5. — He shall receive such compensation and shall have such assistance as the Council shall determine.

CHAPTER XII.

THE COUNCIL.

ART. 1. — The Council shall determine its own quorum; establish rules for the transaction of its business; fix all salaries; authorize all expenditures of money; provide all blanks and books of record; elect all members; and exercise all other powers conferred by these by-laws.

ART. 2. — It shall report to the Society at every Stated Meeting all elections to membership and such other business as it may deem advisable. It may dispose, by sale or exchange, of any literary property and relics inappropriate to the Library or the Cabinet.

ART. 3. — It shall consider each nomination for membership at its next meeting after the names of the applicant and his proposer shall have been posted on a bulletin board in the Society's Building for thirty days. Action on any application for membership may be deferred until the next meeting at the request of one member of the Council; and two negative votes shall prevent the election of any applicant.

ART. 4. — It shall annually appoint the Historian and Editor of Publications, whose term of office shall be one year unless sooner terminated by the Council. It shall also appoint all subordinate officers and agents (who shall hold their respective offices during the pleasure of the Council), prescribe their duties and fix their compensations.

ART. 5. — It shall meet within one week previous to every Stated Meeting, and at such other times as its Chairman shall appoint.

ART. 6. — It may appoint standing and special committees for terms not exceeding one year or until their successors are appointed, and define their powers. A list of such committees and the members composing the same shall be printed with the Annual Proceedings.

ART. 7. — It shall make rules and regulations for the use of the Library and of the Cabinet.

ART. 8. — At the Annual Meeting it shall make a report which shall include a statement of its doings during the past year, and such recommendations as it may deem advisable.

ART. 9. — The records of its meetings shall always be open to the inspection of any member of the Society.

On motion of Mr. Ensign it was Voted, That all sections of the By-Laws inconsistent with the amendments adopted this day be, and hereby are, repealed.

President Baxter then introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Hon. Charles Sidney Ensign, LL.B., of Newton, Mass., who read an instructive and entertaining paper entitled History in Cemeteries.

Dr. Alfred Johnson moved that a vote of thanks be extended to the speaker, and in seconding this motion Mr. John Albree called attention to the manuscript collections of epitaphs in the Library, the product of the unselfish labor of various members of the Society.

After the adoption of the vote of thanks President Baxter described an interesting sarcophagus in Constantinople, and declared the meeting dissolved.

The usual reception to members and their guests followed.

NOTES

MAPLETT: ADDITIONS. — Since the publication of the article entitled "The Ancestry of Mary Maplett, Wife of Samuel Gorton of New England," in the present volume of the REGISTER, pp. 115-118 (April, 1916), an examination of the parish registers of Northolt (formerly Northall), co. Middlesex, England, for the years 1560-1605, has brought to light the following Maplett entries, in addition to the marriage record of Matthew Randall and Ellen Maplett already printed:

Christenings

1575 Ellen Maplett daughter of John Maplett 2 February [1575/6].

1577 Thom^s Maplett son of John Maplett 25 June.

1581 Mary Maplett daw^{ter} of John Maplett 28 November.

Burial

1592 John Maplett p[']son of Northall 7 September.

In the records at Haberdashers' Hall in London the following entry has been found:

"John Maplett, free by George Brough, 4th April 1600."

This shows that John Maplett, the father-in-law of Samuel Gorton, was admitted to the freedom of the Company of Haberdashers, after he had served his time as an apprentice to George Brough. A careful search has been made for the entry of the apprenticeship, but it has not been found.

THOMAS WILLIAMS BALDWIN.

PARENTAGE OF GILES SLOCUM OF PORTSMOUTH, R. I. — In the Slocums of America, compiled by Dr. Charles Elihu Slocum, there is an extended notice of the English Slocums; and Giles Slocum of Portsmouth, R. I., is given as a son of Anthony Slocum of Taunton, Mass., in spite of the fact that in the will of Anthony Slocum of Albemarle County in the Province of Carolina, dated 26 Nov. 1688 and proved 7 Jan. 1689/90, neither Giles nor his children are mentioned. There is no doubt of the identity of the Anthony Slocum of Albemarle County in Carolina with the Anthony Slocum who was formerly of Taunton, Mass., and the omission in the will of any reference to Giles Slocum or his children shows conclusively that Giles was not Anthony's son.

In Dr. Slocum's account of the English Slocums is given an abstract of the will of Charity Slocombe, widow, of the parish of Old Cleeve, co. Somerset, dated 21 Nov. 1642 and proved 26 Jan. 1642/3. The testatrix mentions brother Aldred Bickham, sister Joane Studdier, kinswomen Isoll Oatford and Mary Wills, widow, the latter of Envier, and son Giles Slocombe, who is made sole executor of the will. The English genealogist employed by Dr. Slocum to carry on the search in England concluded that this Giles could not be Giles of Rhode Island, because he assumed that the latter was at Portsmouth, R. I., as early as or soon after 1638. This assumption is not warranted by the records. The first mention of Giles Slocum on record in New England is on 4 Sept. 1648, when he was granted land in Portsmouth. He does not appear in Rhode Island previous to that date, and he was not in Plymouth Colony in Aug. 1643, when Anthony Slocum of Taunton was on the list of men able to bear arms. It would therefore appear that he did not arrive in New England until 1647 or 1648, and in this case it is very probable that he was the Giles, son of Charity Slocombe, who was her executor in 1643.

Abstracts of the wills of the father and mother of Charity (Bickham) Slocombe and of her brothers William and Aldred follow.

The will of Aldred Byccombe of Old Cleve, co. Somerset, clothier, dated 21 July 1610 and proved 2 Feb. 1610/11 by Hellen Byccombe the relict, contains bequests to daughter Charitie (£50, being a debt due to him from his brother William Byccombe), to daughter Mary at 21, to daughter Joane, to son William Byccombe, and to Isott Lanham, daughter of daughter Ann Lanham, deceased. Son Aldred to succeed in the house. Residue to wife Helen, executrix. Overseers: brother William Byccombe, friend Andrew Speede, and brother-in-law Thomas Cridland. (Somersetshire Wills, Series 2, p. 67.)

The will of Ellen Bickham of Old Cleeve, co. Somerset, widow, dated 24 June 1642 and proved 20 June 1646 by Aldred Bickham, contains bequests to sister Anne Ashe, to daughter Charitie Slocombe, to daughter Joan, the wife of John Studdier, to son Aldred Bickham's daughter Ellen, to cousins Nicholas and Roger Colles, to uncle John Colles's widow, mentions chattels left to the testatrix by her son William Bickham, and bequeaths the residue of the estate to son Aldred Bickham. There are bequests to the poor of Spaxton, Bishop's Lyddiard, and Old Cleeve. (Ib., Series 2, p. 68.)

The will of William Bickham of Old Cleeve, co. Somerset, bachelor, dated 2 Mar. 1626 [1626/7] and proved 12 June 1627, contains bequests to sister's eldest daughter, to Aldred Bickham, Jr., to brother Aldred, to brother-in-law John Studdier, and to testator's mother, Ellen Bickham. (Ib., Series 2, p. 67.)

The will of Aldred Bickham of Old Cleeve, co. Somerset, clothier, dated 7 Feb. 1651 [1651/2] and proved 24 May 1652, contains bequests to eldest son Richard Bickham ("a silver salt gilded with gold & six silver spoons, according to my grandfather's will to remain for ever to the eldest son of his line & blood"), to wife Thomasine, to daughter Ellen Escott, wife of Richard Escott, to sons Aldred Bickham, William, and Hugh, to daughters Johan, Mary, and Anne, to daughter Isott Bickham, to Mary and Joan, daughters of daughter Ellen Escott, and to brother-in-law Hugh Slocombe. Residue to son Aldred, executor. Overseer: Richard Escott. (Ib., Series 3, p. 87.)

Abstracts of wills of other members of the Bickham family are printed in Somersetshire Wills, and subsequent records in Somersetshire show that by the beginning of the eighteenth century the family had risen to the ranks of the gentry and that they resided in Taunton, co. Somerset, and also in Exeter, co. Devon.

In view of these facts a further search should be made in the records of Somerset and Devon, and the parish registers or Bishop's transcripts for Old Cleeve and the neighboring parishes ought to be examined, as there can be little doubt that Giles Slocombe, son of Charity of Old Cleeve, and Giles of Portsmouth, R. I., are identical. Giles was probably a near relative of Anthony of Taunton, Mass., and the latter probably came to New England in the company of Mistress Elizabeth Poole, who founded Taunton and who, being a native of the West Country, brought the earliest settlers of Taunton from the counties of Devon, Somerset, and Dorset.

HISTORICAL INTELLIGENCE

HERALDRY.—The Committee on Heraldry of the New England Historic Genealogical Society desires to call special attention to the recommendation in its report of 5 May 1914 (see REGISTER, vol. 69, Supplement, pp. xvi-xxiii), "that every person interested, by reason of descent or otherwise, in making it a matter of record that any original settler in this country inherited a coat of arms or that any inhabitant of this country received a grant of arms be invited to offer the arms for record with this Society," etc.

The Committee believes that the importance of the results possible to be attained by such registration will be of great interest; and they earnestly request all members of the Society and all other persons who have coats of arms which they believe to be eligible to make application for recording them. The cost of painting the arms and making up the record will have to be defrayed by the applicants, and the Committee has determined that $3.00 for each coat will barely suffice.

This amount, by cheque payable to the order of the Society, must be forwarded with the application. If the application is rejected, the money will be returned unless the applicant wishes to have the arms recorded with those resented for proof. The Committee, however, reserves the right to reject any application altogether, and if this right is exercised, the money will, of course, be returned.

It seems evident that, besides the growth in value of the collection as it increases in size, there will be many other things of extreme interest contributed with the arms and directly related thereto, such as photographs of castles, armor, seals, manors, etc., and provision is contemplated for filing such contributions in supplementary volumes in connection with the registers of the arms. Applications in which the proofs do not sufficiently conform to the requirements indicated in the report of the Committee will be placed in a separate volume to await further proof.

Printed directions for the making of applications may be obtained from the Committee; and all communications on this subject should be addressed to the Committee on Heraldry, New England Historic Genealogical Society, 9 Ashburton Place, Boston.

PLAINFIELD (CONN.) HISTORICAL SOCIETY. — The Plainfield Historical Society has been organized in the town of Plainfield, Conn., with seventeen charter members. Judge John E. Prior, whose address is Moosup, Conn., is president, and members of the Society are already taking steps to preserve some of the vital records existing in the town by copying the inscriptions found in the many small burial grounds there. These inscriptions will be printed in a future number of the REGISTER.

GENEALOGIES IN PREPARATION. — Persons of the several names are advised to furnish the compilers of these genealogies with records of their own families and other information which they think may be useful. We would suggest that all facts of interest illustrating family history or character be communicated, especially service under the U. S. Government, the holding of other offices, graduation from college or professional schools, occupation, with places and dates of birth, marriage, residence, and death. All names should be given in full if possible. No initials should be used when the full name is known.

Cook. — Gregory, of Cambridge and Watertown, Mass., born in England, died at Watertown 1 Jan. 1690/1, by W. Burt Cook, Jr., 51 Waldorf Court, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Oliphant. — Duncan, born in Scotland in 1682, died in Amwell Township, Hunterdon Co., N. J., in Aug. 1734, with all branches of the Oliphant family in the United States and Canada, by Samuel Grant Oliphant, Ph.D., F. R. S. A., Grove City, Pa.

Orvis. — George, died at Farmington, Conn., 27 Apr. 1664, by Francis Wayland Orvis, 189 Stanley Place, Hackensack, N. J.

Snow. — Richard, born in England, probably in 1607, died at Woburn, Mass., 5 May 1677, by George B. Snow, 231 Kennebec Avenue, Long Beach, Cal.

Watson. — Jonathan, of Dover, N. H., 1675, died at Dover soon after 1714, by Stephen Marion Watson, 1014 North State Street, Chicago, Ill.

George Emory Littlefield

THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL REGISTER

OCTOBER, 1916

GEORGE EMERY LITTLEFIELD, A.B.

By JOHN WOODBURY, A.B., of Boston, Mass.

GEORGE EMERY LITTLEFIELD, bookseller, bibliophile, and author, and a member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, died suddenly at Hamilton, Mass., on 4 September 1915.

He was born in Boston, Mass., 29 August 1844, the son of Jacob and Sarah (Hill) Littlefield. He was seventh in descent from Edmund¹ Littlefield of Exeter, N. H., and Wells, Me., the immigrant ancestor of the New England Littlefields, who was baptized at Titchfield, co. Hants, England, 27 June 1592, and died, presumably at Wells, Me., 14 December 1661. Edmund¹ Littlefield was the eldest son of Francis and Mary Littlefield of Titchfield, co. Hants. Francis was born probably about 1565 and was buried at Titchfield 22 October 1618. Mary, who was the first wife of Francis, was buried at Titchfield 29 October 1605. Francis Littlefield was a clothier and left a good estate. His son Edmund married at Titchfield, 16 October 1614, Agnes (also called Anne or Annis) Austin, probably the "Agnice awstine" who was baptized at Titchfield 1 February 1596/7, daughter of Richard of Titchfield. She sailed for New England, with six children and two servants, in the ship Bevis from Southampton, in May 1638. Her husband and elder son Francis had probably preceded her in emigrating to New England. Edmund appears first at Exeter, where he signed the Combination on 5 June 1639, and in 1643 he received a grant of land at Wells. He left an estate of £588. 13s. 4d.* George Emery Littlefield was descended from Edmund¹ Littlefield through Francis² the Elder (there were two sons named Francis) of Wells, Me., who was baptized at Titchfield, co. Hants, 17 June 1619, Dependence³ of Wells, Samuel⁴ of Wells, Dependence⁵ of Wells, Elias⁶ of Sanford, Me., and Jacob⁷ of Sanford, his father, who was born at Sanford 23 March 1815 and died at Cambridge, Mass., 11 September 1877. Jacob⁷ Littlefield married at Biddeford, Me., 30 April 1840, Sarah Hill, born at Biddeford 5 December 1811 and sixth in descent from Peter¹ Hill, who settled at Biddeford about 1648.

At the time of George Littlefield's birth his parents were living on Milton Street in the West End of Boston, and his early education was obtained in the public schools of that city. He was a pupil at the Mayhew School on Hawkins Street and at the Phillips School on Grove Street. He entered the Public Latin School, then on Bedford Street, in 1859, and Harvard College in 1862. Graduating in 1866 with the degree of A.B., he entered the Lawrence Scientific School, intending to adopt the profession of civil engineer. A love of old books and a distrust of his opportunities as an engineer led him at the end of two years to leave the Scientific School and to associate himself in business with Charles F. Sprague, who had previously been employed in the well-known antiquarian bookshop of T. O. H. P. Burnham. The place of business of the new firm was at 32 Brattle Street in Boston, and in addition to old books and pamphlets they bought and sold antiquities connected with the history of New England. About 1870, after the withdrawal of Mr. Sprague, Mr. Littlefield removed the business to 67 Cornhill, and his bookshop from that time until he closed it in August 1915 was the resort of scholars and collectors interested in New England history and genealogy. When "modern improvements" demanded the destruction of the old building and Mr. Littlefield decided that, owing to his age and condition of health, the business could not be transplanted and the shop must close, the announcement was generally received not only with sincere regret but with a sense of the passing of a landmark in Boston's literary life.

The Bibliographer of the Boston Evening Transcript thus described the shop:

"Busy passers-by along Cornhill, intent on their own affairs, carry away but a shadowy recollection of old book stores, jumbled up with small shops devoted to all sorts of trade. To the book collector, however, the old and somewhat obscure sign, 'George E. Littlefield, Books,' meant that the pilgrim had come to Littlefield's. It was a place in which Dickens would have delighted. Entering the door, the visitor was confronted by shelves of books. Halfway back through the store was one stairway which descended to dark depths in which were shelves, piles and bundles of books. Another stairway went up a few steps toward back windows which were dimmed with books and pamphlets. In the corner was a desk, before which was an old Windsor chair which has been occupied by the foremost scholars and specialists in American history in this country. The corner desk would be piled with books to a depth of two feet, and behind this, often writing on a drawer which had been pulled out to give the proprietor room, would be sitting a kindly-faced, well-built, clear-eyed man, whom every book collector and dealer in America knew as Mr. Littlefield and a recognized authority on old books."

A college classmate and friend has thus written of the visitors who frequented the place:

"He dealt in all sorts of works, but made a specialty of those relating to American history and genealogy. Those subjects held deep interest for him. He gathered a vast amount of information and earned a reputation that spread throughout the country. Those collecting books for both public and private libraries sought his advice, and he was a recognized authority on Americana in England as well as in America. Among his customers were Longfellow, Oliver Wendell Holmes, and James Russell Lowell. Others were Thomas Bailey Aldrich, John Fiske, Charles Deane, Vice-President of the Massachusetts Historical Society, who left a very valuable library, Charles Francis Adams, who picked up in the shop many books that aided him in his historical writings, Francis Gardner, Head Master of the Boston Latin School, William B. Trask of Dorchester, well known as an antiquarian and writer, John Ward Dean, Librarian of the Genealogical Society, Gov. Charles H. Bell of New Hampshire, whose love of books led him often to Boston from his home in Exeter, Rear-Admiral George H. Preble, U.S.N., and last but not least his friend of many years, Dr. and Ex-Mayor Samuel A. Green. As Littlefield himself said: "You may say that practically all the well-known Boston writers and scholars were among my customers in the forty-five years that I have done business here. That is, they came in person, and many of them became my close friends. Of course I had hundreds of other customers, in other parts of the country, whom I knew only through correspondence. Librarians, genealogists, collectors of Americana, book auctioneers, and others wishing special information about American books got into the way of writing me for advice, and in that way my acquaintance became extended."

A bibliophile himself, Mr. Littlefield was in quick sympathy with his customers of similar tastes. Without a suspicion of commercialism, he was interested in finding out and supplying their wants, and he took pleasure and pride in the improvement of their collections, without that envy of possession which sometimes mars the relations between collectors.

It was natural that Mr. Littlefield's wide knowledge of Americana and genealogy should lead him to authorship. Besides many short articles and papers, he wrote three books of distinction and permanent value. The titles, which indicate their contents, are as follows: "Early Boston Booksellers, 1642-1711," Boston, 1900; "Early Schools and School-Books of New England," Boston, 1904; "The Early Massachusetts Press, 1638-1711," Boston, 1907. All three books were published in limited editions by the Club of Odd Volumes of Boston, of which he was an early member and for many years its librarian. The editions were quickly exhausted, and whenever copies appear for sale they bring greatly enhanced prices.

Another item that deserves notice is "1607-1907. A Descriptive Catalogue of the Massachusetts Exhibit of Colonial Books at the Jamestown Ter-Centennial Exposition. Privately Printed in Boston, 1907," which was prepared by him to describe this collection, which owed its completeness and value largely to his efforts as a member of the Book Committee of the Exhibition Managers, his object being "to show, by a judicious selection, that American literature began certainly as early as the arrival of the Pilgrims and Puritans on the shores of New England, and that our early New England ancestors were able to produce literature, not only in its widest sense, but also in the more limited sense of belles-lettres, or polite literature, including poetry and history." The exhibit secured a gold medal, the highest award.

Mr. Littlefield had been a resident member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society since 1882, and from the year 1912 until his death he was a member of its Committee on Sale of Publications. On 3 October 1900 he read a paper before the Society on Capt. William Pierce of the Ann, the Mayflower and the Lyon. Other organizations of which he was a member were the Society of Colonial Wars in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, the Maine Historical Society, the New Hampshire Historical Society, the Western Reserve Historical Society, and the Somerville (Mass.) Historical Society.

Mr. Littlefield married at Cambridge, Mass., 8 February 1870, Emily Frances Willis, who was born at Charlestown, Mass., 22 September 1845, daughter of David Cobb and Hannah (Goodrich) Willis of Charlestown. Their daughter and only child, Gertrude Elizabeth, was born at Somerville, Mass., 8 January 1871. She became the wife of Mr. J. M. Meggett. Mr. and Mrs. Littlefield made their home in Somerville, a suburb of Boston, for nearly the whole of their married life. The last few months of George Littlefield's life would have been wholly tragic, had it not been for the close sympathy of true friends who felt his sorrows and troubles as their own and joined in helping him to bear the combined assaults of fate. His daughter and only child had died a few years before. Then came the events which led to the closing of the old shop. Then came the death, after a painful illness, of his wife. It would seem as if human nature could bear no more. In one way or another the enormous stock of books and pamphlets which represented years of accumulation was dispersed. The genealogical works and town histories went to the book establishment of a friend, who created a separate department to be in his charge. He had just entered upon this new experience when on a pleasant summer afternoon, while riding with a valued friend, he was suddenly stricken and died.

The life of George Emery Littlefield, to those who regard the essentials, must seem to have been well-rounded and complete. He early found a useful and valuable work to perform, which gave him congenial occupation and surroundings. His own warm-heartedness and high sense of honor made him permanent friendships, and his genial manners, love of good conversation, and keen sense of humor brought him the pleasures of companionship. A long and happy married life was shadowed only by those sorrows which no man can escape. The respect of all, the regard of friends, the love of family, and the labor of life well done — was not this enough?

THE "MAYFLOWER," HER IDENTITY AND TONNAGE

By J. R. HUTCHINSON of Cliffords Inn, London, Eng.

THE first successful attempt to identify the historic Mayflower was made as recently as 1904. In the English Historical Review for October of that year Mr. R. G. Marsden, the able editor of "Select Pleas in the High Court of Admiralty," succeeded in proving the famous Pilgrim ship to have been none other than that Mayflower which, for a then undetermined period prior to, as for some time after the year 1620, was commanded by Capt. Christopher Jones of Redriffe, otherwise Rotherhithe, Surrey.*

Satisfactory though Marsden's demonstration is as regards the identity of the commander of the Mayflower, it nevertheless falls short of completeness in one essential particular relating to the vessel herself. Since man first went down to the sea in ships and did business in great waters, the name of the port from which a ship sails has been universally recognized as vital to her identification. Here it is that Marsden's demonstration fails. He cannot tell us to what port the Mayflower belonged.

He attempts, it is true, to show that both she and her master were of Harwich, and in support of this view he cites a certain schedule, filed amongst the Libels of the High Court of Admiralty, as so describing them. But he omits to mention under what circumstances that schedule was drawn — an omission, as it happens, fatal to his argument. The circumstances in question, rightly set out, are these.

In the year 1609 one Andrew Pawling, a merchant tailor of London, chartered the Mayflower for a trading voyage to Norway, the consideration for the round trip to be £125, payable within four days after her return. On the homeward voyage the first English port at which she touched was Harwich, and from this place her captain, Christopher Jones, wrote to Pawling, advising him of his safe arrival and of the cargo he carried.† To be precise, he had on board 3000

* Mr. Marsden's article has been reprinted in The Mayflower Descendant, vol. 18, pp. 1-13. The late John Ward Dean was on the verge of this discovery, as is proved by the note which, as editor of the REGISTER, he appended to the abstract of the will of William Mullins, which the late Henry FitzGilbert Waters had sent from England. (See REGISTER, vol. 42, pp. 62-64, or Waters's "Genealogical Gleanings in England," pp. 254-255.) Mr. Dean correctly surmises that the Christopher Jones who witnesses the will "may have been the Captain of the Mayflower," but cites the Rev. Edward D. Neill to the contrary.

† High Court of Admiralty Examinations: Deposition of Thomas Haddon of London, armourer, 27 Jan. 1609/10.

Norway deals, 10 lasts of tar, and $3\frac{1}{2}$ lasts of pickled herrings. A last of tar equals 14 barrels; a last of herrings, 12 barrels.

About a week before Christmas, 1609, the Mayflower dropped anchor in the River Thames, "over against Ratcliffe mill," and Pawling's agent paid to Jones a sum of £160 odd in respect of freight, demurrage, and harbor dues. He was lucky to receive it, for in his absence much of an untoward nature had happened. Pawling himself lay in the King's Bench Prison, a victim of debt. Two executions were out against him, and in order to secure himself against these he gave to one Richard Nottingham, to whom it is alleged he owed money, a bill of sale on the cargo of the Mayflower. Before Nottingham could acquaint Jones with the fact, however, the officers of the Crown, armed with the requisite warrant, had boarded the vessel and "arrested" or garnished the goods. It was a near thing. They came over the side of the Mayflower at the very moment Nottingham set foot on her ladder to assert his claim.

At this point in the proceedings the schedule was drawn up. The ownership of the cargo being in dispute, it became necessary that the nature and quantities of the various commodities composing it should be reduced to writing; and since the Mayflower had only just arrived from Harwich, her last point of departure, she was naturally enough described in the document as "of" or from that port. She might with greater truth have been described as of Drammen in Norway.

The litigation resulting from the Norway trip did not end with the lawsuit occasioned by Pawling's unfortunate bill of sale. There was in the charter party a demurrage clause, which stipulated that Jones—who appears, by the way, to have been a very shrewd man of business—should have 30s. a day for every day his vessel lay in harbor while at Pawling's disposal. Under this clause he claimed a sum, over and above the demurrage included in the £160 already received, which Pawling refused to pay. Jones thereupon sued him, and it is from the depositions taken in this and the previous case* that we obtain undeniable evidence of the ship's identity.

Among these depositions the most noteworthy are those made on oath by John Cowbridge of Wapping, boatswain of the Mayflower, and Thomas Thompson of Redriffe, one of the able seamen composing her crew.† Cowbridge had known Jones for four years; Thompson, for ten. Both had made the Norway trip with him; both repeatedly and explicitly describe the Mayflower as the "Mayflower of London." And this evidence, in itself sufficiently conclusive, is corroborated by every other deponent in a brace of lawsuits extending, successively, over some four years.

Were any further proof required to establish the identity of the Mayflower as a London vessel, it is to be found in a series of records which, at the time Marsden wrote, lay unrecognized in a remote tower of the London Record Office. Only within very recent years have these records—the Customs Books of the Exchequer, commonly called Port Books—been made available to the student.

* High Court of Admiralty Examinations, vols. 40, 41, 42, passim.

† Dated respectively 7 and 4 May 1612.

They consistently attribute the Mayflower, Christopher Jones, master, to the port of London. Whether she was built there, however, remains an open question.

It can be considered no unwarrantable digression if, at this point, we devote some little space to a summary of such facts as the present writer's investigations have brought to light concerning the man into whose hands the Pilgrim Fathers committed their lives, and to whose sterling qualities as a seaman and navigator the ultimate success of their great adventure was, under God, so largely due. Among the honored names indissolubly linked with the beginnings of the American people that of Christopher Jones, the unobtrusive but capable skipper of the Mayflower, surely deserves a place.

Of his birth or parentage nothing is known with certainty. In all likelihood he was still a young man — between twenty-five and thirty years of age, let us say — when he made the Norway voyage that first brings him to our notice. In all likelihood, too, the Mayflower was his first command, for Thompson, deposing on 4 May 1612, tells us that Jones had then "byn for the space of fower or fyve yeares" master of that ship. Without in any way overstraining the probabilities of the case we may therefore reasonably infer that he was in the prime of manhood when he set the course of the Mayflower for the shores of New England. Capt. John Mason, the founder of New Hampshire, was thirty-three when he navigated the Seahorse, in size and build the twin sister of the Mayflower, to Greenland and back in 1612.*

In her run of sixty-six days from land to land the Mayflower encountered exceedingly tempestuous weather. It was the season of the autumnal equinox. Fierce gales caught her in mid-Atlantic, and for days she wallowed in the trough of the sea, in hourly danger of foundering. In her escape from that imminent peril her passengers saw only the hand of Providence. We may without irreverence recognize in it something more. The fine seamanship of her commander — providentially directed, if you will — stands out clear and unmistakable. Jones was no novice in the art and mystery of the sea. He had in his time weathered many a gale — notably when on his return from Norway, in the early winter of 1609, an "extraordinary great storme" drove him a hundred leagues out of his course and obliged him to jettison part of his cargo in order to "savegarde the shipp."†

For the master of the Mayflower, however, there lurked in that daring venture into the western seas dangers he was not destined to weather. The hardships of the voyage, and more especially the unaccustomed rigors of a New England winter spent in enforced idle-

* This statement of Mason's age is at variance with the late John Ward Dean's "Capt. John Mason," Boston, 1887, wherein his baptism is said to have occurred at St. Margaret's, King's Lynn, 11 Dec. 1586. There is, however, good reason to believe that he was born several years before that date, for in sworn depositions which he made on 28 Mar. and 12 Nov. 1614 (High Court of Admiralty Examinations, vol. 42) he himself gives his age as "about thirty-five," a statement which would place his birth in or near the year 1579 and make him fifty-six years old at death, instead of forty-nine. The longer term is certainly more consistent with the many and varied activities which he crowded into his span of life.

† Thompson's deposition, 4 May 1612.

ness, wrecked his health. He died at Rotherhithe within nine months of his return, and was there buried on 5 Mar. 1621/2.* Were I asked to write his epitaph, I should word it: "Here Lies Christopher Jones, America's Second Columbus."

On 26 Aug. 1622 his estate was administered by his widow Joan.† She and two children mourned his loss—Christopher, baptized 13 Mar. 1613/14, and Joan, baptized 26 Dec. 1615. Of the boy we have no further record. The daughter married, 20 May 1636, Nathaniel Newbury.‡

For some two years after her master's death the Mayflower lay in the Thames, idle and partially dismantled. Her owners in 1609 had been Christopher Jones, Richard Child, and John Moore. Changes other than her master's death had occurred in the interval. Richard Child was dead, and Robert Child, presumably his son, had succeeded him. A quarter of the vessel had been sold to some unknown buyer, and it was now, apparently, decided to sell her outright, possibly as the result of litigation, possibly with a view to a final settlement of Jones's estate. Accordingly, on 4 May 1624, Robert Child, John Moore, and Joan Jones, widow, the then owners of three quarters of the ship, obtained from the High Court of Admiralty an order for her appraisal. The appraisers were William Craford and Francis Birkes, mariners, and Robert Clay and Christopher Malyns, shipwrights, all four Rotherhithe men and doubtless all friends and neighbors of her deceased captain. They assessed her value, as she then lay at her moorings in the river, at the modest sum of £160.§ With this appraisement the Pilgrim ship passes beyond our ken—though not, let us hope, forever, since some record of her later adventures and ultimate fate may yet be found.||

With the vexed question of the tonnage of the Mayflower speculation has long been busy. Some place it as low as 120 tons, others as high as 200. Marsden infers her to have been a vessel of greater tonnage than is generally supposed from the fact that her shallop, a boat capable of carrying five and twenty persons under sail, was according to that mysterious authority, Mourt, stowed "betwixt her decks;" from which he argues that she must have been at least a two-decker. The real meaning of Mourt's statement is, however, not that the boat was stowed between two decks which were placed one above the other, but in the vessel's waist—that is to say, on the main deck, between the elevated poop and the elevated forecabin, where, adds the same authority, room was found for her "with difficulty." The stowing of the shallop therefore argues against rather than for a high tonnage.

‡ Rotherhithe parish registers. Nathaniel Newbury of St. Olave's, Southwark, distiller, deposited 24 June 1635, aged 32 (High Court of Admiralty Examinations). Another of the same name, stationer, perhaps father to the above, was overseer under the will of Thomas Hull of St. Bride's, Fleet Street, 19 Sept. 1620 (P. C. C., Soame, Lea's Abstract, No. 1080).

§ High Court of Admiralty Acts, 30 : 227; Libels, 81 : 167.

|| By his will, dated 28 May 1638 (P. C. C., Lee, 71), John Moore of Redrith, mariner, bequeathed to Elizabeth his wife, as residuary legatee, all his "parts of shippes and shipping," but as the inventory of his possessions is no longer extant, it is impossible to determine whether the Mayflower falls in that category.

"A Note of the Shipping Provided for Virginia" by the Earl of Southampton in the year 1620* describes the Mayflower as a vessel of 120 tons. Bradford, on the other hand, writes her down at "about nine-score," or 180 tons. Of these statements Bradford's, as we shall presently see, is the more nearly correct. This is as we should expect it to be, for not only did Bradford know the ship that he described, but he could have had no motive in misrepresenting so simple a fact; whereas Southampton, hiring ships for a company that paid according to tonnage, would be more likely to underestimate than to overestimate their capacity. Instances of such commercial-mindedness in noble lords are not unknown; and Bradford's figures are strongly, if not fully, borne out by the subjoined extracts from the Book of Imports into the Port of London for the year 1620:†

To appreciate this interesting schedule at its true significance, it is necessary that we should here indulge in a little sum in weights and measures and so translate our consignments of French wines into avoirdupois. What is here, in the delightful orthography of Elizabethan days, termed a "tonne of wyne," is of course the liquid tun of 252 gallons; while every four hogsheads, each of which contained 63 gallons, are also equivalent to a tun. The liquid tun, again, is equal in weight, or very nearly equal, to a ton avoirdupois. Reducing the consignments to this basis, we obtain therefore a total of about 160 tons of cargo discharged from the hold of the Mayflower on the three days in question. Some doubt remains as to whether she was fully laden. Allowing for this, we may safely place her actual tonnage at something between the 160 tons of the above discharge sheet and Bradford's estimate of 180.

Away back in 1609, as we have seen, the Mayflower made a Norway voyage, laden with tar, deals, and herrings. Precisely when she entered the wine trade we are unable to determine; but she was certainly engaged in it as early as 1616, for in that year one John Cawkin boarded her in the Thames, and as a consequence of sampling her cargo too freely was prosecuted by Jones for abusing him on his own deck and inciting his crew to mutiny.

* Duke of Manchester's Papers, No. 121.

† Port Books, Bundle 24, No. 3.

The 6 Mar. 1619/20 saw the Mayflower clear from the port of London for La Rochelle; and on 15 May, returning from that voyage, she discharged at London a further consignment of French wines amounting in all to 59 tuns, 1 hogshead, the bulk of her cargo having doubtless been unladen at Southampton, then the great wine port for the south of England. This is her last recorded trip before, on 5 Aug. following, she headed west for America.

In the circumstance that the Mayflower was a wine ship we have a hitherto unrecognized factor in her historic voyage. A wine ship was what is termed in sailor parlance a "sweet ship;" and to this fact her company, closely packed though they were within the narrowest limits and under conditions the most unsanitary, perhaps owed much of that immunity from disease and death which was so providential a feature in their passing beyond the seas.

NOTES

MAYO DEEDS.—Between 1735 and 1745 several families from Barnstable Co., Mass., settled in that part of Middletown, Conn., which in 1767 was set off as the town of Chatham. One of these families was that of Richard Mayo of Eastham. He made his first purchase of lands in Middletown in Mar. 1740 and died there 8 May 1744. Among the papers treasured by his descendants are two deeds of lands in Barnstable County. As the Barnstable County land records were destroyed when the Court House was burned in 1827, the following abstracts of these deeds may be of interest.

"I Thomas Mayo of Eastham In the County of Barnstable In the Province of the Masachusetts Bay in Newengland yeoman . . . This deed, signed 4 Jan. 1726/7 by Thomas Mayo and witnessed by Joseph Doane, Jr., and Jedidiah Higgins, was acknowledged in Barnstable County, on the same day, by the grantor, before Joseph Doane, Justice of the Peace. It was recorded 23 Jan. 1726/7 in Barnstable County Deeds, Book 13, fo. 316, by Jno Thacher, Register.

FRANK FARNSWORTH STARR.

SEDGWICK-BLAKE. — In what has been printed relating to Maj.-Gen. Robert Sedgwick of Charlestown, Mass., and the Sedgwick family, the name of his wife is given as Joanna, and her family history has been summed up by the phrase, "very little is known of her." Entries, however, in the Aspinwall Notarial Records show that she was Joanna Blake, daughter of William and Dorothy Blake; and the wills of her father and mother, recorded in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury, furnish much information about her English connections. Abstracts of the two wills follow.

The Will of William Blake of Andover, co. Southampton, lynn draper, 29 April 1641. To Dorothy my wife my farme, etc., called Cricklades, and lands called Fettiplaces, with reversion to Richard Blake my son, he paying my sonnes William, Peter, and John Blake and my daughters Elizth. and Martha Blake three score poundes apeece. My lands in Hursborne Tarrant purchased of Robert Jenoway, etc. A tenement called the Phenix lately fallen unto me by the death of my brother, John Blake. Tenements in Andover lately bought of Francis Blake. To my daughter Dorothe Smith £10. My sonne in lawe Josias Terry. My daughter Speering. My daughter Jone Sedgwick. My daughter Crab. My sonne Richard Blake's children. Whereas I have purchased by way of mortgage of Thomas Blake the younger of Eastontowne, gentleman, certain tenements, etc. The children of my daughter Smith. Residue to my wife Dorothe, sole executrix. My friends Mr. Henry Scudder, clarke, my brother in lawe Mr. Joseph Hinxman, and my uncles Mr. William Smith and Mr. Nicholas Blake to be overseers. [Signed] William Blake. Witness: Nicholas Blake.

Codicil, 27 November 1641. Whereas my son in law William Speering doth owe unto me £100, I give it to his daughter Dorathie Speering at twenty-one or marriage and my daughter Mary Speering her mother. [Signed] William Blake. Witnesses: William Smith, Joseph Hinxman.

Proved at London 18 August 1642 by the executrix named. (P. C. C., Cambell, 103.)

The Will of Dorathy Blake of Andover, co. Southt., widdowe, 13 October 1647. To my sonne William Blake, clarccke, £200 out of the rent of my lease at Chiboulton. To my sonne Peter Blake £200. To my daughters Margaret Terry, Mary Speeringe, and Joane Sedgewicke £100 apeece, and to Joane Sedgewicke's two sonnes £20 apeece. My sonne in lawe Robert Sedgewicke. To my daughter Ann Longe £100. To Joseph, son of my sonne Richard Blake, my house in Overton. To Dorothy, Jane, Sarah, and Elizabeth Blake and to William Blake, daughters and son of my sonne Richard, £10 apeece. Dorothy, Mary, Sarah, and Elizabeth, the daughters of my daughter Smyth. Dorothy, daughter of my daughter Mary Speeringe. Dorothy, daughter of my brother Peter Blake. My sonne in lawe Mr. Thomas Warren, my sonne Richard Blake his wife, my sister Clement Houchins. Residue to my sonne Richard Blake, sole executor. Overseers: William Smyth of Maddicke and Nicholas Blake of Gavilacre, gentleman. [Signed] Dorothy Blake. Witnesses: Thomas Chirch, Leon Eli.

Codicil, 3 January 1647 [1647/8]. I, Dorothy Blake of Andover, co. Southt., widdowe, being sicke and weake in body. Whereas there is £50 owing by bonde by Mr. Richard Peirce and Mr. Pistor Hyde unto mee as executrix of my late husband William Blake, deceased, for the use of my daughter Dorothy Smyth, etc. My sonnes William and Peter Blake, my daughters Margaret Terry, Mary Speeringe, Joane Sedgewicke, and Ann Long. John Smyth, husband of the said Dorothy. [Signed] Dorothy Blake. Witnesses: Elnor Bynny her mark, Elizabeth Wann. [A codicil of 31 December 1647, containing the same provisions as that of 3 January 1647/8, was witnessed by William Smythe and Nicho Blake.]

Proved at London 15 February 1647 [1647/8] by the executor named. (P. C. C., Essex, 30.)

The entries in the printed Aspinwall Notarial Records, already referred to, read as follows:

"23 (8) ¹⁶⁵⁰ I attested a Copie of a Lre attorney from Jane Blake of Andover to m^r W^m Twisse to recover what is due from major Robt Sedgwick. Dat. 27 March. ¹⁶⁵⁰." (Notarial Records, p. 332.)

HISTORICAL INTELLIGENCE

HERALDRY. — The Committee on Heraldry of the New England Historic Genealogical Society desires to call special attention to the recommendation in its report of 5 May 1914 (see REGISTER, vol. 69, Supplement, pp. xvi-xxiii), "that every person interested, by reason of descent or otherwise, in making it a matter of record that any original settler in this country inherited a coat of arms or that any inhabitant of this country received a grant of arms be invited to offer the arms for record with this Society," etc.

The Committee believes that the importance of the results possible to be attained by such registration will be of great interest; and they earnestly request all members of the Society and all other persons who have coats of arms which they believe to be eligible to make application for recording them. The cost of painting the arms and making up the record will have to be defrayed by the applicants, and the Committee has determined that $3.00 for each coat will barely suffice.

This amount, by cheque payable to the order of the Society, must be forwarded with the application. If the application is rejected, the money will be returned unless the applicant wishes to have the arms recorded with those resented for proof. The Committee, however, reserves the right to reject any application altogether, and if this right is exercised, the money will, of course, be returned.

It seems evident that, besides the growth in value of the collection as it increases in size, there will be many other things of extreme interest contributed with the arms and directly related thereto, such as photographs of castles, armor, seals, manors, etc., and provision is contemplated for filing such contributions in supplementary volumes in connection with the registers of the arms. Applications in which the proofs do not sufficiently conform to the requirements indicated in the report of the Committee will be placed in a separate volume to await further proof.

Printed directions for the making of applications may be obtained from the Committee; and all communications on this subject should be addressed to the Committee on Heraldry, New England Historic Genealogical Society, 9 Ashburton Place, Boston.

WINCHESTER. Henry Winchester Cunningham, 89 State Street, Boston, Mass., has nearly completed for publication a genealogy of the descendants (bearing the Winchester name) of John Winchester, the emigrant to New England in 1635. All descendants who have not sent to Mr. Cunningham their lines of descent are requested to do so as soon as possible.

GENEALOGIES IN PREPARATION. — Persons of the several names are advised to furnish the compilers of these genealogies with records of their own families and other information which they think may be useful. We would suggest that all facts of interest illustrating family history or character be communicated, especially service under the U. S. Government, the holding of other offices, graduation from college or professional schools, occupation, with places and dates of birth, marriage, residence, and death. All names should be given in full if possible. No initials should be used when the full name is known.

Callender. — Philip, born in 1704, died at Sheffield, Mass., by Mrs. Alice V. Robinson, 4228 Corliss Avenue, Seattle, Wash.

Hatch. — Thomas, born probably before 1600, died at Barnstable, Mass., before 7 May 1661, when the inventory of his estate was presented, by the Hatch Genealogical Society, Orin P. Hatch, Secretary, Woods Cross, Utah.

Hendrick. — Daniel, born probably about 1610, died probably at Haverhill, Mass., by Charles T. Hendrick, 18 Theodore Street, Chicopee Falls, Mass.

Vance. — William, born in Frederick Co., Va., in 1718, died in Washington Co., Pa., in 1788, by Mrs. Alice V. Robinson, 4228 Corliss Avenue, Seattle, Wash.

* Appointed by the President in accordance with a vote of the Society of 1 Apr. 1914, and serving until discharged by the Society.

PROCEEDINGS AT THE ANNUAL MEETING

THE seventy-second annual meeting of the Society was held on Wednesday, 2 February 1916, at 2.30 P.M., in Wilder Hall, 9 Ashburton Place, Boston, a quorum being present. President BAXTER called the meeting to order and appointed Hon. CHARLES SIDNEY ENSIGN as temporary chairman. In the absence of the Recording Secretary, HENRY EDWARDS SCOTT was authorized to act in his place.

The minutes of the January meeting were read and approved, and the monthly reports of the Council, Librarian, Corresponding Secretary, and Historian were accepted.

On motion it was Voted, That the annual reports of the Council, including its committees, the Librarian, the Corresponding Secretary, the Trustees of the Kidder Fund, the Treasurer, and the Historian, being presented in print, and now in the hands of the meeting, be accepted and ordered filed with the originals.

Tellers were appointed by the Chair to collect and count votes for candidates for resident membership, and they reported the election by ballot of ten resident members.

FRANK J. WILDER nominated ALBERT WILLIAMS LYON of Roxbury, Mass., for the office of Librarian, and JAMES H. STARK advocated the reelection of WILLIAM PRESCOTT GREENLAW of Winthrop, Mass., to this office.

On motion of JOHN CARROLL CHASE it was Voted, To proceed to the election of officers and councillors agreeable to the provisions of the by-laws:

That five tellers be appointed by the Chair, that said tellers shall use a check list of the members, giving a ballot to each member desiring to vote, and that said tellers shall receive, sort, and count the ballots, and make a report to this meeting:

That the polls be now opened and stand open until every member present has had opportunity to vote.

In accordance with this vote the Chair appointed as tellers Messrs. FRANCIS N. BALCH, J. GARDNER BARTLETT, FRANK E. SHEDD, CHARLES E. GOODSPEED, and CHARLES F. READ, and the election by ballot of officers and councillors took place.

After the polls were closed the Chair presented as the speaker of the afternoon GEORGE FRANCIS DOW, Secretary of the Essex Institute, Salem, Mass., who gave an interesting and instructive talk on Old Time Pewter, and Lamps and Lighting, illustrating his remarks by exhibiting specimens of British and American pewter and antique lamps.

On motion of Rev. LEWIS WILDER HICKS a vote of thanks to the speaker was adopted.

On motion it was Voted, That the proceedings of this meeting, with the annual reports accepted, the address of the President, and the biographical notices of deceased members, be printed as a supplement to the April, 1916, number of the NEW ENGLAND HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL REGISTER, that a copy of said supplement be mailed to every member of the Society not receiving the REGISTER, to the families of members deceased during the past year, and to exchanging societies, and that the Council be charged with the execution of this order.

The tellers then reported that votes for officers and councillors had been cast as follows, and those whose names are marked with an asterisk were declared elected:

For President

JAMES PHINNEY BAXTER,* of Portland, Me. 183

For Vice-Presidents

NATHANIEL JOHNSON RUST,* of Boston, Mass. 182

GEORGE SEYMOUR GODARD,* of Hartford, Conn. 181

For Recording Secretary

ALFRED JOHNSON,* of Brookline, Mass. 180

For Corresponding Secretary

GEORGE ANDREWS MORIARTY, JR.,* of Newport, R. I. . . 180

GEORGE WALTER CHAMBERLAIN, of Malden, Mass. . . . 1

For Treasurer

LEW CASS HILL,* of Boston, Mass. 182

For Librarian

WILLIAM PRESCOTT GREENLAW,* of Winthrop, Mass. . . . 185

ALBERT WILLIAMS LYON, of Roxbury, Mass. 10

For Councillor for the term of one year, 1916

HENRY EARL PARMENTER,* of Boston, Mass. 182

For Councillor for the term of two years, 1916, 1917

MRS. IDA LOUISE FARR MILLER,* of Wakefield, Mass. . 182

MRS. NELLIE PRAY 1

For Councillors for the term of three years, 1916, 1917, 1918

WILLIAM STREETER RICHARDSON,* of Canton, Mass. . . . 182

RICHARD HENRY WINSLOW DWIGHT,* of Brookline, Mass.. 181

MRS. FANNIE SCOTT CHASE,* of Boston, Mass. 180

The Chair then presented to the meeting the President of the Society, Hon. JAMES PHINNEY BAXTER, who spoke as follows:

"I thank you for this new expression of good will in electing me for the sixteenth time to the presidency of this Society, an honor which I highly appreciate. The Society has greatly changed since the year when I first entered upon my duties, upon the loss of my greatly esteemed friend, Edward G. Porter, who had served you less than two years, and whose untimely death deprived you of the valuable services which he would have been sure to have rendered you. Yes, the Society has greatly changed, for but very few who welcomed me on that occasion are now living. One thing, however, is inspiring — the same loyalty and devotion to the ideals of the Society inspire those who have taken their place, which is a sure indication not only of the usefulness of the Society but of the public esteem in which it is held.

"Since we came into our new quarters, this usefulness has greatly increased, and the larger service which it is rendering to the members and to the public has increased its expenses. These, added to the interest, which, like Jack's bean stalk, grows night and day, are troubling your Finance Committee.

"Of course, if the debt on this building could be removed, all their troubles would cease, and to remove this debt should be our constant aim. Cannot this be done? I believe that a committee should be appointed to make a strenuous effort to achieve this desirable end, not only to obtain cash contributions, but to suggest to friends making wills that they remember the needs of the Society. Members who are unable to contribute in either way — and there are many who could not well do so — could greatly aid the Society by getting one or two friends to join.

"Probably there is not a member of this Society who could not get one friend at least to join it; and if every member would do this, it would enable us to extend our work, and greatly increase the usefulness of the Society. Will not every member to-day take this appeal, for I will call it an appeal, to heart, and go away from here to-day with the fixed determination to add one member, if no more, to our membership roll?

"The appeals which I have made to you in the past have ever borne fruit, and I am earnestly hoping that this appeal also will be fruitful.

"Again I thank you one and all for your loyal coöperation in promoting the prosperity of our Society, which is doing a great work not only for our own generation but for generations which will succeed us."

On motion it was Voted, That the New England Historic Genealogical Society enters on its records at this time its appreciation of the services rendered by the retiring officers, JOHN ALBREE, Recording Secretary, THOMAS AMORY LEE, Corresponding Secretary, CHARLES EDWARD LORD, Treasurer, and MRS. ETHEL STANWOOD BOLTON and MRS. ETHIE BIGELOW LINDER PROUTY, Councillors, who have during their terms of office given of their time, their thought, and their counsel that the broad purpose of the Society, the collection and preservation of genealogical records for the public benefit, might be attained.

At 4.20 P.M. the meeting was declared dissolved.

After the meeting refreshments were served, as usual, to members and their friends, and an opportunity was given for the inspection of characteristic pieces of pewter and of lamps of bygone days, which had been loaned to the Committee on Papers and Essays by friends of the Society and were exhibited in the rooms of the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities.

HENRY EDWARDS SCOTT,

Recording Secretary pro tempore.

REPORT OF THE COUNCIL

Prepared by Mrs. ETHEL STANWOOD BOLTON, A.B.

IN accordance with the by-laws of the Society the Council herewith submits its annual report.

As the detailed work of the Society is described in the reports of the various officers and committees, it only remains for the Council to call attention to the matters which need especial emphasis. The chief of these is to remind the members that when the Society built its present fireproof building, it deliberately incurred a debt which somewhat strained its resources, hoping to carry the burden through the lively coöperation of all its friends. The deficit the first year was between five and six thousand dollars; the second year, thanks to the storage of the Boston Athenaeum books, it was but a little over two thousand; and the third year it was over four thousand. The Council, realizing that this state of affairs can not go on indefinitely, has made certain arrangements whereby the deficit next year will be somewhat decreased, through certain economies, a substantial amount of new advertising, and some donations. All these schemes are of material assistance in reducing the yearly deficit; but there is need to impress every member of the Society with the fact that merely reducing the yearly deficit does not allow the officers to give to the members and the public the best service. The need is not only to avoid incurring deficits but also to pay the mortgage on the building, so that all our income can be available for expert service and for the buying and binding of books. The Council feels that this is the time for each member of the Society to help actively towards the realization of this ideal.

The Report of the COMMITTEE ON FINANCE, by Miss Selma Ellis Pond, Secretary:

The Committee on Finance reports that during the year 1915 a legacy of $100 was received from the estate of the late Henry W. Fernald.

With the following exceptions no changes have been made in the investments during the year. The David W. Gorman mortgage for $1,000, held by the Society, was paid December 20. The sum of $1,130.39 was withdrawn from the Provident Institution for Savings and used for current expenses.

It has been necessary to borrow money during the year, and this has been done by giving notes of the Society to the Boston Safe Deposit & Trust Company and depositing certain securities as collateral. A note for $10,000, dated December 28, 1914, and falling due June 28, 1915, was paid off to the amount of $3,500, and a new note was given for $6,500, dated June 28, 1915, and falling due December 28, 1915. This note and another note for $6,000, dated October 20, 1915, and falling due April 20, 1916, were combined on December 28, 1915, in one new note for $10,000, dated December 28, 1915, and falling due June 28, 1916, and the difference of $2,500 was paid.

The Report of the COMMITTEE ON WAYS AND MEANS, by William Streeter Richardson, Chairman:

The recommendations of the last Committee on this subject have been followed in various ways, and other suggestions have been made to the Council which are in process of being worked out. The results have, thus far, been limited, largely owing, we believe, to obstacles caused by the effects of the European war; and it is, therefore, important that all those who are interested in the work of the Society should render what help they can.

The Report of the COMMITTEE ON INCREASE OF MEMBERSHIP, by Mrs. Susan Browning Cotton Tufts, Chairman:

The Committee on Increase of Membership has met at stated intervals during the year 1915. At the December meeting it was voted to ask the Council to prepare a booklet setting forth the work and needs of the Society, to be used in an effort to secure new members; and this booklet is now ready for distribution.

The Report of the COMMITTEE ON SALE OF PUBLICATIONS, by William Streeter Richardson, Chairman:

This Committee has to report that the sales of publications for the year 1915 compare very favorably with the average of those of the previous three years, and that they have yielded a substantial profit. Additions by gift during the year to the stock of publications have been twenty-five copies of the genealogy of the Derby family, contributed by Professor Samuel C. Derby.

The Report of the COMMITTEE ON PUBLICATIONS, by James Parker Parmenter, A.M., LL.B., Chairman:

The Committee on Publications reports that during the year 1915, in addition to the REGISTER and the Proceedings at the Annual Meeting, which together make a volume of 529 pages, the Society has published the Vital Records of Heath, containing 142 pages, and the Vital Records of Greenfield, containing 299 pages, the total number of pages for the year being 970. The Vital Records of Bridgewater, which will make two volumes of about 800 pages, are almost ready for printing.

The Society has also printed for distribution among persons interested a revised edition — the seventh — of its Handbook, a little pamphlet of 15 pages containing a brief statement of the history, purposes, and needs of the Society, together with a list of Officers, Councillors, and Committees for 1915.

The Report of the COMMITTEE TO ASSIST THE HISTORIAN, by Andrew Fiske, Ph.D., LL.B., Chairman:

In the year 1915 the Committee to Assist the Historian has held only one meeting, namely, on 10 December, which was called at the request of the Historian; and at that time the Committee rendered such assistance as it could.

The Report of the COMMITTEE ON ENGLISH RESEARCH, by Charles Sherburne Penhallow, A.B., Chairman:

The Committee on English Research presents herewith a report of its income and expenditures for the year ending 31 December 1915.

This shows a balance from the preceding year of $176.85, which, with contributions of $375.00, makes a total of $551.85, out of which there has been paid $333.54, leaving a balance on hand, 31 December 1915, of $218.31, as shown in the accompanying statement. Against this are due the extra expenses for the year, an account of which has not yet been received from Miss French.

Miss French's contributions have been published as usual in each of the quarterly issues of the REGISTER.

We wish to thank those who have so kindly assisted by their contributions in the work of the year; and we venture to hope for the continuance of this aid, in order that the work may not be interrupted.

The Report of the COMMITTEE ON HERALDRY, by Robert Dickson Weston, A.B., Chairman:

The Committee on Heraldry reports that during the year 1915, besides giving assistance to those who have applied for information or advice in respect to heraldic matters, it has been engaged in perfecting and carrying out plans for the recording of coats of arms in accordance with the report made by the Committee in 1914 and with the action thereon taken by the Society at the November meeting of that year.

The loose-leaf ledger form of book has been selected for the records, so that the names of the armigers can be arranged alphabetically and a card index can be dispensed with. The kind of paper and the size of the pages have been determined; and a plate, designed by a member of the Committee, has been procured for printing the formal matter on the pages, so that the records will present an agreeable appearance of uniformity. Blank applications for the recording of arms have been printed and are ready for distribution; and a number of applications have already been received and several coats have been painted.

Your Committee hopes that before many months have passed a substantial number of coats will have been recorded in a convenient, attractive, and permanent form; that, as the existence of these records becomes known, their interest and value will be more and more appreciated; and that in time they will embrace most of the coats which can be proved by reasonable evidence to have belonged to our emigrant ancestors, so that anybody interested in a settler said to have borne a coat of arms may, by inspecting our records, see whether his right to arms has been recognized, what the evidence of the same may be, and what his shield of arms looked like.

The Report of the COMMITTEE ON THE LIBRARY, by Frank Edson Shedd, B.S.

Under the direction of this Committee the money appropriated for the purchase of books has been expended in strengthening the Library in those subjects for which it is noted, the gathering of data relating to which is its chief object as a special collection. The number of books relating to Wales has been more than doubled through a generous donation by Mr. Joseph Davis of Los Angeles, Cal., and a substantial addition to the duplicate genealogies and local histories has been received by bequest from the late Dr. Theron Augustus Derby Wales of Elmira, N. Y. Less binding than usual has been done this year because of lack of money for this purpose; but through an anonymous donation the Committee has been able to do more repairing of books than in former years. The Librarian has given a larger part of his time to the assistance of visitors in the Library than formerly. A fair amount of cataloguing has been accomplished, and considerable progress has been made in making more easily accessible material which has long been out of use because of lack of space and facilities for shelving it. Ideal conditions for effective study have been maintained in the reading rooms, and about the usual number of non-members have visited the Library. Taking into consideration the very limited number of assistants on the Library staff, the large number of persons using the Library, and the fact that a considerable part of the time of the assistants is devoted to clerical work for other officers, the Committee believes that the results achieved in this department are very satisfactory.

The needs of the Library, now that its safety is assured, are primarily means for the binding, rebinding, and repair of books, pamphlets, and manuscripts; funds for cataloguing; duplicate books to replace those which are rapidly wearing out from excessive use; and funds for the extension of those classes of books which will be helpful in tracing the ancestry of New England families and their descendants who have migrated from New England. These needs furnish members and friends specific objects for the establishment of funds and offer opportunity to all to show their interest in the Society's work by contributions of cash.

The Report of the COMMITTEE ON COLLECTION OF RECORDS, by George Walter Chamberlain, M.S., Chairman:

During the year 1915 the Society acquired sixty manuscripts, thirty-five by gift and twenty-five by purchase.

The Report of the COMMITTEE ON PAPERS AND ESSAYS, by Charles Francis Dorr Belden, LL.B., Chairman:

The Committee on Papers and Essays has provided eight lectures for the stated meetings of the year, as follows:

6 January. — "Stray Historical Facts Corralled," by Hon. Frank H. Pope, State Auditor of Massachusetts.

3 February. — "Farm Life a Hundred Years Ago," by Mrs. Charles Knowles Bolton, of Shirley, Mass.

3 March. — "Pageants and Pageantry," by Miss Esther Willard Bates, M.A., of Roslindale, Mass.

7 April. — "Some Colonial Travellers," by George Parker Winship, A.M., Librarian of The John Carter Brown Library, Providence, R. I.

5 May. — "Westminster Abbey, an Inspiration to New England," by Hon. James Phinney Baxter, A.M., Litt.D., President of the Society.

6 October. — "Historic and Literary Concord," by Zelotes Wood Coombs, A.M., Professor of English at the Worcester Polytechnic Institute, Worcester, Mass.

7 November. — "The Story of Boston Light," by Fitz-Henry Smith, Jr., A.B., LL.B., of Boston, Mass.

1 December. — "Genealogy and Social Justice," by Barrett Wendell, A.B., Litt.D., of Boston, Mass.

Three of the lectures were illustrated with stereopticon slides, and refreshments were served at all meetings but one.

Out of the $300 appropriated, the sum of $88.50 has been returned to the treasury.

The average attendance for the year has been 244.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

Presented by WILLIAM PRESCOTT GREENLAW

THE growth and use of the Library in 1915 were both about normal. Its chief need is money for the work of binding and cataloguing. The removal of the books of the Boston Athenaeum gave opportunity to sort and arrange the Society's publications and the miscellaneous books and pamphlets which had been in storage; and this work, now in process, will probably be completed during the coming year.

The total accessions for the year number 633 volumes, 849 pamphlets, and 57 miscellaneous articles. Of these, 205 volumes and 116 pamphlets were purchased; 369 volumes, 686 pamphlets, and 57 miscellaneous articles were given; and 59 volumes and 47 pamphlets were received in exchange. These, added to the estimated number in the Library as reported last year, give 39,711 volumes and 39,402 pamphlets as the approximate number in the Library on 31 December 1915. Three hundred and three genealogies were acquired during the year.

The list of donors to the Library, which usually accompanies the printed reports, has been omitted this year by order of the Council; a manuscript copy, however, has been filed with the Recording Secretary. The Library staff, already too small, will probably be still further reduced in 1916, because of the need of economy.

REPORT OF THE CORRESPONDING SECRETARY

BENJAMIN HOLT TICKNOR, A.M., of Jamaica Plain, Mass., a resident member since 1873, was born in Boston 3 August 1842, the son of William Davis and Emeline Staniford (Holt) Ticknor, and died in Boston 16 January 1914. He traced his descent from Sergeant William¹ Ticknor of co. Kent, England, who settled at Scituate, in the Plymouth Colony, in 1646 or earlier, through William,² John,³ Elisha,⁴ William,⁵ and William Davis,⁶ his father. William Davis Ticknor was a resident member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society from 1853 to his death, 10 April 1864.

Benjamin Holt Ticknor attended the public schools at Jamaica Plain, whither the family had removed in 1847, and in 1853 entered the Chauncy Hall School to prepare for Harvard College. He was graduated at Harvard in the Class of 1862, and received the degree of A.M. from the same institution in 1867.

On 8 February 1862 he sailed for Ship Island as assistant quartermaster on the transport Idaho, and returned on the Constitution, which touched at Fortress Monroe. In July 1862 he entered the employ of the publishing firm of Ticknor & Fields, of which his father was the founder, but in August of the same year he enlisted in the Forty-Fifth Regiment of Massachusetts Volunteers, and on 13 September was commissioned as second lieutenant of Company G. When the regiment left in November for Newbern, N. C., he was not well, and was left in command of others who were likewise incapacitated by illness. In December he rejoined his regiment, and his company was stationed in garrison at Fort Macon until May 1863. He was then commissioned as second lieutenant in the Second Massachusetts Heavy Artillery, and was sent home to recruit for the Army. In August he was commissioned as captain of Company E, and was placed in command of the recruiting camp at Readville, Mass. In October he went back to Newbern, where he remained until his resignation from the service on 17 April 1864.

He then rejoined the firm of Ticknor & Fields, and in 1865 took charge of a new branch of this house in New York. In 1867 he returned to Boston, and on 1 May 1870 became a partner in the firm of Fields, Osgood & Company. In February 1878 he retired, and was for a while with S. D. Warren & Company, but in 1880 he joined the new firm of J. R. Osgood & Company. This firm failed in May 1885, but was succeeded by that of Ticknor & Company, which in turn was followed by the house of Houghton, Mifflin & Company. About eight years ago Mr. Ticknor retired from business, and was an invalid for the rest of his life.

He was a member of the Loyal Legion, of the Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, of the St. Botolph Club and the Papyrus Club of Boston, and of the Century Club and the Harvard Club of New York.

He married, 8 June 1865, Caroline Coolidge Cushman, who died in April 1913, daughter of Freeman Loring and Emeline (Slade) Cushman of Boston. Their children, all of whom are living, are Caroline, the well-known author, Edith, William Davis, who married, 3 October 1906, Ella Frances Wattles of Canton, Mass., Benjamin Holt, and Emeline Cushman, who was married, 20 April 1911, to James Melville Hunnewell of Boston.

ALBERT LEWIS RICHARDSON of Boston, a life member since 1875, was born in Boston 20 November 1846, the son of Lewis G. Richardson, and died in Boston 17 March 1914. He was a descendant in the eighth generation of Ezekiel Richardson, who settled at Charlestown, Mass., in 1630.

He attended the public schools in Boston, and was graduated at the English High School in 1862.

On leaving school he entered the employ of Francis M. Weld, an extensive importer of Chinese and India merchandise, where he remained until 1883, when he was compelled to relinquish active business by reason of ill health.

He was active in Masonic circles, attaining the thirty-third degree, and he has been portrayed by his Masonic brothers as "caring little for the applause of men, guided alone by what the still, small voice told him was just and right and true, meeting and greeting all with whom he came in contact with a simple grace and dignity that bespoke the true and kindly gentleman and upright man, loved by his friends, respected by his opponents, esteemed by his brethren everywhere, a friend upon whose fidelity one might safely rely and trust."

He married, 12 July 1900, Mrs. Velilla Chase, who died in the May following his decease.

ROBERT ALONZO BROCK, F.R.H.S., of Richmond, Va., a corresponding member since 1875, was born at Richmond 9 March 1839, the son of Robert King and Elizabeth Mildred (Ragland) Brock, and died at Richmond 12 July 1914. His ancestors were among the early settlers of the Colony of Virginia.

Early in life he showed a marked taste for antiquarian study, but was bred to mercantile pursuits, in which he was engaged up to August 1881, with the exception of the time spent as a member of Company F, a select body from Richmond which shared the fortunes of the Army of Northern Virginia until the surrender at Appomattox Court House in April 1865. In 1881 he disposed of his mercantile interests that he might give more time to the Virginia Historical Society, of which he had been corresponding secretary and librarian since 1875. Thereafter he continued to be the corresponding secretary of the above-named society until 1893, and his subsequent life was spent in historical studies, chiefly concerning his native State. He edited eleven volumes of Collections of his society, was secretary of the Southern Historical Society from 1887 and edited twenty-three volumes of its papers, and was also associate editor of the Richmond Standard from 1879 to 1883. He was the author of numerous papers on historical and genealogical subjects, and was a member of nearly seventy learned societies in this country, Canada, and Europe — among them the American Antiquarian Society, to whose library he frequently contributed valuable material. He was registrar, historian, and secretary of the Virginia Society of the Sons of the American Revolution.

He married first, 29 April 1869, Sarah Kidd, who died 6 February 1887; and secondly Lucy ———, who survives him, together with three of his children, Elizabeth Carrington, Anne Beaufort, and Robert Alonzo, Jr.

CHARLES HUDSON BUFFUM of Holbrook, Mass., a resident member since 1909, was born at Blackstone, Mass., 21 November 1846, the son of Col. Moses and Louisa (Pitts) Buffum, and died at Holbrook 10 October 1914. He traced his lineage from Robert¹ Buffum, who was at Salem, Mass., in 1638, through Caleb,² Benjamin,³ Benjamin,⁴ Joshua⁵, and Moses,⁶ his father.

He attended the public schools of Oxford, Mass., including the high school, and was for two terms a student at Worcester Academy.

After leaving school he entered, with an older brother, the business of his father, who was a pioneer in the manufacture of woolen goods at Buffumville, in Oxford, Mass., which had been named in his honor. The firm was known as M. Buffum & Sons. He continued in this business for twenty-one years, until the firm closed up its affairs. He then gave his time to study and reading. Although a great sufferer from rheumatism, he bore his infirmity with patience, and succeeded in making a partial record of the Buffum family in book form.

He was a member of the Masonic lodge of Holbrook and of the Temple Guards.

He married, 29 January 1880, Eva Amanda Southwick, daughter of James Comstock and Elizabeth Farnum (Holbrook) Southwick. She died 31 May 1883, with an infant son.

ELLWOOD DAVIS KIMBALL, A.M., of Wichita, Kans., a life member since 1906, was born at Nashua, N. H., 29 September 1859, the son of John Gardner and Betsey Chandler (Spalding) Kimball, and died at Wichita 27 October 1914. He was descended from Richard¹ and Ursula (Scott) Kimball of Watertown and of Ipswich, Mass., formerly of Rattlesden, co. Suffolk, England, who came to New England in 1634, through Richard,² Samuel,³ Jonathan,⁴ Jonathan,⁵ Isaac,⁶ Isaac,⁷ Isaac,⁸ and John Gardner,⁹ his father.

He was prepared for college at the high school in Nashua, and was graduated at Dartmouth College in 1881, with the degree of A.B., receiving the degree of A.M. from the same institution in 1884.

After graduation he became instructor in Latin and other branches at Hange Seminary, a Scandinavian Lutheran institution at Red Wing, Minn., until January 1882, when he was appointed instructor in Latin at the Rayen School (a funded free high school) in Youngstown, Ohio, where he remained until 1884. He then entered the loan business in the West, beginning as clerk for the Hon. William C. Little at Wichita. Two years later he formed a partnership with Judge Little under the firm name of Little & Kimball. Three years later he assisted in organizing the Wichita Loan & Trust Company, Judge Little being its president and Mr. Kimball its treasurer, which continued to do business until the general financial crash came in Kansas in the early nineties, when Mr. Kimball entered into the loan business on his own account.

He married, 12 September 1888, Luella Adelia Johnson, daughter of Levi Lincoln and Arvilla Lola (Hayes) Johnson of Rutland, N. Y. She died without issue 9 August 1913.

NATHAN PARKER SHORTRIDGE of Wynnewood, Pa., elected to resident membership in 1895, was born at Portsmouth, N. H., 28 November 1829, and died at Wynnewood 3 January 1915.

He received his early education in the Dover (N. H.) Academy and attended a private school in Philadelphia for a year. As a boy he entered the cotton and woolen goods commission house of David S. Brown & Company, with whom he spent twelve years. Then he became a member of the firm of George F. Peabody & Company, which was later known as Harris, Shortridge & Company, carrying on a similar business. Later the firm became Shortridge, Borden & Company. Mr. Shortridge continued in the firm until 1877, when he retired to take up larger problems.

He was connected with the Pennsylvania Railroad from its incorporation, having been one of those who made a house-to-house canvass to solicit subscriptions for its stock. He was made a director in 1874 and served continuously on the board until the time of his death, giving much of his time to the affairs of the road. He was also chosen director of many other financial institutions and railroads — among them the Philadelphia National Bank, of which he was for a number of years president, the Delaware Insurance Company, the Western Savings Fund Society, the Merchants' Trust Fund, the Philadelphia, Baltimore & Washington Railroad, the West Jersey Seashore Railroad, and the Northern Central Railway. He was also president of the Philadelphia & Erie Railroad until it was merged with the Pennsylvania.

Mr. Shortridge was one of the organizers of the Centennial Exhibition of 1876, and was one of the first men to buy stock in the enterprise. He was also a member of the famous old United States Board of Finance, serving from its organization in 1873 until it wound up its affairs in 1893.

Though a man of affairs, he devoted much time to church work. He was elected in 1860 to the vestry of the Church of the Redeemer at Bryn Mawr, Pa., and became warden of that parish in 1865, serving continuously as such until his death. He was also a delegate to the diocesan convention. He took a most active and efficient part in the growth of the parish, and the beauty and completeness of the present church building and grounds are due to his efforts more than to those of any other one person. In this work, as in his many other lines of activity, his untiring energy, his attention to details, and his success in the accomplishment of results were particularly marked.

JOHN DENISON CHAMPLIN, M.A., of New York City, a corresponding member since 1880, was born at Stonington, Conn., 29 January 1834, the son of John Denison and Sylvia (Bostwick) Champlin, and died in New York City 8 January 1915. He was a descendant of Geoffrey¹ Champlin, who was of the Island of Aquidneck, now Rhode Island, in 1638, through William,² William,³ William,⁴ William,⁵ William,⁶ Isaac,⁷ and John Denison,⁸ his father. He was also a descendant of Rev. James Noyes, who served on the first Board of Trustees of Yale College.

He received his preparatory training at the Hopkins Grammar School in New Haven, and was graduated at Yale in the Class of 1856, receiving from his alma mater the degree of M.A. in 1866. After graduation he studied law with Gideon H. Hollister in Litchfield, Conn., and was admitted to the bar there in April 1859. For a short time he practised law at Milwaukee, Wis., and then became a member of the firm of Hollister, Cross & Champlin, of William Street, New York City. He went to New Orleans in December 1860, intending to practise his profession there, but soon after the outbreak of the Civil War he returned to the North.

In the spring of 1864 he became associate editor of the Bridgeport (Conn.) Evening Standard, and about a year later established The Sentinel, a Democratic weekly paper in Litchfield, Conn., editing it until 1869, when he sold it and removed to New York City.

From this time on he was busily occupied with literary work, compiling and editing many useful books of reference, such as his series of cyclopædias for "Young Folks." For a number of years he was among the contributors to Appletons' Cyclopædia. He left two unpublished genealogical works, "One Hundred Allied Families of the Seventeenth Century in England and New England" and "Anne Hutchinson: Her Life, Her Ancestry and Her Descendants."

He was a member of the Century Association of New York, the Authors' Club, the Barnard Club, the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society, the Newport (R. I.) Historical Society, and the Litchfield (Conn.) Historical Society.

In 1866 he was a candidate for the Connecticut Senate on the Democratic ticket.

He married at Litchfield, Conn., 8 October 1873, Franka E. Colvocoresses, daughter of the late Capt. George M. Colvocoresses, U.S.N., who, with one son, John Denison Champlin, Jr., survives him.

OLIVER HAZARD PERRY of Lowell, Mass., a resident member since 1901, was born at Lawrence, Mass., 15 June 1851, the son of Oliver Hazard and Mary Ann (Moseley) Perry, and died in Boston 11 January 1915. His father was a retired naval officer and a mill official at Lawrence, and his grandfather was the famous commodore of the same name. The subject of this memoir was a descendant of Edward¹ Perry, a Quaker, who was at Sandwich in the Plymouth Colony as early as 1653, though Benjamin² of South Kingstown, R. I., Freeman,³ Christophers Raymond,⁴ Commodore Oliver Hazard,⁵ and Lieut. Oliver Hazard,⁶ his father.

He was educated at various preparatory schools, and spent some time at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. In 1873 he went to Lowell to become superintendent of the Middlesex Company, to which his father had been transferred. There he served successively as agent and treasurer for the same company, until he retired after thirty-three years of service.

He was one of the best known men in Lowell, and his distinguished lineage and the fact that he bore an historic name made him well-known in the country at large. In 1913 he was an invited guest of the cities along Lake Erie, when the centennial anniversary of Commodore Perry's victory was celebrated. He was the possessor of many historic relics of his grandfather, which he was most willing to show to visitors; but he was extremely unwilling to become the public figure which his ancestry would naturally have made him. He shrank from notoriety, and much preferred the quiet of his home to public appearances. He held the respect and esteem of the citizens of Lowell to a marked degree.

He married at Lowell, 10 October 1877, Sarah Augusta Haggett, daughter of Allen and Cynthia (Pike) Haggett, who survives him, together with one son, Oliver Hazard Perry, Jr., and two daughters, Marianne Moseley, wife of Charles Edward Baldwin of New York City, and Helen, wife of George Dodge Cabot of Weehawken, N. J.

CHARLES WALLINGFORD PARKER of Boston, admitted to resident membership 1 January 1909 and made a life member by special vote of the Council and Society 1 May 1912, was born at Framingham, Mass., 27 June 1831, the son of Charles and Mary Hildreth (Wallingford) Parker, and died in Boston 25 January 1915. He traced his lineage from Dea. Thomas¹ Parker of Reading, Mass., who came to America in 1635 in the ship Susan and Ellen, through Hananiah,² John,³ John,⁴ Peter,⁵ Josiah,⁶ and Charles,⁷ his father.

He was educated at the district school and at the Framingham Academy. At sixteen years of age he left home to enter the employ of Addison Macullar in Worcester, as office boy, salesman, and book-keeper. The business was later removed to Boston, and Mr. Parker was admitted to the firm in 1860, the name becoming Macullar, Williams & Parker. Mr. Williams retired from the firm in 1879, and in 1895, after the death of Mr. Macullar, the firm became a corporation under the name of the Macullar Parker Company, of which Mr. Parker was president and which holds a leading position in the clothing business in Boston. He was also for many years president of the George's River Woolen Mills.

His interest in horticulture led him to acquire a vast amount of information on the subject, and at the election of officers of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society in 1911 he was elected its president for that year, and was reelected in 1912. He was a member of several patriotic societies, associations, and clubs.

He married first, at Chelsea, Mass., 30 November 1854, Mary Jane Schoff of Newburyport, Mass., who died 13 April 1899. Four children of this marriage are living: Mary, wife of Henry Taggard, Charles Schoff, Herman, and Ross. He married secondly, 8 October 1900, Morgiana Heath Schoff, who survives him.

AARON FERRY RANDALL of Boston, a resident member since 1903, was born at Chittenango, N. Y., 28 August 1831, the son of Aaron Ferry and Isabella Germaine (Sutherland) Randall, and died in Boston 26 January 1915. He traced his descent from John¹ Randall of Westerly, R. I., through Matthew,² Benjamin,³ David,⁴ and Aaron Ferry,⁵ his father.

His education in preparation for college was obtained largely at a seminary in Belvidere, Ill., under the charge of Rev. Arthur B. Fuller, a brother of Margaret (Fuller) D'Ossoli. In 1849 he attended the preparatory department of Beloit College, Wis., but illness prevented his entering upon a full collegiate course.

In 1855 he attended the Albany Law School, and was admitted to practice that same year in the Supreme Court of New York. In the fall of that year he opened a law office in Belvidere, Ill., where he continued to practise until 1862, when he entered the military service of the United States. He was commissioned a lieutenant in Company B, Ninety-Fifth Regiment Illinois Volunteer Infantry, and was active in recruiting for the regiment. In 1863, owing to failing health, he resigned and left the service. As soon as health permitted he was employed for several months in 1863 on the Board of Enrollment for the First District of Illinois. In February 1864 he was called to Washington, D. C., and appointed to a clerkship in the office of the First Auditor of the Treasury. On 15 March 1864 he was promoted to a second-class clerkship, and on 30 June 1865 was again promoted to a clerkship in the office of the Supervising Architect. This office, however, he held for only sixty days, when he was placed in charge of a separate division, that of Customs Administration. In May 1867 he was appointed supervising special agent of customs, and in the same month was ordered to Texas to bring order out of the chaos following the War. He was on duty there for nearly a year, and then was assigned to duty on the northern frontier, continuing in service until December 1869. In that same year he entered into partnership with Alexander W. Randall, who had been Postmaster General in President Johnson's Cabinet, a partnership which continued until the death of the former Postmaster General on 22 July 1872. He continued in the practice of the law before the executive departments of the Government in Washington until November 1900, when, ill health compelling him to give up business, he removed to Boston, where he remained until his death, industriously engaged in genealogical research and the correspondence connected therewith.

He married at Belvidere, Ill., 14 July 1858, Almira Mixer, daughter of Horace and Electa Johnston (McCracken) Mixer, who survives him, together with six children: Charles Ferry Randall of Boston, Jessie Louise, wife of Victor Mindeleff of Washington, D. C., Estelle, wife of Asa E. Phillips of Takoma Park, D. C., Helen, a resident of East Woodside, Md., Arthur Frederick Randall of Somerville, Mass., and Louis Germaine Randall of Washington, D. C.

JAMES HEDLEY BREHAUT of Roxbury, Mass., a resident member since 1914, was born at Summerside, Prince Edward Island, 12 March 1864, the son of Henry Matthew and Sarah (Sencabaugh) Brehaut, and died at Roxbury 1 February 1915. He was sixth in descent from Pierre Brehaut of Guernsey, one of the Channel Islands, his line from Pierre leading through Henry, Capt. Henry, Henry, and James (all of whom were born in Guernsey) to his father, Henry Matthew, who was born at Murray Harbor, Prince Edward Island, 20 January 1836. The name of Brehaut appears frequently in Berry's "History of Guernsey," the earliest mention of it being in 1165. Henry Brehaut, the great-grandfather of the subject of this memoir, emigrated with his family from Guernsey to Prince Edward Island in 1806. His mother's grandparents, William and Ruhamey (Horton) Sencabaugh, were born in the Province of New York, but, being Loyalists, migrated in 1784 to Prince Edward Island, where they received a grant of land from the government.

His education was gained chiefly in the printer's office. In the spring of 1882 he came to the United States, and after working three years in the Middle West came to Boston. In 1885 he became a member of the Boston Post proof reading staff, and remained in that position to the time of his death. His interest in historical matters found expression in an account of the Brehaut family which he read at the dedication of a monument to his great-grandparents, marking the one hundredth anniversary of their migration to Prince Edward Island.

He was at one time president of the Franklin Typographical Union, and at the time of his death was a member of several Masonic organizations.

He married, 11 June 1889, Gertrude Maria Nourse, daughter of Byron Heywood and Maria Treat (Hamblen) Nourse, who, with one son, Henry Nourse Brehaut, A.B. (Harvard, 1911), survives him.

CHARLES TAYLOR LOVERING, A.M., LL.B., of Boston, elected a resident member in 1912, was born at Dorchester, Mass., 23 September 1846, the son of Joseph Swain and Mary (Taylor) Lovering, and died in Boston 9 February 1915. His grandfather was William and his great-grandfather was Joseph Lovering.

He was educated in Boston private schools and in the Boston Latin School, and was graduated at Harvard University, with the degree of A.B., in 1868 and at the Harvard Law School, with the degree of LL.B., in 1870. In 1871 he received the degree of A.M. from his alma mater.

He was admitted to the bar in Suffolk County in 1871, and in October of that year formed a partnership with Samuel Appleton Brown Abbott, Esq., and practised his profession at 42 Court Street, under the firm name of Abbott & Lovering, for a number of years. At the time of his death he was a director of the Boston Wharf Company. He was a member of the Somerset Club, the Country Club, the New Riding Club, the Eastern Yacht Club, and the Nahant Club.

He married, 14 November 1878, Marian Shaw Sears, daughter of Frederick Richard and Marian (Shaw) Sears, who survives him, together with their four children: Charles Taylor Lovering, Jr., Joseph Swain Lovering, Richard Sears Lovering, and Marian Shaw, wife of A. W. Reggio.

CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS, A.B., LL.D., LITT.D., of Lincoln, Mass., a life member since 1891, was born in Boston 27 May 1835, the son of Charles Francis and Abigail Brown (Brooks) Adams, and died at Washington, D. C., 20 March 1915. He was a great-grandson of President John Adams and a grandson of President John Quincy Adams, who were descendants of Henry¹ Adams of Braintree, Mass. His father was minister of the United States to Great Britain from 1861 to 1868.

He prepared for college at Adams Academy, Quincy, Mass., and was graduated at Harvard in 1856. Two years after leaving college he was admitted to the Massachusetts bar. Shortly after the outbreak of the Civil War Mr. Adams was commissioned first lieutenant in the First Regiment of Massachusetts Cavalry. His regiment was sent to South Carolina and Virginia, and he was promoted to a captaincy in 1862. He served through the campaign of Gettysburg in 1863 and in the advance of 1864 upon Richmond, and in the autumn of the latter year was transferred to the Fifth Massachusetts Cavalry as lieutenant-colonel. He remained with that regiment at Point Lookout, Md., until January 1865, when he was ordered home because of failing health. While at home he was offered by Maj.-Gen. A. A. Humphrey, then assuming command of the Second Army Corps, the position of assistant inspector general on the staff of that corps, but he declined the appointment, because he was promoted to the colonelcy of the Fifth Massachusetts Cavalry, and considered himself under obligation to remain with his regiment. He entered Richmond at the head of his regiment 9 April 1865, but shortly afterwards resigned on account of broken health.

and was mustered out of the service, receiving the brevet of brigadier-general.

Soon afterwards he turned his attention to questions connected with the development of railroads, and in 1869 was appointed a member of the Board of Railroad Commissioners of Massachusetts, then recently established. Having served upon this board by successive appointments until 1879—seven years of this period as chairman, he declined further service. In 1879 he was selected as a member of the Board of Arbitration of the Trunk Line Railroad Organization, and served either as chairman of the Board or else as sole arbitrator until June 1884, when he was made president of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, of which he had been a Government director since 1877. He held this position until 1890. In 1892 he was appointed a member and served as chairman of the advisory committee which planned the Metropolitan Park System; and a year later he was appointed chairman of the permanent commission which carried that system into effect. He resigned in June 1895. In 1897 he was made chairman of a temporary commission provided by the Legislature of Massachusetts to examine into the general question of the relations of street railway companies with municipalities, a subject which he investigated in Europe and in this country. The conclusions reached were embodied in a report submitted to the Legislature in 1898.

On Commencement Day in 1882 Mr. Adams was chosen a member of the Board of Overseers of Harvard University, and at the expiration of the term of six years he was reëlected for another full term, which ended in 1894. He was then ineligible for further service on the Board until a year had elapsed, when he was elected for a third term (1895–1901) and again for a fourth term (1901–1907). He thus served the University as overseer for a quarter of a century, with the exception of the single year 1894–95. As a member of the Board he was active in modifying the classical requirements for admission to the undergraduate department of the University, and in reforming the methods of its English department. The degree of LL.D. was conferred upon him by the University in 1895, and he received the same honor from Washington and Lee University (Va.) in 1907 and from Princeton in 1909. In 1913 the University of Oxford bestowed on him the degree of Litt.D.

Mr. Adams contributed extensively to periodical literature through the pages of the North American Review, the Forum, and the Nation, and many of his writings were printed in the Proceedings of the Massachusetts Historical Society. In 1883 he delivered the Phi Beta Kappa oration at Harvard University, entitled "A College Fetish;" in 1902, an oration at the University of Chicago, entitled "Shall Cromwell Have a Statue?" and, in 1906, an oration at Columbia University, entitled "Some Modern College Tendencies." In conjunction with his brother, Henry Adams, he published in 1871 a volume of miscellaneous papers entitled "Chapters on Erie and Other Essays." In 1878 he published "Railroads, Their Origin and Problems," and, in 1879, "Notes on Railway Accidents." A biography of his father, which included a review of the diplomatic negotations between the United States and Great Britain over Civil War problems, was one of his most notable publications. In 1874 his attention was turned to the investigation of matters connected with New England history, and to this he subsequently devoted himself more and more, preparing from time to time numerous addresses, monographs, and miscellaneous papers. In 1890 he published a biography of Richard Henry Dana, author of "Two Years before the Mast," in whose office he had studied law thirty-three years before; in 1892, "Three Episodes of Massachusetts History;" in 1893, "Massachusetts, Its Historians and Its History;" in 1899, a life of his father, in the "American Statesmen Series;" in 1902, a volume of miscellaneous essays, entitled "Lee at Appomattox and Other Papers;" in 1911, "Studies, Military and Diplomatic;" and in 1913, "Trans-Atlantic Historical Solidarity," a course of four lectures delivered in that year at Oxford University, England. He was elected a member of the Massachusetts Historical Society in 1875, was made vice-president of the Society in 1890, and served as its president from 1895 until his death.

Although he never sought public office, Mr. Adams took an active part, as an Independent, in political affairs through his speeches and writings. His addresses in Chicago in 1902, when he gave high praise to Gen. Robert E. Lee and suggested the erection of a monument to Lee at Washington, and at Richmond in 1908, when as an "Independent Democrat" he urged the election of Taft over Bryan, attracted wide attention.

In 1893, owing to the rapid growth of the place and the change in the character of the population, he left Quincy, Mass., where he had lived and for more than twenty years had been an official in various capacities, and removed to Lincoln, his home for the remainder of his life. His autobiography has been published since his death.

He married, 8 November 1865, Mary Hone Ogden, daughter of Edward Ogden of Newport, R. I., who survives him, together with their five children: Mrs. Mary Abbott of Concord, Mass., Mrs. Thomas N. Perkins of Westwood, Mass., Miss Elizabeth O. Adams, Henry Adams, 2d, of Boston, and John Adams of Lincoln.

EDWARD PEACOCK, F.S.A., of Kirton-in-Lindsey, Lincolnshire, England, a corresponding member since January 1858 and therefore the oldest member of the Society in seniority of membership, was born in Hemsworth, Yorkshire, England, 22 December 1831, the only child of Edward Shaw and Catherine (Woodcock) Peacock, and died 31 March 1915.

His mother died when he was an infant, and he was never sent to school, but was educated at home by private tutors. From his father, who was a noted agriculturist, a keen sportsman, and an observant lover of nature, he derived at an early age an affection for the country and for the science of zoölogy, and while still a boy he gave evidence of a special bent towards history and archæology.

Before reaching manhood he had contributed articles on zoölogy, history, and antiquities to various periodicals and to the weekly press. He wrote for Notes and Queries from 1850 until about 1912, when his increasing infirmities made further literary work impossible, and for more than forty years he prepared critical reviews for The Athenæum. In 1857 he was elected a fellow of the Society of Antiquaries, and later he became a member of the Royal Archæological Institute and a foreign member of the Society of Antiquaries of Normandy. He was the author or editor of many books and papers on antiquarian subjects, and also wrote several romances.

Mr. Peacock was well-known as an archæological specialist in legal cases. He was also deeply interested in local government, holding various local offices, and entered actively into politics, being at one time secretary of the North Lincolnshire Liberal Association but becoming in later years a staunch Conservative.

He married, in 1853, Lucy Ann Wetherell, who died in 1887, daughter of Capt. John Swift Wetherell, U.S.N., of New York. Within six months after his marriage he was led by the writings of Cardinal Newman to join the Roman Catholic Church, of which he remained a member to the end of his life. He left one daughter and three sons.

FRED NAHUM DAY of Auburndale, Mass., a resident member since 1904, was born at Northumberland, N. H., 25 August 1847, the son of Nahum Daniels and Janet Judson (Platt) Day, and died at Auburndale 1 April 1915. He was descended from Anthony¹ Day of Gloucester, Mass., through Timothy,² Timothy,³ Abner⁴, Eliphalet,⁵ and Nahum Daniels,⁶ his father.

He was educated in the public schools of Stratford, N. H., the Lancaster (N. H.) Academy, and the Newbury (Vt.) Seminary, and was graduated at the New Hampshire State Normal School in 1872.

He was a lumberman by occupation. The last eight years of his life he was an invalid, as the result of a stroke of apoplexy, but he maintained his interest in historical and genealogical matters to the very end.

He married, 14 August 1882, Ellen Julia Drew, daughter of Amos Webster and Julia Esther (Lovering) Drew, who survives him, together with two children: Esther Janet, wife of Clarence L. Tower, and Frederic Drew Day.

HORACE SARGENT BACON, LL.B., of Lowell, Mass., a resident member since 1898, was born at Lowell 29 October 1869, the son of Horace Baldwin and Sarah Elizabeth (Sargent) Bacon, and died at Lowell 8 April 1915. He was descended from Michael¹ Bacon of Dedham, Mass., through John,² Thomas,³ John,⁴ Daniel,⁵ Alvan,⁶ Horace,⁷ and Horace Baldwin,⁸ his father. He was also a descendant of John Alden of the Mayflower, of Hannah Dustin, and of Tristram Coffin.

He was educated in the public schools of Lowell and in the Berkeley

School of Boston. For a number of years he engaged in business, but he gave this up in 1896 in order to study law in the Law School of Boston University, where he received the degree of LL.B. in 1899.

After completing his course in law, he returned to his home in Lowell; but although he was admitted to the bar, he did not practise his profession to any great extent. For a while he held the position of register of deeds for the Northern District of Middlesex County; but the care of his own and (in later years) of his wife's extensive property and his great interest in the work of the numerous Masonic organizations of which he was a member claimed almost all of his time. He was a thirty-second degree Mason. He travelled extensively in foreign lands, and spent much time in study and research.

In addition to his membership in various social, religious, legal, political, and business clubs or societies, he belonged to the Massachusetts Society of Mayflower Descendants, the Society of Colonial Wars in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, the Massachusetts Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, the Alden Family Association, and the Lowell Historical Society. He was a member of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

He married at North Middletown, Ky., 7 June 1911, Mrs. Malvina (Meng) Harrison, daughter of Charles Henry and Katherine (Calvert) Meng of Bourbon Co., Ky., and widow of Ellwood Garrett Harrison. She survives her husband, together with two sons, Horace Sargent Bacon, Jr., and Stephen Sargent Bacon.

JAMES BRAINERD FIELD, A.B., M.D., of Lowell, Mass., a resident member since 1895, was born at Athol, Mass., 16 February 1859, the son of George and Susan Ann (Brainerd) Field, and died at Lowell 15 April 1915. He traced his lineage from Zechariah¹ Field of Hartford, Conn., and of Northampton and Hatfield, Mass., through Samuel,² Zechariah,³ Seth,⁴ George,⁵ George,⁶ and George,⁷ his father.

He received his preparatory education in the Boston public schools, graduating at the Boston Latin School in 1876. He entered Harvard College, where he was graduated in 1880, and he gained his degree of M.D. at the Harvard Medical School in 1884.

For eighteen months (from July 1883 to January 1885) he served as house officer at the Boston City Hospital, and in February 1885 entered on the practice of medicine at Lowell, where he remained until his death, actively engaged in his profession up to the day of his brief illness, when he had just completed his two months of service at the Lowell Corporation Hospital as visiting surgeon.

His life was a busy and useful one. For nine years he was chairman of the Lowell Board of Health, for about twenty years he was treasurer of the Massachusetts Association of Boards of Health, and he was visiting surgeon to two hospitals in Lowell and outpatient surgeon of St. John's Hospital, Lowell. He was the author of a paper on "Membranous Enteritis," which was published at Providence in 1887, receiving the Fiske Fund Prize of $200 for the best essay on the subject. He was also the author of various articles on medical and sanitary subjects. He was a member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, of the Lowell Harvard Club, of the Society of Sons of the American Revolution, and of other societies.

He was very fond of historical and genealogical research, and had made an exhaustive study of his family history. He had a deep love for nature, being fond of birds, tramping, and mountain climbing. In politics he was a Republican, and in his religious affiliations a Congregationalist.

He married first, in Boston, 15 March 1885, Emma Louise Snow, daughter of Barnard S. and Emma L. (Grant) Snow of Jamaica Plain, Mass., who died 2 September 1892; and secondly, at Lowell, 28 September 1893, Helen Augusta Ward, daughter of William H. and Augusta (Broad) Ward, who survives him, together with their son and daughter, Winthrop Brooks Field, A.B. (Harvard, 1915), and Helen Ward Field.

LOTHROP WITHINGTON of London, England, a resident member since 1897, was born at Newbury, Mass., 31 January 1856, the son of Nathan Noyes and Elizabeth (Little) Withington, and perished off the coast of Ireland, in the destruction of the Lusitania, 7 May 1915. He was descended from Henry¹ Withington through Richard,² Philip,³ Ebenezer,⁴ Philip,⁵ Joseph Weeks,⁶ Leonard,⁷ and Nathan Noyes,⁸ his father. The Withington family lived in Dorchester, Mass., until Leonard⁷ was called to Newbury in 1816 as minister of the First Church.

Lothrop Withington was educated at Dummer Academy and at the high school at Newburyport. When he was eighteen he went abroad and lived in London and Paris. He was a newspaper correspondent, and also wrote for magazines. While in London he came under the influence of the international movement for social reform, fostered by Karl Marx, and was associated with William Morris, Prince Kropotkin, and George Bernard Shaw. Later he became affiliated with the London communistic and anarchistic group as editor of the London Anarchist.

When a boy he became interested in genealogical study, to which he afterwards devoted much of his time. In London he was engaged in genealogical research some years before Mr. Henry Fitz-Gilbert Waters retired from the field, and the latter, when he gave up his work in England, placed in Mr. Withington's hands his genealogical notes, containing his gleanings from English records which had not been published in the NEW ENGLAND HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL REGISTER. Mr. Withington in the course of time considerably increased this manuscript collection, and it has recently been purchased by the Essex Institute at the auction sale of Mr. Withington's library. Mr. Withington did a large amount of work as a professional genealogist, and was a contributor to various genealogical publications in the United States. In carrying on his work as a genealogist he made frequent journeys to New England, and he was returning to London after one of these visits to his native land when, with hundreds of other non-combatants, he became a victim of the ruthless and savage submarine warfare carried on by the orders of the German Government.

MRS. SUSAN (VINING) GRIGGS of Brookline, Mass., a resident member since 1898, was born at Buffalo, N. Y., 16 June 1849, the daughter of George Whitfield and Emily (Holland) Vining, and died at Brookline 25 May 1915. She traced her descent from John¹ Vining, who settled at Weymouth, Mass., through George,² George,³ George,⁴ George,⁵ and George Whitfield,⁶ her father. She was also a descendant of John Alden of the Mayflower.

She was educated at the Buffalo public schools and at Rockford Female College. She lived for a time at Georgetown and Denver, Colo., but in 1887 she went to live with her uncle, Edward Payson Vining, in Chicago, Ill., and when Mr. Vining came to Boston as general manager of the New York & New England Railroad, she accompanied him.

She was an accomplished musician, and as an organist and pianist took part in many musicales in Brookline and Boston. At one time she was president of the Women's Baptist Social Union. She was deeply interested in genealogical research, and compiled "The Devotion Family of Brookline," which was published in 1898 by the Brookline Historical Publication Society.

She was married, 19 October 1892, to Thomas Baldwin Griggs, who survives her.

ALBERT CLAYTON BECKWITH of Elkhorn, Wis., a resident member since 1904, was born at Chittenango, N. Y., 14 March 1836, the son of Asahel Lane and Harriet Angeline (Seymour) Beckwith, and died at Elkhorn 6 July 1915. He traced his descent from Matthew¹ Beckwith of Connecticut through Matthew,² James,³ Reynold,⁴ Marvin,⁵ David,⁶ and Asahel Lane,⁷ his father.

He was educated in the common schools of Chittenango and Rome, N. Y., and his early occupation was that of a house and sign painter. In 1856 he migrated to Wisconsin.

He served in the Civil War as corporal and gunner in the First Iowa Battery, Light Artillery, from 17 August 1861 to 10 April 1863, taking part in the engagements at Sugar Creek, Ark., 17 February 1862, at Pea Ridge, Ark., 7 and 8 March 1862, at Chickasaw Bayou, Miss., 28 and 29 December 1862, and at Arkansas Post, 11 January 1863, and was discharged at Young's Point, La., on account of disability. He lived in Chicago, Ill., from 1864 to 1873. From December of the latter year to January 1876 he was editor and co-proprietor of the Elkhorn Liberal, a Democratic weekly paper which was first published in 1856. From 17 July 1894 to 16 July 1898 he was postmaster at Elkhorn. He was a member of a State convention of Sound Money Democrats in August 1896. In December of that year he was elected a corresponding member of the Wisconsin State Historical Society.

Between 1897 and 1907, with his brother, the late Edward Seymour Beckwith, he compiled and published eight genealogical pamphlets. In 1910 he was engaged by an Indianapolis (Ind.) publishing firm to prepare a history of Walworth County, Wis., and gave the greater portion of his time for eighteen months to the preparation of the work, which was issued in two volumes in 1912.

He married at Elkhorn, Wis., 17 April 1870, Isidore Adelaide Dickinson, daughter of Nathaniel and Phila (Foster) Dickinson, who died 13 August 1915. Two daughters, Constance and Mabel Foster Beckwith, survive their parents.

HENRY ALONZO SILVER of Roxbury, Mass., a resident member since 1897, was born at Hooksett, N. H., 27 August 1849, the son of Thomas J. S. and Eliza Jane (Bartlett) Silver, and died at Roxbury 8 July 1915.

At an early age he came to Boston, where he received his education in the public schools. Soon he became interested in mechanics, and was connected for a while with the Grover & Baker Company in the manufacture of sewing machines. Later he became associated with the Whittier Machine Company, a firm engaged in the manufacture of elevators.

In 1892 Mr. Silver was appointed court officer in Suffolk County, under Sheriff O'Brien, and later was promoted to the office of deputy sheriff. For the six years prior to his death he was superintendent at the Court House in Pemberton Square, Boston.

For several years he was chairman of the Republican Committee of Ward 17, Boston, he was a member of numerous Masonic organizations, and in late years he developed an interest in the genealogy of the Silver and allied families. He was also a member of the Roxbury Historical Society.

He married, in 1872, Abbie M. Swett of Roxbury, who died in 1909. Two sons, Bertram E. G. Silver of Roxbury and Wallace S. Silver of Wichita, Kans., survive him.

DAVID HEWES of Orange, Cal., elected a resident member in 1913, was born at Lynnfield, Mass., 16 May 1822, the son of Col. Joel and Ruth (Tapley) Hewes, and died at Orange 23 July 1915. He traced his descent from Lieut. Joshua¹ Hewes of Roxbury, Mass., through Joshua,² Samuel,³ Joshua,⁴ John,⁵ and Joel,⁶ his father.

His father, who died in 1827, left but a small estate for his widow and eight children, and David Hewes was dependent on his own exertions for his education. He worked his way through Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., and joined the Class of 1852 at Yale at the beginning of its sophomore year. He pursued his studies there, however, for only a few months. The tide of emigration to California was then at its height, and young Hewes, hearing that building materials were scarce in California, invested his little inheritance with his accumulated earnings, about $3000 in all, in galvanized-iron houses, which he shipped to the Pacific coast. Then came the impulse, in December 1849, to follow his goods to California, and in February 1850 he arrived at San Francisco and went on to Sacramento, where he opened a general merchandise store. For about three and a half years his business was prosperous, but fire and floods ruined his enterprise, and he made his way back penniless to San Francisco.

Here, through the good will of James Cunningham, the father-in-law of D. O. Mills, he began in a small way to take contracts for grading the streets and lots of the growing city, and twenty years of profitable work followed, in which sand hills were levelled, hundreds of acres graded, and the water front of San Francisco widely extended.

Mr. Hewes had now become one of the leaders in the development of his adopted city and in the promotion of the interests of the Pacific coast. Always interested in the project of a trans-Continental railroad, he conceived the plan of making its completion one of the sensations of the day. Not only did he present the golden spike, the last spike driven, and the laurel tie, the last tie laid, but he arranged that the strokes of the hammer driving the last spike should be repeated by the aid of electricity on the great fire bell in Portsmouth Square and at the battery at the Golden Gate.

After spending nearly two years in Europe, in the course of which he saw something of the Franco-Prussian War from behind the German lines, he took up his residence at Oakland, Cal., where he was elected to the City Council, his only public office, and distinguished himself while a member of this body by his fearless advocacy of a reasonable settlement of the water-front controversy.

After another extended stay in Europe he settled at Tustin, in Orange County, in southern California, and purchased at El Modena a tract of 800 acres, which he improved until it became one of the largest and most complete orange and lemon plantations in the State.

After the great fire of 1906 in San Francisco he was one of the first to begin the work of rebuilding, intending thereby to show his confidence in the future of the city. The David Hewes Building, one of the best built and most attractive structures of the city, will long remain as a memorial to his courage. He was successful also in his real-estate dealings at Los Angeles and elsewhere, and left a large estate at the time of his death.

Mr. Hewes was a good friend to religious and educational movements. As a young man he was deeply religious, and while at Andover founded the first Sunday school in the present city of Lawrence, which was taken over later by the Lawrence Street Church. At Yale he was active in the religious life of the college, and at that time seriously considered entering the ministry. When preparing for his California journey, he procured a Sunday school library, the first ever collected and taken to the Pacific coast, and on his arrival at Sacramento he gave this to the Sunday school established there by Rev. J. A. Benton, like himself a Yale man. He was active in raising funds to build a Congregational church at Sacramento, was one of the guarantors of a fund to establish a religious paper, and was for a long time a trustee and treasurer of the Presbyterian Church at San Francisco. He contributed generously to churches at Tustin and El Modena, and was never backward in helping other good causes and individuals. To Mills College he gave a natural history collection, funds, and a fine chime of bells, for which the bell tower there was built. To the museum of the Leland Stanford University he presented a collection of small statuary and other objects of art, which was placed in a room especially designed for it by Mrs. Stanford, his sister-in-law. One of his last acts was to purchase the remaining paintings of Thomas Hill, at a cost of more than $20,000, with the intention of presenting them to some public institution on the Coast. He wished also to provide for the public use of his extensive and beautiful gardens, unequalled in Orange County, and laid out by R. G. Fraser, who designed the famous sunken gardens at Pasadena, and for generous bequests to his native town and to Andover; but he died before the necessary legal arrangements in these matters were made.

Mr. Hewes was a man of great energy, indomitable will and courage, and fine character, just and honorable. He had an intense interest in his kindred, and in 1913 printed as a memorial to his parents a large book devoted to the history of various branches of the Hewes family and entitled "Lieutenant Joshua Hewes, a New England Pioneer, and Some of his Descendants." At the time of his death he was engaged in preparing a volume of reminiscences, in which he was greatly helped by his lifelong habit of preserving all correspondence and notebooks. In his long life he had met with many prominent people, he had been closely associated with the events of his day (such as the activities of the San Francisco Vigilance Committee of 1856, of which he was a member), and he retained a vivid and accurate recollection of the stirring scenes of the early days of the State. On the ninety-third anniversary of his birth, at a gathering held in his honor, a former senator of the United States truthfully described him as "the most remarkable man in California."

Mr. Hewes married first, at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., 30 June 1875, Mrs. Matilda C. (French) Gray, daughter of James and Sarah Scarborough B. (Henry) French of Warrenton, Va., and widow of Franklin C. Gray of Brooklyn, N. Y. She died at Tustin, Cal., 3 January 1887. He married secondly, at San Francisco, Cal., 11 June 1889, Anna M. Lathrop, daughter of Dyer and Jane (Shields) Lathrop, who died at San Francisco 3 August 1892. There were no children by either marriage.

Abridged from a memoir by EBEN PUTNAM of Wellesley Hills, Mass.

JAMES SIDNEY ALLEN of Brockton, Mass., a resident member from 1885 until 27 May 1915, when he resigned his membership on account of the infirmities of old age, was born at East Bridgewater, Mass., 3 July 1831, the oldest child of Sidney and Mehitable Dyer (Bates) Allen, and died at Milton, Mass., 4 September 1915. He was a descendant of Samuel¹ Allen, who was early in Boston and later settled at Braintree, Mass., through Samuel,² town clerk of Bridgewater, Ebenezer,³ Isaac,⁴ David,⁵ and Sidney,⁶ his father. He was also descended from Francis Cooke and William White of the Mayflower. So far as is known, all of his ancestors then living were in this country as early as 1660.

He was born in that part of East Bridgewater known as Beaver, in the old Allen homestead on Belmont Street, built by his great-grandfather, Isaac Allen, in 1756. From about 1835 until 1899, with the exception of about three years, he lived in East Bridgewater, first in his father's house on the easterly side of Pleasant Street, and then on the opposite side of the street, where he purchased about 40 acres of land and built his home in 1854. From 1899 until 1911 he resided in Brockton, and after that he made his home with his daughter in Wollaston.

His schooling was limited to the district school and to eleven weeks at the Adelphian Academy, North Bridgewater. From a very early age he supported himself, and built up a considerable business in the manufacture of shoes. In 1872 he moved his business to Brockton, where he established one of the large and well-known shoe factories of that time. His factory, which stood on Crescent Street, about 100 feet west of Montello Street, was burned in June 1890.

For sixty-five years he was a member of the Union Congregational Church of East Bridgewater, where he served long as chorister, and as clerk of the church, the parish, and the cemetery association. As clerk of the church he compiled and published a unique historical sketch and manual of the church, which gave extensive genealogical data of all deceased and living members.

He was always active in the political affairs of town and state. He served the former as school agent and as selectman. He represented his native town in the Massachusetts House of Representatives in 1864 and in 1871, and was a member of the Senate in 1882 and 1883. After moving to Brockton he was elected to represent the Tenth District in the House for the years 1903-1907, being dean of the House during these five years. He took an active part in the discussions on the floor of the House and was a recognized leader in temperance and educational measures. His resonant voice could be heard in all parts of the House and always commanded respectful attention.

He was one of the founders of the Bridgewater Historical Society and always an active worker in that association. His love of music led him into prominence in the Old Stoughton Musical Society, and he managed its trip to the World's Fair at Chicago in 1893. His memory of political and economic conditions from as early as 1840 was vivid. His lifelong interest in politics, in biography, and in genealogy made reading an unending source of pleasure until his eyesight failed.

A man of great activity, energy, and force, of positive convictions and imperative will, he was always a leader. He was a clear, logical thinker and a concise, forceful speaker. Of sterling integrity and irreproachable character himself, he instinctively believed in and trusted others. A broken hip in 1903 required the use of a cane for the rest of his life. He was always nearsighted and during his last five years almost blind. He remained, nevertheless, in good health, retaining all his other faculties and a clear mind, and was active and interested in all public matters until October 1914, when he was stricken with heart trouble, which finally caused his death.

He married first, 6 October 1852, Mary Porter Churchill, who died 29 May 1870, daughter of Dea. Charles Churchill of West Bridgewater. Of that marriage two children survive: Dr. Bradford Allen of Nashua, N. H., and Mrs. Louise (James H.) Broughton of Wollaston. He married secondly, 16 October 1871, Alice Richards, who died 24 July 1901, daughter of Josiah Richards of West Bridgewater. Three children of the second marriage survive: Lyman R. Allen, Principal of the Normal Training School at Salem, James Sidney Allen, Jr., of Winchester, Assistant United States Attorney for Massachusetts, and Elbert G. Allen of Newton, an electrical engineer associated with Stone & Webster.

By JAMES SIDNEY ALLEN, JR., A.B., LL.B., of Winchester, Mass.

JOSEPH GEORGE CUPPLES of Brookline, Mass, a resident member since 1907, was born at Edinburgh, Scotland, 28 February 1851, the son of Joseph Ebenezer and Elizabeth (Dearlove) Cupples, and died at Brookline 12 September 1915. Many of his ancestors of the Cupples name were ministers of the Church of Scotland, and their names appear in Scott's "Fasti of the Church of Scotland." The surname Cupples may be traced through Scotland into Ulster, where it is found as one of the purely English surnames long before the Scotch domination in Ulster. It comes from the name of a Norman-Flemish adventurer under William the Conqueror, one Curpayles, whose name now appears as Couples and Capels in his ancient holdings in Norfolk, Essex, and Suffolk.

He received his education at a private school in Edinburgh until he was nine years old, and then he educated himself, "without troubling any other school, college or academy," as he expressed it.

He came to America in 1865, and from 1871 was a member of the firm of A. Willams & Company of Boston (the proprietors of the Old Corner Bookstore), later known as Cupples, Upham & Company.

He married at Haverhill, Mass., 2 June 1886, Harriet Elizabeth Nichols, daughter of Dr. James Robinson and Margaret (Gale) Nichols of Haverhill, Dr. Nichols being founder of the Boston Journal of Chemistry and a director of the Boston & Maine Railroad. Mrs. Cupples survives her husband. They had no children.

REV. JOHN PHELPS TAYLOR, M.A., D.D., of Andover, Mass., was born at Andover 6 April 1841, the son of Rev. Dr. John Lord and Caroline Lord (Phelps) Taylor, and died at Andover 13 September 1915. He was a descendant on the maternal side of William Phelps of Windsor, Conn., of Thomas Lord of Hartford, Conn., of John Phillips, secretary to the poet Milton, and of Peter Bulkeley, the first minister at Concord. He was a resident member since 1899.

He was graduated at Phillips Academy, Andover, in 1858, and at Yale College in 1862, receiving also from Yale the degree of M.A. in 1865. After studying in Europe and teaching Greek and Latin at Phillips Academy he pursued a course in theology at the Andover Theological Seminary, graduating in 1868. In that year he was ordained to the Congregational ministry, and became pastor of the South Church, Middletown, Conn., where he remained until 1874. His succeeding pastorates were at Newport, R. I., 1874-1876, and over the Second Church at New London, Conn., 1877-1883. He was called in 1883 to the special professorship founded at the Andover Theological Seminary at the request of his only brother, and there gave instruction in Biblical theology and history and Oriental archæology until his resignation in 1899. He lectured in 1885 on Egyptology before the Peabody Institute at Baltimore, Md. He was a trustee of Abbot Academy, Andover, from 1892, a contributing editor on archæology to the Andover Review, 1884-1893, a director of the American Oriental Society, 1888-1892, and president of the General Alumni Association of Phillips Academy, 1912-13. In 1897 he received the degree of D.D. from Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vt.

He was a finished and powerful preacher, and his addresses on historical and kindred subjects were of great value. "His marked characteristic was his unfailing gracious courtesy, the daily showing of which in word and deed greatly endeared him to all who knew him as the kindly, benignant, sympathetic, Christian gentleman."

He married, 14 October 1868, Antoinette Hall of New Haven, Conn., who survives him.

MRS. ELEANOR FRANCIS (DAVIS) CROSBY, of Brookline, Mass., a resident member since 1907, was born at Dedham, Mass., 14 March 1845, the daughter of Rev. Almon Hemenway and Elizabeth (Everett) Davis, and died at Brookline 14 September 1915. She was a descendant of Dolor¹ Davis, whose name appears in the Proprietors' Records of Cambridge, Mass., in 1634, through Samuel,² Simon,³ Joseph,⁴ Simon,⁵ William,⁶ and Almon Hemenway,⁷ her father.

She compiled "One Line of Descendants from Dolor Davis and Richard Everett," "Eight Generations of Hoopers in America," and "Simon Crosby the Emigrant: His English Ancestry, and Some of His American Descendants," books of great interest and value to genealogists. In the last-mentioned book the ancestry of Simon Crosby is traced in England as far back as the middle of the fifteenth century, this line of investigation having been carried on, at the request of the compiler, by Mr. J. Gardner Bartlett.

She was married in Boston, 11 October 1877, to William Sumner Crosby of Boston, son of Sumner and Harriet (Blanchard) Crosby and a descendant of Simon Crosby the emigrant. Her husband and her son, Sumner Crosby, A.B. (Harvard, 1901), A.M. (Harvard, 1902), survive her.

REV. JOSHUA WYMAN WELLMAN, A.M., D.D., of Malden, Mass., admitted to resident membership in 1870 and made a life member in 1871, was born at Cornish, N. H., 28 November 1821, the son of James Ripley and Phebe (Wyman) Wellman, and died at Malden 28 September 1915. He traced his descent from Thomas¹ Wellman, who was in Lynn before 1650, through Abraham,² Abraham,³ Rev. James,⁴ James,⁵ and James Ripley,⁶ his father.

He was prepared for college at the Kimball Union Academy, Meriden, N. H. At the age of twenty-one he entered Dartmouth College, at which he was graduated in 1846. For the next three years he taught in the Kimball Union Academy, and in 1849 was principal for two terms of the Rochester Academy. In 1850 he was graduated at Andover Theological Seminary, and remained there as resident licentiate for one year.

He was ordained to the ministry and installed as pastor of the First Congregational Church at Derry, N. H., on 18 June 1851, but resigned this position in 1856 to accept the pastorate of the Eliot Congregational Church at Newton, Mass. This pastorate he closed in 1874, and accepted a call to the First Congregational Church of Malden. He was installed there as pastor 25 March 1874, and remained in active charge for ten years, after which he was made pastor emeritus.

Dr. Wellman was chief organizer of the Congregational Club, and was also the oldest member of the Winthrop Club, a gathering of Evangelical Congregational clergymen, and a corporate member of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions since 1867. He was for some years manager and later a trustee of the Congregational Sunday School and Publishing Society, a trustee of Phillips Andover Academy and of the Andover Theological Seminary, a corporate member of the General Theological Library of Boston, and for many years a director of the American College and Educational Society, of which he became vice-president. He twice received the degree of D.D., from Olivet College in 1868 and from Dartmouth in 1870. After he became pastor emeritus of the Malden Congregational Church he occupied himself in writing the genealogy of the Wellman family.

"Dr. Wellman was one of the kindest men, and though he had outlived most of those with whom he had consorted familiarly in Congregational ways, he was still held in high esteem as one of the fathers of our Congregational Israel."

Dr. Wellman married at Holbrook, Mass., 24 October 1854, Ellen Maria Holbrook, who died a few years ago. A son, Arthur Holbrook Wellman, B.A. (Amherst, 1878), M.A. (Amherst, 1881), LL.B. (Boston University, 1882), a lawyer practising in Boston, and a daughter, Ellen Holbrook, widow of Robert C. King, survive him.

ALEXANDER SYLVANUS PORTER of Boston, a resident member since 1876, was born at Cold Mouth, Va., 25 August 1840, the son of John Kirkland and Mary Provost (Robertson) Porter, and died in Boston 1 October 1915. He traced his descent from Richard¹ Porter through Thomas,² Thomas,³ Joseph,⁴ Jonathan,⁵ Sylvanus,⁶ and John Kirkland,⁷ his father. His mother was a daughter of Alexander Robertson, a distinguished portrait and miniature painter, who came from Scotland to New York in 1792 and with his brother opened the Columbian Academy of Painting, which later developed into the present Academy of Design.

He was educated in the Boston schools, and on 1 May 1860 entered his father's office, remaining there for several years before starting into the real estate business for himself. His first large transfer of real estate took place in 1867, when he sold the Scollay Building in Scollay Square to Arioeh Wentworth for $100,000, an extraordinary price in those days. Mr. Porter was in Europe at the time of the Boston Fire of 1872, but returned shortly afterwards and took part in a number of transactions pertaining to the rebuilding of the burned area. In more recent years he had a part in transferring the lots on which the Colonial Building, the Exchange Building, the Tremont Building, the Hotel Bellevue, and the Hotel Touraine were built. In the eighties Mr. Porter organized the Boston Real Estate Trust, with large capital, and he also organized the Boston Storage Warehouse Company. His business transactions included suburban property and even extended to real estate in various cities in the West. He was at one time vice-president of the Real Estate Exchange and Auction Board and trustee of the Winthrop Land Company. He was a member of the Union Club and a former member of the Essex Country Club and the Oakley Country Club.

He married first, in 1865, Mary Otis Cushing, who died in 1877, daughter of Luther Stearns and Mary Otis (Lincoln) Cushing. He married secondly, in 1879, Frances Wentworth Cushing, sister of his deceased wife, who survives him, together with two sons and four daughters: Alexander S. Porter, Jr., of Boston, James Otis Porter of Concord, Mrs. Richard Robbins of Beach Bluff, and Mary O., Elizabeth S., and Frances R. Porter.

DWIGHT TRACY, D.D.S., M.D., of Norwich, Conn., a resident member since 1905, was born at Scotland, Conn., 24 August 1831, the son of Thomas Chaplin and Maria (Safford) Tracy, and died at Norwich 3 October 1915. He was of Colonial ancestry, and on his father's side the line ran back to Lieut. Thomas Tracy, one of the original settlers of Norwich.

At twenty-two years of age he was graduated in dentistry, and one year later, in 1854, he obtained his degree in medicine. He practiced dentistry for six or seven years, and then devoted himself to various inventions, several patents being issued to him between 1860 and 1889.

The first of his inventions was a perfected domestic sewing machine, but owing to the cost of manufacture it was not a commercial success. The next invention was more successful, a machine which would take a bolt of linen and transform it into finished shirt bosoms, ready to be inserted in the garments. This was the first machine of the kind ever used; it revolutionized the shirt-making industry of those early days, and yielded a handsome return to the inventor. The next invention was a safety railroad switch, the first safety device of its kind ever used, and at one time it was installed in large numbers on very many railroads in this country. Many other useful inventions were the result of his patience and skill.

He was deeply interested in local history and in genealogical research. For twenty years he made genealogy his special study and thereby became well-known in New England and had correspondents throughout the country and abroad. In the last five years of his life he was attracted also to photography, that he might become proficient in obtaining pictures of old houses, monuments, and other objects of historic interest. He gained favorable mention for his portrait photographs which were shown at photographic exhibitions, and he received a second prize for a portrait entered in a competition conducted by a photographic magazine. The fact that a man eighty years of age should care to begin the study of this art casts an interesting sidelight on his personality. So persistent was his tendency to invent that as late as August last he applied for a patent on a certain photographic process which he had evolved. With the advent of the aéroplane he became greatly interested in its possibilities and began working on designs for a light and powerful motor and a stabilizer. He was still working on these designs when he died.

He was a member of the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society, the Connecticut Historical Society, the New London County (Conn.) Historical Society, the Founders of Norwich Society, the Connecticut Society of Sons of the American Revolution, the Society of Founders and Patriots of America, the Newport Historical Society, the Aëronautical Society of New York, the Twilight Club, and the Photographers' Association of New England.

He married, in 1857, Jane Vanderbilt Fry of Plainfield, Conn., who died in 1907. Four children survive him: Dwight Carlton Tracy of New York City, Laurence Ward Tracy of Chestnut Hill, Mass., William Dwight Tracy of New York City, and Mrs. Edgar E. Fay of Chestnut Hill, Mass.

FRANCIS CHARLES FOSTER, A.B., of Cambridge, Mass., a life member since 1911, was born in Boston 17 March 1829, the son of Leonard and Lydia (Gaubert) Foster, and died at his home in Cambridge 24 October 1915. He was sixth in descent from Edward¹ Foster of Scituate, Mass., through Timothy,² Thomas,³ Thomas,⁴ William,⁵ and Leonard,⁶ his father.

At seven years of age he was sent to Mr. Charles Green's school at Jamaica Plain, Mass., and subsequently attended the Derry (N. H.) Academy and Mr. David Leach's school at Roxbury, Mass., where he fitted for Harvard. He was graduated at Harvard in 1850, and had a part in the Commencement exercises. He also received a certificate recommending him as qualified to fill the position of instructor in Greek.

For three years after graduating Mr. Foster lived in Philadelphia, Pa., and from 1854 to 1856 travelled in Europe. In 1858 he entered the Harvard Law School, remaining a year, and in 1860 was admitted to the Suffolk bar. In 1879, 1885, and 1892 he again visited Europe.

Closely identified with the Protestant Episcopal Church in Massachusetts, Mr. Foster had held, among other offices, that of senior warden of Christ Church, Cambridge, during many years. He was at one time or another connected with the Margaret Coffin Prayer Book Society, the Episcopal Charitable Association, the Trustees of Donations, the Society for Widows and Orphans, and for three years he was a member of the Standing Committee of the Diocese. He had been a trustee and member of the executive committee of St. Luke's Home for Convalescents, vice-president and trustee of the Cambridge Hospital, trustee and life member of the Cambridge Home for Aged People, and director in several business organizations. At the time of his death he was the oldest trustee in age and length of service of St. Mark's School, Southborough, Mass., a trustee of Mount Auburn Cemetery, and a member of the following bodies: the Hasty Pudding Club, the Harvard Union (life member), the Massachusetts Horticultural Society (life member), the Boston Young Men's Christian Association (life member), the Episcopalian Club, the Bunker Hill Monument Association, and Post 56, Grand Army of the Republic, of Cambridge (associate member). Mr. Foster also served on the Cambridge City Council in 1863 and 1864.

Mr. Foster married at Savannah, Ga., 24 November 1857, Marion Padelford, daughter of Edward and Elizabeth Louisa (Farnum) Padelford. Mrs. Foster, with a daughter, Mrs. C. Börs Isdahl, and a son, Francis A. Foster, survives him.

To these notes, furnished with slight changes to the Harvard Graduates' Magazine, Dr. Horatio R. Storer, Secretary of the Harvard Class of 1850, has added the following:

"Foster's personality, as a youth and even in old age, was peculiarly attractive. He was so unconscious of this, with no trace whatever of self-appreciation, that it added to the charm. He was very gracious, generous, whole-hearted, and, while showing no desire of commendation therefor, a very public-spirited man. This is shown by his many affiliations with the cities of Boston and Cambridge, and with his church. His affection for his classmates was especially strong. In an interview . . . at Wood's Hole, after many years of separation and but a few days before his death, a brief hour was spent in recalling College days and the then intimates who had long and prematurely left us. . . . Foster's memory will be of a friend who lived and died as a Harvard graduate should, devotus Christo et Ecclesiae."

ARTHUR THEODORE LYMAN, A.M., of Waltham, Mass., a life member since 1912, was born in Boston 8 December 1832, the son of George Williams and Anne (Pratt) Lyman, and died at Waltham 24 October 1915. He was a descendant of Richard Lyman of Northampton, Mass., the progenitor of many noted New England families.

His preparatory education was received from private tutors. He was graduated at Harvard University in 1853, and in 1857 received from his alma mater the degree of A.M.

In the autumn of 1853 he entered the countingroom of Messrs. Samuel and Edward Austin of Boston, East India merchants. At the end of a year and a half he went abroad for an extended tour on the Continent of Europe and in Great Britain, in the course of which he visited the headquarters of the British forces in the Crimea. In the autumn of 1856 he returned, and for two or three years was engaged in the East India business on his own account. Late in 1860 he was elected treasurer of the Hamilton Manufacturing Company, and in January 1861 treasurer of the Appleton Company, both Lowell companies. In the autumn of 1862 he resigned these offices and became a partner in the firm of J. W. Paige and Company, a commission house for the sale of cotton goods. In November 1866 he was treasurer of the Hadley Company of Holyoke, Mass., and held this office until 1889, and was then president of the same company until 1900, when the Hadley Company was merged with the American Thread Company. In January 1881 he was elected treasurer of the Lowell Manufacturing Company, engaged in making carpets at Lowell, and continued in this office until the company was consolidated, in 1900, with the Bigelow Carpet Company of Clinton, Mass. Early in 1902 he was chosen treasurer of the Waltham Bleachery and Dye Works and of the Boston Manufacturing Company. For many years, at various times, he was president, director, or trustee in numerous manufacturing companies and financial corporations, and acted oftentimes as a trustee for private estates.

In June 1892 he was elected to the Board of Overseers of Harvard University for one year, to fill a vacancy in the Board, and in 1893 was elected for a full term of six years. He was a member of the Massachusetts Historical Society and of The Colonial Society of Massachusetts, a director and treasurer of the American Unitarian Association, a member of the vestry of King's Chapel for fifty years or more and senior warden there since 1877, president of the Boston Athenæum, and a corporator of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Mr. Lyman devoted himself with rare fidelity to the industrial interests with which he was connected, giving small attention to politics and social life. His spare time and energies during the last years of his life were devoted in great measure to the careful development of his large estate at Waltham, which he sought to make one of the finest of its kind in this part of the country.

He married, 8 April 1858, Ella Bancroft Lowell, who died 28 March 1894, daughter of John Amory and Elizabeth Cabot (Putnam) Lowell of Boston. Their children were Julia Lyman, Arthur Lyman, A.B. (Harvard, 1883), a former mayor of Waltham, Herbert Lyman, A.B. (Harvard, 1886), of Brookline, Mass., Ella Lyman, wife of Dr. Richard C. Cabot of Boston, Susan Lowell Lyman, who died in her tenth year, Mabel Lyman, and Ronald Theodore Lyman, A.B. (Harvard, 1902), of Waltham.

Cf. Report of the Harvard Class of 1853, published in 1913.

ALMIRA LARKIN WHITE of Haverhill, Mass., a resident member since 1906, was born at Moultonborough, N. H., 9 December 1839, the daughter of Timothy Fletcher and Irene (Hodsdon) White, and died at Danvers, Mass., 24 November 1915. She was descended from John¹ White of Salem, Mass., through Thomas,² Thomas,³ Josiah,⁴ Josiah,⁵ Josiah,⁶ and Timothy Fletcher,⁷ her father.

She received her education in the public schools, and became a professional nurse. Genealogical work, however, claimed much of her time, and she compiled or edited several books, among them the "Genealogy of the Descendants of John White of Wenham and Lancaster, Massachusetts," in 4 volumes, 1900-1909, the "Genealogy of the Descendants of Nicholas Hodsdon-Hodgdon," 1904, and the "White Family Quarterly," 1903, 1904, 1905.

ANNA REBEKAH LEONARD of Boston, a life member since 1898, was born at Southbridge, Mass., 8 April 1849, the daughter of Manning and Mary Fisher (Ammidown) Leonard, and died in Boston

2 December 1915. She traced her descent from Solomon¹ Leonard, who was at Duxbury, Mass., in 1637, through Jacob,² Joseph,³ Joseph,⁴ David,⁵ Rev. Zenas Lockwood,⁶ and Manning,⁷ her father. Manning⁷ Leonard was admitted to resident membership in the New England Historic Genealogical Society in 1853, became a life member in 1864, and remained a member until his death, 31 July 1885. A memoir of him, with portraits, may be found in the REGISTER, vol. 41, pp. 249-255.

She was educated in the public schools of Southbridge, including the high school, spent nearly two years at Lasell Seminary, and was graduated at Mount Holyoke College in 1869. For a number of years she served faithfully as one of the alumnae secretaries of that college. She took courses in kindergarten teaching and in vocal physiology in Boston, and from 1879 to 1885 taught articulation to the deaf pupils at the Clarke School, Northampton, Mass. At her father's request she resigned this position, and returned to Southbridge to assist him in his work of compiling the Leonard genealogy, a work in which her brother, Bernard Ammidown Leonard, also rendered valuable assistance. After her father's death she and her brother finished the book, which was published in 1896 under the title of "Memorial: Genealogical, Historical, and Biographical, of Solomon Leonard, 1637, of Duxbury and Bridgewater, Massachusetts, and Some of his Descendants."

MRS. EUNICE WELLS (HEALEY) HUDSON of Boston, a life member since 1911, was born at Hampton Falls, N. H., 26 June 1837, the daughter of Wells and Elizabeth (Pickering) Healey, and died in Boston 5 December 1915. She was descended from William¹ Healey of Cambridge, Mass., through Samuel,² Nathaniel,³ Nathaniel,⁴ Newell,⁵ and Wells,⁶ her father.

She was educated at a private school in Portsmouth, N. H., and later at Heidelberg, Germany. She was brought up as a Unitarian, but afterwards changed her place of worship to Trinity Church.

She was married, 23 August 1871, to John Elbridge Hudson, A.B., LL.B., of Boston, son of John and Elizabeth Chase Hall (Hilliard) Hudson. John Elbridge Hudson was a prominent Boston lawyer, and was well-known as president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and of the American Bell Telephone Company. He was admitted to resident membership in the New England Historic Genealogical Society in 1891, was elected Vice-President of the Society from Massachusetts for the year 1899, and had served part of a second term in this office when his death occurred on 1 October 1900. A memoir of Mr. Hudson, with portrait, was published in the REGISTER, vol. 55, pp. 135-139. Mr. and Mrs. Hudson had no children.

FRANK AMASA BATES of Braintree, Mass., a resident member since 1909, was born at Braintree 5 March 1858, the son of Samuel Austin and Mary Harvey (Kittrell) Bates, and died at Braintree 20 December 1915. He traced his lineage from Edward¹ Bates through Increase,² Samuel,³ Samuel,⁴ Samuel,⁵ Samuel,⁶ and Samuel Austin,⁷ his father, who wrote the history of Braintree and was an acknowledged and widely sought authority on local history.

Frank Amasa Bates was educated in the public schools of Braintree, graduating at the high school in 1875. Compelled by poor health to seek outdoor employment and following his inclination and talent for natural history and entomology, he rose to such eminence in his chosen field that he became a recognized authority in these branches. At one time he was a writer for the newspapers, and until his illness he was a frequent contributor to magazines.

From 1892 to 1907 he was field superintendent of the Massachusetts Board of Agriculture, and from 1905 to 1909 field agent of the Massachusetts Moth and Forestry Departments. From 1888 to 1892 he was associate editor of the Ornithologist and Oölogist. He was a member of the Boston Scientific Society, serving as its president in 1894 and 1895, and as its secretary in 1896-1900 and in 1907-1909. He was president of the Bates Family Association, 1908-9, and of the Orcott Association, and vice-president of the Bicknell Association. He was a member of several fraternal organizations and of many historical societies.

Mr. Bates was the author of a number of books, among which are the following: "Game Birds of North America," 1896; "Stories of Lake, Field and Forest," 1899; "Camping and Camp Cooking," 1909; and "Old Orchards Made Profitable." He edited the "Genealogy of the Descendants of Edward Bates, of Weymouth, Mass.," 1900, and compiled other works on local history and genealogy.

He has been characterized as a man with keen insight into human nature, a deep student and profound thinker, as well as a good companion and a kindly and helpful fount of knowledge.

He married first, 1 October 1879, Cora Alberta Hibbard, who died 14 July 1886, daughter of Albert B. and Lucy A. (Howard) Hibbard; and secondly, 16 September 1891, Ruth Foss of Dover, N. H., daughter of James W. and Julia A. (Littlefield) Foss, who survives him, together with Mrs. Lucy Mary Norris, a child by his first wife, and Harold Austin Bates, a child by his second wife.

MAJ. HORACE PERRY WILLIAMS, of Roxbury, Mass., a resident member since 1907, was born in Boston 16 March 1836, the son of Lieut.-Col. Horace and Isabella Hunt (Perry) Williams, and died at Roxbury 25 December 1915. He traced his descent from Dea. Robert¹ Williams of Boston through Dea. Robert,² Robert,³ Capt. Robert,⁴ a paymaster in the Continental Army and a member of the Society of the Cincinnati, and Horace,⁵ his father.

He was educated in private schools, including a school in the Essex Street Church, Boston, a boarding school in North Brookfield, Mass., and one in Grafton, Mass., and Dr. Butterfield's Octagon Hall School in Roxbury. He studied surveying for a year with Lieutenant Poole, U.S.A., Retired, and then went into business at No. 3 Central Wharf, Boston. After that he went West, and conducted a general store at Stillwater, Minn. In the fall of 1859 he returned to Boston, and engaged in the coal business.

On President Lincoln's first call for troops he joined the Fifth Massachusetts Regiment as second lieutenant of Company F, on 15 April 1861. With his company he went to Washington, and in the latter part of May the regiment was sent into Virginia. After the first battle at Bull Run, in which he participated, his regiment was sent back to Boston, where on 30 July 1861 it was mustered out, its three months' service having been completed. In the late summer and early fall of 1861 he recruited Company K of the Twenty-Second Massachusetts Infantry. As captain of this company he took part in the operations at Yorktown and in the battles at Hanover Court House, Mechanicsville, Gaines' Mills, and Malvern Hill, and, after a stay at home on sick leave, in the battles at Antietam and Fredericksburg. On 11 February 1863 he resigned from the service on account of ill health, and was honorably discharged; but on 14 July of the same year he was commissioned by Governor Andrew as major of the Fifty-Sixth Massachusetts Infantry. He recruited the regiment and commanded it in camp at Readville, Mass. His health again failing, he was honorably discharged on 4 March 1864.

From September 1864 to September 1866 Major Williams travelled among the Army hospitals, as a representative of the Salem Leg Company, taking orders for artificial legs. He then entered the dry goods commission business in Boston, and until his retirement in 1905 was head of the firm of H. P. Williams & Company at 39 Avon Street.

He was a member of the Loyal Legion, the Society of Sons of the American Revolution, the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, and the Bostonian Society.

He married at Cambridge, Mass., 18 October 1865, Mary Frances Mitchell, daughter of Capt. Richard and Charlotte Frances (Morton) Mitchell of Nantucket, who survives him, together with two children, Horace Boylston Lincoln Williams and Mary Eleanor, widow of Lieut.-Commander Stokeley Morgan, U.S.N., both residents of Needham, Mass.

Memoirs of the following-named members of the Society may be found as indicated:

EZRA SCOLLAY STEARNS, in the REGISTER of July 1915; ALBERT HARRISON HOYT and JAMES JUNIUS GOODWIN, in the REGISTER of January 1916; NATHANIEL CUSHING NASH, in the REGISTER of April 1916.

It is expected that memoirs of JONATHAN EASTMAN PECKER and GEORGE EMERY LITTLEFIELD will appear in future numbers of the REGISTER.

SOME IMPORTANT HISTORICAL SETS

Savage. A Genealogical Dictionary of the first settlers of New England, showing three generations of those who came before May, 1692. 4 vols. Cloth. Boston, 1860-1862. $75.00

Farmer. A Genealogical Register of the first settlers of New England. $\frac{1}{2}$ calf. Lancaster, Mass., 1829. \$10.00

Farmer and Moore. Collections, topographical, historical and biographical, relating principally to New Hampshire. 3 vols. Boards. Concord, 1823-1831. $15.00

New Hampshire Genealogical Record. An illustrated quarterly magazine devoted to the genealogy, history and biography of New Hampshire. Complete set, 1903-1910. 26 parts. $10.00

New York Historical Society Collections. Publication Fund Series. Complete set. 46 vols. Cloth. New York, 1868-1913. $60.00

Austin. Genealogical Dictionary of Rhode Island. Comprising three generations of settlers who came before 1690. Cloth. Albany, 1887. $25.00

Rhode Island Historical Tracts. First Series, 20 parts; Second Series, 5 parts. Complete set, 25 parts, small quarto, original blue-paper covers. Providence, 1877-1896. $40.00

This interesting series of tracts relates exclusively to Rhode Island, its history, and its people, and contains much valuable matter hitherto unpublished. Each part is complete in itself; the number of pages varies from fifty to two hundred and fifty. The edition was small, privately printed, and limited to the subscribers. It has been long out of print and sets are seldom offered for sale.

Rhode Island. Records of the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations in New England (1636-1790). Edited by John Russell Bartlett. 10 vols. Sheep, $9\frac{1}{4} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$. Providence, 1856-1865. \$25.00

In these volumes will be found copies of the deeds of land from the Indians, as well as conveyances from the early settlers to one another, the lists of freemen, the journals of the General Assembly, the "Bodye of Lawes of the Colonye of Rhode Island from 1663 to 1675," the "Book of Records," and other historical documents.

Rhode Island. Rider, Sidney S. Book Notes, consisting of literary gossip, criticisms of books, and local historical matters connected with Rhode Island. Complete set, 1883-1915. Bound in 32 vols., half red roan. Providence, 1883-1915. $50.00

Complete sets are not often found, the first numbers being scarce. Mr. Rider gives many valuable notes on mooted topics of historical discussion, not found elsewhere, and his criticisms are very pointed.

Our Catalogue No. 116, American Local and State History (Part II, N-Z, inclusive), is now ready. Previous Catalogues, No. 116 (Part I of the foregoing, A-M) and No. 113 (Genealogies and Local Histories containing Genealogy), are still in print, and will be sent free on request.

ESTABLISHED 1832—OVER 80 YEARS EXPERIENCE

MASSACHUSETTS VITAL RECORDS

The NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY is publishing, by a fund set apart from the bequest of ROBERT HENRY EDDY to the Society, and known as the Eddy Town-Record Fund, the Vital Records (Births, Marriages, and Deaths) of towns in Massachusetts whose records are not already printed, from their beginning to the year 1850, in books of octavo size, in clear type, on durable paper made expressly for this work, and with cloth binding. The arrangement is alphabetical.

Subscription to these Records, if made in advance of publication, will be taken at the rate of one cent per page, which includes binding. Expressage extra.

Only a limited number of copies are being printed. The type is then distributed, and the copies not subscribed for are held for sale at a considerable advance above the subscription price.

These books are especially useful to persons whose ancestors have resided in these towns. Address all communications to The Treasurer, 9 Ashburton Place, Boston, Mass.

PUBLICATIONS FOR SALE

By the Treasurer of the N. E. Historic Genealogical Society
9 Ashburton Place, Boston, Mass.

PRICE LIST, 1916

THE REGISTER

The New England Historical and Genealogical Register, established in 1847 and published quarterly, in January, April, July, and October. Each number contains from eighty to ninety-six octavo pages of valuable and interesting matter concerning the History, Antiquities, Genealogy, and Biography of America, printed on durable paper made especially for the Society, with an engraved portrait in each number. A complete index to each volume in the October number. Subscription, $4.00 per year in advance, commencing January. Current single numbers, $1.00. Prices of complete sets, of odd volumes, and of single numbers quoted on application. Unobjectionable advertisements accepted at reasonable rates.

Consolidated Index of the New England Historical and Genealogical Register, Vols. 1-50. Index of Persons A to Z, Index of Subjects, and Index of Places. Price for the complete work, bound in cloth, 4 vols., $100.

The Register with its Consolidated Index is indispensable to family historians, genealogists, and all persons seeking information about American families. The number of complete sets in existence is limited, and their value is constantly increasing.

ENGLISH RESEARCH

Genealogical Gleanings in England, by Henry FitzGilbert Waters, A.M. These Gleanings abound in clues, which, if properly followed up, will enable the genealogist to pursue in the mother country investigations which without such aid would be practically impossible. 2 vols., 1643 pages. Cloth. $10.00

Abstracts of Wills in the Prerogative Court of Canterbury at Somerset House, London, England. Register Soame, 1620. The volume contains, in 607 pages, 1366 wills, comprising about 40,000 names of persons and over 10,000 names of places. $6.00

Emigrants. Emigrants from England, 1773-1776. 1913. 206 pages. $4.00

VITAL RECORDS

Massachusetts Vital Records. The Births, Marriages, and Deaths recorded in towns in Massachusetts, from their founding to the year 1850, taken from the original records of the town, arranged in alphabetical order, printed on paper made especially for the Society, and bound in cloth. These books are most useful to those seeking genealogical information about ancestors who lived in these towns.

THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY is now located in its new building at No. 9 Ashburton Place, Boston, with adequate space for future growth, with safe quarters for its magnificent genealogical library, and with facilities for the economical administration of its various departments.

It needs substantial increases of endowment and income, in order to prosecute its work with vigor and to accomplish the objects for which it was founded.

Its past achievements, in gathering a library which is unrivalled in its field, in publishing data relating to American families unsurpassed either in amount or quality by any kindred institution, in making extensive researches in England, the results of which have been of national importance, in conducting monthly public meetings which are largely attended, and in promoting interest in genealogical studies in America throughout the entire period of its existence, entitle the Society to consideration by all interested in American genealogy, and ought to enlist the support of those who desire the preservation of the records of American families.

Its officers will gladly confer with anyone desiring to create memorial funds by gift or bequest; the income of which shall be used to promote the objects of the Society.

Its membership is open to all persons of good character who are interested in the work of the Society. Its quarterly periodical, THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGICAL REGISTER, is the leading publication of its kind, and is sent free to resident and life members.

The fee for resident membership is $5.00 per calendar year, and the fee for life membership is $50.00.

GENEALOGIES COMPILED AND PUBLISHED

IMPORTANT NOTICE

THE NEW ENGLAND HISTORIC GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY announces that it is prepared to undertake the compilation and publication in book form of genealogies of American families. Its long experience in publishing, its unrivalled facilities for the collection and verification of genealogical data, its fireproof building with abundance of space for the carrying on of such work and for the safe storage of manuscripts and printed books, its equipment for advertising and selling genealogical publications, and its ability to supply expert superintendence for every branch of the work practically insure better results at less cost than can be obtained by the methods now ordinarily followed. The character of the work already done by the Society in publishing family histories and genealogical records is a guarantee that genealogies prepared under its supervision will be as free from errors of fact and of judgment as it is possible to make them and will be examples of good taste in arrangement, illustration, and the details of bookmaking. They will be printed on durable paper and will receive suitable bindings.

Those wishing to arrange for the publication of genealogies already compiled, for the completion of genealogies already begun, or for the entire work of compiling and publishing are invited to confer with
